An Era Ends . . . An Era Begins

(See Inside For Special Inaugural Section)

HISTORIC MOMENT - More than 1,000 persons, perhaps the largest crowd ever to witness an inauguration in Quincy, heard Mayor Walter J. Hannon deliver his inaugural address Monday at the Vocational Technical School gym. With him on the podium are the nine City Councillors and Quincy's three former Mayors, Amelio Della Chiesa, James R. McIntyre and Thomas S. Burgin. The Voc-Tech Camera Club filmed the proceedings on videotape for showing at a later date.

Mayor Hannon Bridges Gap

Among the favorite campaign promises of politicians everywhere is the vow to make government responsive to the needs of the governed.

All too frequently, however, an official will take office and hide himself away to be seen by his constituents only as a face in a newspaper photo.

Fortunately for the City of Quincy, Mayor Walter J. Hannon like his predecessor, James R. McIntyre, has given strong evidence that he is not cut from such a mold.

The new chief executive took office Monday before a gathering of more than 1,000 of his constituents at the Vocational Technical School. And that evening he stood in a receiving line for more than three hours greeting voters at an inaugural ball.

The large turnout and success of both events should allay the reservations held by some observers over Hannon's break with the traditional City Hall inaugural.

But more important, the morning and evening ceremonies represented an attempt at bridging the much-discussed generation gap.

Hannon's inauguration was not something high school students had to wait until evening to read about. It was an event which many were allowed to witness and in which many were asked to participate.

The experimental open-campus system at Quincy High School and the site chosen by the new mayor were responsible for the presence of hundreds of young faces at the swearing-in ceremony.

Participating in the inaugural were the North Quincy High School Choral Choir, the Quincy High Band, Quincy High Air Force ROTC Cadets and two North coeds as hostesses.

And the Vocational Technical School Camera Club felt a part of the ceremony as members were asked to film the event on videotape.

Mayor Hannon's inaugural address dealt with the most pressing problems facing the city. He expressed the need for tightening the budget, downtown redevelopment, more housing for the elderly, and school additions.

He called for extension of the MBTA into Braintree, for establishment of a coordinator of drug programs within the mayor's office and for added recreational facilities.

These programs are important. But equally important is the feeling of involvement instilled by the new Mayor in the youth of Quincy.

For this we congratulate Mayor Hannon. And we wish him success in his administration.

WE GET LETTERS

Adams Academy Graduate Seeks Copy Of Book About Quincy's History

Editor, Quincy Sun:

A friend showed me a white paper bound book all about the history of Quincy.

I am very anxious to obtain a copy but do not know the source of the publication. May I ask you to kindly inform me or turn this letter over to the publisher. If they will send me a copy I shall be glad to pay any cost.

My interest stems from the fact I was born in the Charles Francis Adams house, which my family was renting, in 1885.

My great grandfather Josiah Babcock is mentioned in the book in connection with the granite quarries.

I am probably one of the very few surviving alumni of Adams Academy. William Everett was the head master when I graduated in, I think, 1902. I left Quincy in 1904 to enter Yale Law School. Graduating in 1907 I followed Horace Greely's advice and headed for the Pacific Coast.

A book I wrote, Broke at Forty Five, is in the East Milton Branch of the Milton Public Library. It tells the story of my adventures until my retirement now in Pasadena.

Thanking you for any help in securing the book, I am,

By HENRY BOSWORTH

Mayor Walter J. Hannon's first words after taking his oath as Quincy's 24th mayor: "It's a long way from Houghs Neck to City Hall."

The new mayor, who came out of Houghs Neck as a youngster, still fondly remembers the area and its people.

HANNON noted he had broken with tradition by having his inaugural in the Vocational-Technical High School. "But we should do that once in a while," he commented.

He may have started a new fad. The Vocational-Technical gym is much larger than the City Council Chamber at City Hall. More than 1,000 persons were able to see the ceremonies in comfort. Future mayors may follow his lead.

AND, by holding the inaugural at the Voc-Tech gym, the new mayor may have closed the so-called generation gap by a few feet, anyway.

Students not only participated but were able to witness the ceremonies. The North Quincy High School Choral Group directed by Maurice Carbonneau and the Quincy High School band, under the direction of Anthony Ferrante, added a nice touch to the event.

THE NEW MAYOR also closed the gap a few more feet when while making a pitch for lights at Adams Field he referred to youngsters who would use the facilities as "the good young people who go about minding their own business and are not hung up on drugs."

HANNON was Quincy's first mayor to have his inaugural televised. Student operated closed-circuit TV focused in on the entire proceedings. Three receivers in the gym allowed on-lookers the opportunity of seeing themselves on TV as the camera panned the crowd.

DOWNTOWN merchants no doubt will applaud Hannon's plan to create a Downtown Redevelopment Authority to bring about better parking, better traffic flow with state aid.

"We have to make that modern lady shopper come back to Quincy," Hannon said off the cuff—getting away from his prepared text.

"I don't want," he added, "to see downtown become Pizza Alley. I want to make it a beautiful shopping area."

IN FACT, the new chief executive deviated quite frequently from his prepared text—sharpening it up as he went along.

MEMORIES were rekindled during balloting for City Council President. Arthur Tobin succeeded himself on a 6-vote over John J. Quinn.

Quinn was nominated by Joseph LaRaia and the nomination seconded by Clifford Marshall. But when the vote came to Quinn, he cast his for Tobin—the fifth and deciding vote.

Tobin voted "present".

Some years back, Quinn could have had the council presidency. He had committed his vote to Charles Shea beforehand and remained true to the latter even though if he had cast a vote for himself he would have picked up the gavel and prestige of the council presidency.

WARD 3 Councillor Theophilus [Ted] McLelland got out of a hospital bed to attend the ceremonies. He was admitted to Quincy City Hospital the day before with a virus infection which followed on top of a bout with pneumonia.

The inaugural, incidentally, took place on his 32nd birthday and the North Quincy High School Choral Group saluted him with "Happy Birthday".

After the ceremonies, the new councillor stood around outside waiting for a car to take him back to the hospital and to bed.

NOW FORMER MAYOR James McIntyre got a standing-ovation send-off from the crowd as he stepped into retirement after noting that "one of the greatest honors was to serve as the 23rd mayor of the city of Quincy."

From the ovation, it would appear that if he plans to run again in the future—for anything—he has a built-in army of workers and supporters.

MC INTYRE, and the city's two other living former mayors, Amelio Della Chiesa and Thomas S. Burgin, seemed to enjoy themselves as members of "The Former Mayors Club".

All three were called on to speak and wished Hannon well. And, how time does fly. Burgin, was only 33 and referred to as "the boy mayor" when elected back in the 1930's. Now 69, he referred to himself as "the gray old mayor". But you should look so good at 69.

Mayor Hannon Recommends:

•Downtown Redevelopment •Anti-Drugs Coordinator •Extending MBTA •School, Recreational Facilities

By DICK MATTULINA

Mayor Walter J. Hannon will propose the establishment of a Downtown Redevelopment Authority to seek state funds for improvements of Quincy Square.

The need for "improved access, better circulation and more parking" in a more attractive shopping area was one of the key points of the new 40-year-old chief executive's inaugural address Monday.

He pledged an "economy minded administration."

Other highlight recommendations:

- Appointment of a development coordinator to study the General Dynamics situation and "seek new quality investment in Quincy."

- Establishment of a Coordinator of Drug Programs within the Mayor's office.

- Moving forward with construction of the new Lincoln-Hancock School and an addition to North Quincy High School.

- More housing for the elderly.

- Extending the MBTA out of Quincy Square and into Braintree.

- Construction of new recreational facilities and preservation of present open areas.

"I believe we must make Quincy Center a better place in which to shop and conduct business," Hannon told the gathering at the Vocational Technical School gymnasium.

"Quincy Center must be made a more attractive place to shop and work if it is to remain truly competitive with modern centers."

He said state financial aid is available for such improvements and he will ask the City Council to establish a redevelopment authority to seek such funds.

"In addition, I ask that the Downtown Steering Committee prepare and coordinate private rehabilitation in Quincy Center as part of a comprehensive downtown improvements program."

Hannon's six major objectives for park facilities and recreational areas were:

- Maintaining Wollaston Golf Course as an open space through public ownership.

- Completion of a municipal skating rink by Nov. 1, 1972.

- Improvement of recreational facilities at Faxon Park.

- City acquisition of the remaining 30 acres of the Houghs Neck Marsh.

- Cleaning up of the Mound Street Beach in Quincy Point.

- Broadening community recreational programs for the post-high school age group.

Hannon bemoaned the fact that "there is no city agency to turn to for help, no comprehensive educational program and no total commitment" to the drug problem in Quincy.

"One person responsible only to the Mayor should coordinate education, enforcement and rehabilitation activities within the City of Quincy," he said.

He said a Coordinator of Drug Programs would help eliminate "overlapping of authority, areas of conflict, competition for funds and needless duplication of effort."

Regarding senior citizen housing, the Mayor urged the Quincy Housing Authority to "expedite construction plans for 150 elderly units on Clay Street in Wollaston."

He praised such facilities as 1000 Southern Artery and Fenno House and asked for a long-term plan for finding sites and funds for further housing.

Extending the MBTA to Braintree is a major goal, he said, because the Quincy Center terminus is "congesting downtown streets and filling municipal parking spaces with commuters instead of shoppers."

"The construction of station facilities at North and South Braintree and road improvements at Capen's Bridge will relieve the Quincy Center. Station by providing needed boarding places for our neighbors to the south," he said. Hannon promised to meet with Gov. Francis W. Sargent to seek renewed support for completion of the South Shore line.

He said his administration will move forward with "critically needed facilities such as the Lincoln-Hancock School and an addition to North Quincy High School."

But, he stressed, "educationally sound decisions must also be fiscally sound decisions so that the cost of an educational system does not paralyze our entire municipal structure."

The new Mayor promised that his would be an economy-minded administration which will "review all controllable expenditures carefully, realistically and without regard to political consequences."

THINKING BACK - Outgoing Mayor James R. McIntyre has 36 years of memories to reflect upon as he listens to Mayor Walter J. Hannon deliver his inaugural address Monday at the Vocational Technical School gymnasium.

McIntyre's Farewell:

'Let Us Set Aside Partisan Politics'

Mayor James R. McIntyre stepped into political retirement Monday with "mixed emotions" and asked the new City Council to give his successor the "same cooperation I have received."

He asked that 'partisan politics be set aside.'

After each member of the council—this year's and last year's—paid him a personal tribute, McIntyre declared:

"It is truly with mixed emotions that I leave office."

He then quipped: "It is really nice to be able to hear things [like the tributes] that might be included in your obituary."

McIntyre, who began his political career as a City

Councillor in 1956 continued: "I thoroughly enjoyed serving Quincy for the past 15 years.

"We have a great city. I believe it. Everyone in this room believes it. It is up to us and you to keep it great."

McIntyre asked the new City Council "to give Mayor Hannon the same cooperation I received the past six years."

He urged that the new mayor and council work in unity.

"Let us set aside partisan politics," he declared.

And to a standing ovation, he concluded his farewell:

"One of the greatest honors was to serve as the 23rd mayor of Quincy."

'Your Finest Hour'

"Let us, therefore, brace ourselves to our duties and so bear ourselves that if the British Empire and its Commonwealth lasts for 1000 years men will still say "this was their finest hour."

You recognize the words of Winston Churchill spoken to the House of Commons, June 18, 1940. I shall always remember how those words inspired me then...they still do. I just keep trying to find in each day "my finest hour".

What will be your finest hour in 1972? I sat with friends one afternoon recently...it was the "cocktail hour"...now one of the well established American institutions. As we talked...listened to each other...and the singer...we rested and relaxed. And I wondered..."Is this a waste of time...or is it our finest hour?" An hour of rest and relaxation may be "our finest hour"...if it prepares us to "brace ourselves to our duties and so bear ourselves" for whatever lies ahead. Will the "cocktail hour" be your finest hour in 1972?

Do you remember..."Between the dark and the daylight...when the night is beginning to lower...comes a pause in the day's occupation...that is known as the childrens hour." That could be your finest hour...the time you share with your children. I was ashamed of myself last week one day...when rushing to get my column finished and mailed to the newspapers...my younger boy appeared and began to bug me with questions...I said impatiently "Run on...I'm busy now...I'll see you later." He turned and left. It wasn't exactly "my finest hour". The time I denied him...and myself might have been. More happy hours with our children might mean fewer unpleasant hours with them in juvenile court. Maybe the time you'll spend with your children will be your finest hour in 1972.

Your finest hour in 1972 may be a hard decision you'll make...something you've postponed...like going to your doctor...or to improve your reading ability...to buy the home you've been renting...to deepen your personal relationships...to expand your business. The tough decision you've been avoiding...may be your finest hour this coming year.

Your finest hour in 1972 may be giving up a habit which has been harming you...and your relationships. You can stop smoking when you decide to...you can stop the excess drinking when you stop blaming someone else for your bad habit...you can stop over-eating and bring your weight back to normal when you get a new mental image of yourself. These are destroying millions of Americans. Cutting that bad habit of yours may be your finest hour in this coming year.

Your finest hour in 1972 may be when you humble yourself with your husband/wife and say..."honey...I see I've been wrong...I've hurt you...I've been too busy...I've taken you for granted...I put the children ahead of you...or my mother. This is going to change. I do love you...and I'm going to show you I do." That restored relationship between you and your partner may be your finest hour.

We never know what may be our finest hour...expect it at any hour.

Poet's Corner

New Year

Old and feeble is Father Time,
And as he lies in wait
For eternity, he searches deep
Into the memory lot, to find Life's daily ups and downs a "fair score".

Lady Luck, somewhat, plays a Small role in the land of happenstance, but the Hand of Providence, designates,
The "vale allotment" in the wheels of Destiny.
"Thus, men, learn to swim
With the tide of time and Accept fate's circumstances."

Sad and tired is he, but At last, with a smile and a sigh, he Relinquishes his last shaky but hard clutch.
Breathing heavily, he ebbs away for evermore.

In a thunderous, vapored space,
A brand New Year's "babe" streams in—Ashoutin' for attention and celebration.
Happy people gather in social spots,

To drink, dine and dance in its honor—
Indulging in festive merry-makers,
Of fancy hats, bells and drumsticks.

A sea of colorful balloons
And variegated paper streamers a cloud creates ...
Of floating ribbons, and Dancing bubbles, mingled
With song and laughter.

The merry thoughts of New Year,
Is the desire to make new resolutions.

So, let's take stock of ourselves, and
Sweep up our mental attics.
To discard old resolutions,
And replaced with new ones.

Tickling time is the substance
Of life, and that's why Everyone should aim for "A universal wish, to live
Each golden day anew,
Forget the past ... and Concentrate on the present."
A healthy and creative living
Your reward will be.

Finger Food Feasts... Teen Blast

Teens are more convivial than people. Assemble more than two ... and there's a party afoot. Next time there's a teen blast at your house, provide the youngsters with fondue fare. They'll love the informal fun of dunk cookery.

Doughnuts are a teen favorite, and that's just what you do the dunking with. Chunks of fresh doughnuts are speared on a fork, dipped into a hot Chocolate Sauce or hot Raspberry Sauce. Both are a snap to make, foolproof for the inexperienced cook. The chocolate mixture just requires chocolate pieces, butter, milk, corn syrup and vanilla. Prepare the sauce in the top of a double boiler, heat in a fon-due pot over Sterno flame at serving time. Use sterno solid canned heat or liquid, depending on what your fondue units require. The canned heat is safe, smokeless, odorless. The liquid fuel burns with a clean blue flame and has a pleasant light lemon scent. When youngsters are cooking safety is always a factor, and the Sterno liquid is non-toxic and has a spillproof safety cap.

The mellow Raspberry Sauce is easy to make, too. It combines raspberry jam and jelly, orange juice and grated orange rind and you can make this right in the fondue pot.
Since Dunkin' Doughnuts can get a bit messy, especially with teens or younger children in evidence, provide the guests with packets of premoistened towlettes for easy handwashing. Wash 'n Dri comes in handy individual packets and the towlette cleans hands in seconds and dries in seconds.

Dunkin' Doughnuts

Chocolate Sauce:
1 jumbo package or 2 regular packages (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate and butter in top of double boiler. Stir in milk, corn syrup and vanilla; stir until smooth. At serving time, heat in small fondue saucepan over low Sterno flame. Spear pieces of doughnuts on fondue forks and dunk in sauce.

YIELD: 1 1/2 cups.

Raspberry Sauce:
1 cup raspberry jam
1 cup raspberry jelly
1/4 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Mix together all ingredients in a small fondue saucepan over Sterno flame. Heat and stir until smooth. Spear pieces of doughnuts on fondue forks and dunk in sauce.

YIELD: 2 1/4 cups.

Legal Secretaries Course To Be Offered At Quincy Jr. College

A professional course for legal secretaries will be offered next semester by the Evening Division of Quincy Junior College in cooperation with the Norfolk County Legal Secretaries Association.

Classes will meet at the college on Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9:10 p.m. beginning
Feb. 9.

The course is designed to aid legal secretaries or potential legal secretaries in attaining professional knowledge concerning all phases of the law office.

It will consist of a series of lectures by noted attorneys located in the Greater Boston area.

Miss Gladys M. Johnson, Miss
Marie O'Neil and Mrs. Susan Sonnensheim, members of the secretaries association, are serving as coordinators for the program.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of Jan. 6-13

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Clean up all your personal affairs this week and get ready for next week's action when some surprising events take place.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - The responsibilities you assume this week will be short lived so don't think that the old pattern is being resumed.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - A temporary lifting of responsibilities gives you a nice breather. Health has improved but don't fall into poor habits again.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Home conditions are not quite the same anymore due to a recent upheaval. Sit tight and wait out developments.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - There are unfavorable circumstances this week, sudden disappointments, sharp disagreements, etc. Postpone any important moves.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Recent extravagances are coming home to roost next week so now is a good time to start tightening up your budget.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Don't discuss your plans with anyone until the end of the week since at that time you may want to change your mind.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - All those beautiful plans you've been making will have to be changed or revised - don't let it upset you, it's for your own good.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Recent upheavals and changes about to come will benefit you and provide the opportunity you've been looking for.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Adding your two cents worth now won't help solve the confusion and disputes going on around you - keep level head.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - You can start the project or take up that study you've been thinking about - it may add to income later.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Get set for some changes - social, financial and mental pursuits will start going better for you in February.

Spotlight on Health

Care of Scalp and Hair

The beauty of their, both male and female, depends to a large extent on one's general health. Any condition that pollutes the bloodstream and lowers its nutritional capabilities shows up in the hair.

People suffering from poor circulation or anemia, for instance, generally have weak or lusterless hair.

Hygienic living outdoor exercise, correct diet and a contented mind make a strong contribution to the health and good looks of the hair.

But a lot depends on how you take care of it. At least a few minutes each day should be devoted to massaging the scalp. Plant the thumbs behind the ears, spreading the fingers firmly over the front of the head. Then rotate the scalp with a twist of the wrist.
Move the fingers around until every area of the scalp has been stimulated in this way.
Scalp looseness and elasticity are essential for maintaining good circulation around the hair roots.

Shampooing should be repeated as often as necessary to keep the hair looking clean and glossy. In polluted urban areas, it's needed much more frequently than in the country. Oily hair needs washing more often than dry hair, to remove the excess, and a shampoo for dry hair should leave a bit of extra oil behind.
A European firm whose hair products are designed speci-cally to improve the health of hair, both male and female, is the Pantene Company.

Its products have now become available throughout the United States. There are shampoos formulated especially for men and women with dry and oily hair problems, a woman's hair-setting lotion called Holding de Pantene that leaves no sticky residue behind, a man's hair tonic called Pantene Hair Groom that's greaseless and holds really well and an extra-special assortment of versatile Pantene Hair Groom sprays.

The spray for men is unscented.

Beautiful, well tended hair makes a woman feel more feminine and a man more masculine. In fact, hair grooming's a good way to separate the men from the boys. It's tops!

Pillow Talk

By BURT COOK

If you are an average person, you spend one third of your life in bed. So why shouldn't your mattress be as comfortable as your favorite living room chair?

Originally mattresses were just strong cloth stuffed with hair, cotton, straw or anything else that a craftsman had on hand.

But the bedding industry has been making such continual progress in material and workmanship that today's product is far superior to that of 10 years ago.

The same improvements which have made today's mattresses more durable have caused problems for the industry in educating the customer as to the need and advantages of replacement.

It is not unusual for a mattress to be used for 15 years or more even though by that time it is uncomfortable and should be replaced.

Ralph Affanto Named Dystrophy Poster Child

Ralph Affanto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Affanto of 110 Charles St., Quincy, has been named 1971 Massachusetts State Poster Child for Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

David H. Morse, Greater Boston Chapter president, said "Ralph symbolizes the tragic plight of victims of MD and related diseases and will spearhead efforts of scores of volunteers in the march against dystrophy."

He will also participate in many association fund-raising events and will represent MDA on radio and television.

Ralph was diagnosed as having muscular dystrophy at age 5.

Although forced to wear braces, he is a "bright, friendly youngster with an enormous zest for life," Mr. Morse said.

Ralph was previously poster child for the Greater Boston Chapter. He was introduced to television audiences during the Jerry Lewis Telethon.

Central Students Start Consumer Affairs Study

The 110 students on the "Albegas" team at Central Junior High School will begin a six-week study of consumer affairs next month.

Students will split into groups for experiments in comparison shopping, stock brokerage, computer operation and other phases of economy.

The group heard an address last week by Robert Kilpatrick, consumer consultant of the Food and Drug Administration, on hazardous toys.

The consumer project will be the third phase of Albegas's studies for the year. Other programs have included political action and "Project ROPE", study of research, organization, presentation and evaluation.

Teachers involved with the team are Miss Susan Collins, Robert Louis, Charles Caldwell, Robert Saunders, Robert Burgess and Miss Mary Iannoni.

CONVULSIONS

Few signs of illness in young children are more frightening to parents than convulsions. If the child previously has been found normal by a physician and is on a good diet, the most likely cause is the onset of a disease which produces high fever. Epileptic attacks are uncommon before the age of three.

Alarming as they appear to be, convulsions in themselves are seldom a cause for death. Once started, though, little can be done to stop it. Don't panic. It will end in a few minutes. Don't try to restrain the child's movements any more than is necessary to prevent injury. Lower him gently to the floor or a bed so he doesn't fall.

If breathing stops so long that the child becomes blue, give artificial respiration. When it is over, provide bed rest and quiet and call your doctor.

Educational Materials Exhibit Here Jan. 11

The Quincy School System, Jan. 11, will sponsor one of the largest educational materials exhibits on the South Shore.

More than 50 publishers will display materials that are geared to individualization and self-instruction.

Main purpose of the exhibit is to give teachers a chance to become familiar with commercial materials for all instructional levels, with provisions for various paces in learning.

This will give an opportunity for all members of the educational field to view the latest books, materials and equipment. There will also be an opportunity to examine teacher-made learning aids and to obtain free materials. Numerous South Shore school systems are participating, which offers an excellent opportunity to exchange ideas.

The exhibit will be held at the Broad Meadows Junior High School, 50 Calvin Rd., from noon to 5 p.m. Hosts will be Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, and David P. Tenney, Principal, Broad Meadows Junior High School.

Members of the Exhibit Coordinating Committee are: Allen E. Goldfarb, chairman; George W. Burke, Mathematics and Science Coordinator and Vincent E. Quagge, Social Science Coordinator.

Sylvia Disappointed, Erikson Pleased In GBL Hockey

Quincy's hockey team has a 2-2-1 record as it tries to successfully defend its Greater Boston League championship.

But Coach Bob Sylvia has admitted he is extremely disappointed in the Presidents performance and labelled his team's 4-3 win over winless Chelsea "one of the worst performances by any of my teams."

North Quincy has only a 1-4 record but Coach Ron Erikson is pleased with the steady improvement of his young Raiders. "I know it sounds repetitious to say we have improved after every game, but we simply have," he said following last week's 3-2 loss to unbeaten Revere.

Last night Quincy faced Malden and North took on Medford at Boston Arena Friday night Quincy meets Revere in the windup of a four-game card at the Arena which starts at 6:30 and North plays Somerville in the second game.

Monday at 6:30 it will be Quincy vs. Medford followed by North vs. Malden.

Quincy's lack of scoring again spoiled another excellent performance by goalie Artie Boyle last week as the President were upset by Somerville, 2-1.

Boyle, one of the finest goalies in the GBL, had 27 saves but again his mates couldn't put the puck in the net.

"I know this sounds like a broken record, but we just didn't get the scoring," Sylvia said. "We out-shot Somerville and I think we out-skated them but scoring is the only thing that counts in hockey and we just are not scoring. It doesn't surprise me because we can't even score in practice."

After Somerville took a 1-0 lead, Rich Patten tied the game for Quincy at 9:34 of the first period. He carried into the Highlander's end, dropped a pass to Jim Starkey on a perfect give-and-go. Starkey held his shot while Patten moved in on goalie Rich Hodgkins and Hodgkins made the save on Starkey's shot but Patten was in perfect position to put the rebound in.

Quincy had by far the better of the second period going but couldn't score.

Somerville scored the clincher at 1:13 of the final period.

"It was a case of them taking advantage of the breaks we gave them and our not being able to do it," Sylvia said. "We are pretty inexperienced except for Patten on defense, Boyle in goal and Jim Cattaneo and Steve Cedrone at forwards.

"We are not picking up the needed work now because we have been using MDC ice and the weather has been too warm. What we sorely need in Quincy is our own facility. I can't see any improvement by our teams while the other teams, with their own facilities, are definitely improving."

North made an excellent showing against powerful Revere, one of the top contenders for Quincy's title.

"We were pleased with a lot of things today," Erikson said. "We eliminated most of our lapses. The defense, especially Mike O'Hanley, had a good game and the wingers were checking strongly. Captain Steve Leofanti, my first line center, has been playing outstanding hockey for us and deserves a lot of credit.

"To show you what a terrific leader he is, the other morning my alarm didn't go off and I missed our practice here at the [Boston] Arena. It was at six in the morning and the bus didn't show up to bring the kids in.

"Someone else might have said to forget the whole thing but Steve told the rest of the kids to get in here and then he came in and had a full practice, not just a scrimmage but sprints and workouts. Any success we have as a team this year will be due to contributions like this. He is a fine leader both on and off the ice."

North's first goal was scored by Steve Graham in the second period which tied the score at 1-1. Keith Losordo assisted. But Revere scored twice in the period to take a 3-1 lead into the finale.

With time running out, Erikson pulled goalie Rich Masotta, who played another outstanding game. With 10 seconds left Graham stole the puck from a defender, passed to Brian MacIsaac and the sophomore center scored the final goal.

QJC, ENC Basketball Teams Back In Action

Quincy Junior College's basketball team, 3-0 in the Mass. Junior College Conference and 4-3 overall, returned to action last night with a home conference game against Wentworth Institute.

The Collejuns will play at Massasoit Community College Friday in a non-league game, will host Burdette in a league game at 7:30 Monday at Quincy Vo-Tech gym and will play at Mass. Bay Community College in a non-league affair next Wednesday. They then will have two weeks off before playing at Newton Junior College in a conference game on the 26th.

Eastern Nazarene College, with a 5-2 mark and just six points away from an unbeaten record, will be back in action Friday with a home game against Bridgewater State.

The Crusaders will host Kings college Saturday and Unity College next Tuesday.

Quincy Fathers Club Grid Awards Banquet Jan. 22

The Quincy Fathers Club will hold its annual awards banquet for the Quincy High football squads Saturday, Jan. 22 at 6:30 p.m. at the Vo-Tech cafeteria.

The club recently held its election of officers for 1972 and Tony Malvesti is the new president. Harold McCarthy is vice president, Mary Folino secretary and Frank Osborne, treasurer.

The Fathers Club announces the recent winners of its drawing were Bernadette Fanning of 575 Sea St., and William Knowles, 56 Longwood Rd, both Quincy.

Quincy, North Track Teams Have Breather 'Til Jan. 15

The Quincy and North Quincy track teams don't compete again in the Met League until Jan. 15 but Quincy Coach Gene Macomber will be working hard in the meantime to develop some much-needed depth.

The Presidents, winless in two starts, will face Arlington and the Raiders will meet Milton in the set of meets Jan. 15 at noon at the Fargo Building in South Boston.

As has been the case in most meets over the past two years, Quincy has had its share of winners but the opposition has rolled up enough second and third places to win.

Such was the case last week when the Presidents bowed to unbeaten Needham, 46-40, as once again Quincy dropped the final event, the relay. The win extended Needham's league win streak to 25 meets.

Before the season began Macomber and Assistant Coach Tom Hall felt they had a lot of potential winners again but agreed they probably would be hampered again by lack of depth. "Eighteen of our 33 boys are sophomores and it is up to them to improve and give us some needed seconds and thirds if we are to win," Hall said.

Quincy won six of the nine events against Needham. The winners were Ray Lawyer, dash; Bob Ciano, mile [he is still unbeaten in spring and winter track and cross country for three years]; Brian Feeney, 1000; Bob McDermott, hurdles; Bob Volpini, shot put and John Johnson, high jump.

Despite the abundance of Needham second and third places, the Presidents would have won the meet with a relay victory. They also lost their opener to Rindge by losing the relay.

Meanwhile, Bob Gentry's North team, following an opening day win over Randolph, bowed to Rindge last week, 52-34.

North's only winners were Bob McCormack in the mile, Jack Reynolds in the 600, Steve Leet in the shot put and Dave Ashmenskas in the dash.

Beau's Place Host Sunday To Boston Haynes-Crump Bruins

Quincy and South Shore basketball fans are in for a treat Sunday night at Quincy Vo-Tech gym when Beau's Place of Quincy, leading the Cranberry League with a 6-0 record, hosts the all-colored Haynes-Crump Bruins of Boston in a non-league game. Tap-off will be at 7:15.

There is no admission charge to the Quincy games and Sunday's contest should be one of the best of the year. The Bruins which, like Beau's, are loaded with former college stars, have one of the top semi-pro teams in the Greater Boston area.

Last night Beau's played the Eastern Huskies at Easton in a league game.

Beau's raced to its sixth straight league win last Sunday with a 122-103 win over its nearest rival, Rockland Legion, at Rockland. It was the second win over Rockland for the Quincy powerhouse.

Al Dalton scored 36 points to spark Quincy, followed by Mike Greenlaw with 27, John Hassan with 17, Dave Cahill and Bob McNamara with 12 apiece.

Last week Beau's topped the Weymouth Recreation Alphas, 112-98, at Weymouth.

Greenlaw had 29 points, Dalton 28, Marty Shoefier 20 and McNamara 12. McNamara and Dalton also sparkled on the boards.

Junior High-Freshman Teams Return To Ice Saturday Night

The Quincy and North Quincy junior high-freshman hockey teams will return to Greater Boston League action Saturday night after the Christmas vacation.

Quincy, with a 2-0 record, will face Everett at 7 p.m. while North, 1-1, will take on Malden in the 6 p.m. opener at the Boston Arena.

The young Presidents have wins over Chelsea and Malden, while the youthful Raiders topped Everett after bowing to Somerville.

In GBL Basketball Action

North Hosts Somerville, Quincy At Revere

North Quincy's unbeaten basketball team will face undefeated and perennial Greater Boston League champion Somerville Friday at the North gym, while Quincy, after getting its first GBL win, goes to Revere.

Tuesday it will be Malden at North Quincy and Quincy at Chelsea in league games.

Last Tuesday night Quincy hosted Medford and North travelled to Everett.

Bob Nolan's North quintet looks like a good bet to make another Tech Tourney appearance and also shapes up as a GBL title threat after bombing Chelsea, 97-60, for its third win in a row and second straight league victory.

Chelsea stayed within reach of the Raiders for a half on its home floor but was literally blown off the floor in the last two periods.

After a period it was North, 15-8, and it was 29-22 at the half. But the Raiders exploded for 33 points in the third period and 35 in the finale.

"We had been in a scoring famine in our first two games and in the first half of this one but we certainly broke out of it in the second half," Nolan said. "I just hope it continues. We have been playing great ball on defense and a few more points will make us a real tough club to beat."

"We've been very strong on defense all year," Assistant Coach Joe Amorosino agreed. "We forced 21 turnovers in this game and this is where we cashed in. We forced a lot of turnovers in the other games but couldn't score off them. But we did tonight."

The North bench had a strong game and was instrumental in the second half explosion as several of the starters ran into foul trouble.

Pete Quinn came off the bench and scored 13 of his 15 points in the second half, as did Ken Marsters. Dave Nelson scored 12 of his 18 in the last two periods and Jim Driscoll nine of his 10. Jamie Doherty had 14 points and Bob McKay 12.

Amorosino's North junior varsity romped, 62-41, as Steve Miller and Steve McLaughlin had 12 points each and Bernie Halloran 11.

Marty Finnegan's Quincy quintet, which had dropped two in a row following an opening night win, topped Malden, 66-58, for its first GBL win. The Presidents are 1-1 in the league and 2-2 overall.

"It was a sloppy game but we again had good shooting in sprints," said Finnegan. "But we are still making too many mistakes. We are just rushing it too much and not taking our time to set up the good shot."

Quincy was 26 for 53 from the floor while Malden was only 26 for 77. From the foul line the Presidents were 14 for 29 and Malden six for 14.

Quincy again had too many turnovers with 26, 17 of them in the second half when Malden cut into an early Quincy lead.

Ken Furfari and Bob McDermott had 16 points apiece and John Reggianni 15. Finnegan had praise for Mark McLeod, who took over when Furfari picked up his fourth foul early in the third period. He scored five of his seven points in the final period.

Mike Greenlaw's Quincy junior varsity also won, 57-37.

A star-studded Alumni team came from behind in the final period to top the Presidents, 88-79. Quincy led, 67-61, going into the finale but here Jim Rendle scored 18 of his 31 points. Paul Beston had 15 for the graduates and Reggianni paced the Presidents with 19.

Carmen, who was born with spina bifida and hydrocephalus, symbolizes the more than 250,000 children born with serious birth defect. The annual Mothers' March will be on Jan. 30.

Koch Club Bowling Tournament Jan. 23

The 19th annual Greater Quincy Men's Candlepin Bowling Tournament sponsored by the Koch Club of Quincy will begin on Sunday, Jan. 23, at the Merrymount Daylight Alleys, Broad St.

Applications may be obtained at the lanes or from tourney director Richard J. Koch of 241 Newbury Ave., North Quincy.

Teams must be from an organized men's bowling league. The five top bowlers of each league as of Jan. 15, are eligible to bowl in competition using the sixth and seventh bowlers in the standing as alternates.

Entrants must have bowled half the season with their respective leagues and may be registered on only one given team roster.

Any violation of the above rules will forfeit the team's participation.

All matches in the elimination tournament will be decided on total pinfall. The winning team will receive a $100 cash prize.

Lindstrom's 301 Leads Little Loop

Steve Lindstrom rolled the high individual three at 3-1 and tied for high single with Bob Kelly at 115 in last week's competition of Little Loop Bowling.

High team three for the week went to the Elks with a 1,332 and the Hal Davis club rolled a 467 to score the high team single.

Bryan Post came out of the competition with a slim lead in the team standings with a 24-12 record compared with Montclair Men's Club's 23-13.

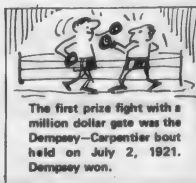

Also in the running for top honors are Atlantic Fuel Oil Co. and Hal Davis Club, with identical 22-14 marks.

Rounding out the standings are James R. McIntyre, 20-16; Hutchinson Oil, 19-17; Elks, 18-18; Hennessy Plumbing Supply, 17-19; Local 513,

Dick Magnarelli's 94.21 average gives him a comfortable lead in the top ten individual statistics over Joe Gullins' 92.6 and Frank Granara's 92.13.

The first prize fight with a million dollar gate was the Dempsey-Carpentier bout held on July 2, 1921. Dempsey won.

Text Of Inaugural Address

Hannon Promises Economy-Minded Administration, A

The complete text of Mayor Walter J. Hannon's inaugural address follows:

Reverend clergy, City Councillors, School Committeemen, distinguished guests, Fellow Citizens of the City of Quincy:

"I am proud to stand before you today as Mayor of our City—Proud to become part of a history which numbers men such as Adams and Hancock—Proud also that my mother, my wife and my children can be here.

"I am mindful of the problems we face and heartened by the confidence expressed in my ability to perform the tasks that lie ahead. I have developed excellent friendships after eight years on the City Council. I look upon the next two years as a team effort to provide Quincy the best possible government.

ECONOMY MINDED ADMINISTRATION

"I shall conduct an economy-minded administration. Our City has many fixed expenditures and commitments such as county, state and MBTA assessments and the addition of 38 new police men, but this is the price of security over which we can exert little influence. We will, however, review all controllable expenditures carefully, realistically and without regard to political consequences.

"I have often been warned that positions I have taken were "politically unwise". Yet I have felt they were right for our City. I will continue to make these hard decisions regardless of politics. I shall do so because the home owner and rent payer are hurting in the pocketbook and deserve an end to spiralling local costs. I am also ready to confront the major issues facing our city today.

DRUGS

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

"There is no more difficult problem than drugs. Our young people are on a path to doom which endangers the fabric of a generation and the security of a city beset by a soaring crime rate. Yet, we as leaders seem unable to develop a comprehensive attack on the problem. Today there is no city agency to turn to for help, no comprehensive educational program and no total commitment to this social and family problem.

"I believe the full impact of the Mayor's office must be directed to this problem, and one person responsible only to the Mayor should coordinate education, enforcement and rehabilitation activities within the City of Quincy.

TO SEEK COORDINATOR OF DRUGS

"Therefore, I shall ask the City Council to establish the position of Coordinator of Drug Programs within the office of the Mayor. Today, agencies work independently. There is overlapping of authority, areas of conflict, competition for funds and needless duplication of effort. Hereafter, every ongoing program in our city shall work through the Coordinator. I believe this is the only way we can develop a strong and unified attack on the cancer of drug abuse.

MORE HOUSING FOR ELDERLY

"Quincy is now recognized as a leader in Massachusetts for providing services and facilities for our senior citizens. I urge the Quincy Housing Authority to expedite construction plans for 150 elderly units on Clay Street in Wollaston. I encourage more programs such as 1000 Southern Artery and Fenno House.

"Next we must begin to define long-range housing objectives and prepare a program of housing construction. We must know where we are going. I urge that representatives of the Housing Authority, civic and neighborhood organizations and municipal offices join together to find building sites and funds for senior citizen housing in West Quincy and North Quincy.

"We must expand the many fine services available to the elderly. The lunch and community health programs should reach out to the elderly shut-ins not living in senior citizen housing. We should utilize the talents of our retired citizens, and through our municipal and community organizations they should play a more important role in our city.

EXTENDING MBTA

A MAJOR GOAL

"An important goal of this administration is to see the MBTA extended out of Quincy Square. The line is a success. Twenty thousand riders per day have stimulated major investment interest in our downtown, but it is clear now that our neighboring communities are major users of Quincy stations. They are congesting downtown streets and filling municipal parking spaces with commuters instead of shoppers.

"The construction of station facilities at North and South Braintree and road improvements at Capen's Bridge will relieve the Quincy Center Station by providing needed boarding places for our neighbors to the south. The MBTA is an asset to Quincy, but the South Shore Extension is only half completed—We must all work to see that the job gets done now. I shall meet with the

Governor of the Commonwealth to seek his renewed support on this matter.

NEW SCHOOL FACILITIES

"Quality education is a reality for our children and we can be proud of the Quincy Public School System. We now face the financial burden of providing a modern physical plant for our educational system.

"We shall move ahead with critically needed facilities such as the Lincoln-Hancock School and an addition to North Quincy High School. But, we must also recognize that while capital expenditures in education are our greatest expense, they are not our only obligation. Educationally sound decisions must also be fiscally sound decisions so that the cost of an educational system does not paralyze our entire municipal structure.

SIX MAJOR RECREATION, PARK OBJECTIVES

"We shall continue to provide first-rate park facilities and recreation services and protect important conservation and natural resources of our city. I see six major objectives in the next two years:

"1. The Wollaston Golf Course must be protected as open space through public ownership, control or agreement. It has been an important community asset and must remain so.

"2. The people of Quincy want a municipal skating rink—I do too! I ask that architect's plans be completed expeditiously, simply and economically. I want to see a skating facility built and operating by November 1, 1972 and expect to skate on it with my family next season. The full cooperation of my office shall be available to help move this project.

"3. Recreation facilities at Faxon Park should be improved.

In the weeks to come, we shall develop plans for comprehensive improvements at Faxon Park and I shall submit this program to the City Council along with an application for federal financial assistance to help offset the cost to our citizens.

"4. The Houghs Neck Marsh is one of the few remaining viable salt marshes in our community. Last year, the City Council took the first step in protecting the area by purchasing 17 acres. Now, I request that the Conservation Commission initiate discussions with owners of the remaining 30 acres and seek, through donation or some other means, public protection of this area.

"5. I believe that the Mound Street Beach area should be cleaned up and made a city beach and recreation site. I shall have a program of improvements and federal assistance applications prepared for the City Council at the earliest possible date and look toward the construction of a quality facility for Quincy Point.

"6. Finally, I want to broaden community recreation programs available to the post-high school age group. We have a responsibility to the good young people who do not have problems. One way I believe we can be more help is to fully utilize our school buildings and equipment in the evenings and during vacations for sports and recreation activities.

WILL CONTINUE TO SEEK

NEW DEVELOPMENT

"These improvements in education and recreation will cost money. Prudent planning and state and federal assistance will help offset their cost, but these kinds of expenditures mean added taxes. We therefore shall continue to seek development for Quincy, such as State Street South, Kemper Insurance and Jordan Marsh, and must make every effort to see that General Dynamics remains a strong, viable force in our economy.

DEVELOPMENT COORDINATOR

"In order to assure priority attention in this area, I shall activate the position of Development Coordinator within the Department of Planning, Programming and Development and direct that office to devote major effort to the General Dynamics situation and seek new quality investment in Quincy.

REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

"I believe we must make Quincy Center a better place in which to shop and conduct business. Quincy Center is important to our city. We need improved access, better circulation and more parking in Quincy Center. Bids for the construction of the Ross Area Parking Garage shall be advertised shortly and we look toward its completion before the next Christmas shopping season.

"But most importantly, Quincy Center must be made a more attractive place to shop and work if it is to remain truly competitive with modern centers. State redevelopment funds are available. I shall submit the necessary orders to the City Council for a Downtown Redevelopment Authority so that we may defray the costs of downtown improvements with state financial aid. In addition, I ask that the Downtown Steering Committee prepare and coordinate private rehabilitation in Quincy Center as part of a comprehensive downtown improvements program.

TO SEEK NEW FEDERAL CODE PROGRAM

"The quality of life is best preserved in Quincy by assuring strong, viable neighborhoods. Efforts such as the North Quincy and the Quincy Point Improvement Programs are important tools of community rehabilitation and provide federal assistance for public works improvements.

"We shall also start to clean up the entrances to our city through these programs. We shall seek a new federal code program for Quincy and seek other sources of neighborhood rehabilitation money where it will help maintain and improve our residential areas.

CITY HALL OPEN EVENINGS

"Lastly, I want to make municipal services more available and convenient. We are going to try new things to improve this government. We will keep City Hall open some evenings so the working people can come in at night to obtain licenses, pay bills and do other city business.

24-HOUR "HOT LINE"

"In addition, we will provide a 24-hour "hot line" for emergency calls and assign a community service representative working out of the Mayor's office to follow up on requests for help.

"Why have people come to this city, and why do they stay here? We have talked about parks and schools and neighborhoods, the quality of life, and the quality of services, because these are all a part of the answer. But in the end I think we are really talking about the people of this city and we as their leaders.

"And now the work begins. I look forward to the next two years as an exciting challenge. May God be with us all."

Council President Tobin Pledges 'Full Cooperation' To New Mayor

City Council President Arthur Tobin has pledged new Mayor Walter J. Hannon his "full cooperation" during the next two years.

The 41-year-old attorney made the promise Monday after setting history by becoming the first council president elected to a third term.

The vote was 6-2 with John J. Quinn, "Dean of the Council", getting the two votes.

"I pledge full cooperation to Mayor Hannon for the best interests of the city," declared Tobin after taking his oath from City Clerk John M. Gillis.

Apparently to those who did not vote for him he commented: "For those who disagree, I respect your judgement, your wishes and your integrity."

He served notice, however, that he intends to continue as council president next year also. "I accept your challenge," he said, "and I shall lead you in 1972 and 1973."

Tobin was nominated by Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham and the nomination was seconded by new Ward 5 Councillor William Delahunt.

Quinn was nominated by former City Council President Joseph J. LaRaia returning to the council as an at-large member. Quinn's nomination was seconded by Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall.

LaRaia and Marshall voted for Quinn but Quinn himself cast his ballot for Tobin. The latter voted "present".

Joining Graham and Delahunt in support of Tobin were Ward 4 Councillor Albert R. Barilaro, new Ward 3 Councillor Theophilus [Ted] McLelland and former Council President J. Vincent Smyth of Ward 6.

Quinn was the first to shake Tobin's hand and offer him his congratulations.

As one of his first duties, Tobin announced he was creating a new special City Council Committee on Drug Abuse and named Delahunt and McLelland as co-chairmen.

Delahunt and McLelland were also elected by their colleagues to serve as members of the Quincy City Hospital Endowment Fund.

City Historian William C. Edwards and Atty. Melvin Thorner were re-elected members of the Adams Temple and School Fund.

The nomination of Jack McCracken for re-election to the Woodward School Fund board was routinely tabled until the next council meeting.

McIntyre, Councillors Plaques

Inauguration Day belonged to Mayor Hannon and the new City Councillors Monday, but the outgoing mayor and councilmen were not forgotten.

Mayor James R. McIntyre and retiring councillors George B. McDonald, John F. Koegler and Hannon were each presented plaques by the council in recognition of their service.

McDonald, Koegler and Hannon will also receive the chairs they occupied at council sessions at a later date.

McDonald's chair is the same one on which his father, George P. McDonald, sat when he served from 1942 to 1945.

Mrs. Louise Brabazon, secretary to Mayor McIntyre was presented a plaque inscribed "To Lulu".

John T. Williams, president of Bankette Co. Inc. and general chairman of the inaugural festivities, received an award naming him "Mayor For A Day".

Mayor Walter J. Hannon praised his predecessor, James R. McIntyre for doing "a tremendous job" for Quincy during the latter's six years as the city's chief executive.

"He has done a tremendous job for the city of Quincy," said Hannon. "I'm following in big footsteps in more ways than one."

Each member of the council—this year's council and last year's—also had a personal tribute for McIntyre.

He was presented a special plaque in behalf of the 1970-71 council by Council President Arthur Tobin.

Sinatra Miffed At Rumors, What About Commercials?

FRANK SINATRA is miffed at those "dying of cancer" rumors to the boiling point of a $5 million lawsuit against the Hollywood publication which so unwisely printed the lie... Of her "STAR SPANGLED GIRL" release, SANDY DUNCAN'S asking price has tripled. If she can maintain the momentum of her recent hit, no I wasn't particularly enthused over it, she could well be in the $1 million plus a picture category within five years time... CHUCK CONNORS' motion picture career is a bust. For one thing he's not a marquee headliner. Secondly, the films he was featured in were box office fizzeroos... When you add it up CHUCK CONNORS was far more comfortable in the television media. Before too long, for his sake we hope, He'll be back on the small tube where he should have never exited...

Oops, and here we go again. Chaik up the name JOE KAPP to the legion of athletes who think acting is their "greener" pasture. The former New England Patriot runaway will make his debut in the role of an Indian in the made for television two-hour "CLIMB AN ANGRY MOUNTAIN"... KAPP may change his thinking about acting "beating getting hit by linebackers" when he becomes caught in a critic crossfire. Then again, with his trusty attorney by his side, the ever bubbly KAPP may be able to renegotiate a better review... If BILL CONRAD would only drop say about 30 pounds, I would find him a more convincing "CANNON" hero...

Warner Bros. is keeping its' collective fingers crossed that $$$ lightning will strike twice. They're planning a sequel to the surprise top grossing "SUMMER OF '42"... Memo from George Healey of Quincy: "...if you look closely you'll see a remarkable facial resemblance between PETER FINCH and RICHARD BURTON"... You're right there is. And if I may add, the likeness carries over into the acting department where they each excel... And Joe Re. of Falmouth writes: "do today's cowboy stars still do their own stuntwork? Years ago TOM MIX and WILLIAM S. HART always did their own"... It really depends on the individual. CLINT EASTWOOD, and until recently JOHN WAYNE, do their own stunts. On the other side of the coin, PETER BRECK and TY HARDIN generally leave the physical stuff to the professionals...

CHARLES BRONSON will portray the late JOE VALACHI in the upcoming, "THE VALACHI PAPERS". The DINO DE LAURENTIIS production is slated for filming by March the latest. And oh yes, from what I have been able to dig up, all filming will be done on location in Italy, not the States... For those who have the time, money and inclination, "KEEP OFF THE GRASS" world premiers at the Saenger Theatre, New Orleans the latter part of January... Universal will film "SLAUGHTERHOUSE-FIVE", a novel by Barnstable Towns most famed celebrity, KURT VONNEGUT, JR... Not to be confused with "BOYS IN THE BAND", "BOYS IN THE SAND" is a takeoff of the former with a beachboy to swimming pool to bedroom background... Don't let them "kick sand in your face" eh?...

PRESIDENT RICHARD NIXON signed into law a bill renaming the San Antonio, Texas, Veterans Administration for AUDIE MURPHY, war hero turned actor, who died earlier this year in a plane crash... ALFRED HITCHCOCK may have a reputation of not getting along with his actors, but English thespian ALEC McCOWEN thinks, "he's a fine fellow to work for"... Wouldn't you say PETER CUSHING is in the same horror-flic type casting groove as VINCENT PRICE? One can't go to a drive-in theatre these days without being scared half out of their wits by a menacingly convincing CUSHING. In some respects he oneupmanship's PRICE...

Really don't see too much of ABBY DALTON anymore. A few years ago she was flying high in a television series, and all sorts of high prospects were being forecast for her... Since then Miss DALTON has bided her time in morning and afternoon Talk Shows, but nothing else. Which all leads up to the question, is ABBY DALTON taking acting seriously?... New York cabdriver JOEL VIGA gives a howling performance in "SUCH GOOD FRIENDS". Could be the start of somethin' big for the witty VIGA... Remember BISHOP SHEEN? He may be back on the small tube before too long. Several networks are negotiating with him to "come back"...

SOUND OFF: What gives with those television Commercials? Aren't they overkilling us with their never ending oversell of promises, promises, promises? Products to make your hands softer, cleansers to end your sink-grime worries... forever, pain relievers to vanish all our minor [major?] aches and worries. What gives? Are they for real as advertised? Or are they just doublethink bull? And how come we enjoy them so much? From what I hear and read, most viewers find commercials more enjoyable than the shows they sponsor. Are we gluttons for punishment that we purchase what we see advertised, even all the while knowing the product isn't cracked up for what it is? Or do we really believe, "relief is just a swallow away"?

Just one man's opinion of course, but for my money TERRY THOMAS is one of the funniest comedians in the business today. Too bad he's the victim of the present motion picture climate, namely, sex and screen violence sell, but not "good humor"... Same for PATRICK MACNEE, he of "THE AVENGERS" ratings hit. MacNEE has credits a mile long, but no place to exercise his craft... We're just waiting for BOBBY DARIN to make a comeback...

Stanley Kaufman President Shorebank Leasing, Inc.

Stanley L. Kaufman of Newton has been elected president of Shorebank Leasing, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of South Shore National Bank, Quincy.

The Bank has 34 offices in Norfolk County and lists assets of more than $188,000,000.

Kaufman is a member of the Young Executive's Group of Beth Israel Hospital, Boston. He is married and has three children.

Wheelock Students Team Teach At Atherton Hough

A closely knit cooperative program has been developed between the Primary Unit at Atherton Hough and Wheelock College in Boston.

Through this arrangement, Atherton Hough gained the assistance of a team of five student teachers who have been working with the children since September, and the consultant services of Dr. Helen Gillham, professor and specialist in reading and language arts at Wheelock College.

Dr. Gillham spends a minimum of one full day per week at Atherton Hough serving as a resource person for teachers, student teachers and children.

In addition there have been available for the children's enrichment the facilities of the Wheelock College materials center, science labs and library.

Atherton Hough has offered the student teachers the opportunity to experience a wide variety of reading programs which are being used in the primary reading unit.

Multi-reading approaches have always been used at Atherton Hough in order to meet the diverse needs of the children, but this is the first year that as many as eight different reading programs are in process, with three new ones having been added this year.

The student teachers from Wheelock are Miss Louisa Miller, Mrs. Vicki Milstein, Miss Suzanne Maheu, Miss Susan Alenier and Miss Marilyn Meub.

The cooperating teachers from Atherton Hough are Mrs. Mary Curtin, Miss Judi Craven, Miss Kathleen Morris, Miss Kathleen Riccobene and Mrs. Naomi Saltzman.

These college seniors complete their 12-week training in December. A group of juniors from Dr. Gillham's communications course will be observing in the Atherton Hough primary reading unit for the following six weeks.

For the remainder of the year there will be a group of junior student teachers who will begin their initial classroom teaching experiences in the primary reading program.

This program of influencing colleges to better prepare their students for teaching in today's public schools was developed through the efforts of Mr./Edward Baccari, principal of Atherton Hough School; Dr. Helen Gillham and Mrs. Harriet Malick, professors at Wheelock College; and Miss Lena Foster, former Quincy teacher and faculty member at Wheelock College.

Della Chiesa Notes McIntyre, Hannon Served Under Him

Former Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa sent a ripple of laughter through the Vocational-Technical School gym when he took some of the credit for James R. McIntyre's success as mayor. Della Chiesa paid tribute to the man who succeeded him and smiling noted "he [McIntyre] spent his apprenticeship under Della Chiesa."

McIntyre, sitting near Della Chiesa, broke out in a wide grin.

Della Chiesa also set the stage for a little future credit in the administration of new Mayor Walter Hannon.

"And," said Della Chiesa, again touching off smiles, "Hannon served part of his apprenticeship under me, too."

City Hall Open Evenings

Mayor Walter J. Hannon has promised to keep city hall open on some evenings "to make municipal services more available and convenient."

Mayor Hannon said in his inaugural address Monday that city offices will be open evenings "so the working people can come in at night to obtain licenses, pay bills and do other city business."

He said he would also provide a 24-hour "hot line" for emergency calls and assign a community service representative to follow up on requests for help.

Creating, Attracting Jobs Major Chamber Goal In '72 Says Swider

Creating and attracting jobs through economic development, will be the major goal of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce in 1972 according to new Executive Vice-President Eric M. Swider.

Said Swider in a prepared statement:

"1972 will be a year of reorganization for the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce. It will be our ambition during the coming 12 months to make this Chamber the goal-setting organization for the South Shore market place with the primary focus on economic development.

"Creating and attracting jobs, especially industrially-based jobs, will be our goal.

"As others have so eloquently said, the economy of this area and of the Commonwealth cannot continue to prosper unless we have a strong and growing employment base. We, as a total community, must make some hard-nosed decisions about our future as a viable market place, and then be prepared to work to attract and retain the selective industry for this area which can profit and prosper here.

"Extension of rapid transit to the bedrooms of the South Shore and physical development, and redevelopment of the high density, high land value areas of communities like Braintree, Quincy, Randolph and Weymouth undoubtedly will also be uppermost in the minds of our membership as we work during 1972.

"Reliance on national economic trends, which most experts suggest are positive for the year ahead, can no longer be an acceptable measure of growth for the South Shore. Business members, and those interests we work with during the year ahead will want to strive to obtain a better share of the economic pie for the residents of this area.

"It will be our goal during the next six months to make the Quincy-South Shore Chamber a positive catalyst in coordinating the work of the many diverse forces in the community that agree that more job opportunities should be available here."

Brownell Asks Merrymount Wall Meeting

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has asked Public Works Commissioner James J. Ricciuti to schedule a meeting with Merrymount residents to discuss shoring up a tidal wall.

Brownell expressed the concern of residents of Chickatabot and Narragansett Roads and Shore Ave. over "a perennial flooding condition which causes severe damage to both homes and roads in the area.

"The consensus of opinion seems to be that if land fill were placed in front of the existing sea wall the possibility of any future flooding would be eliminated," he wrote.

No Need For Traffic Officer At Granite-Hancock Sts. In 1900

By PAUL HAROLD

There was no need for a traffic policeman at the corner of Granite and Hancock Sts. in 1900, as evidenced in the above photo.

The Robertson House Block on the left, one of the first brick buildings in Quincy, contained at that time, Quincy's only "first class" hotel, the Greenleaf [Charles A. Hayden, proprietor].

On the street floor was a shoe store, an auction gallery, drug store, the D. E. Wadsworth Co. [the largest dry goods store between Boston and Brockton], and the Granite Bank [Theophilus King, president and Rupert F. Clafin, cashier]. The Granite Bank was to become the South Shore National Bank.

This building is still standing. The pitched roof and a central tower were removed, however, after fire damaged the fourth floor rooms.

Across Granite St., a combination of business buildings included a fish market, Chinese laundry, fruit store, tobacconist and Remick's ice cream company.

The building at the right [site of the Shipbuilders Co-operative Bank today] was W. C. Hartwell's General Store, "carrying cutlery, pocket books, pistols, ammunition, confectionery, cigars, pipes, periodicals and tobacco." In 1878 it served as Quincy's first permanent post office.

Up till that time, the post office was maintained in the postmaster's home or place of business. The result was, that from the beginning of the postal service in Quincy, post offices moved from newspaper offices to taverns to apothecary shops, depending on who was post master.

The site of Hartwell's was popularly called Briesler's Corner. The property was bought by John B. Briesler Sr., one of the German settlers at Germantown in 1815.

Insiders say that Wollaston businessman Richard Newcomb definitely is in line for appointment as Quincy city purchasing agent. They expect Mayor Walter Hannon to make the announcement within a week or two.

Present Purchasing Agent George Riley, named by former Mayor James McIntyre, is returning to his insurance business.

POLITICS are never out of season. With all the city officials sworn in and down to business, the Speculation Corps is now looking westward to Dedham and the coming county elections.

Word around is that former School Committee Vice-Chairman James McCormick, unsuccessful in his mayoralty bid, may run for county treasurer.

Also being mentioned as possible contenders are former City Treasurer David Houston, John Sullivan Jr. of Quincy, executive secretary to the county commissioners and Joseph Graziani, Milton town treasurer.

AND, House Speaker David Bartley's all-day visit in Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth and Randolph this week, has the Speculation Corps figuring him as a definite candidate for governor or lieutenant governor. He had a lot of the local Democratic power with him through the day including:

***

LEAP YEAR NOTE: The School Committee has two eligible young bachelors but one of them will soon be hearing wedding bells.

Daniel Raymondi, former grid star, will wed pretty Sharyn Thibodeau June 4. She's secretary to Sterling Junior High School Principal Arnold Rubin.

But don't despair, girls. Still very much in circulation is Harold Davis. And, this is the year to do something about it.

●Youth Speaks Out

• The trouble with T.V. is that its become too realistic. An ad was placed for somebody with no acting experience to play Archie Bunker--Four million people qualified by just being themselves.

• Mayor Hannon's inauguration was held in a High School Gymnasium. Some cynics would place symbolic meaning in the location.

• The M.D.C. should have its initials stand for something else like - Most Disastrous Commission - Many Ding-a-lings Consulting or More Delays Coming. The M.D.C. took away school boy ice time with no advance notice, not to mention 6 years of procrastination on a schoolboy track facility.

• Pres. Nixon has said that troops will remain in Vietnam to protect our P.O.W.'s. The North Vietnamese have said they'll release our P.O.W.'s if we set a date for with-drawing all our troops. The logic of our foreign policy escapes me.

• Here's a winding-down-the-war-note: While Bob Hope was negotiating for P.O.W. release the U.S. unleashed 4 days of bombing raids which killed hundreds and destroyed at least one hospital in North Vietnam. Timing is everything in life.

• During an NHL hockey game recently fans, team members, and policemen, slugged it out. Hockey certainly brings out the best in people.

Christmas Mail Smooth Operation

Editor, Quincy Sun:

Our 1971 Christmas operation was the smoothest ever even with a 6% increase in mail volumes over the previous year.

The success of our many programs; such as, mail early, banding, and the use of ZIP Code, is due in large part to the generous cooperation of the news media.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to you and all staff members for the assistance rendered to the United States Postal Service in conveying our messages to the public.

My very best wishes for your continued success in the new year.

Tobin Scatters City Council Chairmen, Vice-Chairmanships

City Council President Arthur Tobin today tapped John J. Quinn, J. Vincent Smyth and Clifford H. Marshall to head the council's three most powerful committees.

Quinn was named chairman of the Finance Committee; Smyth the Public Works Committee and Marshall the Ordinance Committee. All three are full Council Membership Committees.

Respective vice-chairmen of those three committees will be Edward S. Graham, newcomer Theophilus McLelland and former council President Joseph J. LaRaia, returning to the council after several years.

Tobin, in making his appointments, scattered the chairmanships and vice-chairmanships with each councillor getting to head two committees and to be vice-chairmen of two.

"I tried to appoint them to the committees where they would best serve and where they have shown the most interest," Tobin said.

The committee assignments follow. The first name is chairman, the second vice-chairman:

FINANCE: Quinn, Graham.
PUBLIC WORKS: Smyth, McLelland.

ORDINANCE: Marshall, LaRaia.

PUBLIC SAFETY: Albert R. Barilaro, Graham.

PARKS AND RECREATION: William D. Delahunt, McLelland.

RULES: Quinn, Delahunt.

REFUSE DISPOSAL: McLelland, Quinn.

LAND CONVEYANCE: Graham, Barilaro.

YOUTH: LaRaia, Smyth.

ENVIRONMENTAL CONTROL: Barilaro, Marshall.

FEDERAL FUNDS: LaRaia, Quinn.

BEAUTIFICATION: Delahunt, McLelland.

LIBRARIES, HISTORICAL PLACES: Graham, Delahunt.

DRUG ABUSE: Delahunt and McLelland co-chairmen, Quinn, vice-chairman.

OVERSIGHTS: Graham, Delahunt.

VETERANS SERVICES: Smyth, Marshall.

HEALTH, HOSPITAL & WELFARE: McLelland, Barilaro.

PENSIONS: Marshall, LaRaia.

OUTSTANDING BAND - President David Duval, center, and Director Carl F. Leone of the North Quincy High School Band accept a $500 check from Roger Perfetti, assistant vice president of Norfolk County Trust Co., as their award for outstanding high school band in the South Shore Christmas Festival Parade. The band was sponsored by the Quincy Sun.

City Census To Include 17-19 Age Group

Quincy residents aged 17 to 19 will be listed in a municipal census for the first time this year due to the 18-year-old vote passed last year by Congress.

An estimated 70 workers will be canvassing the city for the next month to interview persons 17 and over in the annual census required by state law.

Census takers will visit every home in the city in attempts to personally interview every resident between now and Feb. 15, according to Mrs. Ruth Pabst.

Mrs. Pabst, principal clerk of the elections department, said state law requires that every resident cooperate with census takers in providing pertinent information.

Each worker will be wearing identification on his outer clothing, she said.

"If you fail to see a census worker, please contact the Election Department at City Hall after Feb. 15," she said.

The 1970 census reported 56,676 persons 20 years of age or older living in the city.

Last year's federal and state census showed Quincy's total population at 89,598.

Smyth Seeks Hearing For Purchase Of Squaw Rock

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth has called for a public hearing before the Boston City Council to discuss sale of the Squaw Rock section of Squantum to Quincy.

In a letter to Boston Council President Gabriel F. Piemonte, Smyth asked that a date be set "as soon as possible" to complete transactions on the long-sought acquisition.

He said Boston Corporation Counsel Herbert Gleason and Quincy City Solicitor Harry

Pavan "have together worked out a mutual and agreeable sale for the transfer of this land."

Smyth and other city officials have been trying for years to buy the park area from Boston.

Boston ownership of the land in Quincy has presented problems including difficulties in police protection for the area.

The letter said Squaw Rock would be used by the City of Quincy "for open space and recreational purposes" if purchased.

$1 Million Increase In State School Aid Premature Says Creedon

Reports earlier this week that the City of Quincy can expect a $1 million increase in state school aid may be premature, according to Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon.

Dr. Creedon, superintendent of Quincy Public Schools, said the projected increase is based on entitlements listed in a recent letter from the state Department of Education.

The department uses a set formula to determine the amount of aid each community is entitled to, but actual distribution is based on funds available he said.

The city is not expected to know how much money it will receive from the state for 1972-73 until publication of "cherry sheets" indicating revenue received from sales tax.

Quincy's entitlement for the coming year is $4,051,524.57, which is an increase of $1,054,751 over last year.

"But we have no guarantee of any increase until such time as we see what the cherry sheet will give us," Dr. Creedon said.

Do you really want your brother-in-law to know how much you earned last year?

Of course not. It's nobody's business but your own.

However, annually millions of taxpayers bear this kind of personal information to people who really shouldn't know. For what? Just so they can save a few dollars doing their income tax.

That's some price to pay.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it with any amateur who might not know that work clothes in some instances are deductible, or that income averaging might save tax dollars, you can have your tax return done by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team with complete confidentiality. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices. H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year 'round tax service for just one low fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates. Yes, we cost a little bit more than your relatives or friends or neighbors but when you think of what we deliver, you can't afford anything less than H & R Block.

Long Time Comin

I travel down a longer road
In which no fantasies lie
A road in which people live
And need not have to die
This road I've sought for many years
Has come to me at last
With promises that all the tears
Lie buried in the past
This road, it seems has been so close
But always it has eluded
The fondest dreams of lasting love
Which man so brutally infringed
This road I found, but man I will not summon
For people to be at peace, will be a long time comin.

Under The Sunshine Tree

by Anita Bryant

SHAGGY RUG STORY - If your shag rug is getting flat with wear, a bamboo garden rake will help. Vacuum the rug or use the sweeper and then rake it lightly... all the attractive shaggy texture will be restored.

NATURAL BEAUTY AIDS - Products from nature's cupboard come to the aid of problem hair. A rinse of warm water and grapefruit juice helps oily hair and scalp become less oily, makes troublesome hair more manageable. If dry hair is your problem, olive oil in the next-to-last rinse will lessen splitting, add attractive highlights. For extra body, try whipped egg white, milk, or warm beer.

UNSCRAMBLED SOCKS - To keep socks organized in my children's dresser drawers, I give them egg cartons for storage of paired and rolled socks. It keeps the drawers neat and saves time when the children are dressing for school.

DOWN THE HATCH - The cold and flu season is approaching and often the youngsters have to be cajoled into taking medicine. If the child balks, give him an ice cube to suck just before medicine time. The ice numbs the child's taste buds and the medicine goes right down without any bad taste. To ward off colds and sniffles tuck an orange into the lunch-box regularly.

The World's Greatest Beef Stew!

Honey specialties such as good old beef stew can be a triumph of taste when made to produce the most flavor from the ingredients. Ac'cent is wonderful for blending all the savory flavors together and bringing out the meaty essence of the beef. Our recipe was designed to make the greatest beef stew ever. For further flavor tips, send for the free leaflet "Flavor Is the Heart of Your Cooking," available by writing to Suite 1100, 551 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

The World's Greatest Beef Stew

- |                             |                               |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 2 pounds beef chuck,        | 6 whole cloves                |
| cut in 1 1/2-inch cubes     | 12 small white onions, peeled |
| 1/2 cup flour               | 6 medium carrots, pared       |
| 2 teaspoons Ac'cent         | and cut in 1-inch slices      |
| 1 teaspoon salt             | 6 medium potatoes, pared      |
| 1/2 teaspoon pepper         | and cut in 1-inch cubes       |
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine | 1 package (10 ounces)         |
| 4 beef bouillon cubes       | frozen green peas             |
| 4 cups water                | Chopped parsley               |
| 1 bay leaf (whole,          |                               |
| not crumbled)               |                               |

Trim excess fat from beef. Mix flour, Ac'cent, salt and pepper in small bowl. Add beef cubes, 3 or 4 at a time, and coat with flour mixture; shake well to remove excess. Reserve leftover flour mixture for thickening gravy.

Melt butter in Dutch oven or heavy skillet over moderately high heat. Add beef and brown well on all sides; do not crowd in pan. Add water, bouillon cubes and bay leaf. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, tightly covered, for 1 1/2 hours or until the meat is almost tender. Remove bay leaf. Stick cloves into 3 of onions. Add all of onions, carrots and potatoes to beef. Cover and simmer 25 minutes, until vegetables are tender. Break up frozen peas or place under cold water to separate; add to stew. Blend reserved flour mixture with 2 tablespoons cold water until smooth; slowly stir into cooking liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until gravy is thickened. Simmer 5 minutes, until peas are tender. Remove from heat and serve sprinkled with chopped parsley.

Makes: 6 servings.

Roll Up Snacks For A Crowd

Parties pick up as school starts back, and quick hot snacks are in demand. Canned meat spreads in crescent rolls make terrific treats. They're easy ingredients to keep on hand for spur-of-the-moment get-togethers. Everybody loves them, and you can serve them anytime.

Just take an eight-ounce package of refrigerated crescent dinner rolls, unroll the dough and separate into eight triangles. Spread with one of the following meat combinations, not quite to the edges. Roll, starting at the wide end of the triangle. Place rolls on an ungreased baking sheet, tucking tip of dough underneath the crescent. Brush tops of the rolls with egg white and sprinkle with sesame seeds, if desired. Bake at 375 degrees F. about seventeen minutes until golden brown. Serve warm. Makes eight rolls.

If you're serving a crowd, make a variety. Each of the following recipes will fill eight crescent rolls.

1 1/2 ounce can deviled ham

- 1 3 ounce can mushrooms, chopped
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons chopped nuts
- Chicken-Almond Filling 1 1/2 ounce can chicken spread
- 3 tablespoons chopped almonds
- 3 tablespoons chopped chutney
- Liverwurst-Cheese Filling
1 1/2 ounce can liverwurst spread
- 1/3 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- 4 bacon slices, cooked and crumbled
- Zesty Corned Beef Spread
Filling
1 1/2 ounce can corned beef spread
- 1 teaspoon instant minced onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery
- 1/3 cup grated Swiss cheese

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

And New Year's Resolutions are out!

That's because New Year's Resolutions are made to be broken. But PROMISES—real, honest-to-goodness, cross-your-heart, hope-to-die PROMISES—they're something else again. Everyone who was ever a little girl knows about promises. No one ever breaks a promise! Ever, ever, ever! Soooooo.....

PROMISE yourself a new pastime for 1972. Something you've always wanted to do but never had the courage to try. DO!

PROMISE yourself a change of scene. You've done the same thing for vacation year after year. Go some place new in 1972. GO!

PROMISE yourself a thin year. No back-sliding on the diet, no ignored exercise times. And to all those calorie-laden, artery-clogging, complexion-ruining temptations, I'll give you just one word. NO!

PROMISE yourself a real treat like this Diet Workshop recipe.

STUFFED MUSHROOM AND VEGETABLE PLATE

- 3 large Mushrooms, stems removed
- 4 ounces cooked Cauliflower

- 1 small green pepper, in strips
- 1 Bouillon cube
- 1/2 teaspoon Hidden Valley Dressing
- 1 tablespoon grated cheese
- 1/2 medium tomato
- 1/2 cup water.

Sprinkle Mushroom Caps with Hidden Valley Dressing. Stuff with cauliflower topped by the grated cheese. Carefully set in skillet with green pepper strips and tomato half. Dissolve bouillon cube in water and add this to the vegetables. Cover tightly. Bring to low simmer and cook for just 5 minutes. The vegetables will be tender but have a firm texture.

PROMISE yourself a delicious time in 1972 because it will be easy with the weekly hints and recipes from this column.

PROMISE yourself all these things, and by 1973 you will be prettier and healthier than you have ever been. Remember, though, these are PROMISES, and PROMISES ARE MADE TO BE KEPT!

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free brochure, "Sweet Rewards For Dieters", please write in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

Readers are invited to submit poems for publication in The Poet's Corner. They should be typewritten or hand printed. Send to: Quincy Sun, 1601 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass. 02169

Community Service Without Fanfare

Family Guidance Center Offers Counseling For All

By ANDREA SCHNEIDER

The Family Counseling & Guidance Centers, Inc. has been doing a big job in a quiet way for the past 12 years in Quincy.

The non-profit, non-sectarian agency at 1159 Hancock St. has been helping thousands of people from the South Shore area with so little fanfare that there are thousands more who have never heard of it.

Founded in Boston in 1958 by Msgr. Joseph T. Alves, DSW, the agency now has offices in Boston, Quincy, Framingham and Danvers with more than 50 full-time employees.

The budget has grown from $37,000 in 1958 to $700,000 in 1971.

Forty-one of the full-time employees are counselors with graduate degrees. This includes physicians, psychiatrists, psychoanalysts, psychiatric social workers and psychologists.

The Centers have one specialty--long term psychotherapy.

Anyone can make use of the services offered by the Family Counseling & Guidance Centers. Approximately 45 per cent of the persons helped by the Center have marital problems.

Parent-child problems account for 30 per cent of the clients and 25 per cent are a mixture of singles ranging from adolescents with identity or drug problems to elderly individuals facing retirement or the loss of a loved one.

Treatment may take the form of one-to-one counseling, group counseling, conjoint counseling or counseling in consultation with the school systems.

The length of therapy may range from five visits to several years. A special program for parents is a 10-week session of group meetings.

"There are no quick cures," says Martin Clancy of Framingham, administrative assistant. Treatment often requires a complete personality change he points out.

Msgr. Alves believes the program is 85 per cent successful in helping clients.

He feels much of the success is due to a dedicated staff who have chosen to make a lifelong career out of helping people.

There has been virtually no turnover among the staff and a strong program of inter-staff training has been developed.

Clients come from all walks of life, from all religious, social, racial, economic and ethnic groups.

Fees are based on the client's ability to pay with consideration given to the number of children in a family.

Only one-third of the organization's budget is derived from fees. Ladies of the 100 is an auxiliary which raises funds for the Centers. Mrs. Robert Driscoll and Mrs. Daniel Davis are chairmen of the auxiliary.

The Centers are members of the United Fund but also rely highly on private donations.

All information and files are kept strictly confidential. Appointments in the South Shore area can be made by calling 875-0648 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9 to 5 on Friday.

In the beginning clients often had to wait as long as 18 months to get in to see a counselor. Increased awareness and an expanded staff has made it possible for persons to be seen by a counselor within 48 hours.

More than 3,300 families have received counseling in the last year. Of that number, 771 families were from the South Shore area. This accounts for approximately 2,000 individuals. Mr. Clancy estimates that 400 persons come through the Quincy office per week.

Members of the board of directors keep the communities informed of the services offered and provide information to the Centers as to the needs of the communities.

Officers of the board are John W. Kapples Jr. of Quincy, chairman; John Blake, Quincy, vice-chairman; Gerald T. Reilly, Quincy, treasurer; and Mrs. John E. Maguire, Milton, secretary.

Other members of the board are Mrs. Peter Angelo, Larry Antonelli, Leo P. Cavanaugh, Frank Chase, John M. Corcoran, William Crowley, Alan Curtis, Mrs. Leo Darr, Mrs. Daniel Davis, Theodore Dran, Mrs. Robert Driscoll, Donald Delaney.

Also Edward A. Fish, Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, John Flavin, Mrs. Joseph Gallagher, Richard Garvey, Lawrence Gates, Dana Gillis, Mrs. Robert Gilmore, Barry Hannon, Joseph Higgins Jr., Mrs. John Irwin, Irving Kesner, Donald King, Charles Mitchell, Peter Powell, Harry Ostrander, Mrs. William Spence, John J. Sullivan Jr., John Thompson, Allan White, Earl Wallace and Joseph Whiteman.

'Getting A Little Closer'

I bugged the Sears Catalogue order department for a week before Christmas. On the very last day the manager called me and said "your order is in." I rushed in with my trailer...brought the large carton home...put it in the garage until Christmas morning. It was a tandem bicycle. I thought it might be another way for Barbara and me to "get a little closer". Pedaling is difficult going up hill...but who ever said it's easy to "get close" to another person any way.

Christmas night at grandmother's house was fun. Dick plays the guitar and sings the folk songs so well...June sat at his knee and sang too. You could plainly see that they felt the rhythm...the harmony...the words of folk songs which express so much feeling and meaning. They'd been practicing together...it seemed...they exchanged little smiles...seemed to be "getting a little closer" with each song.

John and Jean...soon to have their first baby...play records and games together...and talk...and plan...and think up names for the new baby...will it be Laurie or Vincent?... The opposite of what I hear from young wives..."he spends nearly all his evenings with the boys at the local bar." When a couple's fun is centered around their home...they seem to keep "getting a little closer."

Now I don't think that a bicycle built for two...nor a guitar...nor playing games...nor having babies solves all "getting closer" problems. My point is that these people want to be closer...and are doing something about it. It's not what we do so much as the attitude of trying to "get a little closer" that counts.

None of the above kinds of things will work unless two factors in your relationship exist. The first is the ability to communicate with each other. Silence is one of the worst enemies to closeness. It's not golden. It's damning to a marriage. Dialogue is vital...whether on a bicycle...riding in a car...dining...deciding which song you'll play and sing...or naming a baby. You have fallen into the bad habit of not talking with your partner...prefer Johnny Carson...or Dr. Marcus Welby...to conversation with your wife/husband...you just can't expect to enjoy a close relationship. Your $500 color television can become your worst enemy to your marriage. Rule your television...don't let it rule you.

The other factor which must precede "getting a little closer" is freedom from resentments. If your partner has hurt you...say so...tell him/her...talk it out. If it was a misunderstanding clear it up...don't bury it...it won't work...because such burials don't die...they smoulder...they get hot and explode. They spoil all communication...all fun things together...you don't have any desire to get closer...you even let the resentment taint all facets of the relationship. Hate not love...oozes from your life.

How get rid of resentment? Forgiveness...there's really no other way. Forgive hurts...then ride off "a little closer"...even though the pedaling is difficult.

McCormick Palsy Fund Chairman

James F. McCormick Sr., has been named general chairman of the capital funds program to raise $25,000 for a building renovation drive for Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Inc. McCormick, manager of H. C. Wainwright & Co., Stock Brokers, has been a director and assistant treasurer of the C. P. organization for the past 10 years.

He is former vice chairman of the Quincy School Committee, former chairman of the Park and Recreation Board, and a member of the 100 Club, United Commercial Trades, Elks, Knights of Columbus and Lions. The $25,000 to be raised is the balance of the $100,000 cost required to renovate the former garage at 105 Adams St.

Upon completion, the clinic will provide speech, occupational and physical therapies and medical overview for victims of cerebral palsy and other etiologies and brain damage.

"The concentration of personnel in a central building will provide a more efficient delivery of services with the resultant increase in number of patients served and therapies provided," McCormick said.

"I urge the citizens of Quincy and the other 44 cities and towns covered by the agency to respond to our appeal for funds for completion of the building program which is earmarked for late in 1972."

Nearly Two Million Fares On South Shore MBTA Extension

Nearly two million fares were collected on the MBTA's new South Shore rapid transit extension from opening day Sept. 2 through December 31, 1971, MBTA Director of Public Information Joseph F. Malone announces.

"The actual count of 1,974,862 fares exceeded our fondest expectations so soon after the opening of the extension", Malone commented. Examination of fare collection data showed that Friday, Dec. 17, was the heaviest riding day in the four months of operation on the newest mass transportation facility in the nation with a reading of 24,730.

Since an opening day figure of 15,834 riding has increased at a steady pace until December figures show a weekday average of 21,739 fares collected, with Saturday fares consistently topping out at better than 13,000 and Sunday at 4,000 plus.

S.S. Almeria Lykes To Be Christened Here Saturday

S.S. Almeria Lykes, second in a series of the world's largest commercial dry cargo ships, will be christened Saturday, at Quincy Shipbuilding Division of General Dynamics.

Sponsor of the revolutionary craft will be Mrs. Frank A. Nemece, wife of the President of Lykes Bros. Steamship Co., Inc., customer for Almeria Lykes and two sister ships under construction here.

Admiral Charles K. Duncan, USN, will be principal speaker at the ceremony. Adm. Duncan is Commander in Chief Atlantic [CINCLANT], holds the NATO post of Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic [SACLANT], and is Commander in Chief U.S. Atlantic Fleet.

The three Lykes Bros. ships, first commercial vessels built here since General Dynamics acquired the shipyard in 1964, comprise a new class of cargo transports known as Seabees.

Each of the 875-foot-long, 27,150 DWT Seabees uses a unique barge-cargo handling system that is expected to give increased impetus to the revitalization of the United States merchant fleet.

The heart of the Seabees' system is the self-contained elevator in the stern of the ship. Barges can be floated into the stern well and then lifted by the 2000-ton capacity elevator to one of the three decks, where self-propelled transporters move the cargo into stowage.

Seabees are versatile, inter-modal ships, able to accept cargo in barges, containers, or by roll-on roll-off method. Since the elevator permits fast loading and unloading away from congested terminals, turnaround time is expected to be cut by at least eight days on round trips between Lykes ports on the Gulf of Mexico and in England and Continental Europe.

The Seabees' barges are specially designed for use on such rivers as the Mississippi and the Rhine, and canals in the United States, Europe and Great Britain.

Doctor Lykes, the first Seabee, is scheduled to enter service in several weeks, followed later this year by the sister ships, Almeria Lykes and Tillie Lykes.

Business Leaders To Address Chamber Of Commerce Breakfast

Five South Shore business leaders will present economic forecasts for their field for 1972 at a breakfast meeting of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce Jan. 19.

Speakers will include Thomas J. Flatley of T. J. Flatley Co., real estate; Charles A. Pearce, Quincy Savings Bank, banking and finance.

Also Frank E. Remick, Remick's, retail; Jack H. Rothwell, New England Merchants Bank, industry and William E. Williams, internal revenue, government.

Moderator for the 7:44 to 9:15 a.m. meeting will be William E. Kelley of Hancock Bank.

Lt. Robert Leggat Wins Helicopter Rescue Award

Coast Guard Lt. [J.G.] Robert S. Leggat Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Leggat of 57 Huckins Ave., Squantum, was presented the "Sikorsky Helicopter Rescue Award" by the Sikorsky Aircraft Corporation, during ceremonies held at the Coast Guard Air Station, St. Petersburg, Fla. Leggat, who is serving aboard the Station as Helicopter Maintenance Man, received the award for his skill and courage while participating in a lifesaving mission in a Sikorsky Helicopter.

Brownell Files Tax Relief Bills For Senior Citizens

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has filed two bills providing tax relief for senior citizen property owners.

One measure increases the income limits for real estate property exemption by $1,000. The bill would raise the exemption, from $6,000 to $7,000 for single citizens and from $7,000 to $8,000 for those who are married.

The companion legislation proposes reduction of the age requirement for the elderly tax exemption from 65 to 62 years of age.

MONEY TALKS

Retirement: Will It Be Gloomy or Golden?

By Philip J. Lawrence
President

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

There they were, these two couples, in a Florida night club, at one or two o'clock in the morning. "I found myself calculating nervously whether I could get enough sleep that night—until it suddenly came back to me that I was retired and could sleep as late the next morning as I wanted."

So writes a former executive of General Motors in an article highlighting the positive aspects of retirement.

Retirement is a state of life that faces all of us. Whether we look upon this last age of man as the Golden Years or years of gloom depends upon a number of things we do by way of preparation in our 30s, 40s, and 50s.

It's true that retirement produces drastic changes in one's entire life. For some, it is a shattering experience amounting to solemn withdrawal from the stage of life to await the final curtain. We all know of people who have vegetated while waiting for the Reaper to claim them.

Not for these folks the ringing challenge of the poet Robert Browning:

Grow old along with me! The best is yet to be, The last of life, for which the first was made.

There is much in the view that retirement is a bonus, something that has been earned and is to be enjoyed.

Youth, of course, consigns retirement to a remote future beyond consideration. "I'm constantly amazed," says gerontologist Robert Peterson, "how many youngish moderns casually assume that retirement will take care of itself."

The time inevitably comes, somewhere along our middle years, when thoughts of retirement nudge us. Perhaps it's when Susie says she and the new boy around the house want to get married or when our employers unfold fresh 25-year goals and we realize we won't be on the team when that visionary day dawns.

There will be a moment in the future, we begin to realize, when we will lose our jobs—not for unsatisfactory performance but simply because company rules say we have "had" it. Susie and other family members will have left the home roost, and there will be just the two of us.

We will still have to eat, we'll need a roof over our heads, clothes to keep us respectable, a little left over for the small luxuries we have become accustomed to. How much shall we need? Where will it come from? What shall we do with all the extra time?

Those who think of 65 as sign-off time should realize that when they reach 65, they have an average remaining life of 14.4 more years. If they live these predicted years and reach 79, they can expect to live an additional 7.2 years. And at the ripe age of 86, they can still anticipate nearly five years more.

Success or failure in retirement depends on how well and how soon we plan ahead.

Tobin No. 1, No. 2 Man On Two Major Committees

Senator Arthur Tobin has been named to head one top legislative committee and to serve as vice-chairman of a second that has sweeping investigatory powers.

Senate President Kevin Harrington named the Quincy Democrat chairman of the Election Laws Committee which on Wednesday heard the presidential primary bill.

Tobin was appointed vice-chairman of the new Oversight and Audit Committee which has investigatory and subpoena power over all state regulatory agencies including the executive branch of government.

Sen. Philip Quinn of Hamden County was named chairman of the new powerful committee.

Delahunt Asks Pedestrian Light at Elm and Hancock

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has asked Police Chief Francis X. Finn to secure a device which would provide a pedestrian signal when the lights at Hancock St. and Elm Ave. are flashing.

"Due to the heavy traffic flow on Hancock St. between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. these signals must be left on flashing during these hours," Delahunt wrote.

"According to Superintendent Edward Lynch of the Signal Division, a special controller could be installed in these lights which would provide a pedestrian light even when the signal is in a flashing position."

Delahunt asked that Finn include in his 1972 budget a request for such a controller.

Unlike most household products, it is not always obvious when a mattress is ready for replacement.

Appearance is not as important in a mattress as it is in a living room chair and often the efficiency and comfort of a mattress may slip away unnoticed, its original comfort forgotten.

Since the average replacement age of a mattress is 15 years, it is obvious that a great many are continued in use long after they have lost their comfort.

Check your mattress for rips and tears, sagging borders and bumps. Ask yourself if it supports you weight properly, if it is comfortable.

Time for replacement depends on such factors as comfort, depreciation and whether the original price of the mattress has been returned to you through comfortable sleeping.

If you think a good night's sleep is worth a nickel, then a $125 mattress and box spring set will have paid for itself in less than seven years.

North Upsets Somerville

Presidents, Raiders Clash Friday Night

North Quincy's unbeaten basketball team, which staged an unbelievable defensive show last week to dump Somerville from the undefeated ranks, Tuesday night tried for its sixth win in a row (fifth in the Greater Boston League) with a home game against Malden.

Friday night the Raiders go across the city to meet Quincy and on Jan. 21 they will finish the first half of their schedule at home against Revere.

Meanwhile, Quincy, which has come along well, tried to improve its record to 5-2 [4-1 in the league] Tuesday at Chelsea. Following Friday's game with North, the Presidents wind up the first half of the schedule on the 21st at Somerville.

Bob Nolan's North teams have always been known for their strong defense but the Raiders hit their peak in this department last Friday when they held Somerville to a shocking 11 points in the first half and 19 in three periods to survive the battle of the undefeated, 52-41, at the North gym.

This win, which made North's record 5-0 overall and 4-0 in the GBL, stamped it as a solid contender for the league crown and it appears certain it will make the Tech Tourney again after missing last year.

"The name of the game was defense and it really stopped them," the happy Nolan said. "They had only a 27 per cent shooting average as we kept them from making plays and setting the ball up. They had a big height advantage but we were boxing them out extremely well. Somerville, usually a great shooting team, tested us in all phases of the game—pressing, zone defense coverage and man-to-man defense. I was very pleased with the way our kids

North led, 23-11, at the half and took a 37-19 bulge into the final period when Somerville had a 27-18 edge.

Bob hated to single any players out because "all these kids work their hearts out, even in practice. There are kids like Pete Bellotti, Bob Torino, Pete Quinn, Bill Shea and Jim Driscoll, who don't often get into it, when they do, everybody works extremely hard."

Nolan did point to Dave Nelson and Jamie Doherty as offensive leaders. Doherty scored 19 points and Nelson 15.

Despite the great win, Nolan remains cautious. "This league is so unpredictable that on any given night any other team can pop the daylight out of you, but we'll be working hard to keep right on winning."

North's junior varsity was edged, 36-33, with John Flynn leading North with 11 points.

Marty Finnegan's improving Quincy quintet came from behind to edge Revere, 69-65, after trailing most of the game. The Presidents are tied for second place in the GBL with a 3-1 mark.

Revere led by as many as six points late in the game before Quincy made its successful bid, sparked by John Reggiannini, who tied the game at 64-all with 1:52 left.

With 52 seconds remaining he put the team ahead to stay with a foul shot and Willie Bertrand scored his only point, a foul shot. Another free throw by Ken Furfari put Quincy in front, 67-64. Bob McDermott, the high scorer with 20 points, clinched things with two foul shots two seconds before the end.

"It was an outstanding team performance and I was delighted with the way the boys bounced back after trailing most of the way," Finnegan said. "Everybody chipped in tonight."

Quincy's defense, led by Furfari and Mike Marvelle, held Revere's high scorer, Rick DeCristofaro, to 11 points. He has been averaging more than 20 points a game and had 32 against Chelsea.

Reggiannini had 18 points to follow McDermott, Marvelle scored 16 and Furfari 12.

"Reggiannini hit on two long jumpers to bring us back and Marvelle played with four fouls on him from early in the third period," Finnegan explained. "He played the rest of the way and scored eight big points."

Earlier in the week North, playing what Nolan described at that time as "our best game," overpowered strong Everett, 94-73.

"Our offense has been coming along in every game and to score 94 points against a team like Everett you have to have a perfect offense and we did," Nolan said.

Quincy defeated Medford, 75-73 in a game which was close all the way.

Reggiannini had 29 points and McDermott 16 but it was Bill Kiggen, 6-4 junior starting his first game, who received most of the raves. He scored 11 points and took down 15 rebounds. Furfari had 10 points.

"We have brought Kiggen along slowly and when we needed him he really came through," Finnegan lauded. "We couldn't have done it without him."

LADY BIRD OFFICERS -- Seated are Drucilla Loud, retiring secretary; and Claire Mitchell, 1971-72 president; Standing are Marlene Brigette, retiring president; Rose Willis, new secretary; and Frances McGann, new treasurer; elected at the season's closing banquet.

Beau's Place In Two Weekend Games

Beau's Place of Quincy, which met its first basketball defeat in nine games last Sunday in a non-league game, has two weekend games at Quincy Vo-Tech gym. Tap-off time is 7:15 p.m. for both games.

Saturday night Beau's, 7-0 in the Cranberry League and 8-1 overall, hosts the strong Roxbury Rams, with four former pro players, in a non-league game. Sunday the Plymouth A. A. will be the guests for a league contest.

Wednesday night the Quincy team will play a league game against the Easton Huskies at Easton.

Playing without the services of two standouts, Beau's had its eight-game win streak halted last Sunday when the Haynes-Crump Bruins of Boston pulled out a 104-95 win before a large crowd at Vo-Tech.

Al Dalton scored 25 points, John Hassan and Mike Greenlaw 18, Bob McNamara 14 and Mike Dunn 13.

Last week Beau's topped Easton Huskies, 93-89, at Easton to run its league record to 7-0, as Dalton scored 36 and Greenlaw 20.

The following night the Quincy club nipped the Boston Stars, 103-101, at the Boston Boys' Club in a non-league game. Dalton had 39 in this one and McNamara 27.

All Beau's games at Quincy Vo-Tech are free of charge and anyone is invited to enjoy some outstanding basketball.

Quincy, North Trackmen Back In Action Saturday

The Quincy and North Quincy track teams will return to action Saturday noon at the Fargo Building after a two-week layoff.

North, with a 1-1 record, will face Milton while Quincy, 0-2 as a result of losing both relays, will take on Arlington in Met League meets.

After Saturday's meets the teams will be idle until Feb. 5 when they again compete at the Fargo Building.

REDUCE MEDICAL COSTS

Medical costs have been soaring in recent years and the level-off point is not in sight. However, they can be held down if certain precautions are taken.

Have a family doctor. His family case histories that he accumulates can eliminate expensive duplication of diagnostic tests.

After age 35, an annual checkup is really important. And if you feel the need for a doctor, go to his office if possible. That's where his diagnostic equipment is and office calls are less expensive than house calls.

If you're over 65 and eligible, make sure you're enrolled in Medicare and have supplemental private health insurance coverage to fill the gaps. Make sure you maintain complete records of health costs to speed up insurance claims and to substantiate income tax deductions.

*****

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. You can also pay your electric or telephone bills or use our notary public service. Hospital equipment and supplies for rent or sale. Prescription tax and insurance records kept plus 24 hour emergency service in North Quincy. Open 7 days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Meet North Friday Night

Quincy Icemen Must Win All For Tourney

This has been a rough year for the Quincy and North Quincy hockey teams and things didn't improve any Monday night when each team lost again.

Quincy's 3-1 loss to Medford at Boston Arena virtually ended any hopes of Bob Sylvia taking another team into the state tourney. The loss was the fifth for the Presidents and they can lose no more games.

Still hoping to pull off the impossible and win the rest of its games, Quincy meets North Quincy Friday night at the Arena and next Wednesday meets Everett.

North Quincy, which dropped its sixth decision Monday to Malden, 6-1, will meet Chelsea next Wednesday following its second meeting of year with Quincy.

Quincy's only goal Monday was scored by Paul Campbell on a solo dash in the final period. Artie Boyle had another good night in the Quincy goal.

North averted a shut-out when Steve MacKay converted Ken Graham's pass in the second period.

Despite a 5-1 loss to unbeaten Revere's league leaders last week, Sylvia was pleased with the more aggressive play of his Presidents.

"We were in a good game tonight but there was no doubt about it, Revere was the better team," he said. "The single thing I can say about Quincy is that we were more aggressive than ever before this year. We came out hitting and that meant a lot to me."

Quincy's only goal was scored by Jim Starkey at 10:54 of the first period after Revere had taken a 3-0 lead. Pete Janis sent him out on a breakaway.

"I think the boys are finally mad about all this losing," Sylvia said. "If you lose enough, it starts to take its toll and the kids are starting to act like this season means something to them."

North Quincy played one of its best games but a costly letdown in the final period enabled Somerville to overcome a 3-1 deficit and tie the Raiders, 3-3.

"This was a terribly disappointing tie and I've never hated one as much as this," Erikson said. "I didn't have to say a thing to the boys after the game and I hope, and think, they learned a lesson. I told them to never forget this game and it was a perfect example of a little let-up spoiling a good overall effort."

Joe Lannen put North in front at 3:17 of the opening period with assists for Ron Frizzel and Andy Collieran.

Somerville tied it up at 1:53 of the middle period but Bobbie Henderson scored twice to put the Raiders up, 3-1. His first goal at 3:14 of the second session was set up by Graham and his second at 7:19 came with MacKay, who hustled throughout the game, assisting.

Then came the fatal let-down as Somerville scored twice in nine seconds in the final period to pull out the tie.

Goalie Rich Masotta, who has been outstanding in every game, saved the tie with a great skate save with three minutes left.

Earlier in the week Quincy lost to Malden, 4-2, with Steve Cedrone scoring at 3:46 of the opening period on a pass from Janis to put Quincy ahead, 1-0, and Rick Patten scoring at 0:37 of the final period on passes from Janis and Cedrone to give the Presidents a 2-1 lead.

Malden then exploded for three goals to win it, the final one coming with the Quincy net empty after Boyle had been lifted.

North was defeated by Medford, 5-1, despite another top performance by Masotta, who had 10 stops in the first period and 13 in the second.

North's goal was scored by Graham at 7:34 of the final period with Steve Leofanti setting it up.

"This was our worst performance since we lost to Malden, 5-0, in our opening game," Erikson said.

Quincy, North Junior-Frosh Icemen Collide Saturday

The Quincy and North Quincy junior high-freshman hockey team will collide Saturday at 8 p.m. at Boston Arena and an interesting game is in prospect.

Ken Hayes' Quincy club is unbeaten in three games while Ed Grogan's North team is 1-2 but each loss was by only one goal.

Quincy made its Greater Boston League record 3-0 last Saturday with a 4-0 win over Everett. The young Presidents had previously topped Chelsea, 6-1, and Malden, 4-3.

Frank Guest had three goals and Ted Wiedemann the other for Quincy. Pete Raymer had two assists, Wiedemann and Rick Avery one apiece.

North was edged by Malden, 2-1, with Paul Radzik scoring the goal on a pass from Joe Butts.

The young Raiders had previously defeated Everett, 4-0, and bowed by Somerville, 3-2,

Six Scorers Pace St. Joseph's Reds

Six different players scored for the undefeated Red Team last week to overpower the Greens 6-3 and maintain their lead in the St. Joseph's Hockey League.

James Crowley, Lloyd Allen, Hal McLarnon, Rick Brunstrum, Mike McNalley and Ron Gatturra posted goals for the Reds and Jerry McLarnon scored the hat trick to account for all of the last-place Green team's scoring.

John Bagin's two goals led the Gold Team to a 3-2 victory over the Blue Team, moving the Gold into second place with a 2-1-1 record.

The league plays Wednesday nights from 10 to midnight at Shea Rink, West Quincy.

John Norton Leads Travelers To 6-1 Youth Hockey Victory

John Norton scored four goals to lead the defending champion United Commercial Travelers to a 6-1 victory over Wollaston Theater in the opening round of Quincy Youth Hockey Pee Wees.

In other Pee Wee action, Crestview Nursing Home beat F. X. Davis Insurance 4-2 and Keohane's outscored Maguire's Lounge 5-3.

The lone Bantam Division game saw Farina Kitchens post a 5-2 win over F. X. Davis Insurance.

Mark Linnane and Rick Carnali were the other Travelers scorers and Bill Doherty drove home the only Wollaston goal unassisted.

Paul Hurley [2], Jack Cronin and Chris Erickson scored for Crestview and David Peters accounted for both Davis goals.

Scoring for Keohane's were Mark Ricciardi [2], John Furey, Tim Ricciardi and Mike Furey. The Maguire's goals were by Tom Pistorino, Billy Grant and Earl Kane.

Farina's Joe Keely [2], Paul Oxner, Mark Frazier and Mike Doherty provided the firepower to offset tallies by Davis' Jerry Cronin and Joe Rice.

The league plays on Monday nights at Weymouth Skating Club, South Weymouth.

Marshall Calls For Meeting On Proposed Ice Skating Rink

Ward 2 Councilor Clifford H. Marshall has asked Mayor Hannon to notify the Council, School Committee and Ice Skating Rink Committee when a meeting can be scheduled to discuss the proposed skating rink.

Marshall said he asked for the meeting "so that everyone concerned will be aware of the present situation surrounding the ice skating rink facility."

The request comes on the heels of a controversy between Council President Arthur H. Tobin and School Committee Vice-Chairman Paul C. Kelly.

Tobin said Friday he wanted a meeting of city officials to discuss separating the rink from the school-building program because he feared the rink might be "bogged down with additional red tape."

Kelly's reply Monday indicated that the only "red tape" delaying the project was in the City Council.

"It doesn't seem to me that a meeting is needed," Kelly said. "but if the city council is going to separate the rink from the school building program I wish they would let us know so we won't have to spend time working on surveys to obtain state reimbursement."

Tobin said he favors keeping the project under school committee jurisdiction if construction can begin immediately.

Koch Club North District Basketball Resumes Tonight

The North Quincy District of the Koch Club will resume its basketball program tonight [Thursday] at the North Quincy High School gym.

Boys seven through nine may report at 6 p.m., 10-12 at 7:15 and 13 and older at 8:45.

Thursday will be the deadline for any new boys wishing to join the league.

At the close of the season a city-wide playoff will be held for the Koch Club championship with North competing against Broad Meadows and Montclair divisions.

ENC Meets Wesleyan, QJC Awaits Newton

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team, with a fine 7-2 record Tuesday faced Unity College and Saturday will play at Roberts Wesleyan.

Next Thursday the Crusaders will be home to Southeastern Mass. U.

Quincy Junior College, which lost two heartbreakers by one and two points last week and fell from first place in the Mass. Junior College League, played at Mass. Bay Community College last night in a non-league game and will be idle until Jan. 26 when it plays a league game at Newton Junior College.

Eastern Nazarene, which has lost two games by three points each, nipped King's College, 92-90, last Saturday when Terry Briggs sank two foul shots with no time left on the clock.

Don Eads, averaging 31 points a game, scored 33 to lead the Crusaders, followed by Quincy's Rick Reyenger, who played his best game and scored 23 points in addition to taking down 20 rebounds; Dave Eads with 14 points and 13 rebounds, and Briggs with 13 points.

Earlier in the week ENC topped Bridgewater State, 108-100, after leading by only 56-52 at halftime.

It was the Crusaders' first game in nearly a month and Coach Jim Smith admitted the layoff hurt. "But, when we needed to we played the best ball of the season," he added.

Six players hit double figures with Don Eads again on top with 33 points, Brother Dave with 19, Reyenger with 12, Steve Shoff and Don Constantine of North Quincy 13 and 12 respectively and Briggs 11.

Earl Vermillion's Quincy Junior College quintet was nipped by Wentworth, 66-65, for its first league loss in four games. QJC led, 34-22, after a half but the attack suffered when Sam Abraham was taken to the hospital for X-rays on a twisted knee.

"We fell apart in the second half as we had no scoring, no rebounding and little defense," Vermillion said.

Mike Granahan scored 20 points while John Mullen and Bob Uhlar had 11 each.

QJC, with Abraham sidelined, then dropped a 64-62 non-league verdict to Massasoit after leading, 31-24, at halftime.

The Collejuns at one time in the first half led by as many as 12 points but ran out of steam in the second half.

Granahan had 16 points, Uhlar added 13 and Mullen 11.

Available To Groups 1971 World Series Film A Good Show

By TOM SULLIVAN

If you get the chance to view the 1971 World Series film, don't miss it.

That is the advice of this writer who, along with more than 200 members of the news media, Red Sox players and officials, representatives of other major league teams, umpires and other guests, watched the New England premier of the film last week at the Fenway Park press room.

The World Series films, expertly narrated by Curt Gowdy, seem to get better every year and this year's edition is outstanding in every way.

The Sox have three copies of the film which are now available to any groups who wish to show them. Requests should be sent to the Public Relations Office, Fenway Park, Boston 02215. The film, in full color and 40 minutes long, can also be obtained through Coca Cola distributors. Recent World Series films and some instructional films are also available through the Red Sox.

The highlights of each of the seven games are featured but the film fails to show whether the hotly disputed ball hit out of the park by Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente was a home run or a foul ball. It was called foul and when Pirate Manager Danny Murtagh hotly disputed it, Umpire John Rice answered, "If I called it fair, the other team would argue." Murtagh who, like Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver, was wired for sound, retorted, "In other words, you just don't want an argument."

This was the only time Murtagh was shown as Weaver received virtually all the exposure. Incidentally, a year ago it was losing manager Sparky Anderson who received the exposure as Weaver was virtually blacked out.

Many of Weaver's remarks are priceless as he kept up a continual banter on the bench and made numerous trips to the mound to talk with his pitchers.

The film also proves that if Clemente had been able to call time out after Bob Robertson missed a bunt sign in the third game, the Orioles might have won the series.

Clemente, on second base, realized that Robertson had missed the bunt sign and waved his arms vainly trying to call time out. "I was afraid he would line into a double play or something," he said. However, time was not called and Robertson promptly won the game with a three-run homer.

"I knew he was trying to call time but the pitcher was already on the mound and I couldn't do it," Umpire Jim Odom said.

Women's Candlepin Tourney To Get Underway Feb. 20

The 17th annual South Shore Women's Candlepin Bowling Tournament sponsored by the Koch Club will open Feb. 20 at 1 p.m. at Merrymount Daylight Lanes, Broad St., Quincy.

Organized women's candlepin leagues which wish to enter a team may obtain applications from the lanes or from Richard J. Koch, 241 Newbury Ave.,

North Quincy.

The top five bowlers in each league as of Feb. 1 are eligible for competition with the sixth and seventh bowlers in the standings as alternatives.

All matches will be decided on total pinfall in the elimination tournament.

Raiderettes Off To Good Start

A year ago the North Quincy girls' basketball team, with a young group, failed to win a game but this year the Raiderettes apparently have come of age and are off to a fine start in the newly-organized Greater Boston League for girls.

Under a new coach, Barbara Webster, a Quincy High teacher who played her basketball at Girls High in Roxbury and Northeastern Bouve, the North girls won their first two games and Tuesday sought number three against Malden.

Friday they play the first of two games with cross-town rival Quincy at the Quincy gym.

"We don't have a very tall team, but we do have a well-skilled team," Miss Webster said. "Denise Bereszniwicz and Dianne Smith are probably the best guards in the league. Terry Fitzgerald and Lisa Kowlick handle the forward duties and Leslie Runge is the center. Our bench is strong with help at every position."

Rounding out the varsity squad are Lynn Tabor, Karen Bray, Charlene Lewis, Corrine White, Jeanne Riley and Jonlyn Riley.

The Raiderettes opened against a strong Medford team and it was an exciting game with "everything from 40-foot shots to tip-ins," the North coach said. North committed only seven fouls as compared with 20 for Medford but the Raiderettes trailed throughout most of the game.

Monday Men's Deadline

Monday is the deadline for applications to be filed at Merrymount Daylight Alleys, Broad St., for the 19th annual Greater Quincy Men's Candlepin Bowling Tourney sponsored by

"We finally tied it up and won it with only nine seconds to go, 37-35," Barbara pointed out. The second game against Chelsea started out fairly even but midway in the first period North opened up and that was the ball game.

"Our outside game was right on the button with everyone contributing points," Barbara added. North won with ease, 73-39, with Miss Kowlick scoring 24 points and Miss Bereszniwicz 18.

Playing for the junior varsity are Jane Dewars, Helen Belaney, Dianne Dunn, Debbie Matson, Donna Zanker, Sheila Doyle, Doris Aiken, Kathy Conroy, Joan Granahan, Amy Pearlstein and Kathy Collins.

When the Raiderettes play at Quincy Friday, they will be looking for their first win over their arch rivals.

The teams have played four games since North started girls basketball two years ago and Quincy, coached by Gale Palmer, has won them all.

Quincy broke even in its first two games, being nipped by Medford by one point and easily topping Revere, 34-17.

"The pressure will be on us in this game as they will really be out to beat us for the first time," Miss Palmer said. "They are a little bigger than us and are off to a great start but we will be ready for them." Tuesday Quincy will be home to Malden.

A $100 cash prize and a team trophy will be awarded to the champions of the elimination tournament.

Kudos For Kubrick's 'Clockwork ORANGE'

It's that time of the year again. Awards time. And you just know the Academy Awards are a turn around the corner when the New York Film Critics start handing out their "Best Award" plaques... In the Critics' 37th annual poll they singled out for special praise "A CLOCKWORK ORANGE" as the best motion picture of 1971, and named its director STANLEY KUBRICK as the year's best director...

Rounding out the big four in the acting category, the Critics singled out JANE FONDA as best actress ["KLUTE"]; GENE HACKMAN as best actor ["THE FRENCH CONNECTION"]; and BEN JOHNSON and ELLEN BURSTYN for their best supporting roles in "THE LAST PICTURE SHOW"... Miss FONDA was a repeat winner having walked off with best acting accolades in 1969 for her performance in "THEY SHOOT HORSES, DON'T THEY?"... As for BEN JOHNSON? Like this column has been saying for some time, he is a gifted actor who just needs the career boost an award would give him. And with the New York Film Critics plaque to his credit, his career should progress smoothly and artistically from here on...

KUBRICK is also a repeat winner, having won in 1964 for his "DR. STRANGELOVE" masterpiece. And in this respect KUBRICK joins some heavy directing talent, JOHN HUSTON, DAVID LEAN and BILLY WILDER being two-time winners also... And since I'm in a predicting mood, I say KUBRICK will do one better than his fellow directors by capturing a third directing award sometime in the near future. Say by 1976...

Peter Couture of N. Quincy writes, "BRENDA VACCARO is a most refreshing actress. She has improved steadily since I first saw her in "MIDNIGHT COWBOY"... We agree. Miss VACCARO has it over most of her young contemporaries in that she is choosing with care those roles which deal with character strength... Ever hear of FRANCIS X. KILLMOND? A familiar face to all those who follow the television commercial scene, KILLMOND has appeared in such major productions as "ELMER GANTTRY" and "MAROONED"...

Correct me if I'm wrong, but isn't deejay HERBIE MINTZ the oldest continuing radio platter-chatter on the air. Now based at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., WAVS Radio, MINTZ dates back to Feb. 12, 1922... From what I was able to dig up, MINTZ also moonlighted as a film extra back in the golden 30's... The James Bond yarns still pack the ole' wallop. In its' first three days "DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER" exceeded $2.5 million in world wide rentals... Old pro WALTER PIDGEON is still making flies. He's been added to the cast of "AIRBORNE"... CHARLES BRONSON and wife JILL IRELAND nixed, and with finality, a nude scene in the now being lensed "MECHANIC"...

DON SUTHERLAND thinks doing a western would be fun, and may pull a reverse CLINT EASTWOOD if he accepts the lead in "REVELATION", a Japanese homed cowboy oater no less... EDIE ADAMS has financed a 90 minute documentary on the life of her late husband EPIC KAVACS... Ah, at last an E-rated film: "MODERN TIMES" CHARLIE CHAPLIN classic now in re-release, was classified E by the Ratings Board. "E" - for everybody... The "RABBITS" motion picture hopes to boast of a cast of 2,000 rabbits. They now have 200 for the picture, and are screaming for 1800 more...

The Pill of the Year Award should go to BILL COSBY for last years deceptive quote, "I'm retiring from show business to devote my energies to teaching." Since that statement, COSBY has made one film, and is now talking another TV series with NBC brass... BILL baby, you're just too, too much...

MERV GRIFFIN's nite-slot demise doesn't mean he's washed his hands of television. On the contrary, GRIFFIN is in the planning stages of packaging a daytime syndicated Talk Show... And who will GRIFFIN oppose you ask? None other than Mr. TV afternoon, DAVID FROST... While others flee the Hollywood scene, YUL BRYNNER is house shopping. And the reason could be for a home base since his "KING AND I" series is all but network okayed...

Is TINA SINATRA next in line for a show biz career? You never know... Shades of Women's Lib: A picture now playing in New York City has the unflattering title of "THE TATTOOED SWORDS WOMAN", and deals, natch; with the heroics of 7 female Samurai. I dare not guess what's next!... PAUL ANKA is moving up in company. By the time you read this ANKA would have already [Jan. 23] given a performance with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra... "THE LADY AND THE TRAMP" is finding a new following of young'uns its' umpteenth re-release time around. The Walt Disney production still exudes the same charm as when first screened back in the 50's...

SOUND OFF: "ALL IN THE FAMILY". A hit, yes. But how come? What is it about this vehicle, which at first offended so many, which now makes it the number One series now on the air?... Have we as Americans learned to laugh at ourselves? Or are we drawn to the "FAMILY" because it satirizes our true feelings?... And what of CARROLL O'CONNOR? Would the program "click" without him? Or are SALLY STRUTHERS and BOB REINER the real catalyst?... Is "ALL IN THE FAMILY" a passing fad? A trendsetter of shows to come?... Will we relate to it as strongly, say 2 years from now?...

I don't see TONY CURTIS sticking out his "THE PERSUADERS" series more than a year. At heart CURTIS is a film, not a TV actor... If "FOLLIES" is such a success, how come this stage production is still $650,000 in the red. Could Nostalgia have run its' course?... What with Talk host DICK CAVETT turning actor and Mr. Insult DON RICKLES changing his image to Mr. Nice Guy, one can only contemplate on FRANK SINATRA "coming back"...

Pitts Issues 129 Permits For New Wiring

City Wiring Inspector William H. Pitts issued 129 permits for an estimated $62,758 worth of wiring during the month of December.

Major wiring projects for the month were 12-apartment buildings at 51-51A President Gardens Drive and 439 Willard St., a 14-apartment building at 15 Doble St. and a building for Woodward Spring Shop on Brackett St.

Pitts' department conducted 198 inspections, 14 re-inspections and two fire calls and noted 25 defects.

Arthur Perette Past Commanders Chairman

Other officers include Louis

S. Cassani, vice chairman; Allen A. Kofman, adjutant; Thomas M. McDonald, assistant adjutant and Lawrence J. Perette, treasurer and public relations officer.

The executive committee includes Chairman Arthur I.

Senter, Charles N. Ross, Paul W. O'Neill and Thomas B. Hanrahan.

Louis Cassani, John Dineen and Roy Miller will take charge of the installation of officers April 3.

Bonnie, David Winners Of Disney World Contest

A Milton girl and a Quincy boy will be taking trips to Walt Disney World in Florida soon, courtesy of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce and Northeast Airlines.

Winners of the contest held in conjunction with the Christmas Festival are Bonnie Sweeney, 8, of 277 Adams St., Milton and David Mitchell, 13, of 59 Belmont St., Quincy.

Names were drawn Dec. 29 by Chamber President Harold Slate and festival Chairman George C. Fay.

Bonnie and David and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney and Mr. and Mrs. David Mitchell, will spend three days and two nights at the new facility.

The trip includes transportation, hotel accommodations, meals, rides and other privileges at the park.

'If Party Sticks Together'

Bartley Tells Democrats No Republican Unbeatable

House Speaker David M. Bartley told Norfolk County Democrats Tuesday he felt there was no "unbeatable Republican up for re-election in 1972."

Bartley, who toured the South Shore with stops at Quincy, Weymouth and Randolph, said any Republican can be unseated "if Democrats stick together."

"Republicans are outnumbered in this state by two to one," he said. "Yet, for a decade, they've controlled the Governor's office."

"They've centralized their efforts and talent and their tremendous financial resources toward winning this one key office. And they've been aided and abetted by Democrats who have been divided and conquered, election after election."

Bartley said it was time for Democrats to unite because "the job is just too important — important to the people of this Commonwealth and important to the future of our party."

At a luncheon at Quincy's Neighborhood Club, the Speaker stressed the necessity of improving the Commonwealth's economic climate.

"This [the South Shore] is one of the key growth areas in the Commonwealth and I was anxious to hear from the people in the area their complaints and their comments and their suggestions," he said.

He called for creation of a "Massachusetts Space Shuttle Task Force" to lead the fight for new aerospace contracts for Massachusetts industry.

His address charged the Governor to create such a team to represent Massachusetts' interest in the $5.5 billion, 50,000-job project announced last week by President Nixon.

Bartley said he would also call on Senators Brooke and Kennedy and "our Congressional delegation to work with this task force in promoting the advantages of Massachusetts to the aerospace decision makers."

The Speaker's visit to Quincy included stops at WJDA, the Neighborhood Club, 1000 Southern Artery and a visit with Quincy Junior College student governors in the City Council chamber.

Head table guests at the sell-out luncheon at the Neighborhood Club included Mayor Hannon, former Mayor James R. McIntyre, Joseph Sullivan, president of the

Norfolk County Labor Council and Harold Slate, president of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce. Also former Lt. Gov. Francis

X. Bellotti, District Attorney George G. Burke, Clerk of Courts Dennis Ryan, Register of Deeds Barry Hannon, Superintendent of Schools

Favors Upgrading Downtown, Building Over Parking Areas

Tobin To Fight Residential Urban Renewal

By HENRY BOSWORTH

City Council President Arthur Tobin favors upgrading the downtown business area and proposes building new stores on air rights over the municipal parking areas.

But, he warns, he will fight any attempts to move urban renewal into the city's residential areas.

Tobin took that firm stand this week when the Quincy Sun asked him for comment on Mayor Walter J. Hannon's proposed Downtown Redevelopment Authority and renewal plans.

"I have informed both Mayor Hannon and Planning Director Geoffrey Davidson that I will be extremely cautious about any order coming into the council regarding upgrading of the downtown business area, Tobin declared.

"I don't want any blanket authorization for renewal," Tobin continued. "It should be restricted to the downtown area, and possibly—if desired—to the Norfolk Downs and Wollaston business districts."

"As long as I am president of the City Council, I have pledged to keep urban renewal out of the residential areas. And, I am going to be the watchdog to block any attempt to bring urban renewal into these residential areas.

"I am not insinuating this will be attempted. I am just serving notice that we in the council will be on our toes to watch for it."

Tobin said he feels the present City Council has no moral right to commit the city to blanket renewal that might affect the residential areas in the years ahead.

"Many of the present councillors may not be serving two or four years from now," he noted. "We may well have an entire new council in the next few years."

Delahunt Urges County Takeover Of Golf Course

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt said he favors county takeover of Wollaston Golf Course because the costs would be too great for Quincy and Milton to bear.

Delahunt wrote Sen. Arthur H. Tobin recently in support of Tobin's bill which would allow Norfolk County to take over the land on the Quincy-Milton line.

"Assuming that only $15 million would be necessary from the two municipalities . . . the interest alone of such bonds would equal approximately $78,150 per year," Delahunt said.

"In my opinion the planned recreational facilities would not realize that kind of revenue," he said.

He said county officials anticipate that $15,000 to $30,000 would be "a reasonable estimate in terms of net income" for the area.

"The responsibility of payment of such interest as well as repayment of principal would seem to impose too great a burden on the taxpayers of the City of Quincy," he said.

$350 Million In New Work

No Serious Snag Seen In Supertanker Contracts

By DICK MATTULINA

Seven thousand employees at the General Dynamics Quincy Shipyard are breathing easier this week thanks to a $530 million contract pending for six "supertankers".

The firm's application for federal construction subsidy and mortgage insurance has dispelled all of the shutdown rumors which have been plaguing workers for months.

Subsidy would virtually assure the Quincy Yard work on the six 225,000 ton tankers to be built for Maritime Dynamics as American-flag carriers in world-wide liquid bulk services.

Maritime Dynamics is a newly formed corporation jointly owned by General Dynamics and Maritime Fruit Carriers Co. Ltd., of Haifa, Israel.

Spokesmen for the Quincy yard said they could see no serious snag in the contract proceedings.

Union spokesmen predict that the contract will reverse the trend which has seen the work force cut in recent months to its present low of 6,900 employees.

That figure should be as high as 8,000 within a year, they said.

The immediate future is not as bright for the yard, however, as construction of the last of three Lykes Brothers ships is nearing completion, leaving three Navy ships and not enough work in Quincy.

Shipyard officials said layoffs will continue through the next few months, with union estimates of the total impact running as high as 1,000 jobless men by March.

In the meantime, General Dynamics is actively seeking contracts from other sources, including El Paso Natural Gas Co.

First National Bank of Boston will supply most of the construction funds and will own the tankers for lease to Maritime Dynamics.

Modernization of the plant facilities to allow construction is expected to cost as much as $80 million with work involving present employees and outside contractors.

● An Editorial

Keep The Door Open

Quincy residents had their first opportunity Tuesday night to see how the largest portion of their municipal budget is determined.

A proposal by Francis X. McCauley at the organizational meeting of the school committee was upheld unanimously by the board to open budget talks for the first time in years.

The vote was 7-0, and who could ask for a more harmonious beginning for school board activities?

But, away from the pleasant surroundings of the Neighborhood Club, misgivings began to surface and members began to have second thoughts.

Francis F. Anselmo, who voted for open session, said he thought the vote was illegal because the item was not posted on an agenda at City Hall.

Vice Chairman Paul C. Kelly, who voted for open session, brought the matter up for reconsideration at the Jan. 12 meeting.

Mr. Kelly said he wanted to avoid "public brawls" over cuts to popular budget items. Mr. Anselmo accused Mr. McCauley of "playing to the grandstand."

So up it went for reconsideration with Mr. Kelly, Mr. Anselmo and Charles T. Sweeney voting to reconsider and Mr. McCauley, Harold C. Davis, Daniel G. Raymond and Mayor Walter J. Hannon sustaining the earlier vote.

The vote was upheld and a meeting was scheduled for Jan. 13, but Mr. Anselmo declared the meeting illegal because members were not given 48 hours notice.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon notified each member by mail posted Jan. 14 that the session would now be held on Tuesday.

At press time, we could only hope it went on schedule.

The Quincy Sun applauded the seven man board for its Jan. 4 decision. And we applaud a majority of that body for its vote of Jan. 12.

The school budget for 1972 is expected to be some $19 million. More of the citizen's tax dollar goes toward the schools than any other branch of government.

And the committee is still free to close its doors for executive session when matters of personality or collective bargaining arise.

The citizens of Quincy, we feel, have a right to know where their tax money is going and how their elected officials stand on such matters.

The open session decision, we believe, is a major step forward for Quincy.

We commend the School Committee members who stuck to their guns to keep the door open.

John Cheney reportedly will be asked to head up the Downtown Redevelopment Authority proposed by Mayor Walter Hannon.

Cheney served with distinction as executive secretary of the Quincy Development Commission when Hannon was the commission chairman.

Cheney can have—if he wants—the post of Development Coordinator Hannon plans to activate within the Department of Planning, Programming and Development.

THEY'RE off and running for Republican state committeeman. Deputy Sheriff William Abbott of Wollaston has indicated he will not seek re-election to the post.

Hoping to succeed him are Roy Lawson, former Quincy City GOP Committee chairman; Robert Jacobson, Leo Meady and Leslie Molyneux. Lawson is from Ward 5 and the others live in Ward 4.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Thomas Andrew, GOP state committeewoman, is very much a candidate for re-election.

AN ADDED INDICATION that Sen. Edward Kennedy will not seek the Democratic nomination for President this year was the meeting of Edmund Muskie supporters at Morrisette Legion Post the other day. The meeting was called by former Sen.-Mayor James McIntyre, long-time close friend of Ted Kennedy.

In fact, they've been so close that the Muskie group get-together probably is proof positive Kennedy will not seek the Presidency this year.

THAT WAS AN historic moment Saturday when Mrs. Frank A. Nemec smashed a bottle of champagne against the S.S. Almeria Lykes at General Dynamics.

It was the first christening of a ship there—to the best of anyone's memory—that French imported champagne was used instead of domestic bubbles. Reason: it was discovered that because the French stuff is more effervescent and the bottle is of thinner glass, it makes for a better splash. [For evidence, see photo of Mrs. Nemec in action elsewhere in this issue.]

NICE-GESTURE-DEPT: In response to an item here a couple weeks back, the inmates at the Norfolk County House of Correction now have a 16-mm sound movie projector.

Mrs. Agnes Costello of Wollaston, member of the Norfolk County Sheriff's Associates, reports the projector has been donated by Chief Edward Murphy of the South Shore National Bank security office.

The projector will be used for Sunday entertainment movies and for classroom educational films.

Warren Corbett, former Quincy Police Department detective now with the South Shore National Bank's security office, gets an assist for calling attention to the need for the projector.

HERE'S ONE: Russell O'Connell, executive director of the Quincy Community Action Program, is looking up these days.

Seems he gave quite a pep talk to the mothers who are members of the Policy Council of the Headstart Program. To inspire them, he told them that if they ran that program well and kept it within the allotted budget, he would be so proud of them that he would get this — even climb the flagpole on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Library.

Well, the girls did it. Now they're waiting for him to climb the flagpole. [See, you gotta be careful what you tell a woman.]

Q H S Journalism Class

WE GET LETTERS

Quincy High School Journalism Class Replies To Young Critic

Editor, Quincy Sun:

Recently our column [Youth Speaks Out] was criticized by a member of "Young Americans for Freedom", in a letter to your paper. He accused us of "criticizing the President, the Attorney General, our government and our way of life as a whole".

He also implied that we are against patriotism, honesty, morality, and hard work. He states that we're "not being original in desire to shoot down the establishment", and that we speak out because it's a "course that just became comfortable through continued use."

It is our belief that our purposes and intentions have been misinterpreted by this reader. We shall attempt to clarify them.

We are not criticizing our government. We believe that the democratic form of government is the best possible form of government, but we feel some of our governing leaders have made mistakes and acted unwisely. It is our intent to bring it to the public's attention.

We are accused of being against honesty, patriotism, hard work, and morality. We would like to know what is honest about trying to conceal from the public our governments decisions involving foreign affairs? Or is it moral to unleash bombs on hospitals where children, the sick, and the elderly are present? If the Young Americans for Freedom think so, then how do they describe their patriotism?

Historic Site Dedicated

Howard Johnson's Ice Cream Just A Sideline Back In 1925

By PAUL HAROLD

Howard D. Johnson, one of Quincy's most famous "favorite sons", returned home last week, accompanied by his own son, Howard B. Johnson.

Occasion was the dedication of a granite marker at the Wollaston MBTA station, near the corner of Beale St. and Newport Ave., site of the first Howard Johnson store in 1925.

For the elder Johnson, it was a homecoming. "I love Wollaston," he said. "I was a member of one of the first classes to graduate from the Wollaston grammar school." The school is within sight of his first store.

The elder Johnson told the crowd gathered, that at his first store he sold patent medicines and newspapers. Ice cream started out as a sideline.

To top his neighboring competitor who featured three flavors, Johnson developed the famous "28 Flavors" that became his trademark.

He opened a stand at Wollaston Beach the following year and in 1929 opened a restaurant in the downtown Quincy, in the South Shore National Bank Building.

His ice cream proved to be an unqualified success, but because of debts he was at first unable to expand. It was then that he thought of the idea of a franchise, selling supplies and use of his name to other businessmen. Like his ice cream, the franchising idea caught on and by 1935 Johnson was fast becoming "Host of the Highways", with 25 restaurants.

In 1940 there were more than 100. Today there are 871 restaurants and 438 motor lodges.

Dignitaries at last week's dedication ceremony included Mayor Walter J. Hannon, former Mayor James R. McIntyre, Rep. Joseph E. Brett, Councillor John J. Quinn, MBTA General Manager Joseph C. Kelly and MBTA Director Forrest I. Neal of Quincy.

Also on hand were a number of friends and former employees. Among them was Everett E. Porter of 66 Whiton Ave., Quincy Point, formerly of Wollaston.

Porter, a 41 year employee with the Johnson Company, made the ice cream in the basement of the original store.

One of the secrets of the Howard Johnson ice cream was doubling the usual butter fat content to make it richer. Porter said he helped develop the "28 Flavors", noting that pistachio was the flavor he preferred.

After the usual speeches and the unveiling of the marker, as befitted the occasion, Johnson and his son who now runs the restaurant-motel empire, scooped up a drum of the famous ice cream.

Today, most of the Howard Johnson ice cream for the eastern states is made at the Brockton plant, but Quincy remains the home for the candy manufacturing, food processing as well as some clerical and administrative offices.

The historic event was captured by a number of photographers, one being Mrs. Rudolf Oberg, 37 Walker St., North Quincy, a member of the Quincy Historical Society. To add to the society's collection of Howard Johnson memorabilia [which includes his chair from the drug store and original ice cream scoops], Mrs. Oberg was given the spoon Howard D. and Howard B. Johnson used for the ice cream scooping ceremony.

Court Order Halts Noisy Night Dredging

Suffolk Superior Court Judge Harry Kalus has issued a temporary restraining order prohibiting the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company from dredging and causing excessive nighttime noise between the hours of 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. in Town River off Germantown.

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell [D-Quincy] said he asked the Attorney General's office to take action after the company ignored an order of the Department of Public Health that ordered the company to cease making excessive nighttime noise.

Brownell, Senator Arthur H. Tobin, Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham and Police Chief Francis Finn had received complaints from Germantown residents about the night dredging operation.

Brownell said the Project Manager, has indicated that because of the court order, the firm will probably move the dredge out of the Germantown channel until a method can be found to reduce the noise level of the operation.

Brownell, a former Assistant Attorney General, said he believes that the case will be a precedent setting one because this is the first time a Massachusetts court has issued a restraining order based on the Department of Public Health's new noise regulations.

Brownell commended Assistant Attorney General Alan McDonald of Attorney General Quinn's office "for his fine job in handling the landmark case."

Brett Suggests Third High School Be Built

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has suggested establishment of a third high school to alleviate overcrowded conditions at Quincy and North.

Brett suggested in a letter to Mayor Walter J. Hannon that a new school could be located in the Southwest portion of the city.

He said such a location would provide "accommodation of hundreds of students living in that area of the city who now have long distances to travel to reach school."

It would also give "relief at the same time of the pressures of overcrowding in the two present schools," he said.

"I believe a third high school could be established in the southwest section of Quincy at no greater cost than expanding the two present schools and would afford much greater convenience for students from both West Quincy and South Quincy.

"This suggestion is offered with the sincere conviction that the idea is well worth study and examination by the school authorities in the best interests of the entire city," he wrote.

LaRaia Resolve Asks Mayor To Submit High School Plans

A resolve on Councillor-at-Large Joseph J. LaRaia was passed by the City Council Monday requesting the Mayor to submit site location and land taking for the proposed North Quincy High School addition.

In entering the resolve, LaRaia said the School Committee has submitted its recommendations on what he termed a "badly needed addition" to the Mayor.

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth suggested that hearings on the matter be held at the high school if possible.

Poet's Corner

Sunrise At Saimaa

I stand here on the shores of Saimaa
It is very early in the morning and mist
Floats above the waters of beautiful Saimaa Lake Clouds in the eastern sky are rosy-hued from
The rising sun. I wait, and listen to the Singing of night birds, and hear the lonely
Cry of an unknown bird, perhaps a loon,
From a distant shore.

I wish that my mother were here beside me,
On these shores where she played as a child.
I think, perhaps she does know that I am here,
In the land of my forefathers,
Far away from my own home across the sea.

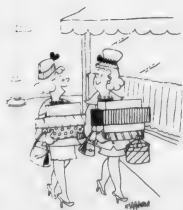

Suddenly I become aware;
The rosy glow had faded away;
The sun has risen; and my soul sings:
"Oh God, how great thou art."

Irene Yoerger, Quincy

Voyage

Sure, I was cold, as I lit up another cigarette
My previous memories I'd just as soon forget
I knew I wanted you from the first glance
When you were close, my thoughts were of elegance
I recalled a dream I've often embraced Fantasies would linger but always be erased
I entered through a sacred door which intrusion has known before
I sense your velvet as I move slowly toward the door
As these memories fade away, I am no longer in debt
Sure, I was cold, as I lit up another cigarette.

Duckling For Dad's Birthday

What to get the Man of the House for his birthday is a perennial problem. But one sure way to mark the day as a memorable occasion is to serve duckling for dinner.

Madras duckling with chutney rice is easy to prepare, and—for an extra flair, add watercress. Well-chilled watermelon or cantaloupe rind on chipped ice lends an aura of elegance certain to spell out your birthday congratulations loud and clear.

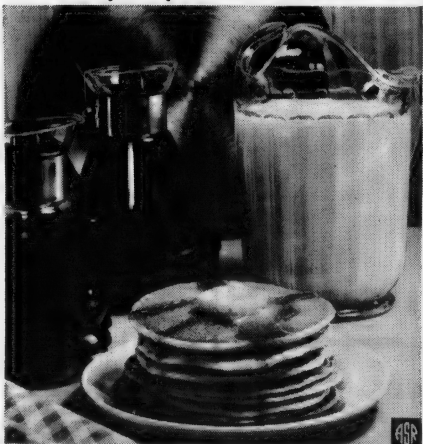

Convenience memo: Duckling, ranging from 3½ to 5½ pounds in weight, is readily available in supermarket frozen meat display cases. And your butcher will be happy to quarter the duckling for you. The National Duckling Council suggests you keep a brace of fresh frozen duckling in your freezer. Roasted in your oven or barbecued on your rotisserie, duckling is a delight.

Madras Duckling With Chutney Rice

- |                                                            |                                        |
|------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|
| 1 frozen duckling (4½ to 5 pounds) defrosted and quartered | 1 cup finely chopped preserved ginger  |
| 2 tablespoons lemon juice                                  | 2 teaspoons curry powder               |
| 1½ teaspoon salt                                           | 3 cups hot fluffy seasoned cooked rice |
| 1 cup honey                                                | 1 cup dried chutney                    |
| 1 cup preserved ginger syrup                               |                                        |

Wash, drain and dry duckling quarters. Brush both sides of quarters with lemon juice and sprinkle with salt. Place quarters, skin side up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (325 F.) until meat on drumstick is tender, about 3 hours. Combine honey, preserved ginger syrup, chopped ginger and curry powder to make sauce; mix well and heat. Drain fat from roasting pan at end of 1½ hours and return to oven. Brush sauce over duckling quarters several times during last 30 minutes cooking time. Combine rice and chutney; top with duckling quarters and drizzle with remaining honey-ginger sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Everybody Loves Pancakes

Pancakes have what it takes to make a party. They're fun to make, economical to serve and appeal to all age groups. Here's an easy recipe for making Party Pancakes with a helpful freezing hint for preparing in advance. A charming idea-packed leaflet is now available from Log Cabin Syrup to give you many more pancake suggestions plus a few surprises, too. For your free copy send your name and address, including ZIP code, to: Pancake Parties Plus, Box 8064, Kankakee, Illinois 60901.

Party Pancakes

| 2½ cups unsifted all-purpose flour      | 2 eggs, well beaten      |
| 2 tablespoons sugar                     | 2 cups milk              |
| 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder | ¼ cup shortening, melted |
| 1½ teaspoons salt                       | Butter                   |
|                                         | Maple-blended syrup      |

Mix flour with sugar, baking powder, and salt. Combine eggs and milk; add to flour mixture with shortening, mixing just until flour is moistened. (Batter will be lumpy.) Bake on hot greased griddle. Serve with butter and maple-blended syrup. Makes about 24 pancakes.

Note: To freeze pancakes prepare Party Pancakes as directed above, under-cooking slightly; then freeze between layers of wax paper. To reheat place on baking sheet and heat in 300° oven for 8 to 10 minutes or heat in toaster set at medium setting.

Sun Signs

By Regina Russell

Week of Jan. 21 - 28

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - This is a very difficult week with sudden and unexpected surprises cropping up. Patience is your keyword.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - A friend of yours could suddenly land in the hospital this week - a visit from you would cheer them.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Don't plan on attending the business party you're being invited to - last minute difficulties arise.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Those born around the 11th of the month are attacked by a crises in their lives - big changes are made.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - You won't be feeling very energetic this next month - better to lay your plans now and take action in two months.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Sudden difficulties arise and you will be expected to handle them in your usual practical manner.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Accidents and unforeseen troubles are forecast for this week - be cautious and don't allow changes to confuse you.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Other people may be trying to force you to make a move for which you will be sorry later - wait them out.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Conditions this week may force the opening for which you've been waiting - pay raise toward summer.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - You may not like all that's going on around you but there is nothing you can do about it now.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - This is not the time to talk about what you're doing or to tell others you've had a change of mind. Next week time enough.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Keep an eye on your possessions this week - you are apt to lose something of value. Extra precautions necessary.

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

What's your bag... It's an interesting supermarket game. Take a look at some of the overstuffed bags that leave the store and then examine some of the overstuffed ladies who are carrying them. There's a real relationship between the bulges of the impulse buyer and the bulges in her bag. Watch her as she wheels her war wagon shopping cart into battle. Plop goes a package of frozen Danish; plunk a bottle of creamy Bleu Cheese Dressing; slosh a pint of Heavy Cream. Observe that fat hand at the end of that fat arm attached to that fat body. It's in constant action, and her expedition has barely begun. That's her bag, and she's welcome to it!

If you would be thin, we recommend a Diet Workshop type bag. It contains food, but it contains much more than things to eat. It's packed with energy, vitality, and a whole way of living. That doesn't mean it doesn't hold ingredients just as delicious, as tempting, and as satisfying as the pound-producing one. In fact if you fear dieting because it might ignore your sweet tooth, try these:

DIET WORKSHOP SPICE MUFFINS

- |                              |
|------------------------------|
| 2 eggs                       |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract   |
| 2/3 cup Alba Dry Milk Powder |
| 1/2 teaspoon Baking soda     |
| 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar |

- |                                    |
|------------------------------------|
| 6 packages Sweet 'N Low            |
| 1 teaspoon cinnamon                |
| 1/2 teaspoon allspice              |
| 1/4 teaspoon cloves                |
| 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg                |
| 1 1/3 pulverized grapefruit flakes |
| 1/2 cup water                      |

Combine eggs and vanilla and beat well. Combine all dry ingredients and add to egg mixture one third at a time. Beat at medium speed one minute. Add water and beat for additional minute. Fill cupcake pans 2/3 full. Bake in 350 degree oven for 20 minutes. Makes 8 cupcakes.

Satiate your yen for sweets with a muffin for breakfast before your next shopping trip, and you'll be able to shop without yielding to the empty calories that fill bags so quickly and expensively. Linger to select crackling crisp lettuce and celery. Float over glowing oranges and moonpale mushrooms.

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free "Sweet Rewards for Dieters", please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566. I will also tell you how to fill your weekly menu with delightful delicacies.

Until you hear from me, though, think thin while you shop. Just remember that bag the supermarket checker is filling because it's your bag!

'Deal With Those Problems'

The personal and relationship problems of many people hang on year after year because they refuse to deal with them...try to ignore them...but they just don't go away.

Here's Jim who's always late getting home for dinner. Even when he calls from the office to say..."I'm leaving now...be home in half hour"...he's still late. His wife tries to be patient...but how long can she keep the children waiting for dinner, at 4...7...11...13 years it becomes quite a problem. Shall she wait...go ahead...keep his food hot...let him fix his own...what? He does nothing about his lack of punctuality...when he arrives he's always in a bad mood...his defense for his tardiness...blames everyone...at the office...traffic...especially his wife. The result is turmoil of mind...hurt...mistrust...resentment...quarrels.

What's wrong in this home? More than Jim's tardiness. For one thing...there's no pattern for resolving problems...in their 15 years there never has been. He won't cooperate as a team member...is rigid...selfish...has his way regardless. The wife has gone along with this...til now. But the toll is too great. Now she's filled with resentment...is turned off from him sexually...feels depressed and angry. She wants a solution...or she wants out.

It becomes quite clear that there is gross lack of communication in Jim's home. The No. 1 reason for being married is companionship...talking together...playing together...working together...making love together. I don't know how to justify a marriage if this communicative factors aren't there...do you? Many people have persistent problems because they don't talk through to solutions and agreements. They excuse themselves...use the newspaper as a buffer... "Can't you see I'm reading"?...the television "wait until this program is over"...and of course the proverbial "I'm too tired to talk" excuse.

Women too have cute little ways of avoiding dealing with their problems...some turn on the tears...punish the partner by refusing sexual relationship... "don't touch me"... "I just don't understand"... "if you loved me you wouldn't treat me so." All of which leaves the problems unresolved.

We've got to talk through...there's no marriage worth its salt without dialogue. This was lacking in Jim's home.

Furthermore, Jim and his wife never learned to stick to agreements when they were made. The big commitment is made at the marriage altar...then there follows hundreds of little commitments to new agreements. Mealtimes...dealing with children...sexual behavior...money matters...sleeping habits...religious practices...the list is unlimited. The art of marriage is made up of talking through...reaching agreements...then committing ourselves to stick to our agreements. That's the way to resolve problems...and keep them resolved. Don't evade...Deal With Those Problems.

MONEY TALKS

Money Problems in the Marital Arena

By Philip J. Lawrence
President
COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook

If you are a married couple who find yourselves frequently quarreling about money, you can take comfort in the fact that practically everybody else is doing it too.

Experts in the field of marital relations agree on the seriousness of the money problem. Many would call it, as one does, "the major problem area of married couples today."

What is the cause? Is it simply a matter of downright poverty? Apparently not, for while this country has its quota of families living at or below the poverty line, the money problem is not confined to them.

"We quarreled when I made $4,000; we quarrel now; we'll probably quarrel when I make $15,000," reported a husband who had been interviewed during one of many surveys. His observation suggests that money tensions exist on all levels of income.

Partly the problem is one of management. "I'd say that couples who make the most of their money are comparatively rare phenomena," notes a marriage consultant. "Couples whose marriages are otherwise ideal often diminish their happiness by being foolish about finances."

What complicates the problem still further is the introduction of the human factor into what otherwise might be simple accounting procedures. Two factors, rather — one male, one female.

Each of them has grown up from separate backgrounds, with varying shades of emphasis on what money is for and how it should be used.

"The husband and wife each brings to the partnership his experiences, his own hopes and anxieties about money as well as values derived from his ethnic, social, and economic background," explains Dr. Edith G. Neisser. As a result, family finances take on meanings far beyond the immediate need to make ends meet.

The problem gets even deeper when the money quarrel isn't really about money at all, but about something more basic between the partners. Feelings that originate in other areas are often transferred to money. Dr. Paul H. Lavie notes, for "money is a device through which a subtle struggle for power and dominance may be waged."

Psychologists say that the husband who fears that his wife is dominating him tends to spend unwarranted sums of money on, for example, hobbies or gambling. The wife who feels neglected by her husband restores her ego by buying an extravagant hat or living-room lamp.

Adding to the household friction is the awareness that every family purchase will be subject to the judgment and, often, critical comment of parents and in-laws. "I would no more spend money the way my son and his wife do than I would make a parachute jump," says home economist Luise Addiss. "The trouble is, the values are different for each generation and even for each family in the same generation."

If the second generation is in any way indebted to the first, either by outright gifts or by loans, the right of elders to criticize is more obvious — and often more painfully felt.

Brownell Says Seawall Release Insures Owners

The general release which must be signed to allow seawall construction at Chickabot Beach and Edgewater Drive "adequately insures the protection of a signator's property rights," according to Rep. Thomas F. Brownell.

Brownell made the statement after receiving a clarification of the legal meaning of the releases from Fred C. Schwelm, deputy chief engineer of the Division of Waterways of the Department of Public Works.

According to Schwelm, "these release forms merely entitle the contractor to perform the necessary construction work on the property in question and in no way entitles him to cross their land with his equipment."

The Division's itemized proposal for the project provides that the contractor must secure "all necessary permits" from owners in order to transport materials across private property.

Also, "the contractor shall repair at his own expense any damage caused by him to lawns, driveways, structures, etc.

"On completion of the work, the contractor shall remove from the site all debris, excess materials, tools and equipment and shall leave the premises in a neat and orderly condition to the satisfaction of the engineer," the proposal states.

The "Standard Specifications for Highways, Bridge and Waterways," which are a part of every DPW contract, also protects the property owner, Schwelm said.

Delahunt Asks For Skating Rink At Wollaston

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has asked Mayor Hannon to include in the school committee budget $11,000 for construction of a tennis court-ice rink at Wollaston School playground.

The facility would be a standard double tennis court with modification so that flooding of the court would create a natural outdoor skating rink.

Delahunt said he made the request because no skating facility "exists in the westerly section of Wollaston in Ward Five between Hancock St. and Adams St."

The Park and Recreation Board voted not to flood a portion of Stoney Brae Playground because the area was resodded last year at "considerable expense," he said.

Paul Harold Young Democrats Coordinator

At an organizational meeting held Saturday in Worcester, the Massachusetts Young Democrats named Paul D. Harold of 31 Riverside Ave., Adams Shore, acting co-ordinator for the Boston area.

The Massachusetts Young

Democrats are currently re-organizing and expect to be chartered from the Washington headquarters this week. A second meeting will be held at Worcester to plan for the state convention and election of officers to be held in Springfield, in early February.

Other coordinators named were Russell Newsome, Springfield area and Virginia Goddard, Worcester area. The acting co-ordinators will serve until state elections are held.

Smyth Urges Montclair Seniors Club

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth has urged Executive Director William MacDonald of the Council on Aging to form a Montclair Senior Citizens' Club.

In a letter to MacDonald, Smyth said "Many senior citizens residing in the Montclair section of North Quincy have expressed an interest to me in formation of a senior citizens club for this area."

"The Atlantic Senior Citizens Club is rapidly being filled with senior citizen members.

Squantum is in the process now of forming a senior citizens club for that area."

He said formation of a

Montclair club would "make it easier for senior citizens to participate in meetings and local functions."

Hancock Bank Deposits Up 15.3 Per Cent

Hancock Bank reports deposits at the year-end of $66,198,523 contrasted with $57,392,768 a year ago or a gain of 15.3%, according to William E. Kelley, President.

Total bank loans outstanding at the end of 1971 were $43,647,237 up from $35,640,367 at the previous year end, an increase of 22.5 percent.

Net income for 1971 after security transactions was up 4.2 percent to $748,398 or $2.67 per share against 1970 figures of $718,061 and $2.56 per share.

Total assets at year end rose to $76,444,530, up 13.8 percent over 1970's $67,189,969, Kelley said.

Hancock Bank maintains 14 banking offices throughout Norfolk County.

Atty. James M. Collins Candidate For Norfolk County Treasurer

Assistant Norfolk County Dist. Atty. James M. Collins today announced his candidacy for County Treasurer.

A Democrat, Collins becomes the first announced candidate for the post now held by Quincy Republican Raymond C. Warrington. The latter is not seeking re-election.

A Quincy attorney and accountant, Collins joined the District Attorney's staff five years ago and was a leader in the establishment of the County's six-man jury system, now considered the most successful in the state. He is currently assigned to prosecution of welfare fraud and embezzlement cases for Dist. Atty. George G. Burke.

In announcing his candidacy, Atty. Collins said, "The office of County Treasurer should be above politics, even though it is part of the election process."

"The Treasurer's office has the delicate and complex task of supervising the millions of dollars expended annually, and the moral obligation to act as the public's watchdog on its money."

"As auditor of the books of all Norfolk County agencies, and as a member of the Norfolk County Retirement Board by virtue of his office, the County Treasurer bears the responsibility for assuring that expenditures are correctly made, that budget limits are carefully observed, and that retiring municipal and county employees are fairly treated."

"In today's complex society the office of County Treasurer requires a capable administrator, well versed in the knowledge of accounting and law with an understanding of the affairs of County government."

An honor graduate of Stoughton High School, Collins received his accounting degree from Bentley College and his Business Administration degree from Suffolk University before earning his Doctor of Jurisprudence degree at New England School of Law. He completed graduate work at Boston University Legal - Medical Institute and Practicing Law Institute of New York City.

He is presently a guest lecturer in law at Northeastern University Law School and Dean Junior College.

A former Quincy resident, Atty. Collins is a Holy Name Society past president and a member of the Knights of Columbus and St. Gabriel's Retreat League. While a West Quincy resident, he was named to the Quincy Development Commission by former Mayor James R. McIntyre.

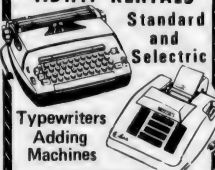

The recipient of the American Legion Silver Medal of Honor, Atty. Collins was also recently honored with a Special Public Service Award for his work in combatting drug abuse.

Collins is a member of the Norfolk County and Massachusetts Bar Associations, Quincy Bar Association, Massachusetts District Attorney's Association, Norfolk County Prosecutor's Association, the Massachusetts League and has been selected for membership in the Executive Club of Boston.

Prior to joining the District Attorney's office he was an accountant with Patterson, Teele & Dennis, Boston Certified Public Accountants.

Attorney Collins, now a Milton resident, is married to the former Anne Shea of Quincy and has three daughters, Debbie, 13, Judy 11, and Linda 10 all of whom attend Milton Public Schools.

Tobin Vows To Fight Against Residential Urban Renewal

"I also believe that every candidate for the City Council in future elections should tell the voters where they stand on urban renewal."

Tobin said he favors code enforcement--neighborhood improvement programs whereby existing dwellings are renovated, hazards corrected and the general neighborhood beautified.

"But I am flatly opposed to tearing down someone's home. I am opposed to changing the residential character of our city."

Tobin noted that a huge amount of valuable municipal land between School St. and the Adams Academy is now being used for parking only.

"We should better utilize this land," he said. "It is being wasted. We should put the parking lots under ground or ramp them and build stores up over them."

"Some of the existing buildings in the downtown area should be upgraded and some of them should be torn down to make way for new structures."

Tobin said the city "cannot afford to let the downtown area deteriorate."

"If the assessed valuation in the downtown area is allowed to depreciate, this loss would have to be borne by the already over-burdened taxpaying homeowner."

"It is up to responsible public officials to bring about an upgrading of the assessed valuation in the downtown area to help pay for the increasing cost of municipal services."

"We must plan to increase the potential revenue of the downtown area. We must bring in more business and more good businesses."

But, he added: "Let the residential areas alone."

Yard Sees No Problems With Supertanker Contracts

The 225,000 ton Very Large Crude Carriers [VLCC] will be the largest ships ever built at Quincy. They will be 1,094 feet long and 144-feet across.

The next largest built here was the Manhattan, which was 940 feet long and 132 feet abeam and 106,568 tons.

Shipyard spokesmen said the present Fore River Bridge can handle passage of the VLCCs, but larger craft construction in the future would necessitate enlargement.

A $225,000 feasibility study by Sverdup and Parcel engineers is underway for the Department of Public Works with final reports due by the first of the month.

Cong. James A. Burke hailed the announcement as the "best news the Quincy Fore River Shipyard has had in a long time."

He cautioned, however, that there was "still a need for immediate work to prevent more of the yard's workers being laid off."

Mayor Hannon termed the announcement "a great event for the city of Quincy."

"Now we have to worry about the Fore River Bridge," he said. "I hope the new contracts will spur the state into getting the bridge clearance enlarged quickly."

Brownell Named To Two Important Committees

The youngest and newest representative in the Quincy delegation has been appointed by Speaker David Bartley to two important legislative committees.

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell, 31

has been appointed to the Committee on Local Affairs and the Committee on Insurance.

The Committee on Local Affairs hears legislation affecting every city and town in the Commonwealth; the Committee on Insurance provides hearings on all insurance oriented legislation.

The Quincy Democrat said he is looking forward to the committee work on both committees.

NATIONAL JAYCEE WEEK ★ JANUARY 16 TO 22

Quincy Jaycees' 22nd Anniversary

Quincy Jaycees are celebrating their 22nd birthday this week in conjunction with the 52nd anniversary of the national Jaycee organization.

The Quincy Chapter was formed in 1950 when Maurice "Mike" Grossman and a group of young businessmen organized the local group.

Jaycees pride themselves on community programs for overall benefit without support to any particular party or special interest group.

Members range in age from 21 to 35 and in educational level from high school graduate to doctor of philosophy.

The common denominator is that each member has a sincere desire to improve conditions in Quincy and gain at the same time practical leadership experience.

Prominent members include President Donald J. Hughes, systems manager for Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co.; Joseph G. Angelo, assistant general manager for Remick's of Quincy; Harvey A. Kurr, president of Worldwide Travel Agency and Dale A. Pederson, marketing officer for South Shore National Bank.

During the past year, Quincy Jaycees have taken on several service projects including their recent Christmas Tree Sale at the A Mart on Southern Artery.

Proceeds from the sale of 520 trees financed purchase and distribution of 50 food baskets for the needy and a Christmas party for mentally retarded children.

In November, the Jaycees and Sacred Heart CYO sold more than 500 fireplace starters door to door to raise funds for the Massachusetts Jaycee Foundation for the Mentally Handicapped.

The group sponsored a candidates night at Atlantic Junior High School in October to give residents a chance to hear the views of all candidates for local office.

Quincy Jaycees were host to more than 200 members of 22 other Southeastern Massachusetts chapters at the District III meeting in July which featured seminars and an address by Lt. Gov. Donald Dwight.

During the month of May, the group helped distribute some 300,000 pamphlets on consumer protection and worked with the Health Department in cleaning up Quincy beaches.

Jaycees also co-sponsored, with the Recreation Department, a Special Olympics for retarded children at Veterans Memorial Stadium on Aug. 14.

Winners of the track and field events competed in the statewide Special Junior Olympics at Tufts University in Medford.

Mayor's First Proclamation

The first official proclamation of Mayor Walter J. Hannon declares Jan. 16 through 22 Jaycee Week in Quincy in recognition of "great service rendered to this community."

The text of the proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, the civic bodies and service organizations of our community and the departments of the local government recognize the great service rendered to this community by the Quincy Jaycees, and

Whereas, the United States Jaycees and its affiliated state and local organizations have set aside the week of January 16 through 22, 1972, to observe the founding of the Jaycees and to promote the activities of the Jaycees, and

Whereas, this organization of young men has contributed tremendously to the betterment of this community throughout the year,

Now, therefore, I, Walter J. Hannon, Mayor of the City of Quincy, do hereby proclaim the week of January 16 through January 22, 1972, as Jaycee Week and urge all citizens of our community to give full consideration to the future services of the Jaycees.

Walter J. Hannon, Mayor

Jaycee Creed

• Although many expressions have been spoken and printed about the Jaycees ideals, the Jaycee Creed best expresses the underlying ideals of the movement. It is as follows:

- We believe . . . .
- That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life,
- That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations,
- That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise,
- That government should be of laws rather than of men,
- That earth's great treasure lies in human personality,
- And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

Award, Dinner Meeting Mark Quincy Jaycee Week

Quincy Jaycees will mark the 52nd anniversary of the founding of the national organization with Jaycee Week observances Jan. 16-22.

Mayor Walter J. Hannon, a former member of the organization, has issued a proclamation declaring the observance and a banner will be displayed in the Jaycees' honor at City Hall.

James T. Doyle, chairman of Jaycee week, said the purpose of festivities is to "bring recognition and create community awareness" of the organization's activities.

The Quincy Chapter presented an award at Monday's City Council meeting to Police Patrolman Peter Benedict for outstanding service.

Awards will be given semi-annually to police officers and to firefighters "to give well-deserved recognition to some of the city's fine law enforcement and fire officers," Doyle said.

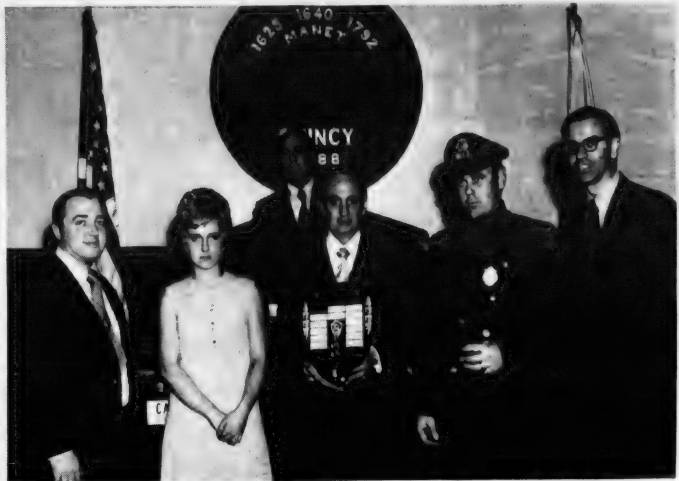

Tonight the group will hold a dinner and orientation meeting at the Carlton House in North Quincy with Eric M. Sweider, executive vice president of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce as guest speaker.

Some 40 young men between the ages of 21 and 35 are active members of the organization. Jaycee spokesmen said the expected enrollment for this year should swell that number to 60 or 70.

Officers include William J. Griffin, chairman; Donald J. Hughes, president; Edward A. MacWhinnie, internal vice president; Charles J. Leonard, external vice president; Raymond Ellis, secretary.

Also David F. Mercier, treasurer and Jay MacDonald, Stephen Ganter, Domenic Silvestro and Ray Viens, directors.

Planned activities for the coming year include a blood program, senior citizens day, kiddie show, leadership seminar and special olympics for retarded children.

Jaycees' Purpose:
Leadership Through Community Development

Their purposes are simple, but through the years have fired the imagination of countless thousands of young men: leadership training through community development.

In many areas, leadership training means developing top executive and political leaders. But in the Jaycee organization, it extends to developing the individual to better put to task his abilities and know-how.

Leadership means getting things done through people. They accomplish this training by practicing the primary goal of the Jaycees - community development.

When you participate in a community project, you learn organization, assignment of responsibility, communications and group dynamics. You learn through practical experience!

Jaycees Offer Training For Ambitious Members

The Jaycees offer leadership training through participation in projects in which you gain experience in public speaking.

learn to organize your thoughts more effectively, and express them more confidently. You learn to organize your work, making more effective use of your time.

Again, through project activity you have the opportunity to participate in community programs, serve on civic committees, and take a real and meaningful part in the direction of your community.

You become known to business and civic leaders, and because of your youth and enthusiasm you gain an active voice in community affairs.

And how about your own career? Being a Jaycee implies to your boss and others that you are ambitious and enthusiastic, ready to tackle any job, assume any responsibility.

As a Jaycee, you are given responsibilities usually entrusted to older, more experienced men.

When advancement opportunities come, you will be ready for them.

And don't overlook the social contact and friendships you gain through the Jaycees.

As a member, you become part of the sharpest group in town - and no matter where you may be transferred, there is always a Jaycee chapter nearby - with a ready-made circle of friends.

Here you have the opportunity to associate with young families of the same age, educational background and economic status.

Former Jaycees Include Nixon, Hannon, McIntyre

Some of the world's most famous men have risen to prominence through the Jaycee ranks. An outstanding example is the 37th President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon.

Jaycees represent virtually every area of business and government. Jaycee alumni have made their mark in every top echelon of leadership.

Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is a former Jaycee and still plays a prominent role in their activities. Other outstanding former Jaycees include John F. Kennedy, Nelson Rockefeller, Dr. Tom Dooley and Henry Ford II.

The world of sports boast such distinguished former Jaycees as golfer Jack Nicklaus, a former Junior Jaycee Golf champion.

Closer to home, the Jaycees are represented in local government by such men as Mayor Walter J. Hannon, Executive Secretary Joseph P. Shea, District Attorney George G. Burke, Assistant District Attorney Richard W. Barry and Purchasing Agent George Riley.

Former Mayor James R. McIntyre was a Jaycee as was Robert M. Rosenberg, president of Dunkin Donuts, and Charles G. Peterson, president of Quincy Cooperative Bank.

Other notables include photographer George Blackwell, Maurice [Mike] Grossman of L. Grossman's Sons, William J. Griffin of Hancock Bank and Philip Lawrence, president of Colonial Federal Savings.

Hannon, McIntyre, Burke and Rosenberg were elevated to the elite 1965 list denoting "Outstanding Young Men of America".

Since its founding in 1920, the Jaycee organization has distinguished itself in the production of national and executive leaders.

In addition to the former Jaycee in the White House, Jaycee alumni are sprinkled throughout both branches of Congress and the nation's highest legal and judicial posts.

Membership has grown more than 50 percent over the last 10 years to 350,000 members nationwide. The state organization boasts 5,500 members.

7th Service Award Dinner Being Planned

The Quincy Jaycee's seventh annual Distinguished Service Award dinner is now being planned for early spring.

For the past six years, the Jaycees have presented the award in recognition of outstanding community service by an individual.

The past winners, in order:

- Dr. Charles Djerf, noted Quincy pediatrician and former school committeeman.

- Rev. Bedros Baharian, pastor Quincy Point Congregational Church.

- Dr. Edward Mann, former president Eastern Nazarene College and former school committee member.

- A. Wendell Clark, former long-time school committee member and business leader.

- Frank E. Romic, Quincy businessman and civic leader

- John W. Blake, treasurer of Colony. Inc., fund-raising chairman for the Salvation Army and active in municipal and civic endeavors.

Provencher Thanks Jaycees For Christmas Contributions

Paul J. Provencher, director of South Shore Community has expressed his organization's deep appreciation for the food baskets distributed at Christmas by Quincy Jaycees.

The Jaycees used proceeds from a sale at the A Mart on Southern Artery in December to finance purchase and distribution of 50 packages for the needy.

Provencher, in a letter to coordinator Dale Pederson, thanked the Jaycees for "helping to make Christmas time a little brighter for certain needy Quincy families."

"The Christmas food baskets were indeed appreciated and may I say thank you in behalf of those families. I cannot but deeply admire the Jaycees civic and community involvement," he wrote.

Jaycees are a group of wide awake young men who are anxious to get ahead in life - and are willing to devote a part of their time to community activities.

Because they were originally known as the Junior Chamber of Commerce, many identify them as a junior section of the Chamber of Commerce.

This is not the case. They have their own officers, their own treasury, and carry out projects independently of any other group.

They do, however, work with many community organizations toward major project goals.

Neither are they a social club, a lodge or a fraternity.

While they encourage fellowship among their members, it serves merely as a means to an end; to get effective action by young men on worthy projects.

To briefly summarize the Jaycees, they are a constructive action organization of young men who devote a portion of their time to community service in the public interest.

A Jaycee may be your corner grocer, the junior executive, your insurance agent, a farmer, the local doctor, or any of the thousand professions of our great country.

Membership qualifications are restricted in only two areas:

First, the age - you must be between the ages of 21 and 35, both inclusive.

And second, you must be of good character and interested in improving yourself and the community.

There are no restrictions as to race, creed, profession or any other qualification.

National Headquarters Of Jaycees In Oklahoma

National Jaycee headquarters are located in Tulsa, Oklahoma. A second home, the original Jaycee operations were conducted out of St. Louis until 1944.

A modern, two-story glass and concrete building, a $750,000 complex, now houses operations.

There is no formal tie - despite popular misconceptions - with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Four Civil Service Exams For Recreation Jobs Slated

State Civil Service Director Mrs. Mabel Campbell of Merrimount has set March 4 as the date for four different Civil Service examinations for part-time and seasonal positions with the Recreation Department.

The exams will be for general, athletics, handicraft and assistant recreation leaders.

Feb. 14 is the deadline for obtaining applications from the Recreation Office, Kennedy Health Center, Hancock St.

Brett Urges Signal Change

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has recommended that a green arrow pointing towards Quincy Square be included in the new traffic signal at Hancock St. and Elm Ave., to keep southbound traffic flowing.

In a letter to Police Captain Roy Cavicchi, Brett said he could "see no good reason for not allowing traffic bound for Quincy Center on Hancock Street to continue to move at all times."

He said the new light has caused frequent tie-ups which "may well be unnecessary" because "there are no cross streams of traffic interfering with that flow."

Pillow Talk

By BURT COOK

Unlike most household products, it is not always obvious when a mattress is ready for replacement.

Appearance is not as important in a mattress as it is in a living room chair and often the efficiency and comfort of a mattress may slip away unnoticed, its original comfort forgotten.

Since the average replacement age of a mattress is 15 years, it is obvious that a great many are continued in use long after they have lost their comfort.

Check your mattress for rips and tears, sagging borders and bumps. Ask yourself if it supports your weight properly, if it is comfortable.

Time for replacement depends on such factors as comfort, depreciation and whether the original price of the mattress has been returned to you through comfortable sleeping.

If you think a good night's sleep is worth a nickel, then a $125 mattress and box spring set will have paid for itself in less than seven years.

For the best in mattresses and box springs, shop Tags Sleep and Lounge Shop, 1568 Hancock St., Quincy, your South Shore BEDquarters, featuring Simmons, Slumberland, Serta and King Koil. Use major credit cards or long-term agreements, three-months to pay, no carrying charge. Call 471-6180.

A doctor who operates on himself has a fool for a patient.

It's an old saying, but it's never made more sense. There are some jobs in life that you just don't tackle by yourself. The preparation of your income tax should be one of them.

And that's where H & R Block, The Income Tax People, come in. H & R Block is America's largest tax service with more than 6,000 conveniently located offices to serve you. Your H & R Block representative is specially trained and can provide information on legitimate income tax benefits and opportunities that the average man on the street doesn't even know exists.

For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

H & R Block's charges start at $5 and last year averaged under $12.50 for over 7 million returns we prepared.

And, if we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, we will pay that interest and penalty.

Our one time fee entitles you to year 'round tax service and assistance.

Come to the company that more than 7 million Americans placed their confidence in last year. Come to the people who will fill out your next income tax return efficiently, quickly, confidentially. Come to H & R Block.

Quincy, Raiders At Halfway Mark Friday

North Quintet Riding High On 'Big D'

When one talks about the "Big D" these days, he is probably referring to the amazing defense of the undefeated North Quincy basketball team.

If Bob Nolan's Raiders don't have the best defense in the Greater Boston League and one of the best in Eastern Mass., the others must be phenomenal.

North completes the first half of the GBL schedule Friday at home against Revere and it hopes to have a 7-0 league record and 8-0 overall mark.

Quincy, which last Friday became North's sixth straight league victim, 64-55, puts a 4-2 league mark and 5-3 overall record on the line at Somerville in its final first half game Friday.

Nolan's game plan against Quincy was to harass the Presidents' high scoring little guard, John Reggiannini, who has been scoring 20 points or close to it in every game. The plan worked well.

"Our diamond press keeps the pressure on the ball handler [Reggie in this case]," Nolan said. "It prevents them from setting up for good shots and it kept Reggie from getting his long set shot."

Reggie against the Raiders was held to a season's low of nine points, a major reason for North's win at the Quincy gym.

Quincy was hampered by the absence of 6-5 Bill Kiggen.

"North has a real good team," Quincy Coach Marty Finnegan said, "but we've got a good one, too, and the result could have been different if we had a couple of breaks and a couple of shots that ran around the rim had not fallen out. This was our best game of the year and the loss only means that we have a rougher road to travel to get back into title contention."

A year ago Quincy knocked North out of the Tech Tourney with a big win.

North led, 35-24, at the half and 53-44 going into the finale. At one time in the third period the Presidents trailed by 17 points. With 3:03 left in the game they had moved to within four points, 57-53, sparked by Bob McDermott who hit with consistency. He hit on three baskets, all from in close as he out-fought the taller Raiders under the boards.

Jamie Doherty, who had been taken out in the third period with his fourth foul, returned and hooked in a basket to give his team a little breathing room. He also wound up the scoring with two foul shots in the last 40 seconds.

For North, Doherty had 28 points and Dave Nelson 22. McDermott had 21 for Quincy.

North's junior varsity picked up its second win, 39-36, overcoming a 10-point halftime deficit. Steve McLaughlin and Bill Shea paced the win with nine points apiece.

Earlier in the week North presented another great defense and walloped Malden, 67-41, while Quincy overcame Chelsea, 89-70.

For North, Nelson scored 19 points, Ken Marsters 14 and Doherty 12.

Sparking the Quincy win were Reggiannini with 36 points, his year's high; Mike Marvelle with 18 and McDermott 17.

Fathers Club Football Banquet Saturday

The 15th annual Quincy High School Fathers Club football awards banquet will be held Jan. 22 with a roast beef dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Vocational Technical School cafeteria.

Guest speaker will be Robert "Bo" Lyons, head football coach at Northeastern University, and former North Quincy High player and Quincy High assistant coach.

Awards to be presented include the Granville Award for the outstanding player in the Quincy-North game; Munroe MacLean Award to the most valuable player, Moscardelli Award for best defensive back, George Underwood Award for best offensive lineman, Primavera Award for best defensive back, and Paul Grasso Award for unsung hero.

Jackets and trophies will be presented to members of the football team.

Invited guests include Mayor Walter J. Hannon, former Mayor James R. McIntyre, Police Chief

Francis X. Finn, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon and Quincy High Principal Lloyd Creighton.

Also Athletics Director Carl Leone, City Council President Arthur H. Tobin, Voc-Tech Principal Lawrence Babin, Head Coach Henry Conroy and assistants Gene Macomber, Arthur Mosher, David Burke and John Bogan.

On the banquet committee are President James "Buddy" Page, Harold McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Magiani, Arthur Richards, Mrs. Barbara DeChristofaro, Mrs. Kathy Singer, Mrs. Mary Folino, Victor Craig and Frank Osborne.

Wollaston Theater Pee Wees Trounce Davis

Wollaston Theater bounced back from its first-round loss to United Commercial Travelers last week with a solid 6-1 victory over F. X. Davis Insurance. In other Quincy Youth

Hockey Pee Wee games, Maguire's beat Hannon club 5-1, Keohane's trounced Morrisette

6-2 and the Travelers and Crestview battled to a scoreless tie.

Bantam action saw Sweeney outscore Farina Kitchens 3-1 and Cox nose out Davis 4-3.

Bob Dunn scored a hat trick for Wollaston and teammates Rick Boyle [2] and Mike Storer added to the firepower.

Bob Nardone and Billy Grant had two goals apiece for Maguire's and Ed Kane scored one. Rick Ahola picked up the Hannon tally.

The Keohane club sported goals by Mike Furey [2], Leo Doyle, John Furey, Tim Ricciardi and Danny Sullivan to nullify Morrisette scores by John Yaxter and Tom McNamara.

Outstanding goal tending by Paul Furey for UCI and Bob Tierney of Crestview highlighted the league's first shut-out.

Joe Kane, Paul Lynch and Jerry Smith hit the nets for Sweeney to drop Farina's Bantam record to 1-1. Jim McAuliffe picked up Farina's goal.

Dave Hurley [2] and Joe Pistorino put Davis Bantams on the scoreboard, but were outmatched by goals for Cox by Frank Pinzo, Dan Donovan, John Erikson and Jimmy Powers.

The league plays on Monday nights at Weymouth Skating Club, South Weymouth.

Quincy Rally Falls Short

By TOM SULLIVAN

The North Quincy girls' basketball team finally has its first win over Quincy but Gale Palmer's Quincy girls made a tremendous comeback before losing, 49-42, last Friday at the Quincy gym.

Before North, under new coach Barbara Webster, upset the First Ladies to run its season's record to 3-1. Miss Palmer's girls had won all four games played between the teams since North began girls' basketball.

"The first period killed us," Gale said. "They couldn't miss and we trailed, 22-5, at the end of the period. We then began to come back and in the fourth period we trailed by only two points, 40-38, but they scored a couple of baskets to clinch the win."

Lisa Kowlick paced the Raiderettes with 18 points, followed by Leslie Runge with 12 and Denise Bereszniwicz with 10. Cathy Ilacqua scored 16, Jean Macchi 12 and Debbie Spillane nine for Quincy.

The Quincy junior varsity ran its unbeaten streak over North to five with a 21-4 romp.

Miss Palmer doesn't have a senior in her starting lineup. Co-captains Debbie Congdon and Debbie Spillane, Miss Ilacqua and Betsy Witt are juniors and Kathy Bennett is only a sophomore.

The only seniors are Kathy Glennon, the only three-year player, and Nancy Cappadonna, while Miss Macchi, a junior, and sophomores Marilyn Silverstein and Donna Brickley round out the varsity squad.

The junior varsity starters are Nancy Siddens, the only senior, and four sophomores, Debbie D'Olimpio, Laurie DeCoste, Kristin Poole and Lisa Lee.

Rounding out the young squad are Sophs Susan Higgins, Yvonne Conley, Terry Rizzo and Karen Boedecker.

Quincy, which now has a 2-2 record, opened the season by losing a 26-25 squeaker to a strong Medford team, which had a decided height advantage.

"My team is very small in stature but big in spirit and ability," Gale said. "They killed us on the boards and I don't think we got more than 20 percent of the rebounds. Our captains, Debbie Congdon and Debbie Spillane, combined for 17 points."

Quincy rebounded to wallop Revere, 34-17, as Miss Palmer was able to give everyone a chance to play. The First Ladies could have won by a bigger score but as the Quincy coach said, "I don't believe in stomping a team into the ground." Miss Congdon had 14 points and Miss Cappadonna played an outstanding two-way game.

Quincy followed with a 40-26 win over Chelsea, as Miss Witt played her best game with 12 points and a fine defensive effort, while Miss Congdon added 12 points and Miss Spillane nine.

The junior varsity squad is brand new and several of the girls never played before. "They have to concentrate on their shooting rather than dribbling and passing, of which they do too much," Miss Palmer explained.

"Debbie D'Olimpio has shown the most promise with her undying spirit. They shot much better against North Quincy than in the first two games in which they scored only a total of nine points against Medford and Revere."

Miss Webster's North team had defeated Medford and Chelsea before bowing to a powerful Malden team, 62-48.

"Malden has a very strong team and we ran into foul trouble, which hurt us," Barbara said.

Raiderettes In Win Over First Ladies

Quincy Frosh Icemen Loom As Champs

Quincy may have a Greater Boston League hockey champion after all.

The varsity's chances of repeating as champ are out the window but Ken Hayes' junior high-freshman team looms as the champion of the GBL Freshman League.

Saturday the unbeaten young Presidents will seek their fifth win in a row when they face Somerville at 6 p.m. at the Boston Arena. North Quincy will play Chelsea at 7.

Quincy rolled to a surprisingly easy 7-0 win over North Quincy last Saturday as high scorer Frank Guest again had the three-goals hat trick.

Previous to this game North had one win and two losses, both by only one goal.

Quincy took a 3-0 first period lead when Guest, an eighth grader, scored twice and Ted Wiedemann once.

Rick Avery scored in the second period and scored his second goal in the third period when Guest and Paul Gustafson, only a seventh grader, also scored to complete the rout.

"I used 24 boys in this game and some of the younger players looked good," Hayes said. "Our goalies, Dennis Bertoni, an eighth grader, and Rich Lucier, a seventh grader, have been outstanding and have combined for two shutouts in a row. Our defensemen are also seventh and eighth graders and John Mitchell and Nick Cyr have been especially outstanding."

Quincy has had several scrimmages, defeating B.C. High and Randolph and losing to Abp. Williams.

TIN CAN SLIVERS

Tiny slivers of metal that shred off the lid when a can is opened might be dangerous - although exhaustive tests have, as yet, failed to prove the tiny shreds are harmful. However, the FDA is still worried about this and offers the following safety rules for opening canned foods.

Use a can-opener with a rotating blade which produces fewer tiny slivers than the stationary blade. Be sure the blade is sharp. If it isn't - get a new one.

You've probably noticed that there are now tin-plated steel lids on the "open this end" of otherwise aluminum cans of frozen orange juice. The aluminum cans were shredding too many and too large fragments for the FDA's peace of mind.

Besides, the aluminum lids were not held by the magnets in can-openers and the housewives had to fish the lids out of the "soup".

Central Ninth Graders Beat Broad Meadows

The Central Junior High ninth grade basketball team upped their season record to 4-0 last week with a crushing 59-37 win over Broad Meadows.

Mark Reale led Central scorers with 26 points. Dick Connors posted 16 points for Broad Meadows.

Central eighth graders, led by Scott Roberts with 10 points, took a 33-13 victory, and the seventh graders won 27-10 with Jim Smith tallying 9 points for Central.

Quincy Faces Chelsea, North Everett

The Quincy hockey team's chances of making another trip to the state tournament are just about nil but Coach Bob Sylvia feels confident he will not have his first losing season.

"We have to win the rest of our games to make the tourney and this is quite a job, but we have never had a losing season and I don't think we will have one this year," Sylvia said.

His feelings in this direction were heightened when the Presidents snapped a four-game losing streak, the longest in years for Quincy, with a 4-2 win over cross-town rival North Quincy at the Boston Arena. The Presidents displayed much sharper passing and their power-play was working better than in the past.

Last night Quincy hoped to continue its winning ways against Everett at the Arena while North sought its second win of the year against Chelsea.

Friday Quincy faces Chelsea and North meets Everett at the Arena and Monday Quincy meets Somerville and North faces Revere. First games start at 6:30.

"It really feels good to win, it seems like such a long time since I've had a chance to feel this way," Sylvia said. "And it was a good win. I admit our first two goals were of the fluke type but they made up for some genuine chances that we missed on. And I think the goals by Johnny Prescott and Jacky Black more than made up for them. They were beauties."

Sylvia also feels he has finally found a first line, lauding the play of Black between Rick Patten and Paul Campbell. They scored three of the four goals and made numerous other chances for themselves.

North's fine first line of Ken Graham, Steve McKay and Robbie Henderson had both Raider goals and it could have been a different story if Artie Boyle of Quincy hadn't made probably the save of the year at 4:50 of the last period with Quincy ahead, 3-2.

Joe Lannan left the Quincy defense at the blue line and came in on Boyle all alone. The winger came in from the left and crossed in front to his back-hand but Boyle went with him all the way and sprawled to make the sensational stop.

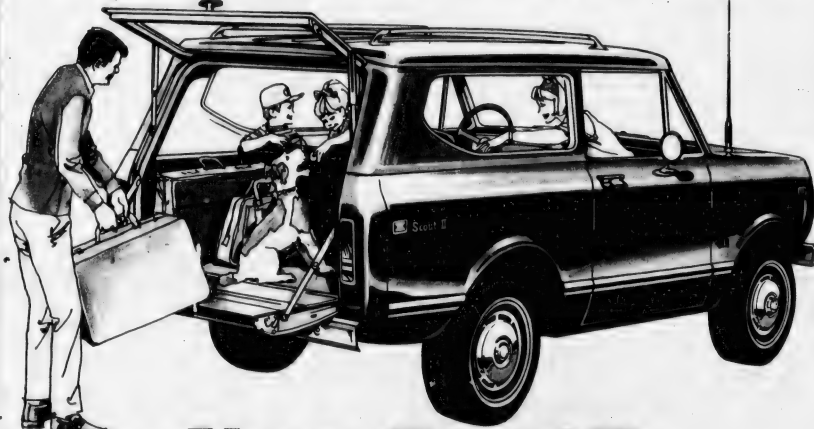

McKay put North ahead at 4:51 of the opening period with Graham setting him up. Campbell knotted the count at 6:03 unassisted and Patten, also unassisted, put Quincy ahead at 7:38.

Patten passed to Prescott who scored at 9:46 of the middle period.

North made it 3-2 at 2:48 of the finale when Henderson took passes from McKay and Graham and beat Boyle. After Boyle's brilliant save on Lannan, Quincy scored an insurance goal at 9:03 with Campbell and Russ Corner assisting.

Rich Masotta turned in another superlative performance in the North goal making 30 saves.

Quincy's First Gym Team Shows Promise

Quincy High's first gymnastics team was defeated by Brookline, one of the strongest teams in the Suburban League, 98.2 to 57.2, in the first meet in the school's history, but the young Presidents exceeded Coach Pete Gallagher's expectations.

"Not only was this the first meet for Quincy but most of the boys never even saw a gym meet before," Gallagher said. "I felt we would not score more than 30 points, so the 57.2 points were very good. Also, we had to meet one of the strongest teams in Eastern Mass. without two of our best boys, Tom Campbell and Randy Califano.

"Things should improve as the season goes along and, with only three juniors and all the rest sophomores, we should have a good team next year and probably one of the league's best two years from now.

"We are trying to get junior high boys interested in gymnastics and have several working out with us weekdays after school and we have a Saturday morning program from 9:30 to 11 o'clock in the Voc-Tech gym. Any boys interested should come up after school or on Saturday morning."

Quincy hosts North Quincy, always a Suburban League power, Friday at the Voc-Tech gym and Gallagher expects the Presidents to be at full strength.

Dave Moran led Quincy in the Brookline meet with a fourth place finish on the still rings and a total of 17.1 points. He was also impressive on the parallel bars.

Captain Chris Toy placed fifth on side horse and rings, Bob Gordon was fourth in the high bar and John Johnson, outstanding high jumper in track, fifth on the high bar.

Mike Priscella led the vaulters with five points and also looked good on the side horse.

"Priscella will be outstanding on the side horse by the end of the season," Gallagher said. "He is a hard worker and seems to have a lot of ability but never worked side horse until a few weeks ago. So, I think he just needs experience and I expect great things of him. Paul Hajjar also looked good on the side horse and especially on the rings, but, like all the boys, needs experience."

Quincy, North Track Teams Tied

Quincy's winter track team has had three Met League meets this season and lost the relay, the final event in each meet, every time.

These defeats lost the first two meets for the Presidents but it didn't matter last Saturday as they had piled up enough of a margin to survive, 43½-42½, over Arlington at the Fargo Building.

North Quincy was defeated by Milton, unbeaten Division Two leader, 57-29, for its second loss in three meets. The Raiders and Presidents are tied with 1-2 records.

Coach Gene Macomber's Quincy team will face Randolph when the league resumes action Feb. 5 at the Fargo Building, while Bob Gentry's North team will meet Somerville.

Quincy was again paced by the brilliant Bobby Ciano, unbeaten for three years, who won the mile as usual against Arlington.

Quincy's other winners were

Brian Feeney in the two-mile, Bob Volpini, shot put; John Johnson, high jump, and Ray Lawyer, dash.

The Presidents displayed more depth than usual as it garnered several important second and third places.

The only North Quincy winners against strong Milton were Bob McCormack in the mile and Steve Leet in the shot put. The Raiders also won the relay.

Operating Expenses, Inflation Force Increase

$13.61 Tax Hike Seen By Capital Outlay Committee

By DICK MATTULINA

Quincy residents can expect a 1972 tax rate in the vicinity of $156.11, according to recommendations of the Capital Improvements Outlay Committee.

This would be a hike of $13.61 over the 1971 tax rate of $142.50.

Included in the increase is $789,000 in new programs, almost half of which is for police and fire equipment.

Overall recommendations include:

- Operating expenses of $57.1 million, including salaries of municipal employees and equipment.
- Bond payments of $3,220,000.
- New spending of $789,000.

The largest new item carrying committee endorsement is appropriation of $100,000 for a Fire Department Ladder to replace the 1952 model Ladder II at Wollaston Fire Station.

Recommendations submitted to Mayor Walter J. Hannon urge spending of $60,000 for a truck at the new Germantown Station and $20,000 for replacement of the 1954 vintage Rescue II.

Plans for 1973-1976 include replacement of five other fire vehicles.

Committee chairman William S. Grindlay Jr., said the five-year plan is designed to "improve the quality of equipment and cut down on maintenance costs."

"We would like to see no piece of apparatus kept in service longer than 15 years," Grindlay said.

Proposed police funds include $15,000 for a new ambulance, $17,000 for a traffic signal repair truck and $64,000 to replace malfunctioning parking meters.

A $60,000 item is the first installment on recommended construction of a coronary care unit at Quincy City Hospital. That figure is expected to jump to $214,000 in 1973 with interest payments due.

Other hospital needs include $25,000 for a space study and $6,250 for an X-ray machine.

Committee financial consultant Ted Gerber of the Planning Department said the committee "strongly urges that the hospital be allowed to obtain a consultant to let them know what their space needs will be over the next 20 years."

Major items include:

- Lighting of Adams Field, $80,000.
- Engineering and land-taking for Upland Rd extension, $35,000.

• An intermediate-size bookmobile, $26,200.

• Sewerage in the State Street South area, $19,000.

• Quincy Point Improvement Project, $90,000.

In the 1973 projection are $140,000 for the North Quincy High School addition, $61,500 [Cont'd on Page 10]

'Serious Deterrent' To Economy

Smyth Opposes Proposed 10-Cent Parking Meter Rate

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth has called the proposal to raise parking meter fees "a serious deterrent" to the economic growth of Quincy's shopping district.

In a letter to Mayor Walter J. Hannon, Smyth urged that increases in meter fees "be set aside at this time in the interest of both shoppers and merchants."

"In recent weeks," Smyth wrote, "I have personally conducted a survey among the Quincy Square, Wollaston and Norfolk Downs merchants relative to the proposed increase from five cents to ten cents for one parking hour."

"It is the unanimous consensus that the present five cent fee be retained for the time being."

Smyth also interviewed shoppers at random in the three shopping districts and cited a May, 1971, Quincy Sun survey which showed a strong preference toward keeping the lower rate.

In addition to the hourly hike, a proposal has been made to raise fees for nine-hour off-street parking areas from 25 to 75 cents.

Smyth cited the "high unemployment rate, absence of over-time pay and the national business recession" as the reason for retaining the five-cent fee.

"Another important factor is the continuing increased competition from Braintree and other nearby shopping plazas which do not have parking meters," he said.

The merchants interviewed felt a 10-cent meter price would be justified when "the national economy showed definite signs of a positive upswing and the business clientele improved to the point of hiring more salespeople," he said.

"I heartily endorse the campaign to upgrade the Quincy Square shopping center with the new parking garage, store renovations ... and pedestrian malls," he said.

"In the near future, this same consideration and positive effort should be accorded the Wollaston Square and Norfolk Downs areas."

He said city officials and the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce have neglected both areas "all too long."

"The merchants of Norfolk Downs and Wollaston have always been in competition with Quincy Square establishments without direct or indirect City or Chamber of Commerce financial aid."

Brownell Asks More Police For Neck, Adams Shore

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has asked for a meeting with city officials to discuss increased police protection for the Houghs Neck and Adams Shore area.

Brownell asked Mayor Walter J. Hannon to schedule a meeting with Police Chief Francis X. Finn, Council President Arthur

H. Tobin, and Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham.

He asked also that Robert E. Galligan, proprietor of Hanrahan's Package Store, attend due to Galligan's gathering of 258 signatures on a petition requesting extra police coverage.

"Obviously," Brownell wrote to Hannon, "you are aware of rising incidence of thefts, housebreaks, acts of vandalism and other crimes in this area."

"I believe we must act now to combat this serious community problem."

Richard Newcomb New City Purchasing Agent

Wollaston businessman Richard K. Newcomb has been named city purchasing agent, effective Feb. 7.

Mayor Walter J. Hannon has appointed Newcomb to succeed George Riley, who is retiring after serving as purchasing agent during the McIntyre administration.

The position carries a salary of $11,826.

Newcomb, 40, was treasurer of the former Play-A-Round miniature golf course in North Quincy and worked 15 years with his father at Newcomb Bakeries before opening the Mug & Muffin on Beale St., Wollaston, seven years ago.

Daniel Newcomb opened the first of 14 Newcomb Bakeries in Quincy in 1929.

Newcomb was born in Quincy, graduated from Milton High School, attended Boston College, and returned to Quincy in 1950 before serving two years with the Navy Reserve on active duty in the Korean War.

He is past director of Quincy Jaycees and the Quincy Taxpayers Association, past president of the Gridley Bryant School PTA and a director of the Wollaston Businessmen's

RICHARD K. NEWCOMB

Association.

Newcomb is a member of the Massachusetts Restaurant Association, former member of the Quincy Conservation Commission and legislative committee of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce.

He is married to the former Caroline Talbot of Camden, Me. The Newcombs live at 122 Plymouth Ave. with their six children, Deborah, Nancy, Richard Jr., Daniel, Caroline and David.

MDC Letting The Kids Down

It was warm last Wednesday, so Martin J. Foley decided he should call Ulin Rink in Milton to make sure there would be skating that night.

The answer was important to 100 kids aged 5-13 who were looking forward to their regularly scheduled two hours of skating with the Our Lady of Good Counsel Hockey Group.

Foley's wife was told there was water on the ice but rink officials didn't anticipate any problem. She was asked to call back.

Mrs. Foley did call back, at 2:30, and was informed that a directive from William Henderson of the MDC had shuffled the group aside in favor of Catholic Memorial and Hingham high schools.

After 50 phone calls to schools and homes to notify boys of the cancellation, Foley placed his calloused finger to the dial once more and reached Mr. Henderson. Henderson said there was nothing he could do because the directive came from Commissioner John W. Sears, according to Foley.

So 100 kids from Houghs Neck, Germantown, Adams Shore and Merrymount were left high and dry with four hours notice received only by chance.

As far as the MDC was concerned, 100 pre-teen boys could have packed themselves into cars and ridden to Milton only to have the doors slammed in their faces.

And this is by no means the first time. For the two years Our Lady of Good Counsel has been sponsoring hockey, they have had their ice time cancelled four times with little or no notice.

The Quincy Youth Hockey League has given up on MDC rinks because of schedule problems and is now playing at Weymouth Skating Club. St. Joseph's Hockey League lost its ice time at Neponset Rink last month and had to scramble to find a slot at Shea.

The list is long. John Sears is no stranger to criticism. He has had problems as MDC commissioner.

If the man and his assistants can't handle scheduling of ice skating rinks without frequent and unpredictable changes, one must worry about their ability to cope with larger matters.

With luck, the proposed Quincy municipal skating rink will be built quickly enough and be adequate to handle the ever-increasing number of young hockey enthusiasts.

With luck, Quincy residents will not have to put up with bureaucratic buffoonery much longer.

By HENRY BOSWORTH

City Hall insiders figure that Atty. Joseph McParland has the inside track on appointment as the city's new labor negotiator. The $14,000 post proposed by Mayor Walter Hannon, is now before the City Council's Finance Committee.

McParland, a Braintree resident has a law office in Quincy. He was one of Hannon's top aides during the election campaign.

McParland has had experience in the negotiating department, representing a number of local police departments in setting up bargaining units.

Now, he would be on the other side of the table. And, could be as tough as he was on the other side.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE the power of a President declared Jack H. Rothwell, vice-president New England Merchants National Bank and economist at last week's "Forecast '72" Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce breakfast meeting.

He noted that President Nixon is running for re-election "and has to get the economy going." He has the power to do it, too, he added.

Rothwell then told the story about Teddy Roosevelt who years ago wanted to send the U.S. Navy on a good will tour around the world. Can't afford it, Congress told him.

It didn't bother Roosevelt. He pointed out that there was money left over in the previous year's budget to send the Navy "half way around the world."

"And it's up to you guys," he told Congress, "to get them back."

OBSERVATION: Rev. Lawrence E. Pratt, curate at St. John's Church, Quincy Center, quips that St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, can no longer call itself "The Cathedral of the South Shore". Because, says he, the area's new bishop is pastor of St. John's. Bishop-designate Joseph F. Maguire will be ordained Feb. 2 at Holy Cross Cathedral, Boston.

WHEN House Speaker David Bartley toured Quincy the other day, among those accompanying him was long-time friend, Dist. Atty. George Burke of Quincy.

Burke and Bartley were classmates and fraternity brothers at the University of Massachusetts in the mid-50's. They were also starting guards on what was then the school's greatest basketball team.

Neither at that time dreamed he would make it so big in the field of politics. They were then thinking of professional basketball careers.

For A Mother, Happiness Is . . .

[Editor's note: The following is written by a Quincy mother who prefers that her name be withheld. We think you might enjoy sharing in her 'Happiness Is' thoughts.]

After a hectic mixed up week in my home I thought there must be other Mothers in the same boat.

Consequently I thought of a few "Happiness Is" lines that probably will make other women realize they are not alone in these days & many others are in the same boat. I thought maybe they would enjoy seeing some of these problems written down.

I wouldn't want my name used but if you thought maybe it would bring a much needed smile, OK.

1. 2 teenage daughters talking civilly to each other.

2. Getting the number you dialed the first time.

3. 5 pay days in a month.

4. Someone else replacing the toilet tissue roll before you have to.

5. Finding something in the place you put it.

6. Having a little shampoo left in the bottle when you need it.

7. Finishing something you started - because the phone was quiet - for a change.

8. The peace & quiet of Monday morning, when the last one has left for school.

9. A quiet cup of coffee.

10. A smile on anybody's face.

'Nicest Gift'

Editor, Quincy Sun:

I just want to say thanks again for printing the Christmas poems created by my children.

A year ago another set of poems was also printed. It is the nicest gift I could receive.

2,370 Wire Permits In 1971

The Department of Wire Inspection granted 2,370 permits, including 890 to Massachusetts Electric Company, for an estimated $4.8 million in wiring to new and old buildings last year.

Wiring Inspector William H. Pitts reported to Mayor Walter J. Hannon that his department delivered $12,036.75 in fees to the city between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1971.

Of the 1,480 private permits issued, only 70 were for new buildings, Pitts said. The rest were for remodeling and additional wiring in existing buildings.

In addition to the routine inspections, much time was spent in the office checking the layout and design of the electrical engineering plans for the new large buildings now being erected or in the planning stages," he wrote.

Time was also spent with the North Quincy Improvement Project, fire department, schools and Quincy City Hospital, Pitts said.

"Several meetings were held with the Building Department and Fire Department relative to the amendments of the City Ordinances relative to the fire alarm detecting system," he said.

Davis Calls Overcrowding At North Critical

School Committeeman Harold C. Davis said recently "the search for an interim solution to the overcrowding problem" at North Quincy High School should be one of the first items for the school committee.

Davis made the remark following a visit to the school which demonstrated to him "the urgency of finalizing a solution" to overcrowding which has reached "crisis proportions."

He said he does "not intend to rest easy merely because the problem will be solved in four or five years" but will search for immediate temporary relief.

Delahunt Urges City Purchase Of Heavenly Hill

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has recommended that the City immediately purchase the Heavenly Hill Ski Tow equipment at Furnace Brook Golf Course and operate it as a municipal ski area.

In a letter to Recreation Board Executive Secretary Richard J. Koch, Delahunt recommended acquisition to reopen the area and the city ski classes which have been conducted for 15 years.

"At the present time the Heavenly Hill Ski Tow is not operating," Delahunt said. "Adult ski lessons in the evening are no longer possible."

He also urged that the city, with the assistance of the Vocational Technical School, build a "J-bar" lift adjacent to the present ski area.

Grenham Youth Center Open House Sunday

The Sergeant Grenham Houghs Neck Youth Center will celebrate its fourth anniversary with an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Jan. 30 at the center, 1286 Sea St.

The center, which caters to more than 300 pre-teen and high school youths from the Houghs Neck area, is located in a former bowling alleys beneath DeMarzio's Skating Rink, Houghs Neck.

Anyone interested in viewing operations at the center is invited to attend. Invited guests include Mayor Walter J. Hannon, the City Council and former Mayor James R. McIntyre.

Grenham Youth Center is open every night except Friday and on Sunday afternoons. Membership is free to any Houghs Neck resident.

Activities include ping pong, pool, shuffleboard, television, stereo, movie room and game room. Members also participate in frequent trips to sporting events.

The center sponsors a four-team hockey league and eight basketball teams.

Brett Asks Ice Time Return

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has asked MDC Commissioner John W. Sears to restore ice time at Shea Rink to youth groups who recently had their schedules cancelled.

The rescheduling "has caused great consternation in the ranks of hundreds of potential Bobby Ors and despair for their parents and community leaders," Brett wrote.

He said he realized problems of the commission and hoped "opening of the new rink in Weymouth next fall will alleviate much of the pressures for ice time in this area next year."

Think

Automation is a continuation of everyday life

And distribution on contributions are unpolite

A celebration of innovations are all a simple matter

But why the hell don't people stop to think?

Situations were complications may exist are few

Saturations and limitations complicate your mind

While you keep reading on how to dress and cook

Conversations with no vibrations flood your ruddy mind

And when you're asked, "What's your stand", you freeze inside

People, can't you penetrate? Relieve your mind of all your hate?

And when I pass you on the street, Say "Hi", and stop to think.

Paul Barbadoro
Quincy

The egg market has really changed. Supply has been good and adequate for the heavy demand, especially for large size eggs.

Retail prices on eggs has dropped considerably, any size is a good buy. Extra large is the best buy of all the sizes. You can buy extra large at 55 cents per dozen and large size at 53 cents. Medium size eggs are priced at 43 - 48 cents per dozen.

Eggs are very high in nutrients but low in calories. Only 80 calories per large size egg. Eggs also provide significant amounts of vitamin A, iron, B2 and vitamin D.

VEGETABLES: Vegetable sales are far and few between the regular prices.

There are some but you will have to do some shopping around. One major chain store is advertising Maine potatoes at .59 for an 8 lb. bag. Other sales include carrots at .20 per lb., eggplant at 19 cents each, Iceberg lettuce at .25 per head, red onions .29 lb. and P.E.I. potatoes, 49 cents for 5 lb. bag.

Other vegetables that are priced reasonably but not on sale are broccoli, celery, green peppers, spinach, butternut squash, blue Hubbard squash, packaged tomatoes and turnips.

Quick Chick Scallopine: 20 Minutes To Table Time

It takes just 20 minutes to cook a succulent dish of Chicken Scallopine using the juicy meat of boned chicken thighs. They're a snap to bone, says the National Broiler Council. Just slash the meat the length of the bone, scrape it away and remove the meat in one chunk. Pound it flat to make a uniform cutlet that sautes to perfection in only a few minutes, flavored with lemon and herbs.

Chicken Scallopine

- |                                       |                                            |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| 8 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned | 2 tablespoons chopped parsley              |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt           | 1 tablespoon chopped chives                |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine     | $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon dried leaf marjoram |
| 1 tablespoon lemon juice              |                                            |

To bone chicken thighs, cut along thinner side of thigh to the bone, slashing thigh the length of the bone. Holding one end of the bone, scrape the meat away until bone is free. Cut off rounded piece of cartilage. Place boned thighs between 2 pieces of foil; pound with side of cleaver or rolling pin to flatten. Sprinkle with salt. Melt butter over medium heat in large skillet. Add chicken, skin side down. Cook about 10 minutes, until lightly browned. Turn; sprinkle with lemon juice and herbs. Cook about 10 minutes, until tender. Serve on buttered toast points; garnish with thin lemon slices. YIELD: 4 servings.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of Jan. 27 - Feb. 3

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - You will find people more agreeable now and ready to go along with your new ideas so don't hesitate to express them.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - You can expect a change in your routine, job or financial status - or in all three areas which could upset you.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Changes made now will add to your future security, especially if a large organization figures in your plans.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Actions, feelings, and what you are saying doesn't add up. Better get things straightened out to avoid misunderstandings.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - You are entering a period where work done in the past is bearing fruit. This could be either good or bad.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Those of you who have been thinking of making a change should do so now - others will receive additional income.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Your mental processes take on a new dimension and creative ideas come easier as opposition fades. Changes around you.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Being temperamental could cause an open break in a close relationship. Self knowledge is what you should seek.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - If your feelings have been hurt, there is still time to clear up the misunderstandings. Take the lead.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Important people will listen so you can apply for a new job now or get that pay raise you've been wanting.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - There are things going on at home that call for fast thinking and an adjustment in your daily routine.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - If you are looking for love, it's practically sitting on your door step but you may have to revise your mental outlook.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

You're the most important person in your life!

Think about that. It sounds selfish, and perhaps it is a little. But...what happens in your house when you don't feel well?

What happens to your family when you are just a little out-of-sorts? What happens when your husband takes you out on a special occasion and you don't look quite as great as you generally do? Doesn't that prove how important you are?

You're pleasant to be near when you are alert and alive. It's more fun to go places and do things with someone who is vivacious. And fact is, it's hard to be vivacious if you're a moving mountain of fat. You can't glide gracefully across a dance floor when your normal gait is a waddle. That's why you're important—because you affect other people.

Since you are important, then the time you spend on you is not selfish at all. Those minutes you put aside to do your daily exercises [you do, don't you?] are minutes well spent. The time you invest planning menus to keep you and your family healthy and well fed are anything but wasted. That's because the time you spend on you and you alone pays dividends for everyone around you.

So this week, pamper yourself a little. Make time for your own interests. Soak luxuriously in a pleasantly perfumed tub instead of hurrying through a shower. Soothe your body with lotion and dress slowly. Let the phone ring and ignore the children. Concentrate on you! YOU!

At the end of the day, set your table with guest china and don't forget the candles. Serve something tanga and tempting like

BEEF VINAIGRETTE

- 6 ounces diced, cooked Beef [all fat trimmed off]
- 2 teaspoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon low-calorie dressing
- 2 large lettuce leaves
- $\frac{1}{4}$  cup scallions
- $\frac{1}{2}$  can drained, water pack mushrooms
- 1 small pimento strip

Combine Beef, Scallions, Parsley and Mushrooms. Toss with salad dressing and let marinate 1 hour in refrigerator. Spoon mixture onto lettuce leaves. Garnish with Pimento strip.

Reception Feb. 4 To Honor St. John's Bishop Maguire

Parishioners of St. John's Church will hold a reception Feb. 4 at the Neighborhood Club in honor of the ordination of their pastor as auxiliary bishop of Boston.

Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Maguire will be ordained a bishop by Archbishop Humberto S. Medeiros at noon Feb. 2 at Holy Cross Cathedral, Boston.

Bishop Maguire will offer a concelebrated Pontifical Mass at 7 p.m. Feb. 4 at St. John's Church before greeting members of the parish high school age and over at the Neighborhood Club.

Concelebrants of the Mass will be the four curates at St. John's, Rev. Lawrence E. Pratt, Rev. Joseph M. Connolly, Rev. William R. Carroll and Rev. David F. Delaney.

Refreshments and "low-key" entertainment will mark the reception, according to Fr. Connolly.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Ben Williams.

Students of St. John's School will be given a holiday on the day of Bishop Maguire's ordination and the Bishop will offer a Mass for students and staff at 11 a.m. Feb. 4.

Bishop Maguire, 52, was one of auxiliary bishops named by Pope Paul VI on Dec. 7.

He was appointed pastor of St. John's Church last June to replace the Rev. Msgr. Frederick G. M. Driscoll, who retired.

He was born in Roxbury, graduated from St.

Columbkille's High School in Brighton and Boston College and was ordained a priest by then Archbishop Richard J. Cushing in 1945.

He served as a curate at St. Joseph's in Lynn, St. Ann's in Readville, Blessed Sacrament in Jamaica Plain and St. Mary of the Hill, Milton.

In 1962, he was named secretary to Cardinal Cardinal Cushing and was elevated to monsignor in April 1964.

Bishop Maguire became Archdiocesan master of ceremonies in 1965 and has served as an Archdiocesan consultant to Cardinal Cushing and Archbishop Medeiros since 1968.

Miss Louise Forsyth Bethany's First Woman Moderator In 140 Years

The first woman chosen to serve as moderator of Bethany Congregational Church since its establishment in 1832 was elected at the annual meeting of the membership.

Succeeding H. Winslow Bettinson as moderator will be Miss Louise B. Forsyth, a member of the guidance staff of the Quincy Public Schools.

In 1967 Miss Forsyth had the distinction of being the first woman to serve as president of the Massachusetts School Counselors Association. She is currently executive secretary of the MSCA, the professional organization for 2,000 Massachusetts elementary and secondary school counselors.

She has been active in Bethany Church for a number of years, has been a member of the Administrative Committee, and for seven years served as church clerk.

She coordinates the testing program for the Quincy schools and has responsibility for guidance information services city-wide. She is a frequent participant in professional conferences reporting upon Quincy's successful programs in career development, in school orientation, and in-service programs for testing. She has been invited to serve as a consultant to a number of other Massachusetts school systems in the area of guidance information services.

Prior to this assignment, Miss Forsyth was head counselor at Atlantic Junior High School and had been a counselor at North Quincy High School and South Junior High School [now Sterling JHS] and a teacher at Pembroke High School.

Daughter of the late Commander George D. Forsyth, U.S.N., and Mrs. Forsyth, she was educated in the schools of Manila, Philippine Islands; Dahlgren, Virginia; Long Beach, California; and Quincy. She received a B.S. degree from Bridgewater State College and an M.A. from the College of William and Mary in Virginia with further graduate study at Boston University.

Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Greater Quincy Chapter, American Red Cross, she served 14 years as chairman of the Red Cross Youth program and was a staff leader at seven national and international Red Cross leadership development conferences. She is vice president of Delta Kappa Gamma, Nu Chapter, international honor society for women in education and recently was chosen for listing in the seventh edition of "Who's Who of American Women". She is active in many local, regional, and national professional organizations.

'Sexuality And Sex'

Jane was a 32 year old wife...good looking...three children...College graduate...legal secretary before she married. "The truth is, Doctor, I'm really lonely. Before we were married my husband was very affectionate...just couldn't do enough to please me...and our sex was just great. Now he ignores me except when he wants sex...All the tenderness and feeling is gone...just sex...and I don't function that way."

What's the problem in Jane's marriage? The same as in many marriages...it's a marriage without sexuality...just sex. Sexuality is the total fusion between a man and woman...the understanding...the empathy...the communication...the working through problems together...the affectionate touches in passing through the day...all these lead to deep passionate love making. Then...sex is in total context and has more meaning than merely biological and chemical release.

The problem with many men in both their sex and sexuality is that their minds are so absorbed in...payrolls...sales...deadlines...that they don't take time...nor have the desire to think about their role as a sexual being. Contrary to common belief "sex isn't all men think about." In fact...it's the last thing many men think about. And without thinking about sex one doesn't conjure up much sexual desire.

There's more to marriage than sexual relations per se. That's just one important aspect of the total relationship. The most difficult problem of humanity is relationship. It's easier to go to the moon than it is to build working...happy relationships between persons. But it is being done. The key to the husband-wife relationship is not sex...it's sexuality...the fusion of the two.

"How do we do it?" you ask. By making a wife feel like a woman...not a maid servant. Making a husband feel like a man...not a meal ticket. Building each other's egos...showing respect...expressing loving concern...touching...calling on the phone...being considerate...complimenting...helping when the load is heavy...or during sickness. That's sexuality...and if these kinds of things exist chances are sex will be good, too.

Too many men have brushed aside the affectionate tenderness of their wives...neglected them...failed to appreciate their femininity...while they claimed to be working hard to give their families security...part of which is true. Sexuality...and sex go down miserably when the husband is too lazy...lacks male aggressiveness...or is inadequate in his earning power.

Too many women fail in their sexuality by belittling...resisting...emasculating their husbands. You can't have good sex without good sexuality. Sexuality is the total relationship! Sex out of context is like a fish out of water...sooner or later it will die.

'Sexuality And Sex'

Jane was a 32 year old wife...good looking...three children...College graduate...legal secretary before she married. "The truth is, Doctor, I'm really lonely. Before we were married my husband was very affectionate...just couldn't do enough to please me...and our sex was just great. Now he ignores me except when he wants sex...All the tenderness and feeling is gone...just sex...and I don't function that way."

What's the problem in Janes marriage? The same as in many marriages...it's a marriage without sexuality...just sex. Sexuality is the total fusion between a man and woman...the understanding...the empathy...the communication...the working through problems together...the affectionate touches in passing through the day...all these lead to deep passionate love making. Then...sex is in total context and has more meaning than merely biological and chemical release.

The problem with many men in both their sex and sexuality is that their minds are so absorbed in...payrolls...sales...deadlines...that they don't take time...nor have the desire to think about their role as a sexual being. Contrary to common belief "sex isn't all men think about." In fact...it's the last thing many men think about. And without thinking about sex one doesn't conjure up much sexual desire.

There's more to marriage than sexual relations per se. That's just one important aspect of the total relationship. The most difficult problem of humanity is relationship. It's easier to go to the moon than it is to build working...happy relationships between persons. But it is being done. The key to the husband-wife relationship is not sex...it's sexuality...the fusion of the two.

"How do we do it?" you ask. By making a wife feel like a woman...not a maid servant. Making a husband feel like a man...not a meal ticket. Building each other's egos...showing respect...expressing loving concern...touching...calling on the phone...being considerate...complimenting...helping when the load is heavy...or during sickness. That's sexuality...and if these kinds of things exist chances are sex will be good, too.

Too many men have brushed aside the affectionate tenderness of their wives...neglected them...failed to appreciate their femininity...while they claimed to be working hard to give their families security...part of which is true. Sexuality...and sex go down miserably when the husband is too lazy...lacks male aggressiveness...or is inadequate in his earning power.

Too many women fail in their sexuality by belittling...resisting...emasculating their husbands. You can't have good sex without good sexuality. Sexuality is the total relationship! Sex out of context is like a fish out of water...sooner or later it will die.

for a maintenance shop at the Vocational-Technical School and $52,500 for a skating rink.

Grindlay and Gerber said the committee recommendations represent less than half of the requests received from department heads.

New spending amounts to just $3.46 on the projected tax rate, with the bulk of the increase and the rate itself absorbed by operating expenses.

Grindlay said committee projections last year were within 25 cents of the final figure of $142.50 per thousand.

The Capital Improvements Program Committee was formed in 1970 by former Mayor or James R. McIntyre. Members are volunteers and serve at the discretion of the Mayor.

The board meets one or two nights a week from October to January to review all requests from department heads over $5,000 and makes recommendations to the mayor.

Members will also participate in budget talks between the mayor and department heads in order to express the committee's stand on matters.

Committee members and the groups they represent are Grindlay, Quincy Citizens Association; Taylor Ahern, Beechwood Knoll Association; David Lavender, Germantown Shores Improvement Association.

Also John B. Powers, Houghs

Neck Community Council; Mrs. David Burns, League of Women Voters; John M. Connolly, Merrymount Association; Andrew Orrock, Montclair Men's Club.

Stephen T. Keefe Chairman Of UF South Area Board

Quincy Atty. Stephen T. Keefe, Jr., was elected chairman of the South Area Board of the Massachusetts Bay United Fund at its seventh annual meeting at the Hollow Restaurant, Quincy.

Attorney Keefe succeeds Charles G. Peterson who presided at the meeting which featured a review of the past year's activities, the recognition of campaign leaders and the newspapers and radio stations serving the south area communities.

The campaign leadership awards were presented by attorney Arthur Murphy, who served as South Division Chairman for the 1971-72 MBUF Campaign.

Officers elected to serve with Keefe included Joseph A.

Donahue of Quincy and Mrs. Edward Logan of Cohasset for the posts of vice chairmen; and Wilfred A. Nolan, assistant superintendent of schools in Quincy, for the position of secretary.

Additional members elected to serve in the South Area Executive Committee include George Bennett, Harold O. Buzzell, Robert M. Faxon, Esq., William E. Kelley, Anthony Losordo, J. Brooks Robbie and Joseph A. Sullivan.

Broad Meadows Parent Board To Meet

The monthly meeting of the Broad Meadows Parent Board will be held Monday, Feb. 7, at the Broad Meadows Media Center, at 8 p.m.

Lloyd Creighton and Laurence Babin of Quincy High

John B. Dillencourt, MBUF executive director, praised Peterson for his service during the past 12 months as chairman, and Murphy for his excellent leadership during the 1971-72 Campaign.

He reported great strides have already been made towards assuring the success of this coming fall's 1972-73 Campaign under the director of general campaign chairman Paul F. Hellmuth, Esq.

School and Quincy Vocational-Technical High School will talk informally with the Board of matters dealing with high school programs. All parents are invited.

Smyth Opposes Proposed Parking Meter Rate

Smyth said the three shopping areas "must be made an integral part of the future growth and development of the City's business community."

"Vacant stores do not contribute to a solid tax base," he said. "Business revenue is absolutely necessary to help the already over-burdened homeowner and his property tax."

Copies of the letter were sent to Eric Swider, executive vice president of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce;

Remo DeNicola, chairman of the promotions committee of the Chamber's Quincy Merchants Division; Daniel Barry, president of the Wollaston Business and Professional Association; Gino Marini, president of the North Quincy Business and Professional Association; Harold Slate, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Police Chief Francis X. No matter how good the quality or how comfortable a new mattress feels, you won't get perfect sleeping comfort without a good box spring.

If your present mattress is worn out, the chances are that your box spring or foundation is also in need of replacement.

Well-known brands generally offer box springs for combination and frequently they are sold in sets advantageously.

A worn or improper box spring will not support a new mattress properly.

The box spring foundation should be built to provide proper bed height with the mattress.

Remember, a good foundation is absolutely necessary for lasting comfort and service in a mattress. Lack of a good foundation may ruin the qualities of a good mattress.

Forecast '72: Sunny And Warm

'The Consumer Is Going To Turn On'

By HENRY BOSWORTH

For the 150 or so local businessmen attending, it was an encouraging shot in the arm.

Called "Forecast '72" it was an economic "whether" report—whether the economy could be expected to go up or tail off even more.

Five experts in five fields gave their predictions. From four: sunny and warm. From the fifth: overcast.

Overall, however, the forecast lifted the hopes of most of those attending the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce breakfast meeting at Valle's, Braintree.

For weeks—no, months—talk along Hancock St. retail businesses, had been pessimistic. Retailers had been concerned, worried. They had wondered when the upswing would come. If, indeed it would even come.

A couple hours later as the breakfast meeting broke up, some of those who had been pessimistic and discouraged seemed to have new hope. Things, at last, were looking up.

It was stimulating to see their reaction.

They didn't all leave feeling that everything was beautiful and hunky-dory again. The words of one of the five—THOMAS J. FLATLEY—prominent real estate developer, were still fresh.

His T. J. Flatley Co., he said, is involved in $24 to $25 million in new construction annually. And the firm now is planning a $15 million office park in the South Shore.

But, he was disturbed, he said, that "office buildings along Rte. 128 are difficult to rent. The vacancy rate will continue for awhile."

"The industrial park situation has changed," he declared. "Businesses are not moving because of economic conditions."

The sluggish expansion of industry would hinder the unemployment picture.

Flatley also thought interest rates would decline.

But the other four speakers painted a much brighter picture.

WILLIAM E. WILLIAMS, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, predicted that a major tax reduction this fiscal year and a $15 billion reduction in 1973 would put some zip into the economy.

A deficit budget was planned, he said, to spark the economy, expanding industry and business and creating more jobs.

President Nixon's Phase II, he said, should stabilize inflation.

FRANK E. REMICK, Quincy retail-civic leader, saw construction of the new parking garage in the Ross municipal parking area "a turning point for downtown Quincy."

He proposed a "marriage" between city government and the business community. He cited four key points he said are needed to boost downtown conditions.

- Extension of Upland Rd to Capen's Bridge, Braintree—along with extension of the MBTA.

- Establishment of a Central Business Redevelopment Authority.

- Creation of a Hancock St. Mall which could be done with the Upland Rd extension taking the through traffic.

- Construction of a government center.

He forecast a good business picture for the downtown area but cautioned that during construction of the parking garage some 50 per cent of the Ross parking area will be lost.

"If the new facility is not completed for the holiday season, it could be damaging for the latter part of 1972," he declared.

He recommended that the "no fix" parking enforcement soon to go into effect should have "an enlightening selling job" to inform the public that the purpose is to make available more parking space through a higher turn-over of each parking space.

He suggested that meter maids to be hired, be instructed to "bear down" on all-day parkers and be "diplomatic" to the shopper.

He said cooperation between the business community and city government would keep the business picture "in good shape" and bring about a surge in 1973.

CHARLES A. PEARCE, president of the Quincy Savings Bank, predicted a stabilization of interest rates over the next five months and a firming of the rates near the end of the year with a possible "inching up."

Building costs will continue to increase, he predicted, because land costs are up.

"We just aren't making any more of it [land]," he explained. "It's a rare commodity."

Pearce noted that the 26 savings banks in the Norfolk-Colony Association, may get a 10 to 12 per cent increase in deposits flow this year allowing $90 million to $100 million in new funds to lend.

"I'm rather optimistic," he declared. "Demands for funds, housing activities in the South Shore will be quite strong."

He said the unemployment picture "hopefully will be better" noting that General Dynamics appears on the verge of landing some big shipbuilding contracts.

Anchor man, Jack H. Rothwell, Jr., vice-president New England Merchants Bank and economist, tied it all together with a bright ribbon.

"The 1972 economy will be basically bullish," he said though noting he did not see as great a "bounce up" in Massachusetts as nationally.

"Increased spending is coming," he added. "The banks have plenty of money. The consumer has the ability to spend. Ninety-six per cent of the labor force is employed."

He said the consumer has been saving and is now in "great shape to borrow for installment purchases."

He said consumer activity had been retarded by social problems and the fear of losing jobs.

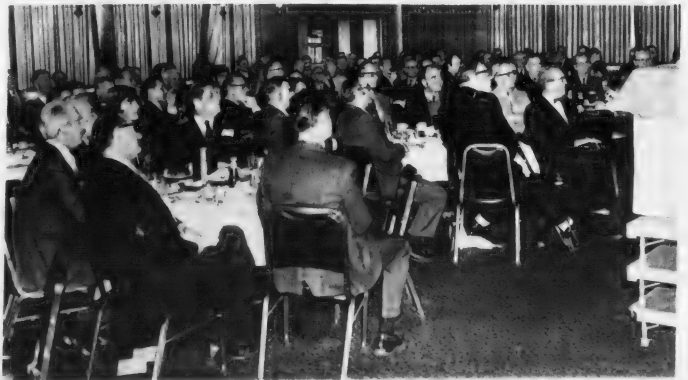

MODERATOR William E. Kelley, president Hancock Bank, introduces panel of speakers at "Forecast '72" breakfast meeting. From left are Thomas J. Flatley, head of T. J. Flatley Co.; Charles A. Pearce, president Quincy Savings Bank; Frank E. Remick, Quincy retail-civic leader; Jack H. Rothwell, Jr., vice-president New England Merchants National Bank and William E. Williams, district director Internal Revenue Service.

MAYOR Walter J. Hannon, [extreme left] strikes serious mood with local businessmen as panel speakers make their forecast for this year.

LISTENING INTENTLY to "Forecast '72" panel speakers are some of the 150 local businessmen who attended the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce sponsored breakfast meeting at Valle's, Braintree.

Social problems, he predicted, will diminish with the wind-down of the Vietnam War.

Nixon is running for re-election, he said, and "has to get the economy going." And, the President has the power to do it.

Prices are not going to rise rapidly, encouraging purchasing.

The consumer," he declared, "is going to turn on and spend. We're going to have a good year."

For most of those at the breakfast, the words were like a transfusion. For too many months the talk around town had been gloomy, the approach negative.

This get-together breakfast meeting may be the starting of something new: New positive talk, thinking—and action.

John T. Williams Elected Hospital Board Chairman

John T. Williams, president of The Bannette Company Inc., has been elected chairman of the Quincy City Hospital Board of Managers.

Mr. Williams, a former officer in the Army Medical Administrative Corps, is a graduate of Columbia University and attended Harvard Business School and Northwestern University School of Public Relations.

Other officers include Leslie M. Brierley, vice president of The Hancock Bank and Trust Co., vice chairman, and Mrs. Syria L. Mayo, secretary.

The board meeting was the

first attended by Dr. Edward M. Ginsburg, newly-elected president of the medical staff of Quincy City Hospital.

Brierley, chairman of the coronary care committee, reported that the hospital has filed with the Department of Public Health for the new floor on the East Wing.

The new centralized kitchen is expected to be in full operation by Feb. 15 and the eight sub-station kitchens will be phased out at that time, according to Williams.

The Hospital Board will appear before Mayor Walter J. Hannon next week for presentation of their 1972 annual budget.

Cong. Burke To Avoid Pledged Convention Slate

Cong. James A. Burke has announced that he will decline a place on any of the several competing pledged slates from Massachusetts to the Democratic National Convention.

Burke said he made his decision in the interests of party harmony and in respect to the law which requires delegates to vote for the people's choice of the state primary on the first ballot.

"To run on a pledged slate not only seems to be going against the spirit of this law, but denies the widest possible representation of the many announced candidates in our state's delegation," he said.

Burke said talks with Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills led him to decide not to field a slate pledged to Mills for the Presidency.

North Quincy Youth Center Reopens

The North Quincy Youth Center at 448 Hancock St. will be open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 6 to 10 for junior high boys and girls. The Recreation Department Pilot Project Program announced Monday that the center is re-opening.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. What is the amount of the standard deduction for 1971?

A. If the adjusted gross income is $10,000 or more the percentage standard deduction for 1971 is limited to 13% of adjusted gross income not to exceed a maximum of $1,500 [$750 in the case of a married person filing a separate return].

Q. Who may use the Tax Tables?

A. The tax tables may be used by persons whose income is less than $10,000 and who are not itemizing their deductions. The standard deduction and the exemptions are automatically computed in the tax tables before the tax is determined.

Q. What is the amount allowed for each exemption for 1971?

A. The deduction for each exemption is $675.

Q. Is there any surcharge this year?

A. No, the surcharge has been removed for 1971.

Q. Where do I file my return?

A. For taxpayers living in this area, all returns should be mailed to:

Internal Revenue Service Center
310 Lowell Street
Andover, Massachusetts 01812

For your convenience, a pre-addressed envelope will be attached to the forms sent to you through the mail.

Q. During 1971 I donated blood to the Red Cross several times. May I deduct any amount for this as a contribution?

A. No, the fair market value of blood donated to blood banks is not allowable as a contribution.

Q. Three members of our family contribute to the support of our widowed mother. She has no income of her own. Can any of us claim her as an exemption?

A. Yes, in the case where two or more persons provide more than one-half the support of an individual, anyone of those who contributes more than 10% support may claim the individual. However, she may be claimed by only one of you and that one should attach Form 2120, signed by the other two parties involved, to his return.

Q. During 1971, my wife and I made a $1,000 deposit on a new home. We were unable to go through with the purchase of the residence and we forfeited our deposit. Is there any way we can deduct this on our return?

A. No, this is a personal loss which you incurred because you did not fulfill the terms of the purchase agreement and it is therefore non-deductible.

Q. I want to be able to make out my own tax return but I am not quite certain where all of the items belong on the form. Is there any place where I might get assistance?

A. Yes, the district office of the Internal Revenue Service, located at the John F. Kennedy Federal Building, provides a taxpayer assistance service daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Many of the other IRS offices also provide this service on various days of the week. IRS personnel will gladly answer your questions and advise you in the preparation of your return.

Q. I was divorced in 1971 and I was ordered by the court to pay both child support and alimony. I am confused about the tax treatment of these payments. What may I deduct?

A. Alimony payments are deductible if you itemize your deduction. Child support payments are not deductible but you may be entitled to claim the exemptions for your children if you meet the support requirements.

Q. I am sometimes required by my employer to work overtime and consequently I have to purchase an extra meal at a restaurant. Since this is more expensive than my normal meal at home, I was wondering if I can deduct the cost of the meals as a business expense?

A. No, the cost of meals purchased while you are at work is considered a personal expense and is not deductible.

Q. My husband and I began renting a three-family house in 1971. We spent a considerable amount of money putting in new kitchens and porches and we were wondering what expenses we can deduct in connection with these projects?

A. The cost of these improvements must be capitalized and depreciated over the useful life of the items. For example, if you put an improvement in your rental property which will have a useful life of 10 years, you should deduct 10% of the cost for each of the next 10 years.

Q. My husband died in June, 1971. His 65th birthday would have been in November, 1971. I am uncertain about the number of exemptions I can claim for him on our return.

A. You may claim only one exemption for him, since the determination for the extra exemption for age must be made as of the date of death and not as of the end of the year.

Sen. Brooke Main Speaker At April Republican Fete

Sen. Edward W. Brooke will be guest speaker at a Quincy Republican dinner being planned for April, according to Leo F. Meady of 557 Quarry St., general chairman.

Exact date of the fund-raising affair will be determined within the next few weeks, depending on the Senator's April schedule.

Quincy Republican Committee Chairman Thomas H. Blacklock said he hopes the meeting will provide a substantial part of the campaign money needed by Republican candidates for the Legislature next Fall.

Paul Harold Receives Young Democrats Charter

Paul D. Harold, 31 Riverside Ave., Adams Shore, received the charter for the Massachusetts Young Democrats, in Washington, last Friday.

At that time, Harold met with Robert Allen, National President of the Young Democrats and other officers at the Democratic National Committee Headquarters, to plan for the re-organization of the Massachusetts club. A meeting is scheduled this weekend in Worcester to draw up the state constitution and plan for the state convention and election of officers.

Harold said he expects the Massachusetts Young Democrats to run a statewide voter registration drive for the upcoming Presidential Primary in April.

Buying A House?

By JOHN L. DAVIDSON

This column is directed to the young family interested in purchasing a home but knowing little of what is involved through-out the various stages of the transaction.

Dear Mr. D.:

Do you really save much money when you avoid dealing with a real estate agent and purchase a home directly from the owner?

Ans: Usually not. Most of the time you end up paying an inflated price for the home because the owner has set a price which he thinks is fair but may well be out of line for the going market value. One important duty of the real estate agent is to bring the seller face to face with reality and persuade him to offer his property at a reasonable price.

Dear Mr. D.:

I'm a young married man with a modest income and not too much money for a downpayment. I would like to get away from paying rent and having nothing to show for it. What, if any, would be the best type of house for me to look for?

Ans: In your situation I would seriously consider purchasing a multiple dwelling. Preferably a three or four family. In the case of a family with a modest income a bank would be more likely to consider granting you a mortgage on a house that will literally help pay for itself. This type of house if kept for a number of years also provides an excellent retirement income.

Dear Mr. D.:

My wife has her heart set on having a fireplace in our next home. I have heard that they are a nuisance. What is your opinion?

Ans: The average family uses a fireplace less than six times a year. If you have an automatic heating system a blazing fire can drop the temperature in the rest of your home to an uncomfortable chill. It will completely cover your furniture and rugs with a fine coat of soot and it's a real messy job cleaning out the ashes. However, if your wife is like mine all this will mean nothing to her because fireplaces are really great when it comes time to hang the Christmas stockings.

If you have a question please send it to John Davidson, c/o The Quincy Sun, 1601 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass. 02169. We will print the questions we feel will have the greatest common interest. The rest of the questions will be personally answered by Mr. D., if you supply us with your name and address.

MONEY TALKS

Why you can't trust anyone over 30

By Philip J. Lawrence
President
COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

The witicism of youth, "Don't trust anyone over 30," has a certain validity. Anyone over 30 has crossed the Great Divide and entered into new territories of responsibility that separate the men from the boys. And the girls from the women.

Most people under 30 have not yet experienced the problems that maturity imposes upon them. Many are being subsidized by indulgent parents. Others find sources of income so easy that they have no concerns about how tomorrow's needs will be met.

Today's youthful generation has never had it so good in the history of man. Small wonder, then, that these youngsters are mistrustful of elders who come up with baleful warnings that are well grounded in fears born in depression years.

But the time comes, whether at 20 or 25 or 30, when these young people mate, as they usually do, and in time find themselves the proud parents of a beautiful offspring, their very own.

Up to this point there has been little if any concern about the ability to provide for themselves. After all, each in his and her own way has been able to do quite well on their own. And their combined incomes have produced a mode of living far beyond anything their ancestors hoped to achieve.

But now, with childbirth, they are faced with new realities. They now have another person's life in their hands—a tiny, lovable, totally dependent product of their own bodies demanding their utmost attention and care.

Quite suddenly, they have the problem of providing for this infant—usually on one income instead of two. Whatever their age, they have crossed the Great Divide into the over-30 group.

If they have any spark of manhood and womanhood, they feel a tremendous sense of responsibility for this youngster. They begin to ask themselves, "What if anything happens to us?"

So they start planning for eventualities. They think in terms of immediate savings, a cushion or nest egg against adversity, temporary loss of job or illness. They also study insurance programs that would protect them against such dangers.

On a more optimistic level, they dream of a home of their own, where their children can romp and play. They work for other goals that would make their family life more rewarding.

To some this would mean that they are no longer to be trusted. To us it signifies they have attained a new level of maturity. We welcome them into the over-30 group. It has much to recommend it.

Sea Cadets Run Membership Drive

Some 30 boys between the ages of 14 and 17 are receiving training and Navy credit through participation in the U.S. Naval Sea Cadets.

Cadets meet at 7 p.m. Fridays at the Naval Reserve Training Center, 85 Sea St. for classroom instructions following the same curriculum offered in the Navy. Boys also devote time to drill and periodic inspections. Activities away from the center include visits at Boston Navy Yard, marching in parades and the annual New England Sea Cadet Ball.

Although "enlistment" in the Sea Cadets carries no obligations for service, the Navy gives credit to enlistees for time spent as a cadet.

Boys interested in joining may report to the Training Center any Friday from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Cong. Burke Cited For Attendance, Vote Record

Cong. James A. Burke was cited last week by the Clerk of the House as one of three members of the 92nd Congress with a 100 percent attendance and voting record on the Floor of the House.

Burke has also compiled a 100 percent attendance and voting record in his committee, the House Ways and Means Committee.

This is the 11th year the Congressman has been cited for his record.

He was also recognized by the Consumer Federation of America for 100 percent record on votes of major interest to consumer groups.

Sundae Smorgasbord Fetes Central Teams

Members of the Central Junior High School football and soccer teams were honored at a Sundae Smorgasbord banquet last week to wind up the Fall sports season.

Cheerleaders served as waitresses for the athletes, who were invited to dream up and eat their own original brand of ice cream sundaes.

Speakers included coaches Ralph Frazier and Hank Conroy, who showed films of the Thanksgiving clash between their North Quincy and Quincy High School football teams.

Workshop Deals With School Involvement

A day-long Community Involvement Workshop sponsored by Quincy Public Schools, the University of Massachusetts and Arthur D. Little Co. was held Monday at Montello's, Quincy Point.

A series of small group discussions dealt with development of educational aims. Group findings were discussed at a general meeting aimed at developing financial support.

Discussion topics included societal changes, school problems posed by these changes and resources to be used in solving the problems.

"I am proud to be a member of this community and hope to be taking part in its future accomplishments," he said.

"My 'thing' is helping our young men and women better themselves by furthering their education and learning worthwhile trades."

Sgt. Given is married with one child.

An important message for people who prepare their own income tax returns.

Maybe you've been cheating yourself all these years.

Every year, between January and April, millions of people sit down to do battle with Uncle Sam. Some are "self styled" accountants. Others think they can save a few dollars doing it themselves—so why not.

The sad truth is, however, no matter what their reason was for starting, many of them end the same. On the short end.

You see, when it comes to income taxes, amateurs should depend on H&R Block. We have all the facilities to help you make "income tax time" a pleasant experience. To begin with, H&R Block now has over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained personnel who are anxious to help you. They'll sit you down over a free cup of coffee and show you some things about your income tax that you might never have known existed. For example, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? And maybe you aren't aware that if your income increased last year, you may be able to save tax dollars by "income averaging."

Well, when it comes to income taxes, H&R Block is aware of just about everything because we're a company that eats, sleeps, and drinks tax returns 365 days a year.

Yes, maybe you can save a couple of bucks by doing your own return but it really may be costing you a lot more by not having your return done by H&R Block.

Hassan's Invention Balm For Bifocal Wearers

By DICK MATTULINA

If you wear bifocals, you don't have to be told about the problems they present for overhead work.

Chances are you've had enough stiff necks to last the average man three lifetimes from continually tilting your head back in order to get a close look at anything higher than your shoulders.

Well, Mistopha A. Hassan of 58 Winter St. thinks he has the answer to your problem.

It comes in the form of a patented clip which snaps on and off of your present bifocals to raise and widen your field of close vision.

But now his problem is making believers of optometrists and opticians who to date have been overwhelmingly indifferent about the prospects of his "Vision Aider".

Hassan, who works for Bankers Life and Casualty Insurance Co., has been working on and off for the past year without success to find a market for his product.

But manufacturers keep telling him people don't need such things.

"I made my pair because I needed them to hold my glasses up when I work around the house," Hassan said.

He said friends who are electricians and welders have tested the Vision Aider for him and reported that they are a great help in their work.

Hassan defines his invention as "a spacing member which can be snapped upwardly into the nose notch formed along the center of the lower edge of the eyeglass frame."

The Vision Aider would "give more and better centralized vision through the bifocal portion of the eyeglasses and still not interfere with the other focus portion."

When a person reads through bifocals, he usually looks diagonally down through the glass, which, Hassan contends, "is why most people get sleepy after a while."

He said his clip will "eliminate eye and neck strain by eliminating extreme angling of the head such as when a person is hammering overhead, painting, etc."

Brownell Asks Return Of Good Counsel Ice Time

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has asked the MDC to restore the Wednesday evening ice time at Max Ulin Rink in Milton to our Lady of Good Counsel Youth Hockey.

Brownell wrote to MDC Commissioner John W. Sears protesting the cancellation without warning of the group's two 6:30-8:40 p.m. schedule.

"It is my understanding that Catholic Memorial High School has displaced Our Lady of Good Counsel Group in Wednesday night's schedule," he wrote.

"This is a tremendous surprise, especially after our many meetings designed to establish a suitable schedule. It was my belief that these schedules were set up on a monthly basis and were not subject to change."

Brownell asked that the schedule be restored for the remainder of January and said "hopefully a suitable schedule can be worked out for subsequent months."

IT'S DISASTER WEEK AT BLDG.#19

We deal in disasters. We're the vultures who swoop in and buy up the merchandise from poor, defenseless insurance companies whenever there's a fire, train wreck, truck tip-over, pipe leak etc. Then we ship the merchandise to our Elegant Emporiums in Hingham and Woburn, transform ourselves from heartless vultures into benevolent peddlers, sell the merchandise at prices we guarantee* to be the lowest in New England, and back it up with a no-hard-time, satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee. Here are the highlights of this weeks plunder:

DISASTER #1

Excitement (and a few drops of water) reigned when a sprinkler head burst in a Torrington, Conn. department store. Some merchandise got wet, some got damp, some cartons were spotted. We bought everything even remotely involved. Everything is to be sold (I hope!) at 40% to 50% off their current prices. Here's a few examples:

Their $4.50 to $13.00 Famous Brand
Boy's Slacks & Dungarees $2.44 to $6.88

Their $5 & $6 Swank Cuff Links $2.49

Their $20 - 25.00 Farah & Asher Double Knit SLACKS $11.88 to $14.88

Their $10.50 to $17.00 Van Heusen & Heritage MEN'S SWEATERS $5.88 to $9.88

Their $20.00 to $80.00 MacGregor & Robert Lewis OUTERWEAR $10.00 to $40.00

DISASTER #2

A Brooklyn music-TV store had a small fire. Some cartons got smokey, most were untouched. We bought about $25,000 worth of TV, radios, stereos, appliances, records, tapes, components, accessories etc. etc. from the insurance company. They're all on sale at less than actual dealer's cost-and all sold with a satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee. Look at these brand names:

|            |                  |        |
|------------|------------------|--------|
| RCA        | General Electric | Sony   |
| Decca      | Westinghouse     | Oster  |
| Juliette   | Admiral          | Scotch |
| Sunbeam    | Garrard          | Amplex |
| Proctor    | Hoover           | Craig  |
| Farberware | Hitachi          | Lloyd  |

DISASTER #3

A truckload of bed-pillows headed for a discount store warehouse was unavoidsly detained. We bought the entire lot (978 pillows) from the insurance company, had them all inspected, and marked them at 40% to 50% off discount store prices.

DISASTER #4

A couple of piggyback trailer loads of grocery items were refused by a super-quality-conscious supermarket just because some of the cases got wet. The contents were perfect. Here's a few sample values:

|                                            |     |
|--------------------------------------------|-----|
| Their 1.59 10 lb. Phosphate free detergent | 99c |
| Their 27c bag of spearmint taccandy        | 19c |
| Their 37c can (15oz or) Chili with beans   | 25c |
| Their 59c Clear Floor Wax                  | 39c |

*FREE CHAMPAGNE

We are a bargain store. We think it's the best bargain store in all New England. We check ... re-check ... and double check ... to be sure that every item is a genuine, bona-fide "good-enough-to-brag-about" bargain. We're sure that every single price [we've got 14,931 different items-you're welcome to count them if you don't believe it] is the lowest price in all New England. If we goofed ... if you find the same item for less money ... we'll give you a free bottle of champagne ... and we'll beat the other price!

Quincy's Chances Slim

North Looks Like Tech Tourney Timber

If Bob Nolan's North Quincy basketball powerhouse continues during the second half of the season as it did the first half, it should be one of the first teams to qualify for the Tech Tourney, after just missing a tourney spot a year ago.

The Raiders completed the first half of the Greater Boston League schedule last week undefeated as they toppled Revere, 60-46, despite what Nolan described as a "bad offensive game for us." North has an overall 8-0 record [7-0 in the league] and need win only four of its remaining nine games to make Tech.

North tried to extend its unbeaten streak Tuesday at Medford, will host Chelsea Friday and will be home to Everett on Tuesday.

Quincy, on the other hand, lost a real heartbreaker to powerhouse Somerville, 68-65, last week, and its Tech hopes are getting slimmer. Marty Finnegan's Presidents, who lost at Somerville in the final 14 seconds, are 4-3 in the league and 5-4 overall and can lose only one of its remaining nine games to make the tourney.

Quincy was home to Everett Tuesday and will play at Malden Friday.

Nolan was disappointed that his Raiders had only 49 shots at the hoop against Revere. But they did shoot 44.9 percent, a fine average.

North's win, by the way, gave it a two-game lead in the GBL as second place Everett bowed to Medford, 66-64, in overtime.

"We had early foul trouble and it hurt us," the North coach said. This was especially true in the case of Bob McKay, usually an excellent shooter from the outside, who was hit with three fouls with 1:08 left in the opening period. He sat out the entire second period and when he returned he fouled out in the last period after failing to score a point.

North's great defense was evident again and Nolan felt that his defensive press upset Revere as it has upset every other foe. North recovered 11 loose balls, had only eight turn-overs itself and grabbed 28 rebounds, 22 of them off the defensive board, led by Jamie Doherty's eight.

Capt. Dave Nelson had 20 points, followed by Ken Marsters with 15 and Doherty and John Stevens with 10 apiece.

North's junior varsity romped, 44-24, for its third win as Bill Shea scored 10 points.

Despite a big height disadvantage, Quincy did a remarkable job in holding Somerville and actually had a 39-38 edge in rebounds. The Presidents gave away four inches a man in the front court.

The Highlanders' height finally made the difference, however, as five times the team missed foul shots but were able to convert the rebounds into points. Two of these offensive rebounds turned the game around in the late stages.

"We are extremely proud of these kids," Finnegan said. "They played a great game with John Reggiannini doing a fine job on the floor and Ken Furfari having his best game. They gave up a lot of height but fought very hard right to the end."

Quincy stayed with the bigger home forces all the way and actually led with only 14 seconds to play but a basket and two foul shots gave Somerville the win.

Furfari paced the scoring with 20 points, Reggiannini had 19 and Mark MacLeod 11. Furfari hit on 12 of 15 foul shots and blocked out well on 6-7 Mike Foster, holding him to 14 points. Bobby McDermott had 12 rebounds while guarding 6-4 Gene Higgins and Mike Marvelle did equally well covering 6-5 Chuck Aria.

Quincy Meets Malden

Raiderettes Roll Along

North Quincy basketball fans have more than the undefeated boys' team to be proud of this year.

The North girls, following a winless season a year ago except for a victory over a church team, are rolling along under new coach Barbara Webster with a 5-1 record [4-1 in the newly formed Greater Boston League for girls].

The Raiderettes added two wins last week following their first decision ever over rival Quincy.

Following a 38-36 squeaker over Thayer Academy in a non-league game, the North lasses exploded for a 58-14 romp over Revere in a league contest.

Against Thayer Lisa Kowlick had 18 points and Denise Bereszniwicz nine. The North jayvees lost, 18-10.

In the breeze over Revere [Miss Webster used everyone on the squad in an attempt to hold down the score], Miss Kowlick scored 26 and Miss Bereszniwicz 18.

The North jayvees took their first win of the year, 14-11.

Tuesday North played at Medford and Friday will host Chelsea. Gale Palmer's Quincy girls play at Malden Friday and at Medford Tuesday.

QJC Faces Grahm

Quincy Junior College returned to action last night at Newton JC following a two-week layoff.

The Colleagues face unbeaten Grahm for first place in the Mass. Junior College League Sunday at 6:30 at Cardinal O'Connell Seminary. QJC is 4-1 and Grahm 4-0 in the league. Wednesday the Colleagues play at Rhode Island JC and next Thursday play Franklin at 7:30 at the South End Boys Club.

In their latest outing the Quincy hoopmen romped over Burdette, 76-57, as Rich Ross took down 29 rebounds and Mike Granahan 24 as Quincy held Burdette to one shot on most occasions.

Ross also scored 17 points for Earl Vermillion's team, John Connolly had 14 points and 12 rebounds and Jim Mullen 12 points [he also excelled defensively].

Quincy, North Track Teams Running Into Hard Times

The Quincy and North Quincy track teams, despite some fine individual performances, continue to run into hard times.

Both squads last week suffered their third Met League losses in four outings in meets which had been postponed back on Dec. 18.

Saturday the meets originally scheduled for Feb. 19 will be run at noon at the Fargo Building with Quincy facing Milton and North taking on Needham.

Milton and Needham are unbeaten and tied for first place in Division Two with three wins and a tie following their 43-43 tie last week, snapping a 27-meet league win streak for Needham.

Bobby Ciano of Quincy, unbeaten in all running events over the past three years, moved from the mile to the 1000 last week but it made no difference as he won again as the Presidents bowed to Somerville, 52-34.

Only other Quincy winners were Pete Daley in the 300 and John Johnson in the dash.

Second places were taken by Brian Feeney in the mile, Mike Oriola in the 300, Mike Varrasso in the shot put, Paul Wahlberg in the two-mile, and Bobby McDermott in the hurdles.

North Quincy's Bob McCormack kept up his winning ways as he won both the mile and high jump as the Raiders were defeated by Arlington, 58-28.

Steve Leet continued to win in the shot put and was the only other North winner.

Taking second places were Tom Burke in the 300, Bud Pierce in the 1000, and Lee Watkins in the dash.

Keohane Beats Davis In Youth Hockey

Six different skaters tallied for Keohane last week as their club played its third game without a loss, beating F. X. Davis Insurance 7-1 in Quincy Youth Hockey action.

Other pee wee games saw Wollaston down Morrisette 6-2, Crestview beat Maguire's 6-2 and United Commercial Travelers shut out Hannon Tire 4-0.

Cox outscored Farina Kitchens 4-1 and Davis Insurance blanked Sweeney 3-0 in bantam action.

Richard Boyle's hat trick for Wollaston was enough to offset Morrisette goals by John Dunn and Paul Higgins. Other Wollaston scorers were Mike Penzo, Ronan Storer and Bill Doherty.

Crestview boasts goals by Jim Mossesso [2], Ralph Palmer, Jack Cronin, John Fair and Chris Erickson against Maguire tallies by Brian McAuliffe and John Keaney.

United Commercial Travelers scorers were Tommy Gerry, Tom Roche, Bob Hayes and Rick Carnali.

Paul Cattaneo picked up two for Cox with insurance goals from Jackie Powers and Robert Padge. Farina Bantams managed a score by Mike Goyette.

Joe Pistorino [2] and Robert Carmody gave Davis bantams a comfortable margin in their shut out of Sweeney.

The league plays Monday nights at Weymouth Skating Club, South Weymouth.

OBESITY

Are you overweight? Have you tried every conceivable diet with little success? Then, perhaps, you are looking in the wrong direction. It is not the refrigerator that holds the answer, but rather your way of life.

Most obese persons live a sedentary life. If they're not sitting, they're driving. This sedentary lifestyle has been found to be more responsible for the vast obesity problem in this country than our eating habits. On top of that, studies show that inactive persons have a tendency to eat more than physically active persons - compounding the dilemma.

There's a simple way to illustrate this point. The National Research Council has set standard caloric intake charts in which 2,300 calories per day is considered ideal for the sedentary man. But the very active man can get by with 4,500 - almost twice as much. The only difference is activity or exercise.

Beau's Place Something To See

By TOM SULLIVAN

Beau's Place, undefeated Cranberry League leader, continues to present outstanding basketball on Saturday and Sunday nights at Quincy Vo-Tech gym, and those not attending are missing some of the most exciting games ever played in this area.

And, the games are free!

Last weekend was a good example as Beau's outscored the Boston Stars, 130-120, in a non-league game Saturday, one of the finest games ever played in Quincy, and came back the next night to over-come a 13-point halftime deficit and nip Rockland Legion, 93-91, in the final nine seconds of a league game. This win gave Beau's an 11-0 league record and a three-game lead over Rockland and a 14-1 overall mark.

Last night Beau's played the Roxbury Rams at Roxbury YMCA in a non-leaguer, Sunday will be home to the Weymouth Recreation Alphas in a league game and next Wednesday will go to Plymouth's Nathaniel Morton School for a league game with Plymouth A. A.

Beau's, showing the strain of the hectic game the night before, found the going rough Sunday as Rockland, with some sparkling shooting, took a 50-37 lead at the half.

The Quincy team began to find its eye in the last two periods, tied the game and with nine seconds left Allen Dalton put in a layup for the win.

Jim Hayes, former Boston University All-American and a former pro player for the New York Nets of the ABA, scored 30 points, Dalton 22, Bob McNamara and Mike Greenlaw 18 apiece. John Douglas and Jack Osgood had 24 apiece for Rockland. Rockland has lost three league games and all three have been to Beau's.

Saturday night's thriller saw Hayes, making his debut for Beau's following an injury which prevented him from trying out for the Nets this year, score 41 points with a fantastic shooting exhibition.

Greenlaw, Quincy High's junior varsity coach, scored 29, Mike Dunn 22, McNamara 18 and Dalton 17.

Earlier in the week Beau's topped Easton Huskies, 95-83, in a league game in which Rich Sprague and Dave Cahill, both former North Quincy High stars, scored 15 points apiece, Dunn and Marty Shoeffler 14 each.

In its previous games Beau's had defeated Plymouth A.A., 76-69, in a league game after trailing at the half, 43-38; won a non-league thriller over the Roxbury Rams, 97-92, and defeated the Alphas, 128-110.

North Building For Next Year

Quincy Icemen Have Tourney Chance

A week ago it appeared the Quincy hockey team, defending Greater Boston League champion, had no chance whatever of making another trip to the state tournament.

However, Bob Sylvia's Presidents, despite the loss of three in a row, now have four wins in a row, the last three by shutouts. Although their chances of qualifying are still remote with eight games left, including meetings with the three top teams, don't bet they can't do it. They cannot lose another game, however.

Friday Quincy faces second place Malden at 6:30 at Boston Arena and next Wednesday will face league leading Revere at the same time and place.

Meanwhile, Ron Erikson's young North Quincy team is having more than its share of troubles and the second-year coach continues to use more players than anyone else as he builds for next year. In most games Ron is using 11 different forwards and five defensemen.

Friday the Raiders play Medford in the third of four games and Wednesday will take on Somerville in the second game.

Following Monday night's 3-0 win over Somerville to give Quincy a 6-5-1 record, it appears Sylvia's opinion the Presidents will not have their first losing season under his tutelage will come true.

Artie Boyle, probably the finest goalie in the league, was again superb as he had 18 saves, including some amazing ones, in turning in his third successive shutout.

Glen Prescott put Quincy ahead at 9:36 of the second period with Rich Patten, who has been brilliant all season long, setting it up.

In the final period Prescott fed Jack Black, who scored at 9:09 and Patten passed to Paul Campbell, who scored the final goal at 11:27.

"I'm mighty proud of these kids, they have fought back in terrific fashion," Sylvia said. "After losing three of our stars, the boys could have just given up but they didn't and right now are playing as well as any team in the league. Boyle has been amazing, our defense has played well and the forwards have been doing a great job."

In their previous game the Presidents had a little letdown and just got by last place Chelsea, 1-0, on Patten's unassisted goal in the second period.

Quincy had its chances to win handily as it peppered shot after shot at Chelsea's Kevin Keohane. The senior netminder, one of the league's best, stopped all but Patten's shot.

"This was the best game for our defense," Sylvia said. "Steve Bergonzi and Russ Corner did a tremendous job as they played the entire last period without a rest."

Earlier Quincy had blanked Everett, 3-0, as Bergonzi scored in the opening period on a pass from Jim Starkey, Patten scored unassisted and Corner converted passes from Prescott and Patten in the second period.

Patten, who had moved from defense to wing, started at center and picked up the team. "I think maybe he should have been there all season long, and I think the other coaches now realize we have a good chance to score every time Rich is on the ice," Sylvia lauded.

North Quincy was bombed by Revere, 7-2, Monday as Erikson continued to use many players and various combinations.

"We just have to keep looking for the right combinations," Erikson stated. "It is tough to keep working at this point with only a win and a tie in 12 games but that's what we have to do."

Steve MacKay scored the first North goal with assists for Ken Graham and Robbie Henderson, and Henderson scored the second with Graham and MacKay assisting.

In the previous game the Raiders dropped a 6-0 decision to Everett. Despite the loss Erikson hailed the performances of Henderson, Joe Lannen, Jim Mullaney and Keith Losordo, who keep hustling all the time.

Earlier North had played probably its worst game in losing to Chelsea, 2-0, the Red Devils' only win of the season.

Peter's Lounge Rolls High 1,751 In Candlepin Tourney

Newcomer Peter's Lounge rolled a tournament-topping 1,751 in its debut to defeat Adams Heights Men's Club in the opening round of the Koch Club 19th annual Greater Quincy Men's Candlepin Tourney.

Wollaston Men's Club edged out last year's champion Quincy Merchants, 1,723-1,713; Louie's romped over Montclair Couples Men, 1,720-1,502, and Braintree Church League ousted The Social Club, 1,653-1,647.

In other action, St. Boniface beat St. John's Holy Name 1,588-1,527; Koch Club defeated Pneumatic Scale 1,572-1,543 and Montclair Men's Club outlasted Penn A.A., 1,559-1,550.

Bob Russell of the Peter's Lounge team led all bowlers with a high three of 390. His teammates were Slim Notrangelo, 385; Jim Hatfield, 324; Fred Connelly, 331 and Dennis Hanlon, 321.

Morgan O'Leary rolled a 362 and Reno Giudici a 325 in Adams Heights' losing effort.

Don Buckley and Stan Wysocki had three string totals of 372 and 371 to lead Wollaston Men teammates Bill Zaks, 343; Chet Forbush, 333 and Bill Quinn, 304.

Bob Hurst's 380, including the high single for the day of 152, was backed by Leo DePolio's 352, Ron Gibson's 337, Sal Fanara's 332 and Marty Martell's 311 in Merchants' loss.

Louie's 218-pin margin over Montclair was marked by a 368 for Harry Towle, 343 each for Bob Carroll, Jim Murray and Phil McGee and a 321 for Ed Rogers.

Bill Bereszniewicz posted a 363 for Montclair.

Braintree Church League boasts a 370 from Wendy Norris, 331 from Stan Fielding and 326 from Al Walton.

Quincy Junior-Frosh Team Seeks 5th Win Saturday

Quincy's undefeated junior high-freshman hockey team returns to action Saturday after a week's layoff and will seek its fifth straight win when it meets Somerville at 6 o'clock at Boston Arena. North Quincy will meet Chelsea in the second game at 7.

Ken Hayes' Quincy team, featuring brilliant goal-tending and strong defense, looms as the Greater Boston League champion as it has only Revere and Medford remaining after Somerville before the playoffs get underway on Feb. 24.

ENC In Ohio Tourney

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team, with a fine 10-3 record, will be in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, Friday and Saturday for the Mt. Vernon Invitational Tournament.

ENC went to the finals of the Trevecca Invitational Tourney earlier in the year at Trevecca, Tenn., and hopes to get its first tournament title in Ohio.

Next Tuesday the Crusaders will be home to Suffolk University and next Thursday will play at Babson. These will be two of their biggest tests of the season.

Coach Jim Smith's team had a five-game win streak snapped last week by Southeastern Mass. U., 80-75, but came back to topple Gordon, 82-77, after trailing by eight points at the half.

Gordon upped its lead at one time to 15 points in the first half but ENC cut it down and then outscored the favored Gordon team, 47-34, in the second half.

Don Eads, averaging more than 30 points a game, led the scorers with 27 points but it was Freshman Terry Briggs who made the difference for ENC.

Briggs, playing only 23 minutes, sparked the second half comeback as he hit on eight of 10 shots from the floor and finished up with 24 points. Dave Eads scored 11 and Steve Shoff of North Quincy sparked on defense and scored seven points, while Rick Reyenger of Quincy also shone on defense and took down 12 rebounds. Dave Eads had 15 rebounds.

Smith blamed himself for the loss to SMU. "Tonight I thought the kids had the game won," he said. "We had a six-point lead with four minutes to play and I think I should have called a time out, settled the boys down and outlined our strategy. But I didn't and you saw what happened."

Eads had an unusually cold hand in the first half, a big reason ENC trailed by five at the intermission. He did come back to score 30 points but the Crusaders were hurt when the 6-7 Reyenger twisted an ankle and had to come out. The 6-7 Briggs replaced him and did a fine job on defense and on the boards.

Dave Constantine of North Quincy had 11 points and Dave Eads 10.

Eastern Nazarene had earlier romped over Unity, 109-74, with Reyenger outstanding.

Pat Nestor Leads Alley Kats At 105.7

Pat Nestor, who has bowled over 300 in 12 of 15 weeks of competition with the Alley Kats Candlepin League, leads all scorers in first half final standings with a 105.7 average.

Rounding out the top ten are Mady Del Greco, 99.9; Janice Hutchins, 98.3; Joan Hamblin, 98.3; Ruth Doherty, 98; Anne Cunningham, 97.3; Joan Prezioso, 97; Marie Ford, 96.5 and Marilyn Nestor, 96.5.

The Mady Del Greco team

leads the league by a comfortable margin with an 82-38 record. Runners up are Janice Hutchins, 70-50; Sarah Cobban, 60-60; Joan Prezioso, 59-61; Marie Ford, 55-65 and Pat Nestor, 34-86.

Other first half honors include high team three of 1,507 for Mady Del Greco, high team single of 520 for Marie Ford, high individual three for Pat Nestor and Joan Hamblin at 365, and Joan Hamblin's high individual single of 138.

Blues Hand First Loss To St. Joseph's Red Team

The first place Red team suffered its first defeat of the season last week by a 6-2 score at the hands of the third place Blue team.

The loss leaves the Reds just one point ahead of the Gold team, who overpowered the winless Greens 6-4.

Dennis Larkins, Mark Walker and Bill Driscoll picked up two goals apiece for the Blues and the Reds sported tallies by Lloyd Allen and Rick Brunstrom.

Goals by Dean Gambino [2], Frank Healy [2], John Alfano and Bob Pettinelli supplied the Gold firepower to offset Green scores by Ken Gagnon, Sean Polley and Jay Pasioneck [2]. Pasioneck leads the league with 12 points.

Smorgasbord Day At Central Provides Food For Thought

Every Friday is Smorgasbord Day at Central Junior High School, but don't rush to the cafeteria to get in on it.

Central's smorgasbord refers to the variety of programs, not food, that some 180 seventh, eighth and ninth grade students participate in at the end of the school week.

The students and a team of eight teachers are treated each Friday to seminars, lectures, discussions or field trips relating to all phases of community life.

The "Smorg Day" committee is asking engineers, doctors, plumbers, artists, business men, mechanics, factory workers, lawyers or anyone interested in lending a hand to contact Mr. William McWeeny at the school.

Programs to date have included seminars on communications, psychology and magic and field trips to Manomet Bird Observatory and Boston Center for the Arts.

'Gone With Wind' All-Time Movie Box Office Hit

A great deal has been said and written, in the negative context, about the recent vintage of motion pictures. Inferior quality. Made in poor taste. Actors can't act. And of course the old standby, "they don't make pictures like they used to"... Well, maybe they don't. But when all is said and done, the recent crop of film would appear to have more public draw "than ever before"...

Following is a compilation of the top 10 money-making motion pictures of All Time, including their gross intake, and year of release... The list may raise some eyebrows. Only one film dates back to the "Golden Era" of the film industry. Two others represent the 1950's, with the remaining 7 covering the 1964-1970 era... With all the criticism, this column included, the present filmmakers must be doing something right, for they're satisfying the whim and fancy of those who pay the ticket - the public...

THE TOP TEN: "GONE WITH THE WIND" [1939], $74.2 million; "THE SOUND OF MUSIC" [1965], $72 M; "LOVE STORY" [1970], $50 M; "AIRPORT" [1970], $44.5M; "THE GRADUATE" [1968], $43.10 M; "DOCTOR ZHIVAGO" [1965], $43 M; "BEN HUR" [1959], $40.69 M; "TEN COMMANDMENTS" [1957], $40 M; "MY FAIR LADY" [1964], $32 M; and "MARY POPPINS" [1964], $31 M...

One can reap some interesting statistics from THE TOP TEN. JULIE ANDREWS and CHARLTON HESTON are the big winners with 2 films each to their credit. Miss ANDREWS having starred in "MARY POPPINS" and "THE SOUND OF MUSIC", and HESTON in the historical classics "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" and "BEN HUR"... Also, only 3 films have a modern backdrop, they being "LOVE STORY", "AIRPORT" and "THE GRADUATE". The other 7 are anything but contemporary in theme, being dated in historical setting or the 19th century. I include "THE SOUND OF MUSIC" in the latter category because it fits in better with a "MY FAIR LADY" setting [a costumed musical], than say a "LOVE STORY" mood...

Nine of the pictures are repeat TOP TEN Winners from the previous year with "LOVE STORY" moving into third place, thereby dislodging "THUNDERBALL" [1965], $27 million, from its 10th place position of last year... The forecast for next years TOP TEN goes something like this. One thru 8 will surely be around, but "MY FAIR LADY" [32 M] and "MARY POPPINS" [31 M] stand a better than average chance of being replaced. Both films will be getting strong re-release $$$ competition from "MASH" [30 M] and "BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID" [29.2 M]... Also there's a strong possibility that the new James Bond feature will be a contender. In its first 3 days, "DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER" did a world wide gross of $2.5 million...

Interestingly enough films positioned 11 through 20 are all current productions, dating from 1961 to 1970. One has to go down to place 21 to find a picture representative of the 1950's. And that one is "AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS" [1956], $23 M... No, they're certainly not making motion pictures like they used to. If the "artistic" trend continues, by the end of the decade "THE TOP TEN" could very well read like a filmlog of the Seventies...

A wish for television's second semester. That sometime between now and renewal time SONNY AND CHER cool it with the screams and get down to the serious business of "singing". Would be a good change of pace for one's ear drums... Now it's ABC's turn. They're after DANNY THOMAS to star in yet his third television series. After his "MAKE ROOM FOR GRANDDADDY" fiasco, I for one can wait... Really don't comprehend Columbia's logic in releasing the made-for-TV "BRIAN'S SONG" to the theatres, instead of reshooting it on the small tube. Universal tried this same tactic 2 years ago with "SWEET CHARLEY" and the made-for-TV-film came up a box office flopper... What's good for the goose isn't necessarily good for the gander, but those TV bigwigs never seem to catch on. So, on with "BRIAN'S SONG"...

After more than a year of contract negotiations and locale scouting, "PAPILLION" will be made into a film with STEVE McQUEEN in the lead role... Still haven't seen "THE FRENCH CONNECTION" yet? For action it is in a class by itself... BRUCE GLOVER gets my vote as the "newcomer of the year". His smiling, homosexual killer portrayal in "DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER" was tops in a year crowded with newcomers. For sheer film villainy, GLOVER is without peer. We look for him to hit stardom with his role in "BLESS THE BEAST AND CHILDREN"... Remember the name, BRUCE GLOVER...

What with GEORGE SEGAL coming into his own as an actor, and MARLON BRANDO regaining his once lost charisma, one can only wonder what the future holds in store for Women Libber-turned actress, KATE MILLETT...

SOUND OFF: What gives with the recent rash of horror films? Rather ghoulish wouldn't you say? Going to extremes to insight fear in the viewer? Though for the most part GP rated, do they deserve an X where parental guidance is advised? What effect do they have on children?... Are producers getting carried away with realism? Or are they catering to adult taste by an overindulgence of screen violence?... Seeing a good horror flick was a child's Saturday afternoon past time. Can the same be said today? Even for an adult, a visual axe-murder can be a chilling experience... Are horror films on the way to X-rated notoriety?...

Famed Quincy Cymbal Makers Yankee Magazine Feature

"The Secret of the Cymbals is Yours" by Paul J. Reale of Marshfield, in the February issue of Yankee magazine tells how a 300-year old art developed by an Armenian alchemist in Turkey is currently a $3 million family business still carried on in top secrecy in Quincy.

These are the Zildjians, cymbal makers to the world. Some 350 years ago the first alchemist established a tradition that the secret formula for these special cymbals go only to the oldest son of the family with the secret kept always in the family. So fine are these cymbals that amongst the world's finest musicians, the word "Zildjians" and "cymbals" are synonymous.

Avedis Zildjian, now 80 and still working, explains that he came to Boston in 1908 at 19 expecting the secret would never be his, but would remain with his Uncle Aram in Turkey. Avedis was successful as a confectioner with shops in Boston and Quincy. He had a Yankee wife from Dorchester and an American citizenship when he received word from Uncle Aram that "The Secret of the Cymbals is Yours".

Uncle Aram came to America to review the location for the cymbal plant and to pass on the secret of the cymbals. After two years of training his heir and assuring himself that the family secret was in good hands, Uncle Aram returned to Lebanon to enjoy his retirement.

Visitors to the Quincy plant are received courteously, even cordially. But few of them are allowed to tour the plant and of those few, none are permitted into the room where the cymbals are critically formed at a nearly midway point in their creation. There, Avedis has found it necessary to share the secret not just with his older son, but his younger one as well. He himself works often six days a week.

QJC Offers Night Course In 'Learning Disabilities'

A two-credit course in "Learning Disabilities of the Adolescent" will be offered for the Spring semester at the Quincy Junior College Evening Division.

The course is offered to men and women who desire to tutor adolescents with problems in reading and writing skills, according to Richard T. Mula, dean of continuing education.

Classes will begin Feb. 9 and will meet each Wednesday from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. with Mrs. Bickley F. Simpson, a learning disabilities specialist, as instructor.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the college.

Three Notary Publics Reappointed

Three Quincy residents have been reappointed to seven-year terms as notary publics, according to Secretary of State John F. X. Davoren.

They are Seymour Levine, 103 Marlboro St., Wollaston; Jack A. MacCraken, 193 Pine St., Wollaston and Dorothy L. Kelley, 69 Arnold Rd, North Quincy.

Confirmation of the reappointments was made at a meeting of the Executive Council following submission of renomination by Gov. Francis W. Sargent.

Shorebank, Two Others Agree To Multi-Bank Holding Company

In a joint statement, the managements of Shorebank, Inc., First Agricultural National Bank of Berkshire County, Pittsfield, and The Mechanics Bancorp, Inc., of Worcester, announce they have reached an agreement in principle to join as principals in a state-wide multi-bank Holding Company.

Total resources of the proposed company will be in excess of $470 million, with 65 bank locations in the Commonwealth.

Shorebank Inc., whose principal subsidiary is the South Shore National Bank, has reported 1971 year-end resources of approximately $258 million. The Mechanics Bancorp, Inc., parent company of The Mechanics National Bank of Worcester, reported resources of approximately $110 million. First Agricultural National Bank of Berkshire County reported total resources of approximately $102 million for the past year.

The proposed company would be the third largest multi-bank holding company in the State. Under this proposal, each bank will retain its name, its present board of directors, management, and staff.

Peter Williams In Air Training

Airman Peter F. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Williams of 31 Gilmore St., Quincy, has received his first U.S. Air Force duty assignment after completing basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

The airman has been assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command at Whiteman AFB, Mo., for training and duty as a security policeman.

Airman Williams is a 1971 graduate of North Quincy High School.

Gardner L. Brown, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors of First Agricultural National Bank remarked: "This represents a golden opportunity for the banks to increase their economic and technical resources while at the same time retaining their individual identities."

Francis H. Dewey III, President of The Mechanics Bancorp, Inc., said: "This association of strong banks situated across the Commonwealth will place us in a better position to serve our markets and to compete more effectively with larger institutions in a rapidly changing financial market."

Shorebank Inc. announced earlier this month the acquisition of the Falmouth

National Bank, Falmouth, Massachusetts, and the Attleboro Trust Company, Attleboro, Massachusetts.

The multi-bank Holding Company proposal will require the approval of federal and state regulatory authorities.

Cleaning, Spraying At North Reveals Two Cockroaches

After two weekend locker clean-outs and sprayings of the four floors of North Quincy High School a total of two cockroaches were found, according to Cyril Chafe, manager of C. A. Chafe Exterminating Co., 74 Beale St. On Jan. 15 the Chafe Company conducted a spraying of the top two floors of the school and found no cockroaches, Chafe said.

Last Saturday the first and second floors were sprayed and one cockroach was found in the cafeteria and one in the home economics wing.

Chafe said he felt the cockroach situation at the school was "overexaggerated" and "as far as I am concerned, blown all out of proportion."

Arthur Perette, Senior Sanitary Inspector with the Quincy Health Department, said that inspections were made of North Quincy High School a couple of times during December at the prompting of parents who had called his office.

As a precautionary measure, school officials agreed to have the school sprayed. Cost for the job was $460.

535 On Order

10-Cent Meters Still Must Win Council Approval

By DICK MATTULINA

Mayor Walter J. Hannon indicated this week he is unconcerned about the city's cart-before-the-horse policy in ordering 535 dime parking meters.

The meters were ordered in December by former Mayor James R. McIntyre after an informal consensus of the City Council in November indicated that a majority of the council favored an increase in the parking fee.

Thus far, there has been no formal - or legal - vote.

Hannon admitted that the new council has little choice on whether or not to approve an ordinance change after the $30,280 commitment by the city. The meters are to be paid for from their receipts.

But, he added, "there are enough votes left" from incumbent councillors to assure passage.

The city signed a contract for new meters in March of 1971, he said, and no purchase order was made until after the informal vote.

He said ordering increased rate meters in anticipation of an ordinance change would save taxpayers $7-$10,000, the cost of converting new five cent meters.

Purchasing Agent George Riley said the cost of converting meters could run anywhere between $2 and $12 per meter. At $12 per meter, the cost of conversion would be $6,420. At $2 it would be $1,070.

Hannon said new meters were needed because "everyone has a key to the old ones" and Quincy was losing $30-$40,000 per year to vandals.

The new Mayor accused merchants of "quibbling over dimes" in their opposition to the increase which he said would bring the city an additional $100,000 per year.

DPW To Install Light At Upland Rd. Crash Site

The state Department of Public Works will install a pedestrian traffic signal on Upland Road near the Quincy MBTA station, site of two fatal accidents.

Miss Sharon J. Grassi of Quincy and Mrs. Donna M. Mullen of Jamaica Plain were struck and killed by cars on Upland Road on Nov. 30 and Dec. 22 respectively.

DPW Commissioner Bruce Campbell told Rep. Thomas F. Brownell the light will be installed under the federally-funded TOPICS program at no cost to the city.

He also said the 400-watt mercury vapor lamps in the area have been replaced by 1000-watt lamps, which will provide almost three times the street light intensity.

LaRaia Asks More Police In City's Critical Areas

Councillor-at-large Joseph J. LaRaia has asked that some of the 39 new Quincy Police Academy graduates be used as additional patrolmen in critical areas of the city.

In a letter to Mayor Hannon, LaRaia urged "greater protection to the residents of Quincy, particularly in those areas of Houghs Neck, Adams Shore and Squantum where large numbers of residents have signed petitions seeking increased police protection."

He also asked that he be a participant in a meeting on the matter.

Brownell Calls For Repair Of Houghs Neck Boardwalk

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has asked Mayor Walter J. Hannon to repair the boardwalk from Sea St. to the so-called "Dike" and Rhoda St. in Houghs Neck.

Brownell said the city-owned boardwalk is a hazard because it "has fallen into a state of serious disrepair" and is "in constant use by everyone in the area."

He said the "small amount of time and money spent on repairing the walk will ultimately save the city thousands of dollars.

"For if someone is injured while using the walk, the City and its taxpayers will be legally responsible to pay the damages," he said.

● An Editorial

Cart Before The Horse

Quincy merchants are opposed to an increase in downtown parking meter rates. Man-in-the-street surveys have shown that the shopper is opposed to an increase.

No one is sure how the City Council stands on the issue.

But hourly rates will almost certainly be increased to 10 cents at a future council session if for no other reason than to save face.

The city has 535 of the meters on order from M. H. Rhodes Inc. of Avon, Conn., along with 59 10-hour meters and 238 dividers at a cost of $30,280.

They were ordered by former Mayor James R. McIntyre in December after an informal consensus of the Council indicated that that body favored the rate hike.

But the necessary vote to legally change the ordinance was never taken. There are three new faces in the Council and at least one incumbent, J. Vincent Smyth of Ward 6, opposes the change.

If these four and one other Councilor were to vote against 10-cent meters, the measure would be defeated and the city stuck with $30,000 worth of meters.

But at any rate, some explanation is in order to the shoppers who would have to pay more and to the merchants who stand to lose business as increasing numbers of customers patronize shopping plazas where they can park all day for free and without fear of being tagged.

Mayor Hannon, who was chairman of the Ordinance Committee as a Councilor, has criticized merchants for "quibbling over dimes" in their opposition.

But there has been no criticism of the municipal operations which have placed the new City Council in what appears to be a compromising position.

The November vote was an informal one by a body which included three outgoing members.

There is no record of the margin of the consensus and no indication that the final vote would produce the same results.

But the Council has little choice now. The contract is signed. The meters are set to be delivered. The only step left is what should have been the first step - authorization. This disturbs us. This is not the way a democratic government is supposed to work.

At the very least our City government has put the cart before the horse.

● It's extremely interesting that the two Massachusetts judges who accepted $30,000 bribes are losing their jobs, whereas if a common man did the same thing he would lose his freedom. Equal justice doesn't appear to exist.

● For a variety of reasons many young people are cynical and disgusted with party politics which is really too bad because the young could easily decide who the next President is going to be.

WE GET LETTERS

$50,000 School Budget Cut Criticized

Open letter to Quincy School Committee:

Sirs:

In regard to your vote taken on January 25, 1972 concerning the cut in the school budget item of Building Maintenance by $50,000, I request a statement as to why this particular item, why this particular amount and why this particular reasoning behind such an unspecified cut.

It had been reported, school personnel requested over $800,000 on this particular item of Building Maintenance which includes items such as: heating and ventilation, lighting, plumbing, roofing, floors etc. This $800,000 request indicates in my mind how important school personnel hold this item to be. Dr. Creedon in his presentation to you cut this item in half. Yet you, the school committee, saw fit to further cut the item by this $50,000. Why?

Do you school committee people realize that in some buildings in the Quincy school system, students have to wear their coats due to poor heating. Do you realize the deplorable and in some cases substandard lighting and plumbing conditions existing in the Daniel Webster-Point and Pollard complexes. Yet you find it necessary to vote a $50,000 UNSPECIFIED cut for this item. I submit to you members of the school committee that this decision may have been made in haste without a proper amount of emphasis placed on its extreme urgency.

Sirs: I request you reconsider and review this matter. I request you reopen this budget item of Building Maintenance for reconsideration. I would recommend a representative from the Quincy Education Association to speak on the matter as well as any of Dr. Creedon's assistants. In fact I'm sure many teachers, themselves, would speak on the matter if requested.

Again I urge you to review this letter with care and sincerity.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. I quit one job and started a new one in September of 1971. My total earnings for the year were over $7,800. One employer withheld $250 for social security tax and the other withheld $275. I am aware that the maximum amount of social security tax which I must pay is $405.60. How do I get credit for the extra $69.40 which I actually paid?

A. You should enter the excess F.I.C.A. [social security tax] on line 61 of your return and this will act as a credit to reduce the tax due or increase your refund. However, if an excess amount had been deducted by one employer, you would have had to get the difference from him and your return would not have been affected.

Q. My employer ran a contest and awarded a trip to Hawaii as a prize to the best salesman of the year. I won the trip and I was concerned about the tax treatment.

A. You must include the fair market value of the trip in income since it was awarded to you on the basis of services rendered.

Q. I was looking over Schedule A and I am slightly confused about the medical insurance payments. Can you help me?

A. If you itemize your deductions, you may deduct one-half the amount you paid for medical insurance. This deduction may not exceed $150. The balance is added to your other medical expenses and is subject to the 3% limitation. This limitation is equal to 3% of your adjusted gross income.

Q. Please settle a family dispute. Our daughter was married in October. She had no income of her own and we provided more than one-half her support. We want to claim her on our return but our son-in-law says we can't do this because he is filing a joint return with our daughter. Who is right?

A. Your son-in-law is correct. Since he was married to your daughter before the end of 1971, he is entitled to file a joint return with her. You could claim her only if she did not file jointly with her husband. He would then have to file a separate return and not claim his wife.

Q. How do I obtain a Social Security number?

A. By filing a Form SS-5 with the Social Security Administration. You can obtain a Form SS-5 and instructions on completing and filing it at your nearest Social Security office. Form SS-5 is also available at Internal Revenue offices and in most post offices. If you do not receive notification of the number assigned to you before the due date of your return, write "Applied For" in the Social Security number space on your return and file it timely.

If you previously had a number, but have lost your card and do not know your number, you should notify the Social Security Administration and they will research the old account number and send you a new card for that number.

Q. When do I file my income tax return?

A. a) Calendar year taxpayers - on or before April 15, 1972. b) Fiscal year taxpayers - on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the tax year.

Q. My husband died in 1970. Someone told me I am entitled to special tax rates on my 1971 return. I work and fully support my two children. Could you please explain what filing status I should use?

A. In the situation where your spouse died within two years preceding the year for which the tax is being computed, you are entitled to claim surviving spouse rates, if you meet the qualifications listed below:

1. You must have been entitled to file a joint return with your spouse for the year of death.
2. You have not remarried.
3. You have a child or stepchild who qualifies as your dependent.
4. You furnish over one-half the cost of maintaining your home, which is the principal residence of your dependent child or stepchild except for temporary absences.

John J. McKenna Appointed To Zoning Board Of Appeals

Mayor Walter J. Hannon has announced the re-appointment of John J. McKenna to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

McKenna, who is chairman of the Zoning Board, is a graduate of Northeastern University where he received degrees in civil and structural engineering and management.

He has also completed courses in the appraisal of real estate.

McKenna is a registered profession engineer, registered land surveyor and also licensed to act as a real estate broker.

He is employed as a principal right-of-way agent for the state. He and his wife, the former Rita N. McMahon, are the parents of four children attending Quincy schools, Kathy, Mary, John J. Jr., and Eileen.

Parking Meters Await Council Action

Smyth noted merchant opposition to the hike in a letter to the Mayor urging postponement of the increase.

Smyth cited the "high unemployment rate, absence of over-time pay and the national business recession" as his reasons for wanting to retain the five-cent fee.

"Another important factor is the continuing increased competition from Braintree and other nearby shopping plazas which do not have parking meters," he wrote.

Smyth said later the city would receive lost revenue with the five-cent meter when the no-fix ticket system is enforced and the four new meter maids begin work this month.

The 535 meters to be installed in the Quincy Square area will allow for 30-minute parking for a nickel and one hour for a dime.

Also in the order are 238 meter dividers and 59 10-hour meters which accept dimes and quarters.

Concerning the merchants, Hannon said last week "we're spending $3 million on a parking garage for their benefit and they are quibbling over a dime."

He added Tuesday that "there will be some very big things for the merchants to decide in the next few years and I hope they won't be quibbling over dimes then."

Robert E. Foy Named New City Treasurer

Robert E. Foy III, 45, former president and treasurer of R. E. Foy and Sons Inc. of Quincy, has been named city treasurer by Mayor Walter J. Hannon.

Mr. Foy of 51 Dickens St., will succeed Mrs. Roberta Crowley, treasurer since July 1971.

He is a graduate of St. John's School, Central Junior High School, Quincy High School and Boston College, receiving a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1948.

He served in the Army Air Force in World War II and worked 23 years for the former Foy's Supermarket until it was sold to Quincy Cooperative Bank in 1970.

For the past year he has been area supervisor in Southeastern Massachusetts for Cumberland Farm Stores.

Foy is a member of the National Retail Grocers Association, director of the Massachusetts and Boston Retail Grocers Associations and a former member of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce.

ROBERT E. FOY III

He is a member of Quincy Rotary Club, Elks, Knights of Columbus and American Legion. He is married to the former Mary Ash of Quincy. The Foy's have five children, Robert, Mary, Nancy, GERALYN and Susan.

Marshall Wants Report On Lincoln-Hancock Pool Study

Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall has asked the Park and Recreation Board to report on operating and maintenance costs of the proposed swimming pool at the Lincoln-Hancock School.

Marshall said he asked for a study "some time ago" so that the city may be "prepared for the impact and the operation of this facility, both on the pool part and the community recreation center."

He also asked that the board study the "possible facilities and manpower necessary to operate the youth center in the South-West section of the city."

He suggested contacting the South-West Community Council and other interested citizens to seek ideas for incorporating into the community center.

By-Law Committee Reports To QCA

The Quincy Citizens Association heard a report from the committee to revise the by-laws at a meeting Feb. 2 at Montclair Men's Club, Holbrook

Also discussed was the association's membership drive and plans for a coming dinner-dance.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office . . . he helps everybody with their return . . . what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you year 'round tax service for just one low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

Eight Captains Named For Ch. 2 Auction

Eight residents in the Quincy area have been named Go-Getter Team Captains for the 1972 Channel Two Auction.

The auction, held annually, is the major fund raising activity for Boston's public television outlet WGBH-TV.

Working with Area Chairman, Mrs. Thomas C. Cleveland will be the following Team Captains: Mrs. William Lingelbach, Mrs. Bruce Alexander and Mrs. Robert Shite of Milton, Mrs.

Hahlon Cook and Mrs. Dennis Doherty of Weymouth, Mrs. Dace Hone, Braintree, Mrs. Richard Varney and Mrs. Richard Barry of Quincy.

Each year, more than two thousand volunteers from Massachusetts, parts of New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island are recruited to serve as "Go-Getters", making contacts with local merchants and individuals for products and services that are auctioned off during the eight-day television Auction.

Area Team Captains are responsible for lining up the individuals in each community who will be amassing the "auctionables" for the 1972 Auction. Dubbed "The Lucky Seventh", the 1972 Auction goes on air Friday, June 2. Go-Getting will begin in this area in March.

Cottons For P.M. Pursuits

AMPHIBIAN — The p.m. dress goes nautical for spring, and this high-waisted middy design of cotton knit is ideal for evenings on or off-shore. Tootique softens the look with a gently flared skirt and bell-shaped sleeves.

GRAPHIC ART — White dots sparkle on black cotton in a bare-shouldered dance dress for evening. The halter neckline is accented with an oversize white bow in this design by Jean Louis.

COLORFUL — Twin-printed cottons are combined in this p.m. dress that's splashed with red, orange, and pink flowers. Dotted swiss shapes the high-waisted bodice above a flowing skirt of cotton pique. By Jean Louis for Atelier 7.

Poet's Corner

'I Heard'

"I Heard" is a phrase that hurts many poor souls
It really is a heck of a note
To hear someone say, "I heard"
Then blame it on a "Little bird"
"A little bird told me" people say
Then spread gossip in a nasty way
A bit of scandal from a wagging tongue
A bit more added - and another heart stung
I don't talk much, just act kinda dumb
But I have a God, and I talk to him some I've discussed many things with God
And "He" has never repeated a thing that I've said
"Silence is Golden" especially in a crowd
If you have unkind thoughts, don't think aloud
Better to talk to God.
And when with a group be as dumb as a log.

Where Do Answers Lie

Where do all the answers lie
In some past graveyard where memories died
Perhaps in some foreign shore
Or maybe with the end of wars
Whatever the answers, we must seek
The solution is here though very bleak
When all the lonely people open their eyes to see
The answer will come through humanity
But I see no darkness though little light
But if together we pull and hang on tight
We can find ourselves in need,
Of each other...then all answers unfold.

Link Heart Attack 'Epidemic' To American Style of Living

If a contagious epidemic ran rampant throughout the United States striking down more than 600,000 persons, a state of disaster would be declared and the halls of Congress would echo with demands for preventive measures, while across the country men, women and children would line up in emergency immunization centers.

An epidemic is taking place in the United States. Heart attack is killing more than 670,000 men and women annually.

Why don't Americans react to heart attack as they would to any other mass killer disease?

Some of the reasons may lie in the fact that heart attack, which is the nation's leading cause of death, is not contagious, although there may be a family history of this form of cardiovascular disease. And, public apathy can also be explained by the mistaken feeling that heart attack is inevitable and nothing can be done about it.

Unlike other epidemics, there is no mass immunization against heart attack. But there are things every man and woman can do to help protect themselves and their families from this ruthless health menace.

In extensive studies of the personal and medical histories of heart attack victims, certain habits, or risk factors, are revealed which show that millions of Americans, especially those in the prime of life, are endangering their hearts by the way they live.

The common conditions and habits that medical scientists have discovered are high cholesterol levels in the blood, high blood pressure, cigarette smoking, obesity, and lack of exercise. It appears that any one of these risk factors increases the chances of a heart attack, and that a combination of two or more multiplies this risk.

Many of these conditions start early in life. By the time a great many Americans reach their thirties or forties, they are already potential heart attack victims.

A person can harbor several of these risk factors without realizing he is a candidate for heart attack. As a precaution, and to increase his chances of living a longer and healthier life, the American Heart Association recommends that all individuals take the following steps to protect their hearts:

- See your doctor regularly for a physical check-up. This will enable him to find out if you are one of the millions of Americans who suffers from high blood pressure or high blood cholesterol without realizing it.

- Eat less saturated (animal) fats and cut down on foods with high cholesterol content.

- Don't smoke cigarettes. Studies have revealed that men who are heavy smokers have twice the risk as non-smokers of having a heart attack.

- Maintain normal weight for your height and age.

- Adopt a program of regular, moderate exercise compatible with your age and physical condition.

These are simple health rules that any family can follow without a radical change in its life-style. The immediate benefits would be the reduction of risks which may eventually result in heart attack.

What happens when these risks go uncorrected will be discussed in the second article in this series.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of Feb. 3 - 10

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Your money is going out faster than you can earn it and this is causing arguments and difficulties. More control needed.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - For some of you social affairs will keep you busy - others are enjoying increased income and an optimistic outlook.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Financial affairs have improved and you can enter social activities with a light heart. New friend comes into your life.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - The activities of "friends" are upsetting you and now is the time to drop those "friendships" that are false.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - You need to exercise great care to avoid serious disappointments or accidents. You'll need to keep emotions under control.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - A whirl of activities keeps you in an excited state of mind. The people you meet now leave you with mixed emotions.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - A quarrel now would end a close relationship so try to avoid disputes. You may be expecting too much of others.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - New friends are adding gaiety to your social life but don't overdo because it could have an adverse effect on health.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - There is a general improvement in your home life and any service you render will bring its own reward.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - The action around home base demands more personal service than you want to give. You feel you're being put upon.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - There are upsetting conditions in the home, you are cleaning, redecorating, someone is ill or peace otherwise shattered.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - New friends are keeping you on the go and an increase in income helps you to realize some of your dreams.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

If I had my way...
There would be a red light on every refrigerator door, connected to an alarm bell that clanged unceasingly when something was removed from one of the shelves. I'd mousetrap the bottom of every cookie jar. I'd package candy bars in fly paper. Not because I am by nature cruel and unkind, but because I'd like to terminate the chomping of the non-stop eater.

You know a non-stop eater or two—the girl who's always on a diet and can't see why she doesn't lose weight. She eats such carefully controlled meals three times a day. Of course, she sneaks a cookie when she passes the cupboard. [That doesn't count because she was walking when she ate it!] She drinks a small glass of milk along with a small piece of pie someone else left in the refrigerator. [Can't add a single ounce because it is only mid-morning.] She trims the crusts from her children's peanut-butter-and-jelly sandwiches and eats them. [After all it's sinful to throw food away!] Her children and their sandwiches are thin but not their mother.

Meanwhile Minnie the Muncher merrily masticates her way to mammoth proportions and wonders why. This could NOT be you—or could it? If it is, today is the day to begin living a new way. The Diet Workshop way. Try this for a start at lunch.

SALMON SMOOTH STUFFED TOMATOES

- 2 medium tomatoes
- 1 6 1/2 ounce can Icy Point Pillar Rock canned salmon, drained
- Chopped Parsley
- 1 teaspoon capers
- Freshly ground pepper
- Salt
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Cut a small lid in stem end of each tomato. With spoon dig out all seeds. Drain salmon well and place in blender with lemon juice; blend until smooth [about one minute]. Mix with capers and season to taste. Divide mixture between tomatoes. Garnish with parsley.

After lunch take time to write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566 for further information on controlling that urge to self-destruction. It is self-destruction through self-deception that the non-stop eater is practicing. Small amount of rich food hourly will add pounds daily, destroying appearance, personality and health. You can't STOP all by yourself, but with help and advice you can install a bright red warning light on the route between hand and mouth.

'She Married The Older Man'

There's an interesting trend which occurs often enough that it must not be ignored. I refer to the younger woman marrying the older man. This not only happens in second marriages...but even women in the early twenties are seeking relationship with and marriage to the "older man". A twenty-eight year old woman said to me recently, "I love Charles and want to marry him...my problem is my mother and my friends...they all say he's too old for me. Do you think a twenty year gap makes that much difference? A few months later she married the older man.

We need to understand...first of all...why people are attracted to each other when there's a significant age span. There are many immature men...some in whom there's no effort to grow up...and what they want in a wife is another mother. Women who want the domineering role do well to pick the passive kind of man. There are plenty of them around. However...most women seem to want their husbands to be mature...responsible...aggressive...secure.

These characteristics may not be found in the younger man...it takes seasoning. Hence...by the time a man reaches his middle years...he's probably made it in the world if he's going to. A young woman feels she's taking less of a chance to latch onto a man who has arrived at a level she wants in her husband.

He's worked out the kinks...his baby tantrums...his inability to cope...poor handling of money...sexual inhibitions. He has learned about the art of living...relating...loving. Many mature young women don't want a man who must learn these things by practicing on her.

Now on the other side...many middle age men who are virile...healthy...who love life...who need and want a warm...close relationship with a woman with whom he can do things...be respected...feel loved...turn to the mature younger woman. Often her more recent education means she is more of an intellectual match. Her attire may be more fashionable...her ideas more up-to-date than women in his age group. Women his age grew up in a more protective society...and many have never outgrown the limitations of childhood. So...the man in middle years feels more free...acts with more freedom...and wants a woman who can be free with him.

There are, however, some liabilities to this luxury of a woman having an older man for a husband...and a man having a younger woman for a wife. One is that she may have custody of her children if she was previously married. That's just fine if this "secure" middle-aged man is willing and able to love and to raise a second family...to take the responsibility and pick up the tab. But...he's got to have a lot of love in his heart for the girl to make it work.

Then...there's the possibility that this fellow may be quite set in his ways. After all he's been doing some things the same way for 40 or 50 years now he's not likely to change...particularly if he likes his life style. So don't flatter yourself that "I can change him". Better plan to accept him as he is.

But really...age doesn't cause the relationship gap...the gap is caused when a man won't be a man...when a woman won't be a woman. That's what spoils marriage...not age.

Pillow Talk

By BURT COOK

The two most important considerations in selection of a mattress and box spring are support and cushioning comfort.

Good sleep is vital to good health and a person is robbing himself of good sleep if he does not choose his bedding carefully.

To provide proper rest, a mattress must provide the right support for a person's body structure, especially his spine, and must give cushioning comfort for his nervous system.

If your bed is too soft, you will sink too deep in the mattress, causing your spine to sag and your muscles to strain to hold you up.

If your bed is too firm, your weight concentrates on just a few points, causing pain and pressure, tossing and turning and loss of vital sleep.

In either case, you will not be getting the proper rest to prepare yourself for the rigors of the day.

And that's where a concerned and knowledgeable salesman can help.

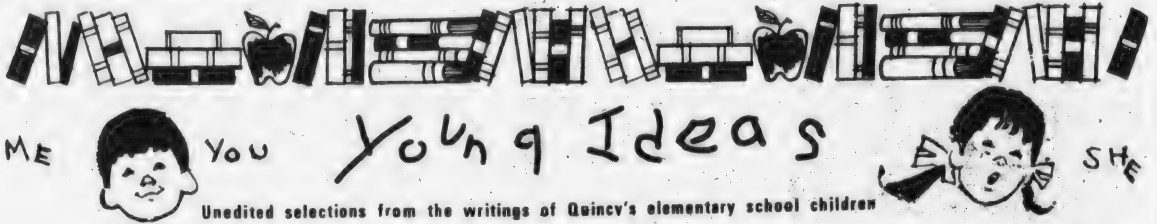

For the best in mattresses and box springs, shop Tags Sleep and Lounge Shop, 1568 Hancock St., Quincy, your South Shore BEDQuarters, featuring Simmons, Slumberland, Serta and King Koil. Use major credit cards or long-term agreements, three-months to pay, no carrying charge. Call 471-6180.

A Moment Of Wonder

From the day I got out of school, I couldn't wait until Christmas day. I kept wondering what I would get for Christmas. Until that day we played football outside and watched TV inside. The day came, I got two games. The rest were clothes. Of course I wished for more games than clothes. But I knew I was getting older and didn't need as many games as I did clothes. The morning went by fast. The afternoon was coming and I could smell the Christmas dinner. It was a big one! After that I stayed home and watched the football games. All the games were important that day. That's how my Christmas day was. It was a good one, but a little different this year because I'm a little older.

The date was Dec. 24, 1971. My brother George came home for Christmas morning. All families don't have their sons or brothers home on Christmas morning. But we were one of those lucky people who did. When my brother came walking in the door on Dec. 24, 1971 at 6:00 a.m. I was surprised. A great feeling came to me, I just then felt much more joyful. I know that my Christmas seemed all the more happy because my brother was home safe and sound.

A Moment Of Wonder

It was Friday the day after we got out of school. That night my family and I sat down to eat our dinner. My father said that we were going to put up the tree that night. After dinner we all went in to the sunporch where the tree stood. All the boxes of lights and bulbs sat right next to the tree. Then we started. I always like putting up the tree because it gave me a feeling of happiness. In about a half an hour we were done. We left the tree with it glowing in the dark. It was Saturday January 1, 1972, we were taking down the tree that day. It only took us about 15 minutes. It gave me a sad feeling to see the tree bare. After my father told me to take the tree out back, my feet felt like lead because I really did not want to do it. But I put it down, went into the house and thats the last I saw of the tree.

A Moment Of Wonder

I woke up pretty early on Christmas morning. I knew I should sleep longer, since I went to bed so late, but I couldn't hold in my feeling of anticipation. I woke up my little sister, and she woke up my parents, though I told her not to. We went down-stairs and into the living room.

There it was! The tree looked as beautiful as ever, especially with the gifts underneath it. I opened the gift that my sister gave me first. It was a pair of gloves. Meanwhile, my cat was biting at her wrapped box of catnip. My sister opened it for her. Then I opened some of my other presents. I got: some books, an oil painting set, a pad of pink stationery, and, best of all, a cassette tape recorder!

This made me very happy because I knew that my friend wanted one, and I got one. I was very surprised. I did not expect anything like it. This was my "moment of wonder".

Buying A House?

By JOHN L. DAVIDSON

[This column is directed to the young family interested in purchasing a home but knowing little of what is involved throughout the various stages of the transaction.]

Dear Mr. D.

I have often seen advertisements in the paper where people are selling their houses with a "take over" mortgage available. What exactly does this mean?

Ans:

If you buy a house with an existing mortgage and you are willing to put up the cash for the difference between the selling price and the remaining amount of the mortgage, you can sometimes keep the existing mortgage and avoid all the problems and costs of getting a new loan. Naturally whether or not this can be done is up to the discretion of both the seller and the bank holding the mortgage.

Dear Mr. D.

My wife and I are looking to buy our first home. I would like a new house in a development but my wife says she wants an older house in an established neighborhood. Which do you think would be better for us?

Ans:

My advice to you is to look at both types. Keep in mind at all times that you will be much happier in a neighborhood where your neighbors have approximately the same economic, social and family status as yourself. If you are a young couple you will find that when you move into a new development there will be many young families such as yourself with the same financial and family problems, which is a good basis for understanding and friendship.

A HOME-BUYING TIP.

When you are inspecting a house that you may consider buying, don't forget to bring some common sense along. Even if you are crazy about the place don't let it show in front of the seller or the broker. It may cost you more in the final bargaining procedures. A good poker face is in order. Remember there is plenty of time to discuss the good and bad points with your spouse in private.

If you have a question send it to John Davidson, c/o The Quincy Sun, 1601 Hancock St., Quincy, 02169. We will print the questions we feel will have the greatest common interest. The rest of the questions will be personally answered by Mr. D. if you supply us with your name and address.

Albert Slate Heart Fund Chairman

Albert H. Slate of 1359 Hancock St., Quincy, will be Chairman of Quincy's 1972 Heart Fund Campaign. Announcement was made by William P. Grant, Chapter Campaign Chairman for the Southeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association, Inc.

Proceeds of the campaign will be used to support research, education, and Community service programs in the continued fight to conquer diseases of the heart and circulatory system.

These diseases, which were responsible for 491 deaths in Quincy in 1970 [49% of the deaths from all causes] include heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever and inborn heart defects.

The Annual Campaign began with the opening of Heart

Month, Feb. 1, and culminates on Heart Sunday, Feb. 27.

In accepting the appointment, Slate said, "I am happy to accept this challenging assignment, and to actively participate in this health crusade which is saving hearts in Quincy and throughout the nation."

He urged Quincy residents to join him in helping to make the 1972 Quincy Heart Fund Campaign successful.

Music Parents To Meet Feb. 8 At North Quincy

A meeting of the "Music Parents at North Quincy High School" will be held in the band room at 7:45 p.m., Feb. 8.

Parents of all students in choirs, band, glee clubs and orchestra are urged to attend.

Plans will be formulated for students' music performances, an awards banquet, fund raising and establishing a music scholarship. Music students will perform for the parents.

Carole Corner Appointed Notary Public By Council

EYE PROBLEMS

A child who can't see well is at a serious disadvantage as a learner, since 85% of all learning is a visual process. Glasses, if they are needed, are not an unkindness. Quite the opposite. They may save the child from a serious learning handicap.

Medical experts give this advice for detecting eye problems. Be suspicious if the child complains of things getting blurred, headaches, dizziness, tiredness or nausea following close eye work, double vision, or that printed lines "jump around".

Watch the child's appearance for red-rimmed eyelids, watery eyes, pupils unequal in size or eyes in constant motion - usually side to side.

Behavior symptoms may include school failure, difficulty with reading, excessive blinking or covering or shutting one eye.

R.J. Quinn Vice President Of South Shore National

Robert J. Quinn of Holbrook has been elected vice president and director of personnel at South Shore National Bank of Quincy.

Prior to assuming his new duties, Quinn served for two years as the Bank's second vice president and personnel director.

He was assistant treasurer of the Randolph Trust Company from 1953 until its merger with South Shore National in 1959.

From 1959 to 1964, Quinn served as assistant cashier and branch manager for the Bank's Randolph office.

Elected assistant vice president of the Bank in April, 1964, he was promoted to second vice president and area supervisor for Avon, Braintree, Holbrook, Randolph and Stoughton in 1966.

A graduate of Boston College, Quinn is a member of the Quincy Rotary Club and of the parish council of St. Joseph's Church in Holbrook.

He is also a member and past president of Archbishop Williams' Mens' Association, Braintree.

He is married and is the father of three children.

New SGM & Co. Division Offers Consulting Service

The New Programs Development Division of SGM & Company, Inc. now offers communications consulting service.

The division's immediate objective is twofold: to serve organizations in the areas of (1) auditing internal reporting systems, and (2) bridging the communications gap surrounding their EDP operations.

In announcing the new division, Company-President S. Gunnar Myrbeck said that "these areas are of vital importance in the current economy, both in terms of controlling today's costs and laying a firm foundation for tomorrow's growth."

He added that the new division's service "will include surveying of requirements and existing systems, planning, implementing, testing and installing the new. We feel that the division's strength is in its assignment of the professional communicator to the task of making these systems communicate."

The new division is headed by George H. Lambert who has nine years of documentation project experience with SGM & Company's Technical Communications Division, most recently as its Director.

'The Presidency And Peace' UN Council Subject Feb. 10

"The Presidency and Peace" will be the subject of Saville R. Davis at a meeting co-sponsored by the United Nations Council of the South Shore and the Leagues of Women Voters of the area.

The meeting will be in the Parish Hall, historic First Parish Church, Quincy Sq., Feb. 10.

Davis is a specialist in the big issues of foreign policy at the top level. Last year he completed six years as White House correspondent and chief of the Washington Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor. He described this work, which involved travelling with the President, as a 24-hour, seven days a week job.

Since his graduation from Williams College and Harvard University, 10 years ago, Davis has worked for the Monitor in many different capacities. He is now working part time for it while writing a book on the lessons of Vietnam. He has visited India and Pakistan a good many times over a long period, and expects to revisit Asia in the latter half of this year.

The lecture, which is free and open to the public, will be followed by a question period. A supper will precede the program at 6:30 p.m. for which there is a charge. Reservations may be obtained by calling Miss Lena Foster, 12 Francis Ave., Mrs. Arthur H. Shattuck, 44 Huntley Rd., both of Quincy, or Miss Doris Cummings, 75 Chapman St., Wollaston, before Feb. 7. A few places at the supper are reserved for students at a reduced rate.

Brownell Asks More Tax Exemptions For Elderly

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell appeared before the Committee on Taxation Monday and asked that the eligibility requirements for Tax Exemption for the elderly be liberalized.

Brownell asked the committee to lower the eligibility age from 70 to 65 and liberalize the amount of income and the value of the estate an elderly person can have and still be eligible for the tax exemption.

"The tax rate in Quincy since 1969 has increased over $26, and this year we expect an increase of at least $13. The elderly cannot keep up with this rate of increase and keep their homes."

Brownell said "we must do something to help the elderly property owners who are locked into this situation while the rest of the world moves on."

Brownell recorded Sen. Arthur H. Tobin in favor of the bills.

School 1-7 Second Semester Starts At Air Station

Capt. John A. Culver, USNR, Commanding Officer of Naval Reserve Officers School 1-7, Naval Air Station, South Weymouth, announces the opening of the second semester of the current school year starting Friday.

A course in "Principles of Operational Planning" will commence Friday, at 8 p.m. and a course in "Command at Sea" will begin Tuesday, Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. in the training spaces of Hanger Two, second deck, at the Naval Air Station.

Capt. Culver said that course completion certificates will be issued to all Reserve Officers completing either of these two 20-week courses in June.

NROS 1-7 has been meeting at NAS South Weymouth for the past 12 years and has a regular series of interesting guest speakers addressing the student officers in the School. The speaking program is scheduled to continue through the second semester of the school year.

Friends Of Survival To Meet Wednesday Evenings

The Friends of Survival committee of Supporters of Survival will meet every Wednesday night at 8 p.m. at 166 Granite St., Quincy.

Anyone interested in learning more about Survival's way of dealing with the problem of opiate drug abuse, and anyone who wishes to contribute to the success of the new Redirection Residence are invited to attend the meetings.

Contribution of canned goods, meat, cigarettes and clothing suitable for young people which could be brought to the meetings will be much appreciated, the committee said.

Four From Quincy Honor Students At Forsyth Dental

Four Quincy residents were among students cited for high scholastic achievement during the first quarter at Forsyth Dental Center's School for Dental Hygienists in Boston, announces Dean Louise Hord.

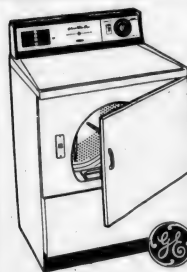

The four are:
Joanne M. Falzone, Glenwood Way, Honor List.
Kathleen Kelly, East Squantum St., Dean's List.

Angela LaLama of Independence Ave., Dean's List.
Margaret E. Roscoe, Elliot Ave., Honor List.

The two year program, conducted in conjunction with Northeastern University, leads to an Associate Degree. The Forsyth School is the largest school for dental hygienists in the country.

QJC Meets Franklin

The Quincy Junior College basketball team tried to snap a two-game losing streak last night at Rhode Island Jr. College and tonight [Thursday] plays Franklin at the South End Boys Club in Boston.

Monday the Collejuns play a big one against Graham at Quincy Voc-Tech gym at 7:30.

The Quincy team's hopes of capturing the Mass. Junior College Conference title struck a snag Sunday when it bowed to Graham, 68-55, at the Cardinal O'Connell Seminary.

Franklin leads the conference with a 5-1 record, Graham is 4-1 and Quincy 5-2.

QJC trailed by only 25-23 at the half but Graham outscored the locals, 43-32, in the second half as defensive lapses and several turnovers proved costly.

Mike Granahan scored 19 points and Rick Ross 13 for Quincy. In its previous game QJC had lost to Chamberlayne, the New England Junior College Conference leader, 65-59 as it appeared in awe of the powerful Chamberlayne team in the early going. QJC also had trouble shooting and rebounding and turned the ball over several times.

Quincy cut the winners' lead to two points in the final few minutes but couldn't get any closer.

Granahan was again high with 19 points and John Mullen scored 10.

Earlier the Quincy club, playing after a two-week layoff, overpowered Newton Junior College, 67-32, as a tough press caused many Newton turnovers.

For QJC Bob Uhlar had 15 points, Granahan and Paul Hurley 14 each.

Hal McLarnon's Hat Trick Paces St. Joseph's Reds

Hal McLarnon's hat trick led the first place Red Team to a 10-4 romp over the winless Greens last week in St. Joseph's Hockey League action.

And the Blues ran the Gold Team ragged with an 8-1 victory to move them into second place.

Paul DeCristofaro, Rick Brunstrum and Tony Trubiano had two goals each and Lloyd Allen picked up a single to round out the Red scoring.

Al Lancione [2], Jay Pasonek and Bob DeCristofaro accounted for the Green scores.

For the Blue Team scored two goals each by Dennis Larkins, Bill Driscoll and Doug Rand and single tallies by Jim McNailey and Mark Walker. Butch Francesini scored the lone Green goal.

The league plays Wednesday nights at Shea Rink, West Quincy.

Spotlight On Junior High Schools

Broad Meadows' Speed Makes Up For Height Handicap

The Broad Meadows Junior High ninth grade basketball team is enjoying a fine season with a 5-2 record going into last Tuesday's big one with undefeated Central.

Coach Steve Campana's club is in second place and hoped to cut Central's league lead to one game.

"We have a fast moving club and what it lacks in size it makes up for in speed," Campana said. "We have a good fast break which has been working well."

Don Conners paces the BM club with 16 points a game and Terry O'Day, an excellent ball handler, has set up many of Don's baskets.

Campana rates Phil Prokop a good defensive player and Richard Hebert is the team's top rebounder.

"Michael MacKenzie is a good all-around player and Bill Dacey has a good shot from the corner," the BM coach continues. "Jim Forrester is an outstanding player but is just coming off a football injury and is still not at 100 percent efficiency."

Rounding out the ninth grade squad are Richard Pratt, Joe Magnia and Tim Dunn.

The eighth grade team is having its troubles and has only a 1-6 record while the seventh graders have a 3-5 mark.

"The seventh and eighth grade teams have size but need quite a bit of work in fundamentals, shooting, passing and boxing out, but they are coming along and the future looks bright," Campana concluded.

North Gym Team Seeks 8th Win

George Golding's North Quincy gymnastics team is enjoying one of its finest seasons and Friday will seek its eighth win in 10 meets when it hosts Weymouth South.

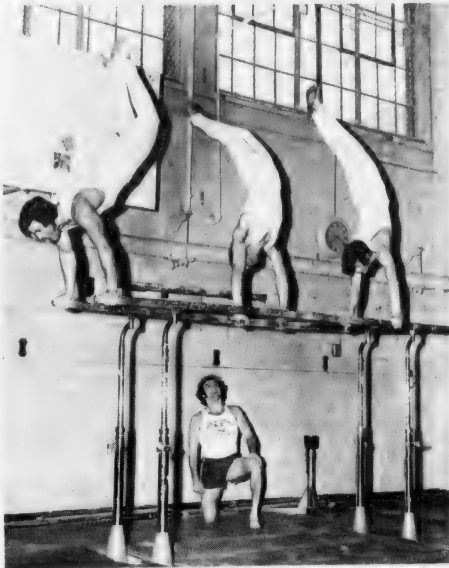

Next Tuesday the Raiders will be home to Weymouth North and will wind up their regular season on Feb. 15 with a home meet against Braintree, one of the top teams in the state.

Meanwhile, Quincy's first gym team, under coach Peter Gallagher, has yet to win but several boys have turned in fine individual performances and Gallagher is pleased with the young Presidents' progress. Quincy was at Weymouth South Tuesday and today goes to Algonquin Regional.

"Dave Merrill and Gary Veronneau are our outstanding performers and are scoring about 30 points a meet," Golding said. "They compete on all events with Dave taking several firsts in floor-x and parallel bars and Gary getting a number of first places in the rings and parallel bars. Dave is also very adept at the side horse. Our other scorers are Kent LaFleur, who is doing well on the high bar, and John McGilvary, who has won the side horse several times."

According to the veteran coach, these four have done most of the scoring and form the backbone of the classy team.

North has wins over Milton, Dennis-Yarmouth, Norwood, Newton, Arlington, Quincy and Newton South, finished in a rare tie with Winthrop and lost only to Suburban League leader Brookline. "A tie in gymnastics is a rarity and, believe it or not, Winthrop had tied its previous meet, also," Golding explained.

Most of the Raider meets have been decided by less than a point and Golding feels the close competition has benefitted his team considerably.

"I think we will have a good chance against the two Weymouth teams but I don't expect to give Braintree much trouble," Golding admitted. "They are one of the best around and I don't think anyone will beat them."

North had little trouble defeating Quincy's young first-year team, 89.5 to 51.5, but Gallagher was delighted with the showing of several of his boys.

The top scorers for North were Merrill with 29.8 points, Veronneau with 28.7 and Dave Sullivan with 13.

Dave Moran paced the Presidents with 17 points, followed by Tom Campbell with 16.1 and Mike Priscella with 6.95. Also competing were Frank Catarius and Steve LaBreck of Hull, who competed for score only as Hull doesn't have a gym team. Their scores were not counted in the result of the meet.

In its previous meet Quincy had bowed to Braintree Junior Varsity, 71.8 to 61.8 with Campbell scoring 21.6 points for the Presidents, Moran 17, Priscella 7.4 and Chris Toy 6.4.

"These kids are really working hard and are progressing very well," Gallagher said. "They all are young with no previous experience and next year should do a fine job. The other coaches are impressed with their showing."

In its latest outing Quincy lost to Weymouth North, 69.7 to 53.5.

Campbell had 19 points for Quincy, placing second in rings and third in floor-x; Moran had 18.6, placing second in side horse and rings and fourth in parallel bars; Toy had 6.4, taking third in side horse and fourth in rings; Larry Carvello had 5.4, Bob Gordon 5 and Paul Hajjar 4.7.

Keohane Outlasts UCT In Youth Hockey Action

Undefeated Keohane outlasted a strong United Commercial Travelers squad 3-2 in Quincy Youth Hockey Pee Wee action at Weymouth Skating Club.

In other action, Wollaston Theater downed Maguire's 4-2 and Hannon Tire beat F. X. Davis Insurance 4-1. The two bantam games saw Sweeney outscore Cox and Farina down Davis by identical 4-2 scores.

UCT pulled their goalie in the closing minutes of the game in an unsuccessful attempt to tie the league-leading Keohane club.

Tim Ricciardi poked home two goals for Keohane and Leo Doyle provided the third to offset UCT tallies by Bruce Brennan and Brian Norton.

Bob Dunn [2] Ricky Meehan and Mike Storer provided the firepower for Wollaston against single goals by Mike Pitts and Dave Previte of Maguire's.

Hannon posted goals by Rick Ahola [2], James Ahola and Paul Barry with John Masters making the scoreboard for Davis.

Paul Lynch's hat trick and a goal by Dan Barry were enough to nullify Cox tallies by Frank Penzo and Joe Carty.

Farina scorers were Mark Frazier [2], Jim McAuliffe and Tim Coffey. Jack McHugh and Dave Hurley drove the puck home for Davis.

The league plays Monday nights at Weymouth Skating Club.

Hutchinson Oil Pressing McIntyre In Little Loop

Hutchinson Oil's high team three of 1,333 moved them to within one game of the first-place McIntyre Club in Quincy Little Loop Bowling standings.

Hutchinson's 33-19 record has them breathing down the neck of the McIntyre Club at 34-18. Atlantic Fuel Oil, Hal Davis, Montclair Men's and Bryan Post clubs are tied for third place at 28-24.

Rounding out the league are the Elks at 27-25, Hennessy Plumbing Supply, George G. Burke and Joseph E. Brett at 26-26, Local 513 and Local 1451 at 23-29, Wollaston Bowladrome at 17-35 and Dick Morrissey at 15-35.

Dick Magnarelli's 96.2 average keeps him in first place for individual scorers, followed by Bruce Perry, 93.4; Steve Martinelli, 92.7; Brian Connolly, 92.4.

Also Mike McBride, 91.4; Frank Granara, 91.1; Nick Anastas, 91.0; Pat Connolly, 90.6; Joe Gullins, 90.3; Mike Martinelli, 90.7.

Frank Granara's 308 was high individual three for the week and Dave Cobban rolled high individual single with 117.

Presidents Host Revere

Raiders May Qualify Early For Tourney

Although it still has several games remaining, Bob Nolan's unbeaten North Quincy basketball team may qualify for its fifth Tech Tourney berth in Nolan's seven years as coach by Friday night.

The high flying Raiders hosted Everett Tuesday and face their big test Friday when they play at Somerville. Next Tuesday they will be at Malden.

North's overwhelming 76-18 win over winless Chelsea last week made its overall record 10-0 and Greater Boston League mark 9-0. Two more wins and it is in the Tech again.

Meanwhile, Marty Finnegan's Quincy quintet cannot lose another game and make the Tech unless its protest of last week's 78-77 over-time loss at Malden is upheld. Finnegan feels there is a good chance of winning his protest.

The Presidents were idle Tuesday, host Revere Friday and are home to Chelsea next Tuesday.

North Quincy's game with shorthanded Chelsea was for all intents and purposes over after the first period with the Raiders leading, 23-4.

In an effort not to embarrass the Red Devils, who were losing their 43rd successive game going back three years and had two of their top players missing, Nolan used not only his entire varsity squad but two junior varsity players. The North varsity played less than half the game.

"I hate to win a game like this and I did all I could not to run up the score," the Raider coach said. "The game gave me a good chance to see my subs and two jayvees. Bernie Holleran and Billy Shea, looked good.

With so many playing, the starters didn't have much chance to pile up points and John Stevens led with 15. Dave Nelson had 11 and all 12 players joined in the scoring.

Quincy made a tremendous comeback at Malden but a basket by the Golden Tornado on which an official admitted making an error cost the Presidents one of their finest wins.

Malden, with a hot shooting hand, took a 17-13 first period lead and widened it to 39-28 at halftime. Quincy had one of its worst shooting nights and trailed by 22 points midway in the third period. They trailed by 17 going into the final period but a full court press stymied Malden and the gap quickly was cut.

Quincy narrowed the lead to 64-57 with 2:06 left and then came the unfortunate incident which caused Finnegan's protest.

Quincy had stolen the ball three times in a row and scored so Malden called a time out. When it put the ball into play, the press bothered it so that the Malden player ran along the baseline to get free to throw the ball in and Malden scored on the pass-in.

"This was a rules violation and the official, whom I respect, admitted he was wrong, so for the boys' sake I had to protest," Finnegan said. "According to the rules, the boy has to stay in one spot to put the ball into play and, this being a rules infraction and not a judgment call, I think there is a chance that the protest will be upheld.

"Regardless of whether the protest is upheld or not, however, I commend the official for admitting he was wrong and I will continue to respect him. After all, we all make mistakes and he is only human."

The Presidents' coach huddled with his players and they said they would win it anyway and not have to protest. They just missed as they finally tied the score at 71-71 forcing the game into overtime.

Quincy led, 77-76, with 15 seconds remaining in the extra period and had the ball only to be called for a traveling violation. Malden put up a last second shot which missed but Ed Moore tipped it in at the buzzer for the win.

"This comeback was unbelievable," Finnegan said. "It showed just how much guts the kids have and it is unfortunate that in such a great game a protest has to be lodged. But it wouldn't be fair to the players if I didn't."

John Reggiannini scored 23 points, Bobby McDermott had 17 and Ken Furfari scored 16 for the Presidents.

Earlier in the week North defeated Medford, 59-48 in what Nolan called a "typical game," as the Raiders caused 10 turnovers with their press and made 16 steals. Medford had won three of its previous four games.

Ken Marsters led the attack with 22 points, while Nelson and Jamie Doherty, closely guarded throughout, had 13 apiece.

Quincy played one of its finest games of the year to topple Everett, 77-67, as Reggiannini scored 24, Furfari 18, McDermott 15 and Mike Marvelle 10.

YMCA Fitness Program Opens With Clinic Feb. 12

The Quincy YMCA will hold its second physical fitness orientation testing clinic at 2 p.m. Feb. 12, physical director Carl Porter announced.

Men who wish to enter the fitness program must attend the clinic and have their doctors sign medical clearance forms to be turned in at the clinic.

The clinic includes various strength, flexibility, blood pressure and cardiovascular tests.

The fitness program will begin Feb. 14.

Nine classes at various times during the week will be identical in content with progressive build-up of each person's exercises and jogging capacity.

Classes will be from 7 to 7:45 a.m. and 12:15 to 1 p.m. Mondays and Wednesday and from 7:15 to 8 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

By the end of 12 weeks, Porter said, "we hope to have the group jogging a non-stop mile before they can move on to increasing with their mileage and time."

Each person varies in the time he takes to become fit or lose weight, he said.

"However, with a minimum of three work-outs per week over several months, a person's declining fitness will halt and he begins on the road to a better fitness level."

Porter said it is "much easier to exercise in a group atmosphere than on an individual basis. But the hardest thing to do is to take that initial first step at getting started.

"Jogging and exercise seem to be the 'in thing' to do these days," he said. "However, its much safer doing it in a tested and professionally supervised program such as at the Quincy YMCA."

Raiders Face Malden

Can Quincy Icemen Make Comeback?

Can Quincy's hockey team make the comeback of the decade and qualify again for the state tournament?

A few weeks ago, after the Presidents suffered their fifth loss, the minimum to qualify for tournament play, and their record dropped to 2-5-1, few gave them a chance.

But since that time Bob Sylvia's skaters have won five straight games and the Presidents' coach felt if they could defeat or tie Revere's Greater Boston League leaders last night at Boston Arena, they would have a chance of achieving the seemingly impossible task of winning or tying 12 straight games to make the tourney.

"We still have a long way to go but a win over Revere or a tie, which counts for us, would keep our momentum going and I honestly feel we would have a chance," Sylvia said.

Quincy, which defeated fourth place Malden, 5-3, last Friday for win number five in a row, goes against Medford Friday at the Arena and meets North Quincy for the third time next Wednesday. Second place Everett will be next in line Feb. 11.

The Presidents might make the tourney again even if it doesn't meet the qualifying figure. The second place team automatically goes in with the league champion and the way teams are knocking each other off, the Quincy club could still make second. It is in third place only a game out of second.

Meanwhile, Ron Erikson's young North Quincy team made one of its best showings last week to tie Medford in the final 25 seconds of play, 2-2, for only its fourth point. The Raiders, with a win and two ties in 13 games, met Somerville last night, goes against Malden Friday and Quincy next Wednesday.

"I'd have to say the Malden game was our best offensive effort as we scored five goals for the first time," Sylvia said. "I was very pleased at the way the boys bounced back after Malden scored twice within a minute and a half to go ahead, 2-1. We came right back to score three goals inside of two minutes and that did it."

Pete Janis put Quincy ahead at 3:27 of the first period with the first of his two goals, with Glen Prescott assisting.

Malden's Tom O'Connor tied it at 1:23 of the middle period and Matt Marsden made it 2-1 at 2:04.

The Presidents roared back and Jack Black tied it at 2:23 with Steve Bergonzi assisting. Janis made it 3-2 at 3:35 with an assist for Russ Corner, and Paul Campbell scored at 3:57 with Steve Cedrone and Rich Patten setting him up.

Malden cut the gap to 4-3 at 3:12 of the final session but Patten scored on a nice solo dash at 7:19 for an insurance goal.

North Quincy tied favored Medford when Robbie Henderson took a pass from Steve McKay and scored at 11:35 of the last period, just 25 seconds before the buzzer.

North had taken the lead at 10:13 of the initial period when Bob Morse took a pass from Brian MacIsaac and scored.

At 3:05 of the final period Medford tied it and took a 2-1 lead at 5:42.

"If ever a team needed a lift like that tie, it was this one," said a delighted Erikson. "The kids were really down in the dumps and we were losing our confidence. We needed something like this and it may give the boys a lot more confidence from here in."

"The kids just wouldn't quit and that was the sweetest thing about the game. Keith Losordo played his best game, as did a lot of the others. Keith hurt his back in the first period and also had a heavy cold but turned in his best game ever."

"This is a real young team which has been giving me 100 percent. I am continuing to use various combinations trying to find the best ones and are pointing to next year. However, we may pull a few surprises before this year is over."

In Track

Quincy Meets Randolph, North Takes On Somerville

The Quincy and North Quincy track teams, having more than their share of problems, had to face the undefeated Met League Division II co-leaders last week and the results were as expected as each dropped its fourth decision in five meets at the Fargo Building.

Saturday the Presidents will meet Randolph while the Raiders face Somerville at 2 p.m. at the Fargo.

Quincy met Milton without its brilliant runner, Bobby Ciano, and was defeated by the Whiz Kids, 55-31. Ciano was held out of the meet in order to run in the NEAAU meet.

"I think we did all right, scoring 31 points against a powerhouse like Milton without Bobby," Quincy Assistant Coach Tom Hall said. "Like all other teams, we have been hit hard this year by the flu bug but we have made some fine showings. Needham has won 28 straight league meets and we made them go to the relay before we lost." Quincy finally won a relay race against Milton but it was much too little and too late. The Presidents' only winners were John Johnson in the high jump, Bobby McDermott in the hurdles and Ray Lawyer in the dash.

Pete Ciano, younger brother of Bobby and a great prospect at Quincy until the family moved to Milton, took second place for Milton in the two-mile. Bobby, being a senior, decided to finish up at Quincy.

North Quincy was Needham's latest victim, 65-21, although the Raiders' Bob McCormick and Steve Leet continued their winning ways.

McCormick again won the mile and Leet continued to win in the shot put. North also took the relay.

John Kelly, Mike Marks Top School Hockey Scorers

John Kelly and Mike Marks combined for 61 points as the Northstars compiled an 8-1-0 record to finish first in the Quincy School Hockey League.

More than 40 elementary school boys participated in the indoor floor hockey league directed by recreation leaders Brian Buckley and Don Smith.

The Bruins finished second in the league by beating the Blackhawks 3-0 in a play-off after the teams compiled identical 4-5-0 records.

The Canadiens, who finished last at 2-7-0, have the consolation of being the only team to beat the highly-touted Northstars.

John Kelly of the Stars led all scorers with 23 goals and 10 assists for 33 points, followed by teammate Mike Marks who picked up 16 goals and 12 assists for 28 points.

High scorers for the Hawks were Peter Martin with 15 goals and 6 assists, Tom Heavey with 8 goals and 4 assists and John Doherty with 5 goals and 5 assists.

The Bruins were led by Mike Heavey, Tom Koelsch and Tom Dornandy.

Standouts for the Canadiens were Jim Moore, the league's fourth high scorer, and flashy goaltender Mark Robinson.

The Northstars took three of the five league trophies including the Quincy Cup for first place, MVP to John Kelly and most assists to Mike Marks.

Peter Martin of the Hawks won the sportsmanship award and Jim Moore of the Canadiens was named the unsung hero.

The QSHL will select an all star team next week to compete in the Recreation Department's city-wide street hockey tournament at the end of March.

MONEY TALKS

Beware the Home-Repair Gyp Artist

By Philip J. Lawrence
President

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursday

The attractive widow was informed by a man at her front door that her house chimney looked extremely hazardous. He had noted, while on a roof two doors away, that the brickwork seemed loose and in danger of collapse.

He offered to inspect and make any necessary repairs economically, since his equipment was in the neighborhood. Soon bricks and mortar were crashing earthward, and in no time at all her chimney was torn down. The widow saw no alternative but to authorize him to rebuild it—for $400, in cash.

Later, she learned that eight other housewives in the neighborhood had been similarly victimized, each thinking that someone else had initiated a contact with reputable workmen.

All discovered that the address given by the "firm" had been a vacant lot.

A more imaginative variation of the chimney racket involves Japanese mortar mice, those pesky Oriental rodents which are said to thrive on the mortar between chimney bricks. Actually, such mice, whether Japanese or domestic, exist only in the minds of slick con men.

A so-called "chimney expert" rings the bell and states that he is checking the neighborhood for Japanese mortar mice.

At the right moment, he will open his hand and flash a corpse of a "mortar mouse" before the horrified housewife. What she has seen is a rubber toy or the real carcass of an ordinary field mouse, but it is often enough to frighten her out of her wits.

"You've got mortar mice," he announces. "You need a complete chimney repair job." In this situation, many housewives fall prey to a chimney repair contract—at an exorbitant price.

An elderly Chicago couple, who had succumbed to the mortar mice hoax, were an easy mark for the gyp artists, who returned again and again to do chimney, furnace, and foundation work. The couple did not recognize the pattern of these schemes until taken for over $9,000.

One housewife informed us that a workman who "happened to be in the neighborhood" offered to clean her catch basin. He came up from her basement coughing and sputtering and talked her into letting him rod out the pipe from the catch basin to the street sewer.

Again, he returned with the sad news that his equipment was "stuck," no doubt by a broken tile near the front of the house.

He suggested that he rip up the basement floor at the point of the blockage and replace the tile. Now was the time, while he had his truck and equipment in the neighborhood. "If you don't do this," he warned, "the water leakage will crumble your foundation."

When the housewife protested at the estimate of $300 he gave her, he exclaimed, "Lady, I am a minister on the side, a man of the Lord. Surely you can trust me!"

She turned him away. A year later, there was no back-up or seepage, no deterioration in the house's foundations.

Jackie Gleason For Governor?

Los Angeles theatre owners are really feeling the pinch of Nixonomics. Last years revenues were 22.52% under 1970's record high of $21.6 million... Things haven't been this bad for L.A. theatre impresarios since 1964... And what of JOEY HEATHERTON you ask? For one thing this talented young lady is beginning to take her film career seriously... She has signed for a co-starring role opposite RICHARD BURTON in the suspense-thriller, "BLUEBEARD"... And no, JOHN WAYNE isn't hanging up his stirrups as many of us thought. The Duke inked a contract with Warner Bros. to star in "THE TRAIN ROBBERS"...

The Second Annual Ethiopian Film Festival singled out "SOUL TO SOUL" as the best African film of 1971... Women's Lib finally made it to the Old West. ELEANOR PERRY will write and co-produce the femme-slanted outer "THE MAN WHO LOVED CAT DANCING"... This years Academy Award presentation will have the added glamour of a personal appearance by CHARLIE CHAPLIN. The famed comic will be in town April 10 to pick up an honorary Oscar... And speaking of CHAPLIN, you're a "reel" fan if you can remember 1919 was the year he made his first full length motion picture. And remember JACKIE COOGAN as CHAPLIN'S child co-star?...

Talk about film trends. The big thing now is tough-guy cop films. Keeping in line with this vogue is the British-made "GUMSHOE" with ALBERT FINNEY in the tough-sleuth lead... GERALD DI PEGO will do the screenplay of "THE HOUSE OF SEVEN GABLES"... If the first outing is any indication, "THE DON RICKLES SHOW" is in trouble. RICKLES, for all his talent and humor just can't hack it in a Mr. Nice Guy role... Just a matter of time before "THE LORD WON'T MIND" is brought to the screen. The GORDON MERRICK novel on homosexuality is the best yet written on this subject, and packs the wallop necessary to make it big as a motion picture...

As of this writing "A CLOCKWORK ORANGE" would have to rate a solid favorite to capture an Oscar as the Best of '71. Besides topping the New York Film Critics prestigious poll, this picture led the 10 Best List of Time magazine. Newsweek, JUDITH CRIST and Group W's BOB SALMAGGI... Of course not everyone is in agreement with the above consensus. For one, the National Society of Film Critics voted, of all films, "CLAIRE'S KNEE" as '71's best... JACKIE GLEASON is getting the buildup as a possible political candidate for the Florida governorship... For all her looks and acting ability STELLA STEVENS just can't seem to connect on the superstar merry-go-round. And she tries so!...

JULIE ANDREWS fans will be delighted to know of her ABC-TV Variety series set to swing in September... I still feel DYAN CANNON is suffering the consequences of over exposure, and "SUCH GOOD FRIENDS" proves the point... Another television first for San Francisco's station KPIX. They recently conducted a live, in jail interview with ANGELA DAVIS. Hmmm... Talk about being hung up over a TV series, and one cancelled yet. The first annual "STAR TREK" convention was held in N.Y.C. Jan. 21-23, with over 2,000 "fans" in attendance at the Staller-Hilton conclave...

QUOTABLE, QUOTES: ALFRED HITCHCOCK witticizing the Hollywood employment problem: "It would be easier to keep production in Hollywood if filmmakers were faithful to their wives"... I honestly don't understand the current film obsession with the Hitler revival. Seems like everybody just has to get in on the act by making a picture dealing on some aspect of his sordid life... "LAST 10 DAYS OF HITLER" will have ALEC GUINNESS in the lead, and there's scuttlebutt of another film, financed by KIRK DOUGLAS, starring DUSTIN HOFFMAN... Only 27 years later, and already the memory of the Hitler atrocities are on the wane. To my way of thinking, this Nazi-era nostalgia thing has gone far enough...

Keeping it all in the family, SUSAN SENNETT continues the film tradition set forth by her grandfather MACK SENNETT. The eye fetching lovely has a regular role in OZZIE and HARRIET's new series... Who says Hollywood marriages don't last? The MILBURN STONE'S celebrated their 25th a few weeks ago... GREER GARSON is all smiles these days. She's the proud owner of ACK ACK, winner of the Eclipse Award, in recognition of its being named Horse of the Year... "PATHS OF GLORY" still rates high as one of the most devastating anti-war movies ever produced. And on the same line, "NIGHT TRAIN TO MUNICH" [1940] is right up there when film buffs start rattling off the best suspense thrillers ever...

For the curious, HENRI LANGLOIS is the collector of more motion pictures than any other single person or institute. His Cinematheque Francaise in Paris, serves as a warehouse of film footage dating back to the Silents... BILL RUSSELL over does it with the flip sarcasm as ABC color man for the NBA telecast. Like, what's he trying to prove?...

SOUND OFF: It's no secret that television isn't what could be termed a Garden of Eden for "Name" film actors. ANTHONY QUINN and SHIRLEY MACLAINE, to single out two, think it is anything but... Why is it they draw big at the paying box office, and cancel out flat when all the viewer has to do is turn on the dial, and for free yet?... The same can be asked of DICK VAN DYKE and LUCILLE BALL. Ratings setters on the small tube, but bust at the theatre box office. But why?... Is it the way we, the viewer, identify and label certain types?...

Golf, Bridge Lessons At YMCA

The Quincy YMCA is offering two series of golf lessons and a course in bridge for beginners for adults.

Jimmy Jones, golf professional at Duxbury Yacht Club and Golf-In of Braintree will teach rudiments of the game to beginners and work with seasoned golfers on improving swing and club technique.

Classes will be held Thursday afternoons from 1 to 2:45 Feb. 3 through March 23 and on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9:15 p.m. Feb. 29 through April 18.

Donald Deschenes, bridge teacher at Marshfield Country Club, will conduct an eight-week bridge course on Wednesdays from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. March 1 through April 19.

The first hour of each lesson will be demonstration and lecture followed by an hour of instructional play.

Pre-registration is required for both courses. Class sizes are limited.

ENC At Babson College

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team hosted Suffolk University Tuesday and will play at Babson College tonight.

The results of these games against two of the Crusaders' strongest foes of the year will have a lot to say about their chances of making the NAIA Tourney. Next Tuesday ENC will be home to Framingham State.

ENC lost in the opening round of the Mt. Vernon Invitational Tourney last week at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, bowing to Zanesville, a branch of Ohio U., 103-87, but set a school scoring mark in the consolation game as it rolled over host Mt. Vernon, 129-46. The previous high for the Wollaston College was 126.

In this win Don Eads scored 33 points, and was one of three named Most Valuable Players in the tourney. Brother Dave scored 17, Gerry Whetstone 14, Howie Briggs, Rick Reyenger and Mike Cox 12 each and Terry Briggs 11. Briggs had 12 rebounds and Reyenger 11. Don Eads, incidentally, hit on 14 of 18 shots from the floor.

In the loss to Zanesville the Eads brothers combined for 44 points.

Beau's Place To Host Huskies

Beau's Place of Quincy, with first place in the Cranberry Basketball League just about sewed up, last night sought its 13th league win without a loss at Plymouth.

Sunday night at 7:15 the team will be home to the Easton Huskies, a perennial league power, at Quincy Vo-Tech gym. Beau's is 15-2 overall.

Beau's had little trouble making the Weymouth

Recreation Alphas its 12th straight league victim last Sunday, 97-70, at Vo-Tech before a fine crowd as the Alphas, currently in their 37th year under the venerable Bruce Saunders, were unable to halt the Quincy club's fast break.

Al Dalton and Mike Greenlaw had 18 points apiece, Bob McNamara and Rich Sprague, probably the best sixth man in the league, 16 each and Glen Gauthier 13. Frank Wizneski had 24 for Weymouth.

Last week Beau's, short-handed with only six players available, suffered its second non-league loss, 128-104, to the Roxbury Rams at Roxbury YMCA as the Rams had eight players in double figures.

Greenlaw paced the losing attack with 23 points, Dalton had 22 and McNamara 21.

Quincy Frosh Icemen Close In On Title

Quincy's undefeated junior high-freshman hockey team will be idle until Feb. 12 when it seeks its sixth straight Greater Boston Freshman League win against Revere in a 7 p.m. game at Boston Arena.

North Quincy will meet Medford in the 6 o'clock opener the same night.

Ken Hayes' Quincy team topped Somerville, 5-2, last Saturday as Ted Wiedemann had the hat trick [three goals] and Rick Avery and Bill Hamill scored one apiece.

With only two games remaining, Quincy looms as the league champ and is expected to go into the playoffs beginning on Feb. 24 with an unbeaten mark.

Twins Pace ENC Girls To 5th Straight Win

There appears to be no stopping the Eastern Nazarene College girls' basketball team.

Nancy Detwiler's team, sparked by the Brooks twins,

Janice and Janet, topped Fitchburg State, 58-49, to run its undefeated streak to five.

Janice scored 20 points and Janet 19. Cindy Hill contributed 10.

In its previous game the ENC lasses had romped over Barrington, 53-35, with Janice Brooks having 15 points and Miss Hill 13.

City Ski Lessons Given At Wollaston School

The Recreation Department began its third session of ski lessons for high school age and adults Jan. 27 at the Wollaston School.

Lessons for elementary and junior high groups began Jan. 29.

Adult lessons will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 3 and 10. Elementary lessons will be held Feb. 5 and 12 at 2 p.m.

School Menu

Menu for the eight cafeterias of the Quincy Public School System, Feb. 7-11.

Monday - American Chop Suey, green beans, peanut butter sandwich, milk.

Tuesday - Submarine roll, vegetable, fruit juice, milk.

Wednesday - Meat Loaf, mashed potato, kernel corn, buttered roll, milk.

Thursday - Turkey fricassee, mashed potato, vegetable, cranberry sauce, roll, milk.

Friday - Pizza, chips, garden salad, apple, milk.

Whitman Merchants Roll 1,754 In Koch Club Tourney

Whitman Merchants rolled a 1,754 Sunday to crush North Quincy Knights of Columbus in the second half of the opening round of the Koch Club Greater Quincy Men's Candlepin Bowling Tournament.

In other matches, Colonial Merchants defeated Sawyer-Campbell 1,736-1,676, Quincy Church League edged Boston Gear Works 1,613-1,603, Weymouth Landing Recreation ousted Merrymount Men 1,598-1,585.

And Blessed Sacrament nosed out The Socialites Men 1,595-1,593. Professional Businessmen defeated Dedham Manor 1,593-1,555 and Federal Auto Body outlasted Squantum Men 1,565-1,516.

Whitman Merchants jumped off to an 87-pin lead in the first string and swept the hapless Knights to post a final tally of 1,754-1,566.

Jim Rigo led the merchants with a tournament-high three string total of 395, rolling strings of 136, 127 and 132. Bob Crowley's 386, George Ewell's 330, Bill Glover's 324 and Dennis Chick's 319 rounded out the Merchant scoring.

Ed Flynn and Joe Radzik Jr. each bowled a 324 for the K. of C. losing cause.

Colonial Merchants were paced by former TV bowling champions Dick Ewell [385] and Lou Pagnani [380] with Jim Powers' 349 and Leo Richards 320.

Sawyer-Campbell have the small consolation that they posted the third highest score in the 14-team competition in their loss to Colonial.

Scoring for Sawyer-Campbell were Jim Hart, 348; Dick Peterson, 343, John Gardner, 342 and Ed Hohman, 335.

Steve Miller's 368 and Dave Bates' 324 led the Quincy Church League to its come-from-behind win over Gear Works, which boasted a 349 from Dana Chella and a 339 from Bruce Barrie.

Bob D'Orval was high scorer for Weymouth Landing Recreation at 353 and Jim Boyd and Ken Hanson each tallied 336 in Merrymount's losing cause.

Peter Hartford's spare in the 10th box was the edge for Blessed Sacrament's two-pin victory. Hartford's 333 was second to Joe Pacetti's 336 for Blessed Sacrament.

Socialites were led by Mario Ricci at 343 and Lou Faiella at 327.

Professional Businessmen were led by Bob Hansen at 361, Mike Salvati at 340 and Gary DeVincentis at 334. Tom Moriarty [340] and Tom Thissell [335] led Dedham.

Larry Bryan's 154, high string for the day, helped Federal Auto Body to its victory over Squantum Men. Bryan led Federal scorers with a 361. Tom Kelliher was high roller for Squantum at 330.

Sunday's winners will move on to play the seven victors of the Jan. 23 competition, Peter's Lounge, Wollaston Men's Club, Braintree Church League, St. Boniface, Koch Club and Montclair Men's Club.

The tournament is held Sunday afternoons at Merrymount Daylight Alleys.

Brett Urges Driver Education

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has urged that the Registry of Motor Vehicles undertake an educational campaign to remind drivers to "keep right except when passing".

In a letter to Registrar David J. Lucey, Brett said "today on our expressways and turnpikes a great number, perhaps even the majority, of the drivers keep in the middle lane and some even in the far left lane."

He said such a practice "tends to limit the free flow of traffic and can create hazardous situations at times when another driver wants to pass."

"Passing on the right is sometimes the only recourse a faster driver has and that can lead to difficulties at times," he said.

Brett urged Lucey to conduct an education campaign, establish highway signs reminding drivers to keep right and distribute booklets on safe driving habits.

He also recommended painting on traffic lanes the speeds which should prevail in the lanes.

A final step would be to have Registry personnel traveling the highways, note registrations of drivers in the passing lanes and send "a friendly notice" reminding the operator to keep right.

LaRaia Pledges Support To Skating Rink

Councillor-at-large Joseph J. LaRaia says he will support the municipal ice skating rink facility as proposed by school officials for final city Council approval.

LaRaia said he would have preferred a non-school supervised facility because of "the primary need to provide ice time to the skating public and local youth groups."

He said he hopes school officials "do not wander from their plan to distribute the ice time to all groups proportionately."

He added that he hopes school officials can obtain a full 65 percent reimbursement for the total cost of the project.

Mrs. Henry Castle Asks Wetland Preservation

Mrs. Henry Castle of 18 Bay State Rd., North Quincy, has asked the Department of Natural Resources to declare the land behind her house a viable natural wetland.

In a letter to DNR Director Kenneth A. Crossman, Mrs. Castle urged that the salt water marsh near Jordan Marsh Warehouse be preserved so wildlife may "continue to enjoy its natural habitat."

"There have been several loads of cement rubbish and cement blocks dumped recently near the burned out buildings between Commander Shea Blvd and Quincy Shore Drive," she wrote.

"I have watched from my house a truck dumping some of this," she wrote.

Mrs. Castle said several maple trees, a flower bed, vegetable garden and eight feet of her lawn have been damaged by flooding since filling began.

Salt water tides never came into her yard before the marsh on the south side of Quincy Shore Blvd was filled, she said.

"From my kitchen window, I have seen wild ducks swimming and diving for food in the creeks of the marsh."

"Also, when the tide is out, numerous pheasants abound and feed in the marsh together with many species of wild birds," she said.

State Oversight Committee Ward 2 Speakers

The Ward 2 Civic Association will hold its monthly meeting Feb. 7 at 8 p.m. at the Fore River Clubhouse, Nevada Road.

Mrs. Phyllis Bagen will preside. Guest speakers will be members of the State Post Audit Oversight Committee:

William Finnegan, Budget Director; Rep. Gerald Lombard, [D] Fitchburg House Chairman and Sen. Arthur Tobin, [D] Senate Vice Chairman.

The meeting is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Delahunt Asks Play Area Flooding

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has asked Mayor Hannon to consider flooding the basketball court opposite Massachusetts Fields School in Wollaston for use as a skating facility.

Delahunt said he made the request because Sailors Home Pond is dangerous for children to skate on because several consecutive days of severe cold are needed for proper freezing.

He asked that the School Department budget include up to $3,000 for the necessary work.

Garage Construction To Mark 'Crucial Period' For Quincy Center

Employees of Quincy Center businesses are urged to form car pools and seek private off-street parking during the eight months beginning March 1.

In a letter to businessmen, Charles T. Gallagher, president of the Quincy Center Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, said the period will see "the most acute parking situation that we have experienced to date."

The reasons for his concern are construction of a municipal parking garage which will temporarily eliminate 260 spaces in the Ross Parking area and the no-fix ticket system.

"Currently the Chamber Traffic and Parking Committee is working with Mayor Hannon and DPW Commissioner Ricciuti to create all day off-street parking near the Turnstyle store," he said.

Spaces on the fourth and fifth floors of the MBTA garage at Quincy Center Station may be rented by employees for $10 per month.

There are also 75 spaces near the Congregational Church at the foot of Whitwell St., 40 spaces at Sweeney Funeral Home at Elm and South Sts., and 25 at St. John's Church on School St.

A map indicating the areas where all-day parking will be available to employees will be distributed by the Chamber and the City Planning Department.

"We ask you to encourage employees to use these parking facilities," Gallagher wrote, "and, to further consider the use of car pools or the use of the MBTA from North Quincy and Wollaston."

He reminded merchants that the no-fix system enforced by meter maids will be implemented on or around Feb. 15 and should eliminate all-day parkers from areas with one or two hour parking.

"Our business and your employees jobs are 'on the line' for the crucial period during the construction of the garage," he said.

"The willingness of all of us and our employees to walk the few extra yards is all that's necessary to keep the parking areas nearest retail facilities, banks and other businesses free for the person we need — the customer."

A record $52 million municipal budget, representing an increase of $4.8 million over last year, is expected to be presented to the City Council Monday.

The budget, which includes $19.1 million for schools, would entail a $21.70 increase in the tax rate based on last year's figures, bringing the rate to $164.20.

Present tax rate is $142.50.

The actual increase remains unknown, however, until the amount of state aid the city will receive is determined.

A spokesman for Mayor Walter J. Hannon said the chief executive has trimmed some $3.35 million from the non-school budget, bringing that figure down to $33.4 million.

The Mayor said he has eliminated pay raises and programs and favored bond issues for equipment but the budget "will still be up because of contractual agreements."

Facts and figures are expected to remain undisclosed until the Council session but the emphasis is on economy, Hannon said.

"It has been traditional for the Mayor to leave something for the Council to cut, but I don't feel I've left anything," he said.

He mentioned a $25,000 item for a hospital needs space study which he feared the council might find expendable but which he felt was "greatly needed."

In making his decisions, Hannon said he "took a hard look at the salary situation and decided I had to go for equipment."

Included in the budget are a $200,000 bond issue for new fire equipment and a $250,000 bond for the Department of Public Works plus Water Department funds for 5,000 water meters.

The DPW last year spent $87,000 for equipment repairs.

Tobin, Brownell Propose 'Secret Witness Fund'

A bill to establish monetary rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of felons has been filed by Sen. Arthur H. Tobin and Rep. Thomas F. Brownell.

Under the bill, a city or town could establish a "secret witness fund" not in excess of $10,000 to be administered by the publishers of local newspapers.

The fund would be designed to offer rewards to informants who provide information leading to arrest and conviction and, at the same time, protect his identity.

The city of Chicago has had a secret witness fund in operation since 1968 and has solved 22 murders through its use.

Sen. Tobin and Rep. Brownell have said they feel the legislation will assist in combating the epidemic of drug crimes and other felonies.

Federal money for the program may be available from the Safe Streets Act of 1968, according to Brownell.

Senator Brooke To Speak At Quincy GOP Dinner April 3

Monday, April 3, is the date selected for the Quincy Republican Dinner, featuring Senator Edward W. Brooke as the chief speaker, announces Leo F. Meady of Quincy, general committee chairman.

Other state, county and local Republican Officeholders are also expected to attend the event, which is to be held at the new Sons of Italy Hall on Quarry St.

It will be the major fund-raising event of the season for the Republican City Committee.

Local residents desiring further information, or willing to assist, are asked to contact Mr. Meady or Thomas H. Blacklock, Quincy GOP party chairman.

Microscope Donated In Memory Of Hancock Student

Students, teachers and members of the Mothers' Club of the Hancock School donated an electrical microscope to the school today in memory of third grade student Edward E. Duncanson who died of an inoperable brain tumor last September.

Edward Duncanson's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duncanson of 387 Water St., were to attend the presentation ceremony held in the school's media center.

The electrical microscope is used to view microscopic slides and living microscopic material.

● An Editorial

No Privileged Parkers

Soon a pedestrian may be able to look under a "No Parking" sign in downtown Quincy and see no car parked there.

Soon a person may be able to walk down Hancock St., return a few hours later and not see the same cars parked in the same spots.

Hopefully the era of that privilege character - the all-day parking hog - is coming to an end in Quincy.

Next Tuesday is the target date for the start of Quincy's "no-fix" ticket system and the four new meter maids have been making "dry runs" this week to practice their new jobs.

And those jobs will not be easy.

These four women are charged with the responsibility of eliminating all-day or overtime parking at the Ross, Hancock and Della Chiesa lots and along Hancock St.

To perform their duty faithfully, they must patrol Hancock St. and side streets to prevent overtime parking in the one-hour zones and the double- and triple-parking in front of City Hall.

Harold Slate, President of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce, has said that the success or failure of the no-fix system rests on the shoulders of the meter maids.

But we don't think they can really do it alone. The success of the system and, possibly, the economic well-being of Quincy Center depends on cooperation from all - merchants, employees, shoppers and politicians.

No-fix goes into effect two weeks before construction is scheduled to begin on the Ross Parking Garage, which will disrupt, perhaps, half the parking spaces in the Ross lot during the construction period.

It arrives at a time when the City Council is all but certain to approve an increase in meter fees.

It arrives during what is hopefully the tail end of a critical period in the economic history of the city and the country.

Employees who monopolize the limited number of parking spaces in the "square" during the next few months could be eliminating their own jobs by discouraging shoppers from patronizing downtown businesses.

City Hall patrons triple-parking hamper the free flow of traffic into the downtown area, which will be disrupted enough by construction.

The responsibility rests on all of us.

Opposes Urban Renewal In Any Form

Editor, Quincy Sun:

A few weeks ago your news media mentioned statements by Quincy City Council President Arthur Tobin and his stand on Urban Renewal.

Mr. Tobin stated that he is for Urban Renewal in the downtown area of Quincy but that he is against it in the residential areas. With that statement Mr. Tobin has given in to the opposition [Mayor Hannon]. He has compromised and I believe he has hurt himself before his own party, my party, the Democratic party!

Urban Renewal, I believe, should not be allowed to start anywhere in this city-including the downtown Business area.

Urban Renewal is like a cancer and it will eventually spread to the residential areas of this city and ruin the profile of our now-consistent, stabilized neighborhoods.

I for one am 100% against Urban Renewal. It ruined the West End, an area considered, at one time, the best example of a working, harmonizing group of people-consisting of most nationalities and races.

Urban Renewal took their land and dwellings by eminent domain and the West End was never the same. Sure, in a way it was good for business but what about the people who were displaced? What is more important to the citizens of Quincy-Business, or the welfare of its citizens? Business will always survive but the workman needs help to survive.

I urge all citizens of this great City of Quincy to oppose any form of Urban Renewal. Write or call the Mayor and Council President Tobin and Demand that they stop this eccentric idea of bringing Urban Renewal into the City of Quincy-In Any Form.

Individuals "Taxpayers Ask IRS"

Q. I am 67 years old. I have dividend and interest income. I also received Social Security of $1,944 in 1971. May I claim a retirement income credit?

A. No, you would not qualify for the retirement income credit. The maximum amount of retirement income on which the credit may be computed is $1,524 [In the case of a married couple filing a joint return who elect the joint retirement income credit, the maximum is $2,286]. This figure must be reduced by certain pensions and annuities including Social Security and by earned income received. Since your Social Security payments were more than $1,524, no credit is allowable.

Q. My husband was out of work for a while and we did not pay our 1970 real estate taxes in 1970. Instead, we paid them in 1971 with our current year's payment. Do we have to amend our 1970 return to get credit for the 1970 real estate tax?

A. No, you do not have to amend your prior year's return. An individual who is on the cash basis may deduct the real estate taxes imposed on him in the year in which they are paid, regardless of the year to which they apply.

Q. I am a salesman and I use my own car in my business. I have been told that I may deduct a standard rate per mile instead of itemizing my actual automobile expenses. What is the rate?

A. The rate is 12 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use.

Q. This is the first year that I have enough deductions to itemize. I travel to the doctor's office every week for medical care. Can I deduct the transportation?

A. Yes, payment for transportation for medical care qualifies as a medical expense. You may include amounts paid for bus, taxi, train etc., or a standard mileage rate of 6 cents per mile if you use your own car. You may also deduct parking fees and tolls which you must pay when travelling to secure medical care.

Q. My father is retired and lives with my husband and me. He does not work and collects only a little Social Security. He owns a small home which he rents out for $100 per month. His gross income is $1,200 but when his rental expenses are deducted, his net rental income is only $300 and therefore, he owes no income tax. We were wondering if we could claim him on our return, since we provide most of his support.

A. No, you may not claim your father, since his gross income was over $675.

Q. Our 13 year old daughter inherited some money from her great-aunt. The bank interest on her inheritance was $2,000. Do we report this on our return?

A. No, an unmarried minor must file an income tax return if he or she had income of $1,700 or more during the tax year. A minor's income is not to be included on his or her parent's return.

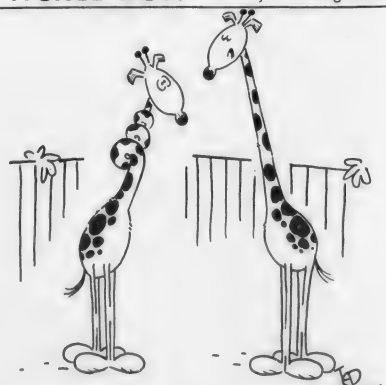

Q. Our 19 year old son worked full time and went to school nights all year. May we claim him under the special rule for students?

A. No, you may not claim your son since he is not considered a full-time student if he is employed during the day and attends school at night. In order to claim a child who is a student, the child must be a full-time student during some part of each of 5 calendar months of the year and you must provide more than one-half of his support.

Q. I was out of work from May 1 to May 25 due to illness. During this time, my employer paid me my regular salary. Am I entitled to any sick pay exclusion?

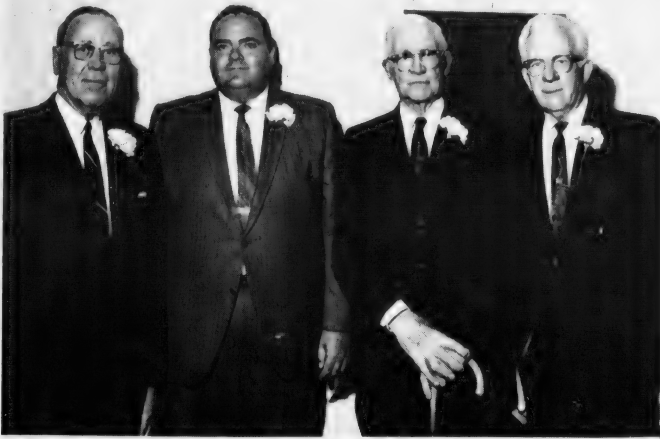

A. No, since you received more than 75% of your salary, you are subject to a 30 day waiting period before you may claim an exclusion. Since your absence from work lasted only 25 days, you may not claim a sick pay exclusion.

"Unwind, man!"

A Rare Memento

Missing Historic Mayors' Photo Found At Auction

People pick up the strangest things at barn sales these days.

Take Jim Gosselin, for instance. Jim was visiting a cousin last week and the two of them stopped off at an auction "somewhere in the Worcester area."

A hired auctioneer was offering various odds and ends for bid to the small crowd, one of which caught Jim's eye.

It was a framed photograph of - of all things - former Quincy Mayors Thomas S. Burgin, James R. McIntyre, David S. McIntosh and Amelio Della Chiesa.

And, an historic memento.

The photo was taken by the Quincy Sun at the 1969 dedication of the David S. McIntosh Public Works Building and presented to then Mayor McIntyre. He had it placed in an engraved frame and hung in the City Council chambers until it mysteriously disappeared about a year ago.

Jim, who is chairman of the Quincy Teenage Republicans, remembered seeing a copy of it in the 1969 Quincy Annual Report and remembered reading in The Quincy Sun about its disappearance.

"The auctioneer held it up and asked if anyone would offer a buck for it," he said.

"So I offered $1 and someone else evidently figured it must be worth something and bid $1.25. But I outbid him at a buck and a half."

When he got back to Quincy, he called Mayor Walter J. Hannon's office to check the description of the photo.

"I spoke to one of the girls in the Mayor's office, but she couldn't give me a description, so I called Henry Bosworth [publisher of The Quincy Sun]," he said.

The picture was originally taken by The Sun and a check by Bosworth proved it to be the phantom photo.

Former Mayor McIntyre received the picture by The Sun, framed it and had it engraved with the City seal, the Mayors' names and dates of office.

After Mayor McIntosh's death, Mayor McIntyre presented it to the city.

No one knows how it disappeared or where it's been since. But thanks to James J. Gosselin, 18, of 23 Belmont St., North Quincy, it's back and none the worse for wear.

The photo is of historic value to the city as it is a rare memento showing four Quincy Mayors together - four mayors who served in a span of four decades.

As time goes by, it's historic value will continue to grow.

Delahunt For Planning, Development Department

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has urged prompt establishment of the proposed Department of Planning and Urban Development as "a needed financial tool in Quincy's future."

Delahunt cited the new skating rink, school offices and Ross Parking Garage as reasons why "we must take every possible step to utilize federal and state, rather than local funds."

He said that if such a department were established "the Ross Parking Garage might have cost the City of Quincy $1 million instead of $3 million."

With a Department of Planning and Community Development, "all plans, programs and personnel are responsible to the office of the Mayor and all projects are carried out in line with the wishes of the City Council, he said.

"This provides the kind of control I want and I know the citizens of Quincy want so we may be assured that downtown business development will not infringe on our neighborhoods.

"I am confident that we are taking an important step in the City of Quincy for relief of the taxing home owner and providing a means of responsible downtown improvement," he said.

Joseph Brophy Named To Park-Recreation Board

Mayor Walter J. Hannon announces the appointment of Joseph F. Brophy of 156 Babcock St., Houghs Neck, to the Quincy Park - Recreation Board.

The Mayor also announced the re-appointment of William J. Mitchell, Miss Katherine G. McCoy and Theodore P. DeCristofaro as members of the Board.

Mr. Brophy is a life-long resident of Quincy, attended Quincy Schools, and graduated from Boston College in 1950 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Government and Economics.

Mr. Brophy served as Charter Senior Vice Commander Post

380, American Legion, Past President Hough's Neck Community Council, Past President Atherton Hough PTA, Past President Broad Meadows PTA, Former South District Commissioner Boy Scouts of America Quincy Council, Past President Local 380 IAU AFL-CIO and is a member of Blessed Sacrament Holy Name Society.

He is presently employed by Employers' Insurance Company of Wausau as an Industrial Sales Representative.

He is married to the former Ann Sideri and they are the parents of two sons, Dennis and Joseph, Jr.

Willard School Coal Bin Now Pupil's Art Center

The former coal bin in the basement of the Willard School formally opened yesterday as a children's art center, complete with granite walls, beamed ceiling and arched door with iron hinges.

Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, superintendent of Quincy Public Schools, officiated at ribbon cutting ceremonies sponsored by the school's PTA.

The center will focus on development of children's aesthetic potential, giving them opportunities to explore visual arts, music, drama and dance.

The room was originally a coal bin which was converted to a dead storage area when the school changed to oil heat.

The center was an outgrowth of an idea by Mrs. Robin McGoff, art specialist at Willard.

WJDA's Win Bettinson Wins Special UF Award

At the annual meeting of the South Shore Board of Directors of Massachusetts Bay United Fund, Win Bettinson, program director of Quincy radio station WJDA, received the Fund's "special award for public service."

The plaque was presented to Bettinson by Charles G. Peterson of Quincy, President of the South Shore Board and president of the Quincy Cooperative Bank.

Mr. Bettinson was cited for "generous amount of time he gives to the United Fund campaign on his programs, the warm and special way he handles United Fund interviews, coupled with his extensive knowledge of United Fund services, plus the out-standing manner in which he publicizes South Shore United Fund activities."

Bettinson is a graduate of Waltham High School and Leland Powers School. He is serving his 20th year with WJDA. He was formerly with WLYN in Lynn for three years and WHEB in Portsmouth, N.H. for nine years.

He is a Braintree town meeting member. He and his wife, Jean have a son Dana, a sophomore at Braintree High School and a daughter Andrea, an eighth grade student at South Junior High, Braintree.

Mattress Care

The life of your mattress will be increased if you follow a few simple steps.

First, use a mattress cover and pad.

Occasionally vacuum clean both mattress and box spring and expose both to fresh air.

You should turn your mattress end to end and side to side about once each month, being careful not to bend it too severely in the process.

Be careful to avoid continual side-saddle sitting and lounging on the mattress edge and remember that "trampoline" usage by children breaks down the inner construction.

Finally, do not use any dry cleaning fluid on foam mattresses and do not expose foam mattresses to the hot sun for any long period of time.

A well-built mattress requires very little care. A poorly constructed one can not be improved by any amount of care.

200 To Attend Seniors 'Hearts And Flowers' Dance

Quincy's Senior Citizens "King and Queen of Hearts" will be selected at Fridays' Hearts and Flowers Valentine Dance.

Mayor Walter J. Hannan and Mrs. Hannan will officiate at the crowning ceremonies. The event will be held at the Fore River clubhouse, Nevada Rd. More than 200 are expected to attend.

Special guests will include Quincy City Councilors Joseph LaRaia, J. Vincent Smyth, Edward S. Graham, Clifford H. Marshall and their wives, Senator and Mrs. Arthur Tobin, Representative and Mrs. Joseph E. Brett, Representative and Mrs. John Brownell, Former Mayor and present State Senate Counsel and Mrs. James R. McIntyre and members of the Quincy Park and Recreation Board.

The social event is being held by the Quincy Recreation Department under the direction of Mrs. Marion Andrews, Director of Quincy Senior Citizens Activities.

A social hour will be held at 7 p.m. Dancing will be from 8 to 11 p.m. to the music of Frank D'Allessandro's Orchestra. The "King and Queen" will be selected at 8:15 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Appreciation Night Feb. 26 For Miss Betty DeFazio

An appreciation night for Miss Betty DeFazio, 22, of 346 Manet Ave., Houghs Neck, will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight Feb. 26 at the Quincy Elks Home on Hancock St.

Miss DeFazio, who was seriously injured in an auto accident May 1970, has been making daily cab trips to Holy Ghost Hospital in Cambridge for treatment since her release from the hospital last July.

She spent 91 days in a coma at Mt. Auburn Hospital, Cambridge, before being transferred to Holy Ghost.

Mrs. George B. McDonald of Grove St., a co-sponsor of the appreciation night, said the affair is in recognition of "all the times she gave of herself."

Miss DeFazio, a graduate of Quincy High School, donated many evenings before the accident singing at nursing homes and at the Jamaica Plain Veterans Administration Hospital.

Tickets will be available at the door or from Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. James McGregor of Forrest Ave. or Mario DiBona of Houghs Neck.

Stella Del Nord Carneval Feb. 12 At Sons Of Italy

Quincy Lodge Stella Del Nord will hold its annual Carneval dinner dance at the Golden Lion Suite of the Sons of Italy Hall, Quarry St., Feb. 12.

Mrs. Helen Testa, chairman, promises costumes galore and a gaily-decorated hall to fit the festive mood of the occasion.

Committee members include Mrs. Elsa Zanolli, Mrs. Eleanor Bertrum and Mrs. Elsa Heath.

S.S. Friends Of Ireland Plan Benefit Dance Feb. 19

The South Shore Friends of Ireland are sponsoring a dance Feb. 19 for the aid of the African Mission Fathers of Dedham.

It will be held at the Fore River Clubhouse, Nevada Rd. Quincy Point, from 8 p.m. to midnight.

Music will be by Mickey Connolly and his band. Entertainment will be by the Rita O'Shea Academy of Irish Steppancers.

The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

$2.5 Million In K. of C. Loans

"Only five months after accepting the first application, the Knights of Columbus Student Loan Program has distributed $2,524,282, to 1,901 successful student applicants," reports Philip A. LaBrecque, Grand Knight of Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus in "As of Oct. 31, 1971 over 1,700 students have received subsidized loans totaling $2.2 Million throughout the Order."

"The interest on these loans is subsidized by the U.S. government because the adjusted gross annual income of these students' families does not exceed $15,000."

Additional loans have been made for $278,622 without subsidized interest of 197 applicants. The average individual loan is $1,327."

"The student loan program is funded by the Knights of Columbus and guaranteed by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare [HEW]. Under the program eligible students can apply for a maximum annual loan of $1,500 for each full academic year continuing for as many as five years. Thus a total of $7,500 is available to them in the program. The current interest is 7%."

"Applications and certification forms for Knights of Columbus student loans are available now for the September 1972 school term. They can be had by writing to: Knights of Columbus, Student Loan Committee, P. O. Drawer 1670, New Haven, Connecticut. 06507."

Eligibility for the loans is restricted to members of the Order, their wives, sons and daughters; and the widows, sons and daughters of members who were in good standing at the time of their death."

Rev. Bertil Hult Elected To Evangelistic Board

Six South Shore clergy and lay leaders were elected and re-elected to positions of leadership at the 84th annual dinner program of the Evangelistic Association of New England, held at Park Street Church, Boston.

Allan C. Emery Jr., of Weymouth Heights, president.

Emery and five others named to the Board of Directors for a three-year term included:

Donald Cushing, South Weymouth; Edgar Visser, Hingham, who also served as Chairman of the Nominating Committee; Howard Williams, Sharon; Dr. David Coleman, Norwell, a member of the faculty at Harvard University; and the Rev. Bertil Hult, pastor of Salem Lutheran Church, Quincy.

Emery, who has been General Chairman of Billy Graham New England-wide rallies, outlined plans for a new evangelistic outreach in the six state area.

The Association conducts programs in rural evangelism, hospital visitation, Nursing Home visitation, youth and teen-age programs, seminars and clinics on church growth, and programs for training and mobilizing the laity as gospel witnesses.

Also serving on the Board are the Rev. Stephen Bradley, Pastor, First Baptist Church, Braintree; and Russell Vetterlein, Wollaston.

'Soul' Christian Science Subject

A Bible lesson-sermon entitled "Soul", concerning the nature of joy that lasts, will be delivered at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 20 Greenleaf St., at 10:45 a.m. Feb. 13.

Commentary from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states "Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul".

City Historian for 45 Years Services Today For William C. Edwards

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday for William Churchill Edwards Sr., 78, Quincy city historian for the past 45 years.

Mr. Edwards, who died Monday at Quincy City Hospital, was the first city historian in Massachusetts.

He served unofficially from 1928 until the paid position was established in 1956 and was the author of "Historic Quincy", the city's official history written in 1945.

He has continued in the position since reaching the mandatory retirement age of 70 in 1963 by special legislation which states there was "no one in Quincy available with the same or similar skills."

Mr. Edwards, who traces his ancestry to the Mayflower, was born and educated in Quincy and served in the Army during World War I.

He was chairman of the board of managers of historical sites in Quincy from 1948 to 1956 and served on the Quincy Selective Service Board during World War II.

He was historian of United First Parish Church, curator of the Quincy Historical Society and a member of the Braintree Historical Society, Mayflower Society of Boston, Rotary and Rural Masonic Lodge.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Isabelle (Crane) Edwards; a son, William C. Edwards Jr. of Quincy; a brother, L. Kenneth Edwards of Framingham; a sister, Mrs. Marion Dahlerup of Hingham, and three grandchildren.

Services will be held at United First Parish Church, Quincy Center.

Mayor Hannon ordered that city flags be lowered to half mast in honor of Mr. Edwards, who, he said, guarded the historic sites in Quincy like "a man would guard his own home."

The Mayor said he was "a man of a generation of men that isn't around any more."

"He felt like the Presidents Adams were his sons, he was so wrapped up in the history of the City," he said.

Historical Society President H. Hobart Holly said "few men have left a richer legacy to their city than William Churchill Edwards."

"His extraordinary knowledge of Quincy history was a rich resource that he used to the benefit of his city."

St. Chrysostom's Holds Evening Series

A five-week series of evening programs for adults dealing with life in the Episcopal Church will be held Thursdays through March 9 at St. Chrysostom's Church.

The program begins this evening at 8 with a film, "The Church in the World", a confrontation with the Lord's call to discipleship.

On Feb. 17 from 8 to 9:30 p.m. participants will discuss "What Is an Episcopalian?" with use of a filmstrip entitled "Anglicanism".

"What Do We Believe?" about God, man, Jesus, the church, the Bible, "The Divine Drama" and creed will be the topic Feb. 24.

A film entitled "The Supper" will illustrate an experience in separation and freedom on March 2.

"Doing the Truth" will be the March 9 topic for discussion on how to be a seven-day-a-week Christian.

They were unanimously elected from a slate presented by a nominating committee headed by Clayton E. Simpson.

Committee members include Clarence Edward, Miss Forsyth, Miss Muriel J. Goudey, Russell D. Hodgkins, Mrs. Hugh J. MacFarlane and Mrs. Carl E. Siddens.

Slides were shown at the meeting showing the progress of the church over the past 20 years.

Rev. John D. Banks thanked H. Winslow Bettinson for three years of daily concern and complimented Mrs. Bruce G.

Crofts for her active role in organizing the new Mothers Club.

Bettinson invited couples of all ages to join the Couples Club which meets the second Saturday of each month and then introduced Miss Forsyth for her acceptance speech.

The Rev. Arthur R. Curtis offered the constituting prayer and Rev. Banks led the Service of Remembrance for the 23 church members who died in 1971.

St. Paul Boys Choir Of Cambridge To Perform At Viking Club Feb. 15

The St. Paul Choir of Cambridge will present an evening of "Musical Fun with the Young" for the Quincy Catholic Club at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 at the Viking Club.

The choir was founded in 1963 under the patronage of Richard Cardinal Cushing to train young boys in the area of liturgy and music.

Fifth through eighth-grade boys from 40 communities in the Cambridge area have participated under the direction of Theodore Manier.

Boys in the program participate in daily musical and liturgical activities integrated into their academic routine.

The choir has been heard throughout New England and have performed in New York, New Jersey, Florida and Wisconsin.

In 1967, they toured Rome, Paris, London, Southampton and Dublin.

Rev. Willis Miller To Address Blessed Sacrament Interfaith Committee

Rev. Willis Miller, pastor of the Wilmington Methodist Church, will speak on the "Method of Methodism" for the Interfaith Committee of Most Blessed Sacrament Church.

The committee's fourth "Common Christian Heritage" program will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 10 at St. Thomas Aquinas Hall, Darrow St., Houghs Neck.

Rev. Miller is a minister of the Southern New England Conference of Methodist Churches and was pastor of Atlantic Methodist Church in Quincy for seven years.

He has attended Evangelical conferences in New Orleans, Philadelphia and San Francisco and participated in an Evangelism Tour of six South American countries in 1969.

A certified magician and past president of the American Magician Association, he frequently uses magic to illustrate the religious points of his lectures.

ENC Receives $6,765 For Math Teachers Training

Congressman James A. Burke, [D-Milton] announces that Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston will receive $6,765 from the National Science Foundation to be used for supplementary training for 25 high school mathematics teachers.

Part-time instruction will be offered so that teachers and supervisors may participate while still conducting their classroom duties. Institute participants may receive an allowance for travel and books, and pay no fees.

This program is intended to improve education on the secondary school level.

John Andrews Leads Crestview To 6-0 Youth Hockey Victory

Defenseman John Andrews scored a hat trick to lead Crestview Nursing Home to a 6-0 win over Wollaston Theatre in Quincy Youth Hockey action last week.

The win moves Crestview to within one point in the standings of first-place Keohane Funeral Home who fought Hannon Tire Co. to a 2-2 tie.

Other Pee Wee games saw Maguire's Lounge down Morrisette Post 4-1 and third-place United Commercial Travelers trounce the winless Daniel F. X. Davis Insurance 7-1.

Sweeney Funeral Home bantams downed Farina Kitchens 1-0 and C. A. Cox bantams battled Davis to a 1-1 tie.

Steve Clinton, Bob Zanardelli and John Fair helped John Andrews out with the Crestview scoring as goalie Bob Tierney shut out Wollaston.

Bob and UCT goalie Dean Prescott have compiled 1.00 goals-against averages in the first five games of the season.

Maguire's scorers were John

Keaney, Doug McDonald, Ed Kane and Dave McHugh. Mark Kelly posted the lone Morrisette goal.

Rick Carnali's hat trick and single goals by Tommy Gerry, Tom Roche, Brian Norton and Brian Brennan gave UCT the firepower to counteract a Davis tally by John Masters.

Mike Furey and Dan Sullivan of Keohane matched Paul Barry and Dave McLaughlin goal-for-goal.

Dave Perdios lit the lamp for Sweeney in their 1-0 bantam victory over Farina. Dan Donovan scored for Cox and Joe Rice hit for Davis.

The league plays Monday nights at Weymouth Skating Club.

Paul C. Gay Announces Candidacy For County Register Of Probate

Paul C. Gay, Norfolk County First Assistant Register of Probate, today announced his candidacy for Register of Probate.

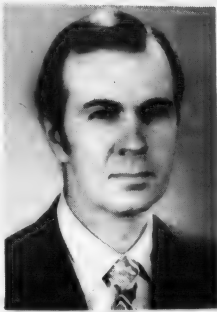

The 42-year-old Democrat who has served as First Assistant Register since 1967 in announcing his candidacy said: "I intend to retain the high degree of integrity and efficiency which has earned the Norfolk County Register of Probate office the respect and confidence which has long been recognized by members of the judiciary, the bar, the public and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

An attorney, Mr. Gay is a member and former chairman of the Walpole Planning Board and was formerly a town meeting member in Norwood where he was born.

He is secretary of the Norfolk County Democratic Committee and a member of the Walpole Democratic Town Committee.

He is a faculty member at Northeastern University where he lectures on law.

Mr. Gay is serving on the Committee on Probate and the Family Law Committee of the Massachusetts Bar Association, the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Registers of Probate and Council of the Norfolk County Bar Association.

PAUL C. GAY

He is licensed to practice before the U.S. Military Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court.

He is a member of the American, Massachusetts, Norfolk County, Western Norfolk, Quincy and Boston Bar Associations, and the Norfolk County Sheriff's Associates, Inc.

Active in civic and charitable affairs, Mr. Gay has served as a scoutmaster and Community Chest director in Norwood, Chairman of the Walpole Cancer Crusade and Regional Director of the United Fund for Norfolk, Suffolk, Middlesex, Essex and Plymouth Counties.

In Walpole, he has served two terms as chairman of the Planning Board, and as chairman of the Democratic Town Committee.

A veteran, he served in the U.S. Air Force and Massachusetts Air National Guard as a jet fighter pilot. He was a staff Judge Advocate General, practicing before Air Force Military Courts in the U.S. and in France.

Mr. Gay attended Norwood High School, received an associate degree from Northeastern University, [evening division], a Bachelor of Arts degree from Northeastern University where he majored in history and government and a Doctor of Law degree from Boston University Law School.

He is married to the former Virginia J. Forrest of Norwood. The couple have two children, John, 9, and Elizabeth, 8. The family lives at 501 North St., Walpole.

George Burke Candidate For Delegate At-Large

Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George G. Burke, announces his candidacy for delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention.

He has filed nomination papers at the office of the Secretary of State for inclusion on the Democratic Presidential Primary Ballot.

Burke, a Quincy resident, has obtained over 5,000 certified signatures, well over the required minimum for ballot qualification.

He has served in past years as a delegate to the State Democratic Convention, and in 1968 was elected a delegate to the National Democratic Convention in Chicago.

Burke is serving his second term as District Attorney. He is a former Democratic State Representative from the first Norfolk District, and a former President and member of the Quincy City Council for eight years.

Nominated as one of the four outstanding men in Massachusetts, he is a practicing trial attorney, having graduated from the University of Massachusetts and Boston College Law School.

He is married to the former Sandra Backofen, and is the father of five children.

Ronald Greenwald Files For Democratic Committee

Ronald R. Greenwald, 22, of 15 Ridgeway Dr., Merrymount, has announced his candidacy for Democratic state committeeman and alternate to the Democratic National Convention.

Greenwald filed papers last week including his name among seven delegates and four alternates to the Miami Convention on a slate pledged to Sen. George McGovern.

He attended Merrymount School and West Roxbury Latin School and is a junior majoring in urban affairs at Boston University.

He was a coordinator in the 1968 Humphrey-Muskie campaign and 1970 campaign of Francis X. Bellotti for governor and is former president of the Boston University Young Democrats.

Possible $164.20 Tax Rate

Public Works, but you can't be spending $87,000 on equipment," the Mayor said.

Hannon said there would be "few, if any," pay raises with the exception of a $300 hike increasing assessors' salary from $900 to $1,200.

The budget also provides for an additional assessor, bringing the total to six, because the department brings in revenue and it amounts to "spending $10 to make $100," he said.

He added that the appointment of Robert E. Foy III as city treasurer will free former treasurer Mrs. Roberta Crowley for work in the collections department.

The $19-million school budget, which will also go before the Council Monday, represents an increase of $1.7 million over last year with all but $300,000 of the increase attributed to salary, he said.

CPO Edwin Davenport At Naval Supply Center

Chief Petty Officer Edwin M. Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Davenport of 59 Bay View St., and husband of the former Miss Meredith Read of Cedar St., all of Quincy, has reported for duty at Naval Supply Center, Newport, R.I.

He will be assigned to duties as a storekeeper.

Storekeepers order, store and account for equipment, supplies and materials used aboard ships and at naval shore stations.

A 1953 graduate of Quincy High School, he joined the Navy in March 1954.

And now a word about H&R Block's competition.

Because we think our competition represents more of a threat to you than it does to us, we're going to help you sort them out.

Your Family

The greatest people in the world. Most of the time. Unfortunately, most of the time doesn't include income tax time. Because the last thing you need when you're doing your taxes is an aunt who took an accounting course just before she dropped out of college. Or a father who thinks how much money you make and what you do with it is something the rest of the family should know about.

Your Neighbors

You know the type. The mild-mannered shoe salesman next door who suddenly turns into a mathematical genius just about the time income tax is due. He knows all the angles. Some of which even the Internal Revenue Service doesn't know about yet. And he's willing to share them with you, "Just to be neighborly."

You

Your own worst enemy. All year long you can't balance your check book, but that doesn't stop you. Armed with your W-2's, a few reams of paper and a couple of gallons of coffee you bravely attack that stack of forms. You may be taking deductions you're not entitled to, and entitled to deductions you're not taking. So, should you be doing your own taxes?

Us
We're H & R Block, with over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained tax preparers who eat, sleep, and drink income tax returns. Who set out to save you money and much of the time do it. The cost? Fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million customers we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

And everyone is eligible to receive our year 'round service which is covered by our one time fee. No extra charge for help with audits, estimates, or tax questions.

We know the people we've just told you about will do your income tax return for less than we can but we don't think you can afford them.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

MONEY TALKS

Will You Be Poor after 65?

By Philip J. Lawrence
President
COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

The increase in the average length of life in the United States is one of the striking phenomena of our time—from over 40 years of age in 1890 to well over 70 years today.

Attainment of this life span must be viewed as a mixed blessing. This is particularly true for those who have not made intelligent provision to enjoy it.

Many young Americans think of old age as a happy, serene time, free of responsibilities and day-to-day drudgery. Others view it from the opposite extreme of helpless physical and mental disintegration.

Neither of these impressions stands up under facts. On the one hand, sheer, stark poverty prevents many oldsters from doing the things that the "golden years" are supposed to make possible.

On the other hand, older people are healthier than most persons suspect. Most are active and vigorous. Even the sex life continues longer than was generally thought: Dr. Kinsey was "astounded" at its durability. "It cannot be said," Dr. Bernard Kutner observes, "that illness dominates old age."

Despite the "affluent society" in which we live, millions of Americans struggle at or below the threshold of poverty. Sociologist Michael Harrington says bluntly: "There are a hell of a lot of poor people in America today."

The largest single group of poor are those characterized as "aged." Today, as was the case fifteen years ago, the aged constitute almost one-third of poverty-stricken Americans.

The plight of the aged can be seen from these facts:

—Four-fifths of single persons over 65 are living on poverty incomes.

—Two-thirds of family heads over 65 have incomes of less than $4,000 annually.

—There are more than 1,000,000 Americans 85 years or older. This is the fastest growing age group in the nation.

—In the next 40 years, with no increase in life expectancy, the number of Americans past 65 years will more than double. Those over 75 will triple by the year 2000 (which you will be if you are now in your mid-40s).

What does all this mean to you and me? For one thing, whatever our present income level, we shall have fewer dollars to reckon with after 65 than we do now. "Poor people are the bulk of the old," wrote Arthur Herzog in the New York Times Magazine. "If you weren't poor before you reached your 65th year, you are likely to be so afterward."

For one thing, we are probably going to live longer than we realize. This will aggravate the problem of poverty; the longer we live, the more funds we shall need to tide us over.

In view of this, people who "live for today" (and they are legion) are childish-thoughtless. Existing from year to year without plans for an enjoyable retired future, neglecting high-earning years to provide for little-income years, is like camping outdoors in summer with no concern for winter shelter.

On The Screen By Vincent Puleo

Youth may be the predominant ticket buyer when queued up at the box office, but according to the 40th Annual Motion Picture Herald's poll of theatre owners, the stars they flock to see are over 30 years of age... It's a fact that those in the 18 to 29 age category make up the bulk of film viewers in this country. Ironically not one of their own, in the same age bracket, has the drawing power of your more established stars... Eight of the thespians selected are in their 30's and 40's. The remaining 2 are over 50 years of age...

The Top Ten Stars, in order, are: JOHN WAYNE, CLINT EASTWOOD, PAUL NEWMAN, STEVE McQUEEN, GEORGE C. SCOTT, DUSTIN HOFFMAN, WALTER MATTHAU, ALI MACGRAW, SEAN CONNERY and LEE MARVIN... Each of the actors above, save for Miss MacGRAW, have years and years of experience to their credit. The ever indestructible JOHN WAYNE goes back to the 1920's. However conservative his political feelings, and he does voice them, WAYNE is the only star in the business who can attract customers regardless of the vehicle he is in...

Youth has to be served, so the saying goes, but in the dollar and cents reality of the motion picture business, it is experience and age that pay off... Stares like McQUEEN, EASTWOOD, NEWMAN and SCOTT go back to the 50's when each was struggling for a foothold on the ladder of success. DUSTIN HOFFMAN, though a product of the 60's, also spent a good 10 years of hard work polishing up his craft in best forgotten stage productions...

WALTER MATTHAU goes way back to the 40's when for years he was plodding along in character actor roles just waiting for a break. Now in his 50's, MATTHAU is at the top of his form, and is recognized by many as one of America's more gifted actors... The lone exception to the age and experience premise would appear at first to be ALI MACGRAW. With two films to her credit, her credentials are nil. However, one has to take into consideration the fact that she didn't break into show business until her late 20's... Now 31, and with 4 years experience and a modeling background, which this columnist considers a form of acting, though "minor", Miss MacGRAW gives a hint of developing into a promising actress...

In so far as the Herald's poll is concerned, I don't see LEE MARVIN as a box-office draw for 1971. Last year his output drew next to nothing at the turnstile. Why he was listed, I'll never know... In his place I would have included MICHAEL CAINE. '71 was his year because of the "GET CARTER" bonanza... And STEVE McQUEEN in 4th place? I don't believe it. Off of his "LE MANS" fluke I was surprised to see him make the Top Ten... No one asked me of course, but if polled I would have added BARBRA STREISAND and SIDNEY POITIER. They would have been my selections in place of McQUEEN and SCOTT. That's correct, GEORGE C. SCOTT. The two films he made in '71 were, no way of getting around it, bombs...

Looking a year ahead, I for one am confident of MARLON BRANDO leap-frogging into one of the Top Ten box office draws of '72. He has 2 films due for release in a very short time, they being the much discussed "THE GODFATHER" and another, which could be the "sleeper of the year", "THE NIGHTCOMERS"... From all reports it's a toss up in which picture BRANDO excels. In both he gives hand-tailored performances... 1972 is going to be BRANDO'S year...

Fraudulent Advertising Department: "MADE FOR EACH OTHER" is being newspaper advertised as the "best comedy of the year". Really now... This strikes me as being presumptuous, the year being only a month old... ANDY WARHOL has yet to name change to JOHN DOE as he declared a few months back. He probably decided a JOHN DOE monicker sounded too establishment... As much as I enjoyed his performance, GENE HACKMAN looks out of focus as the "crooked cop" in "CISCO PIKE"... GEORGE C. SCOTT is an odds on favorite to portray the life of the legendary VINCE LOMBARDI...

Add the names RAQUEL WELCH and JOANNE CARSON to the growing femme list of BURT REYNOLDS haters. Once known as a Mr. Nice Guy, REYNOLDS is getting a reputation of having an even bigger mouth than SALLY KELLERMAN... Following in his fathers footsteps? SCOTT HOLDEN makes his film debut in dad BILL'S "THE REVENGERS"... BETTE DAVIS raises high on my list of all-time favorites. And in "MADAME SIN" she more than lives up to her billing of Superstar... Would be refreshing if Boston videoland home-based a half decent Talk Show. SONYA HAMLIN we could do without. Such a turnoff...

FESS PARKER will be appearing on a weekly basis beginning in September with a new series. The vehicle is based on a made for TV movie, "CLIMB AN ANGRY MOUNTAIN"... Still anticipating the day talented VICKI CARR gets due recognition with a series or variety hour all her own...

SOUND OFF: Image, the candidate and TV... with November a turn around the bend, will television give the voter a true picture of our political candidates? Or will the viewers mind be sterilized with only an image of a pancaked mannequin, his Crest smile, lovely wife and adoring offspring?... Is television all that honest in presenting the voter the real candidate? Or is it the "real" one we see. Suave, smooth talking, a facade as physically ghost written as his speeches?... Doesn't TV play too much on image, all the while playing down the candidates character?... Which leads me to wonder, could the awkward, homely Abraham Lincoln have made it in the show biz, political arena of 1972?...

Community Auditions At Wollaston

Wollaston Council of United Commercial Travelers will sponsor its second annual "Community Auditions" at 8 p.m. Feb. 22 at the Wollaston Theatre.

Proceeds from the program will be used for The Retarded Children and other charities sponsored by the order.

Dave Maynard, radio and television personality, said last year's program was one of the most entertaining shows he has been involved in and he is looking forward to serving as master of ceremonies again.

Maynard's staff will be at Quincy Masonic Temple, 1175 Hancock St., Quincy, at 2 p.m. Feb. 13 to audition the talent for the benefit.

Herbert F. Cole, past senior councillor of Wollaston Council and general chairman of the program, said he anticipates a large turnout of talent.

Assisting Cole will be Paul Riccardi, past president of the South Shore Retarded Childrens Association.

Committee members include Henry D'Amore, treasurer; John

J. Lydon Jr., ticket chairman; Robert D. Keyes, publicity chairman; Joseph J. LaRaia, special promotions and Arthur I. Senter, coordinator.

A 19-inch portable television and stand will be the door prize and the winner will be announced during a brief intermission.

Tickets may be purchased at Hancock Bank & Trust Wollaston Branch, Wollaston Theatre or from John J. Lydon, 644 Hancock St., or Herbert F. Cole, 77 Main St., Hingham.

Free Community Audition Tickets For Seniors

Some 75 complimentary tickets for the Community Auditions show Feb. 22 at Wollaston Theatre are available to Quincy senior citizens through the Recreation Office. The 8 p.m. show will be sponsored by Wollaston Council of United Commercial Travelers and hosted by Dave Maynard. Winners will appear on Maynard's televised Community Auditions program. Senior citizens interested in tickets are urged to call the Recreation Office at Kennedy Health Center.

Tickets are made available by show chairman Herbert Cole and co-chairman Jack Lydon on behalf of several Quincy firms.

Richard T. Murphy, Executive Vice President and Treasurer; Charles W. Sweeney, Vice President; Marvin A. Gordon, Vice President; Michael J. Verrochi Jr., Vice President; Timothy J. Murphy, Secretary; Charles L. Abbott, Assistant Treasurer.

Two additional directors elected to the Board of Directors were Rep. Donald J. Laing of Braintree and Atty. John E. Lamere.

Seaman James Rourke

In 'Snowy Beach' Operation

Seaman James M. Rourke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Rourke of 7 Alton Road, Quincy, aboard the destroyer escort USS Cromwell battled the winter, the sea and the "enemy" in exercise "Snowy Beach" conducted off the Maine coast. The operation, involving some 30 ships and 15,000 men, included exercises in anti-submarine warfare, mine warfare and close air support as well as a moderate scale amphibious assault on Maine's Reid State Park.

"Snowy Beach" was the first Atlantic Fleet exercise held for several years to test the Fleet's capability to operate under adverse winter weather conditions.

'Pop' Josselyn Teaches Hough Second Graders

Second grade students at Atherton Hough School, Houghs Neck, learned first hand about the changing role of the school in the community recently.

Roland "Pop" Josselyn, 86, a Houghs Neck resident for 50 years, told the students how their school has changed through the three generations he has seen there. They also examined texts and report cards dating back to 1945.

Mr. Josselyn's granddaughter, Joan MacDonald, is a member of the second-grade class of Miss Judith Craven.

Paul Harold President State Young Democrats

Two Quincy residents were elected statewide officers of the Massachusetts Young Democrats, at the convention held in Springfield, Sunday.

Paul D. Harold, 31 Riverside Ave. was elected President, and Kathleen O'Donnell of 26 Massachusetts Ave. was elected National Committeewoman. Both Harold and Miss O'Donnell have been active in reorganizing the Massachusetts Young Democrats. They were granted the charter from the national headquarters, two weeks ago.

Other officers elected include: Mal McGregor of Westfield, Western Mass. Vice President; Sharon O'Brien of Tewksbury, Eastern Mass. Vice President; Martha Hannon of Springfield, Secretary-Treasurer and Russell Newsome of Agawam, National Committeeman.

Delegates attending from Quincy included: Peter Doucette, 53 South Walnut St.; Patricia O'Donnell, 26 Massachusetts Ave.; Michael Foley, 51 Curlew Rd.; Alan McLain, 12 Overlook Rd.; Charles Alongi and Dale Alongi, 65 Appleton St.; Bobby K. Smith, Hobomack Rd.; and School Committeeman Harold Davis, 1390 Quincy Shore Dr.

Delahunt Asks Aid For Car Wash Fight

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has asked Mayor Hannon to instruct the police legal advisor to represent the licensing board in litigation against a planned car wash at 839 Hancock St.

Delahunt submitted the resolve after meeting with Wollaston residents at the Winfield House who are asking city aid in their fight against the facility.

The abutters, represented by Atty. John Sullivan of Braintree, said they are waiting for the mayor to decide on action before seeking a restraining order against S & T Trust Co., owners of the building.

Sullivan said the 22 residents have not filed suit because public statements of the company indicated that plans for a car wash had been dropped in favor of a gas station.

Last week, however, the firm received a permit for a car wash sign.

Councillor-at-large John J. Quinn also met with the residents and said he supported their attempts to have the city join in the fight.

St. Ann's Cadets, Juniors Lead CYO Basketball

St. Ann's Church in Wollaston boasts first-place teams in both the cadet and junior divisions of South Shore CYO basketball.

The undefeated cadets are in sole possession of first place while the juniors' 10-1 record ties them with Immaculate Conception of Weymouth for the top spot.

Brad Buckley of Bridgewater State College coaches the cadets, under age 13, who are led by the high scoring of Mike Holleran and John McElaney.

Paul Radzik and Wink Phalen are the cadet ballhandlers and Dan Cuddy, Chuck Fallon and Steve Roach provide defense and rebounding strength.

Coach Brian Buckley's juniors suffered their only loss of the season to Immaculate Conception when the team was missing seven players due to the flu.

Outstanding players on the 19-man roster are scoring leaders Mark Reale and Bruce Shea, rebounder Jack Guinon and floor general Kevin McElaney.

St. Ann's seniors, coached by John Holleran of Boston State College, present a respectable 10-5 record with leadership provided by 6 ft. 9 in. center Tom Cairnes.

St. Joseph's of Quincy leads the Seniors division with a 12-1 record under coach Frank Brillo and court stars Jim Walker, Joe Marani, Mike Donahugh and Joe Leighy.

Quincy Frosh Icemen Seek 6th Straight

Quincy's undefeated junior high-freshman hockey team goes after its sixth straight Greater Boston Freshman League win Saturday against Revere in a 7 o'clock game at Boston Arena and will set up the title with a win.

North Quincy meets Medford in the 6 o'clock opener.

Following this week's games only one more slate remains in regular season play. On the 19th Quincy meets Medford and North clashes with Revere.

The four-team playoffs start on the 24th and it appears Ken Hayes' Quincy sextet will go into the series unbeaten.

Central Has Eye On Title

By TOM SULLIVAN

Mike Casali, dean of Quincy junior high coaches, has been at Central since 1958 and he has never had a losing basketball season.

From all appearances, the record will remain intact this year.

His ninth grade team is rolling along with a 9-0 record and looms once again as the city champion.

The eighth grade team has a 6-3 record and the seventh graders are 7-2.

In their latest outings the ninth graders topped Sterling, 48-37, with Mark Reale scoring 18 points and Bruce Shea 17, the eighth graders won, 31-20, with Paul Kelleher having 11 points and Jack Browne nine, and the seventh graders completed the sweep 14-1, with Joe Canavan scoring five points.

A big reason for Central's amazing success is Casali's "early bird" league for the seventh graders.

"All boys who come out for basketball here make the team," Mike explained. "We do not cut anyone from the squad. Ten years ago we initiated what we call 'early bird' basketball for the seventh graders. Six teams were put together with approximately 10 boys to a team.

"They play before school each day from 7:15 to 8:45 and all boys play the same amount of time. Early bird proved so popular the eighth and ninth grades play after the seventh grade season is over.

"The last game is usually played the day before school ends in June."

It appears that the experience gained by the seventh graders in the early bird league is paying off for Casali.

"Basketball has been very successful here at Central because of good players and plenty of hard work," the veteran coach went on. "Tradition is probably the key word as each new team wants to win the city championship because the team before them did."

"I have been very proud of the sportsmanship displayed by the boys. This does not come naturally, we talk about it all the time."

The members of the unbeaten ninth grade team are John McElaney, Judd Berman, Bob Carroll, Mark Reale, Jack Rabel, Bruce Shea, Dave Keating, Steve Mann, Bob McIntosh, Frank Chiacchieri, Bob McCullough, Steve Hobbs, Peter McDonald, Bill Pitts, Dan Blaney, John Alleva, Dick Joyce, Marty O'Sullivan, David Kahler, Earl Rudkin, Buzzy Djerf, John Mackiewicz, Brendon Fisher and Mark Tobin.

Seventh graders are Jeff Chamberlain, Jeff Lampert, Brian Djerf, Ian Sheridan, Bill Cyr, Tom Cronin, David McDonnell, Mark Wetzell, Mike Eno, Carl Bergstrom, Bob Levenson, Steve Johnson, Bruce Brennan, Jim Connell, Joe McHugo, Phil Sprague, Mark Linnane, Joe Johnson, Bob Coner, Mike Nolan, Jim Watts, Marty Levenson, Steve Kane, Brian Buckley, Brian Smith and Stan Campbell.

Boys assisting with the early bird program are Paul Kelleher, Scott Roberts, Jack Browne, John Alleva, Tony Poole, Mark Reale, John Purpura, Steve Smith and Kevin O'Leary.

Quincy Has Slim Chance

Raiders Qualify For New State Tourney

North Quincy basketball Coach Bob Nolan took four of his six teams into the Tech Tourney but never survived the first round.

This year, in place of the Tech, a new state tourney will be played with schools, regardless of league affiliation, playing against opponents in the same enrollment bracket.

North last week qualified for the tourney and will play in Division One of District Two. There are three divisions in two districts with play beginning on Feb. 28 at Boston Garden.

The undefeated Raiders proved themselves tremendous players under pressure last week as they clinched at least a tie for the Greater Boston League championship and a tourney berth and a win last Tuesday at Malden would make North the GBL champion.

Meanwhile, Marty Finnegan's Quincy team still has an outside chance of making the tourney. This year a team must win only 65 percent of its games to qualify instead of 70 and the Presidents can still lose one more and make the post-season event.

Quincy was favored to keep their hopes alive Tuesday when it hosted winless Chelsea.

North came up with one of the greatest wins in history last Friday when it invaded Somerville's lion's den and proceeded to pull out a 47-45 win at the buzzer, thus sweeping the season's series from Somerville for the first time in a good many years.

Jamie Doherty was the Raiders' hero for the second time in a row as he scored from the key as the final buzzer went off after North had held the ball for a minute.

North managed to break a late Somerville press which threatened to upset the Raiders and with a minute left the score was 45-44. Keeping cool in the face of a boisterous capacity crowd, North passed the ball around until there were 13 seconds left and then called a time out to set up a final shot.

North continued to pass the ball around until Doherty, a standout junior forward, broke loose for an open shot from the key and the ball went cleanly through the hoop as the buzzer sounded.

"People are probably sick of hearing about team efforts but this was really one," an elated Nolan said. "We were outsize by their big center [6-8 John Foster] and their forwards [6-5 Dave Arria and 6-3 Bob Higgins] but our rebounding was phenomenal."

The Raiders' front court which held Somerville to a standoff included the 6-2 Doherty, 6-3 Dave Nelson and 5-11 John Stevens. They made up for their lack of height by blocking out well and getting good position under the boards. The back court also did a great job, forcing Somerville to make 26 turnovers, probably a new high for them.

Doherty had 13 points, Captain Nelson 12 and Stevens nine.

Quincy didn't play one of its best games but a switch in defenses paid off as the Presidents edged Revere, 56-53, at Vo-Tech.

Finnegan changed from a zone to a man-to-man with Quincy holding a four-point edge, thus speeding up the tempo of play. "I had planned to go with the zone all the way but we just couldn't get running," the veteran coach said. "Actually, we were lucky to win and they gave us the game."

The Presidents forced Revere into 21 turnovers while they had 17 themselves.

Quincy trailed, 20-17, at halftime but Mike Marvelle, junior forward, sparked a second half comeback, scoring nine points in the third period. He scored 14 points, John Reggiani had 14 and Bobby McDermott 13. Finnegan lauded Willie Bertrand, 5-9 senior guard, who came off the bench in the early part of the second half and scored five points. It was McDermott's foul shot in the final 20 seconds which clinched the verdict.

Earlier in the week North was again under pressure but edged a tough Everett team, 57-55.

Everett came to North with a plan that nearly provided an upset. The plan called for long passes to the high scoring 6-3 Kevin McLaughlin, who has averaged 25 points a game, to break up North's harassing press which has ruined the opposition all year long.

"The best compliment people could give us would be to talk about the discipline of the club," Nolan said. "The boys refused to panic when Everett started out fast but remained calm and cool and it paid off."

It was a hectic game all the way and with a minute to play Arnie Heavey tied it up for Everett, 55-55. Nolan, who maneuvered his players like Red Auerbach used to, then instructed them to move the ball around to eat up the clock for a final shot.

Again it was Doherty who scored the clincher with 14 seconds remaining. Everett called time and when play resumed it was McLaughlin, as expected, who took the shot but it missed and the ball hit a North player and went out of bounds. Everett had one last chance but a shot from the corner (not by McLaughlin) went harmlessly over the basket as the buzzer sounded.

Doherty was again high with 19 points, Nelson had 16 and Stevens added 10.

ENC Girls Rolling Along

The Eastern Nazarene College girls' basketball team is rolling along unbeaten and tonight seeks its sixth win in a row and revenge for one of four losses a year ago when it meets Salem State.

Coach Nancy Detwiler gives much of the credit for the team's success to five freshmen, one of whom is Janice Brooks, twin sister of Janet.

"Janice and Cindy Hill of Abington are among the freshmen who are doing a fine job for us," Mrs. Detwiler said. "Our only senior is Sue Calhoun of North Quincy with her deadly long shot and the returning stabilizer is Janet Brooks.

"Joe Reed and Anne Alverson have been aided on the boards by Lois Sturtevant and I feel we have had our fair share of control of the boards."

The other players are Pris Fallon, Barb Warr, Barb Marson and Bonnie Morrill.

North Gym Team Wins 8th, Quincy Captures First

North Quincy's outstanding gymnastics team improved its record to 8-1-1 while Quincy's fledgling team captured its first win of its first season in meets last week.

George Golding's Raiders, runners-up in the Suburban League, topped Weymouth South, 84-68, while Pete Gallagher's young Presidents made Algonquin Regional their first victim, 57-74.56. Algonquin, like Quincy, is in its first year of gymnastics.

Take Lunch, Watch Action

Quincy and North Quincy basketball fans can enjoy a full day and night of action between the intra-city rivals Friday. They can take their lunch with them and watch four games beginning at 3:30 at the North gym.

In the afternoon the girls' teams will collide with the junior varsity at 3:30 and the varsity at 5:30. In their first meeting this year the North lasses captured their first win ever over their Quincy counterparts.

Then, at 7 the boys' junior varsity squads go at it, followed by the second varsity meeting of the year at 8:30.

North is unbeaten and has clinched a state tourney berth and topped Quincy, 64-55, in the first meeting. Quincy must win this one to keep alive its outside hopes of making the tournament.

Gary Veroneau and Dave Merrill were the top scorers for North Quincy. Veroneau took first in the rings and parallel bars, while Merrill took floor-x with a fine score of 6.85, was barely edged by Veroneau in the parallel bars and took second in the side horse. John McGilvary won the side horse and Kent LaFleur the horizontal bars.

Tom Campbell paced Quincy's initial win with 20 points as he won the floor-x and vaulting, took second in the high bar and parallel bars and fifth in the rings. Dave Moran had 16.7 points with a first in the rings, second in the side horse and thirds in the vaulting and parallel bars.

Mike Priscella won the side horse for the second straight meet and was third in vaulting and Bob Gordon was fourth in the high bar. Paul Hajjar and Tom McMahon also scored.

In its previous meet Quincy had lost to Weymouth South, 73.35-57.35, the bright spot being Priscella's win in the side horse. Quincy's first win of the season. Campbell again was high scorer with 20.6 points, followed by Moran with 15.9.

North was home to Weymouth North Tuesday and will finish up against undefeated Bay State League leader Baintree at home next Tuesday. Quincy will host Newton South Friday and finish up at Brockton next Thursday.

Feb. 14 Deadline For Women's Candlepin Tourney

Feb. 14, is the deadline for Women's Bowling Leagues to file applications for entering the 17th annual South Shore Women's Candlepin Tournament sponsored by the Koch Club of Quincy.

Entry forms may be obtained at the Merrymount Daylight Alleys, Broad St., Quincy, where the tourney will open Sunday Feb. 20, at 1 p.m.

Any organized amateur women's candlepin bowling league in the South Shore is welcome to enter a team. No pick-up teams will be allowed to enter.

The top five bowlers of the league as of Feb. 1, are eligible to bowl in competition with the sixth and seventh bowlers in the standings used as alternates.

If one of the bowlers in the top seven is bowling for another entry or cannot bowl, then the officers may select the next woman eligible in the league standings. Bowlers entered must have bowled half the season thus far with their respective leagues. Women entering may only be registered and bowl on one team in tourney competition. Violation of any of the tourney rules will forfeit the teams participation or continuation.

All matches will be decided on total pinfall.

Lloyd Allen Sparks St. Joseph's Reds

Lloyd Allen picked up three goals and five assists last week to lead the undefeated Red team to a 9-5 victory over the last place Greens in St. Joseph's Hockey League action.

Allen's eight points put him in second place in the league scoring race with 19 points overall to Rick Brunstrum's 9-14-23.

Brunstrum accounted for a goal and five assists as Mike McNalley picked up a hat trick and Hal McLarnon and Rich Coombs completed the Red scoring.

Green scorers were Mike Dwyer, Bob DeCristofaro, Dave Labadie, John Burrows and Jay Pasioneck.

Dave Errichillo, Bill Driscoll and Mark Walker tallied for the Blue team and John Alfano accounted for the lone Gold score in a 3-1 Blue victory.

The Blue's 4-2-2 record puts them second to Red at 7-0-1 with the Gold, 3-4-1 and Green 0-8-0 rounding out the league.

Herb Star of the Blues is the league-leading goal tender at this point with a 2.00 goals-against average.

North Steps Up Attack

Quincy Icemen Need Collapse From Above

Quincy's hockey team, continuing to have trouble scoring, will not be playing in the state tourney this year unless there is a complete collapse by the teams above it in the Greater Boston League.

Coach Bob Sylvia is now pointing for a winning record, something he has always had at Quincy.

The Presidents were all but mathematically eliminated from tourney consideration [their only hope was second place in the league] when they lost to Medford, 2-1, Friday at Boston Arena. The loss dropped their record to 7-7-1.

Meanwhile, North Quincy unleashed its most potent offense of the year but had to be satisfied with its third tie, 5-5, with Malden, which scored a short-handed goal in the final minute to deadlock it.

Last night Quincy and North Quincy met for the third time and Sylvia admitted Ron Erikson's young Raiders could win if Quincy was not ready for them. North gave Quincy all it could handle in the previous two games. Friday night Quincy meets Everett and North takes on Chelsea and Monday it will be Quincy vs. Chelsea and North vs. Everett.

"This team is a group of good skaters and hard workers but when the chips were down, in the big game all year, we simply couldn't score," Sylvia bemoaned. "This team is simply not one of championship caliber." Quincy had gone into the tourney each of the last five years.

"We just didn't produce and I can only hope our younger players learned from this year," Sylvia continued. "They are just going to have to play in a summer league, as the players on most high school teams do. That extra skating and ice time is where you learn to score. I feel sorry for the seniors, who have been in the tourney before and I just hope there is enough pride in our players to finish with a winning season."

Quincy's lone goal was scored by Jack Black, who took a pass from Steve Cedrone in front of the net.

"I can't figure this team out," Erikson admitted following North's hectic tie with Malden. "I guess we are so inconsistent because of the youth and inexperience. I am happy that the kids didn't let down after Malden had taken an early 2-0 lead. They are determined to play their best despite a very discouraging season [one win and three ties in 14 games] and we can still make it a fairly respectable season by improving from here on in."

After Malden had taken a 2-0 lead in the first minute and 43 seconds, Ken Graham scored the first of his three goals with Steve MacKay assisting. MacKay tied it up at 10:53 of the opening period with an unassisted goal.

Each scored a goal in the second period with Robbie Henderson setting up Graham for his second goal.

In a wild third period Steve Leofanti put North ahead at 6:35 with Bob Morse and Dave Noonan assisting but Malden again tied the score at 7:59. Graham completed his hat trick with MacKay assisting but at 10:22 Malden, a man short, tied it up.

Senior Bob Guerriero, told he was going to play in goal just before the game, had a good night with 35 saves.

Earlier in the week Quincy had bowed to league champion Revere, 2-0, despite a good performance, while North lost to Somerville, 5-2.

North's goals were scored by MacKay with Doug Connors assisting, and Graham on passes from Henderson and MacKay.

Beau's Place Eyes Undefeated Cranberry League Season

Beau's Place of Quincy, with first place in the Cranberry Basketball League sewed up, will try for an undefeated league season when it hosts Plymouth A.A. Saturday and Rockland Legion Sunday at 7:15 at Vo-Tech gym in the final games of the regular season.

The playoffs with Beau's meeting the fourth place finisher and the second and third place teams colliding will get underway the following weekend but Beau's will have to play without high scoring Allen Dalton, one of the league's standouts. He tore knee ligaments last week and is out for the rest of the season.

Beau's hiked its league record to 14-0 and overall mark to 17-2 Sunday with a 101-92 win over the Easton Huskies.

Mike Greenlaw had one of his best nights at Vo-Tech gym with 38 points, including 22 from the foul line, Bob McNamara had 21 and Rich Sprague 17. Don Ryan sparked the Huskies with 30.

Last week Beau's went to Plymouth and handed the Plymouth A.A. a 115-94 setback.

McNamara scored 26, Greenlaw 22, Jim Hayes and Marty Shoefier 16. Jim Tavares had 22 to pace the home team.

Trackmen In Wind-Up Saturday

The Quincy and North Quincy track teams will wind up their Met League seasons Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Fargo Building, with the Presidents and Raiders facing each other.

Quincy last week captured its second win of the year, romping over Randolph, 52-34, as Bobby Clano continued his three-year unbeaten record by winning the 1000-yard run.

Other winners for the Presidents were Brian Feeney in the mile, Pete Daley in the 300, Mark McLeod in the 600, Bobby McDermott in the high jump and the relay team. Daley also placed second in the high jump and McDermott second in the hurdles.

North was defeated by Somerville, 53-33, with Bob McCormick and Steve Leet providing the bright spots for the Raiders.

Each continued to win his specialty as McCormick again took the mile and Leet captured the shot put. The only other North winner was Lee Watkins in the 300.

Jack Reynolds took second in the 600 and third in the high jump.

SUN-INDUCED AGING PROCESS

True, sun can make you beautiful in the summer. But too much of it over too long a period of time can make you old-looking before your time. Scientific studies back this fact.

Over the years, sun-exposed skin gets thinner and darker. The elastic fibers that give the skin its normal flexibility increase in number, but they lose their snap, so that sagging begins. Blistches of melanin - large freckles - may form. And this can happen to people who never even get a real sunburn.

As one dermatologist dramatizes it: Take two identical twins, one of whom spends most of his time indoors, the other a sun buff. After the age of 35, the tanner will appear to age faster than the paleface, and by the time they're both 65, the tanned twin will look like the other's older brother. So, if you do plan to sunbathe, think about doing it in moderation. No sense in getting older faster than you have to.

Quincy Rotanians Told

Cooper, Fisk Could Make Sox Contenders

By TOM SULLIVAN

If several Red Sox youngsters, especially Cecil Cooper and Carlton Fisk, make the grade this season, Sox officials feel the team can make a run for the American League flag.

These opinions were voiced by seven Sox players and officials Tuesday at a luncheon meeting of the Quincy Rotary Club at the Neighborhood Club.

The Sox group included John Kennedy, the team's "super sub" last year, rated one of the finest utility men in the majors; Public Relations Director Bill Crowley, Assistant PR Director and Statistician Art Keefe, formerly of Quincy; Scouts Sam Mele of Quincy and Frank Malzone, Minor League Director Neil Mahoney and Announcer Johnny Pesky, former Sox star and a former major league and minor league manager.

Ken Fallon was program director and introduced Crowley, who conducted the meeting, giving his own views on the Sox chances and introducing the others in the group.

"People ask how we fared in the big deal with Milwaukee," Crowley said.

"We needed pitching help badly and got it in Marty Pattin, one of the league's better pitchers, and Lew Krause, who has matured and should help us considerably. We needed someone at the top of the batting order to get on base and we got him in Tommy Harper. So, I feel we helped ourselves considerably."

Kennedy, who played with the Milwaukee players, agreed with Bill and thinks the Sox benefited tremendously from the trade.

Mele, like the others, agreed Cooper is a key man in the Sox picture. "Cooper had his troubles defensively and also running the bases but we worked with him and he improved in these departments, Sam said.

"I always considered him a dangerous hitter and, with his speed, he will beat out a lot of hits. He will help us get out of double plays, will score from second on hits through the infield. I feel he can be our first baseman this year."

"Carlton Fisk, one of the most improved players on our team, is going to be our number one catcher this year and be one of the best we had had in years," Mahoney, a former catcher himself, predicted. "His hitting is the biggest question but I believe he will hit. He handles pitchers well and has a great arm."

Malzone, who worked with Rico Petrocelli last year in his move from shortstop to third base, said he feels Rico will improve on his one problem, coming in for ground balls, and will be a much better third baseman.

Pesky is of the opinion Juan Beniquez, who sparked at shortstop for the Sox during the final few weeks last year, should spend another season with Louisville but will eventually be the Sox shortstop.

Keefe gave some statistics which proved the need for a man like Harper. "Doug Griffin and Luis Aparicio were our leadoff men last year, alternating in the position, and were last and second to last in the league reaching base," Art explained.

Another youngster being figured upon heavily is Roger Moret, the classy looking southpaw pitcher who won 14 in a row this winter and was picked the Most Valuable Player in the Puerto Rican League.

QJC Wins Conference Berth

Despite a protested 73-70 loss to league leading Graham Monday night at Quincy Vo-Tech gym, the Quincy Junior College basketball team has clinched a berth in the Mass. Jr. College Conference playoffs and still has an outside chance of at least tying for the title.

Monday's loss gave QJC a 6-3 conference mark with only Burdette left to play next Thursday at Boston Latin in the conference. Graham leads with a 7-1 record, Quincy is second, Franklin third with a 5-3 mark and Burdette fourth with a 3-4 mark. Wednesday QJC hosts Rhode Island Jr. College.

Coach Earl Vermillion protested Monday's loss due to a last minute call and is hopeful the protest will be upheld. Whether it is or not, the Quincy five is all set for the playoffs.

QJC lost three of its top players recently but has continued to play well in the conference, although it has only a 7-11 overall record.

"We trailed by 12 points with eight minutes to play but put on an effective man-to-man press and cut the margin to two points," Vermillion said.

"But we had five turnovers in the final minutes and 20 in all and that really hurt us. Also, we missed seven of 21 foul shots. The boys did a fine defensive job and grabbed 55 rebounds, 23 by Mike Granahan."

Granahan, a rugged 6-2 forward, had 19 points in addition to his 23 rebounds, Rich Ross scored 20 and Jim Machado came off the bench in the second half and scored 10 points.

In its previous conference game QJC had nipped Franklin, 60-59, on Ross' two last second foul shots. Ross and Bob Uhlir had 16 points apiece and John Mullen 11, while Ross had 19 rebounds, Granahan 18 and Mullen 12.

In non-conference contests the Collejjans bowed to undefeated Mass. Bay, 55-27, and to Rhode Island, 84-53.

Crusaders Face Big Test At Curry Friday

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team considerably strengthened its hopes last week for an NAIA Tournament bid when it survived two of its big tests of the season and Tuesday faced another major hurdle in Framingham State.

Friday, still another big one is on tap when ENC plays at Curry and Saturday the Crusaders will play at Roger Williams.

Coach Jim Smith's ENC team

nipped Babson, 96-95, last week to hike its record to 13-4.

Babson, thanks to the shooting of Tim Vincent, who became the school's second player to pass the 1000-point career mark, held a five point edge throughout the first half and led, 50-45, at the intermission.

But ENC, with Don Eads, averaging 34 points a game, leading the way, came back in the second half and Don, taking a nice pass from freshman Terry Briggs, who had stolen the ball, scored the winning basket with 10 seconds left in the game. Babson had the ball with five seconds left but couldn't get off a shot.

Eads had only two foul shots in his 38-point outburst. His brother Dave had 10 points, North Quincy's Dave Constantine had 12 and Quincy's Rick Reyenger, 6-7 center, had 14 points and 11 rebounds.

Earlier in the week ENC had rolled over Suffolk, 92-65, as Eads had 33 points, Briggs 14, Dave Eads and Constantine 11 each. Reyenger had 12 rebounds and Constantine 11.

This was, in Smith's words, the Crusaders' best game of the year defensively and they led, 43-30, at the half.

Fred Coolen President Babe Ruth League

Fred Coolen of Quincy has been elected president of the newly-formed South Shore 16-18 Babe Ruth League at an organizational meeting at Quincy Police Station.

Officers include Walter Kennedy of Milton, vice president and John L. McDonnell of Quincy, secretary-treasurer.

The league will consist of two teams from Quincy and one each from Braintree, Milton, North River, Randolph, West Roxbury and Weymouth.

League officials said interest from surrounding communities and expected expansion of member communities should make the league the largest in the United States for 16-18 year-olds in 1973.

This season the teams will play a home and home schedule to be followed by a playoff of the first four teams.

Information concerning tryouts will be published later.

The planned lighting of Adams Field will greatly enhance the success of the league, according to Coolen.

Youth Hockey Association Plans To Build Sea Street Rink

By DICK MATTULINA

The Quincy Youth Hockey Association will ask the City Council Feb. 22 to grant them 3.7 acres of land behind the Naval Reserve Training Center for construction of a skating rink.

The 500-seat rink could be opened by Oct. 16 at a cost of $600,000 and be used as a supplement to the proposed municipal rink, according to Association President Robert P. Hayes.

The facility is to be financed owned, operated and maintained by the association "for the benefit of the residents and children of the City of Quincy," Hayes said.

A proposal drawn up by association member Larry Richardson of West Quincy shows an 85 by 200-foot ice surface, four team rooms, first aid center, pro shop, snack bar, offices and conference room.

The association hopes to break ground April 10 at what is now part of a pipe storage area for the Department of Public Works off Sea St.

Hayes said the seating capacity was kept down to 500 because his organization "does not want people to think it is in conflict with a city-owned rink."

"We are trying to satisfy a great demand for ice skating facilities in the City of Quincy," he said. "Possibly there won't be enough with two."

The proposal calls for the rink to be open 50 weeks per year from 4:30 a.m. to 1 a.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 24 hours per day on weekends.

It is designed to provide additional services "to the many youth groups, general public, school department physical education programs and high school and hockey programs" in Quincy.

"It will also enable the Quincy Youth Hockey Association Inc. to initiate new programs such as figure skating classes and other girl programs that cannot now be provided due to lack of available ice time," the proposal states.

Hayes said out-of-town organizations could use the facility only if the demand from Quincy groups has been completely satisfied.

The Youth Hockey Association is a registered non-profit corporation which would rent rink usage for fees.

Last year the association spent more than $35,000 for ice time at private and public facilities. It has more than $6,000 invested in equipment and uniforms.

There are 400 active members of the association with more than 600 children skating in leagues and learner programs, and a waiting list of more than 700.

Sponsors include C. A. Cox Rambler, Crestview Nursing Home, Daniel F. X. Davis Insurance, Farina Kitchens, Hannon Tire Co., Keohane Funeral Home.

Also Maguire's Lounge, Morrisette Post, Noonan Press Lithographers, Sweeney Funeral Home, United Commercial Travelers, Wollaston Theatre, Quincy Police, Vissa and Sons Asphalt and Premco Inc.

ALL-DAY PARKING - More than 900 spaces will be available in and around Quincy Center for all-day parking during construction of the Ross Parking Garage. The seven special lots are: 1. Behind Grossman's and Turnstyle. 2. Adjacent to MBTA tracks along Upland Rd. 3. Upper floors of the MBTA garage. 4. Rear of Hancock Parking Lot. 5. Covenant Church. 6. St. John's Church. 7. Sweeney Funeral Home.

Smyth Urges Addition To Atlantic Junior High

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth has urged construction of an addition to Atlantic Junior High School as an alternative to present addition plans at North Quincy High.

His recommendation came on the heels of a proposal by Mayor Walter J. Hannon for a new North Quincy High School on 17 acres of marsh land between State Street South and West Squantum St.

The building, to cost no more than $15 million, would be built on property owned by WMEX radio, Massachusetts Engineering Co. and S. H. Couch.

Mayor Hannon said he would ask the city Council Monday night to take the land, which includes two houses, owned by Mass. Engineering, by eminent domain if the School Building Assistance Bureau find it "approvable."

He said the city could receive 65 percent reimbursement on construction and interest if it acts quickly on the proposal.

Chamber Asks Cooperation

900 Spaces Available For All-Day Parkers

There are more than 900 all-day parking spaces available for Quincy Square employees in and around the downtown shopping area, the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce announced today.

A letter from the Chamber to all businessmen in Quincy Center urges employees to make use of the special parking lots especially during construction of the Ross Parking Garage.

An accompanying map locates seven public and private areas which may be used free or on a rental basis.

More than 350 spaces will be open for employees in a temporary lot behind Grossman's and Quincy Family Center for free all-day parking.

Only autos bearing stickers issued by the Chamber of Commerce will be allowed into Lot 1 between 7 and 9:30 a.m. The spaces will be opened to shoppers after 9:30 a.m.

Area Number 2 on the map indicates a 75-car lot adjacent to the MBTA tracks near Dimmock and Adams Sts. The spaces will be available for 50 cents per day during construction of the Upland Road Extension.

The Quincy Station MBTA Garage [Area 3] still has 250 spaces open for employees on the fourth and fifth floors which may be rented for $10 per month through Eastern Parking Corp.

Room for 100 all-day parkers is available in the John Hancock Parking Lot near Revere Rd and Chestnut St. at 75 cents per day effective March 1.

The Covenant Church [Area 5] at Whitwell and Granite Sts. had 75 spaces and St. John's Church [Area 6] offers 40 spaces free to cars bearing Chamber stickers.

Area 7 is the upper level of Sweeney Funeral Home lot at Elm and South Sts. which offers 15 spaces for cars with Chamber stickers.

Merchants may obtain stickers from the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce, 36 Miller Stile Rd.

The letter says Upland Rd. Construction and the removal of 260 spaces in Ross Parking Area "through mid-October creates a need for co-operation on everyone's part."

Supervised parking and the no-fix system will "Create a situation where parking at one-and two-hour meters by employees, or parking where there are No Parking signs, and meter feeding will result in tagging by meter maids," it states.

"Of primary concern right now is outlining the options your employees have for all-day parking in and around Quincy Center."

Give Rink A Look

We hope that the City Council and the community will give every consideration toward granting the Quincy Youth Hockey Association land for construction of its skating rink.

A detailed proposal for a $600,000 facility with a seating capacity of 500 has been submitted to the Council's Land Conveyance Committee and a subcommittee has been appointed to study the matter.

The association has financial backing and the manpower to see to construction and operation of the rink.

All that is needed is sale for a nominal fee of 3.7 acres of land off Sea St. which have been of little use to the city.

With prompt action on the land grant, the facility could be opened in October or November to provide partial, temporary satisfaction of the growing demand for ice time.

And the rink would serve as an excellent supplement to the larger facility planned by the School Department at the Vocational Technical School.

Ice time at a Quincy Youth Hockey Association rink would be rented at low cost by city residents because the group is a registered, non-profit organization.

All the local groups who have been scheduled out or unable to obtain ice time at MDC rinks could be accommodated by two rinks in Quincy.

But the most important consideration is the 600 potential Bobby Orrs skating in learner programs and hockey leagues and the 700 would-be skaters who are left on the association's waiting list.

An association-owned rink would eliminate the waiting list and allow the group to establish girls' skating programs and figure skating classes.

How many times has a stop sign been erected—after a fatal auto accident.

Or a dangerous quarry or pond fenced in—after a youngster has drowned.

And how much effort is now going into the drugs problem—after youths have become addicted.

Here is an opportunity for the city to do something positive—before.

If these youngsters who would use the facility were problem children, there probably would be a great cry of "let's do something for them."

They aren't problem children. They are quite normal. But why not do something for them. Something to help keep them normal.

A Reply To Editorial On 'All Day Parking Hogs'

Editor, Quincy Sun:

As members of the group that was singled out for castigation as "that privileged character - the all day parking hog" in your editorial of Feb. 10, 1972, we think it our responsibility to both clarify the issue and answer the charges against those who must use Quincy Square parking facilities on a daily basis.

First of all, the overwhelming majority of us who are referred to as "privileged hogs" are people who are every bit as much the life blood of Quincy Square as are the merchants, the Chamber of Commerce, politicians or consumers who commute to the Square to shop. We spend every day providing that most necessary of commodities - service.

In commercial terms too, this sizeable group makes a substantial contribution to the productive life of the Square. We do a great deal of shopping here providing a steady clientele to all the city stores including restaurants. We represent a sizeable block of consuming power. We, the so called "hogs", are the ones that spend their pay checks in the Square and resent the actions of the business community which tends to blame us for their inability to attract the shoppers. Why should one drive to Quincy Square and take the 'no fix' chance, at higher fees, when they can go to Braintree, park all day, and shop in modern well run stores.

We estimate that the average worker in Quincy Square leaves about $700. per year in these establishments because they can shop every day during their lunch hour and after work.

Maybe a boycott against those merchants who have worked so hard against our interest should be undertaken to wake them up to the fact that we need assistance and deserve it more than the occasional shopper from Dorchester or Hingham.

The time has come for the Quincy City Council to take action and provide some all day parking meters at locations convenient for the Quincy Square employees - many of whom are also taxpayers.

Senator Kennedy: Strategy And Speculation

Editor, Quincy Sun:

Senator Kennedy's decision not to become a delegate to the Democratic Convention from Massachusetts, will eliminate the danger of the Senator committing himself to any of the announced candidates by virtue of his first ballot vote, and allow him to retain his enjoyed position of neutrality and non-candidacy until such time he chooses not to do so.

"Ifs" and "buts" are still being tossed around; however, speculation has the Democratic convention deadlocked. The Democratic contenders, most likely, will kill each other off, to the delight of the Republicans, in their primaries. No candidate will emerge as the leader, all candidates will come out bruised.

By not supporting any of the announced candidates, Senator Kennedy alienates no one and rallies everyone to the "Defeat Nixon Cause". By repeatedly echoing his non-candidacy he remains in the spotlight. Kennedy's neutrality makes his appearance at speaking engagements and functions most welcome. Kennedy's popularity and appeal continues to grow. Voters listen with interest to what he says. Because he is not a candidate, Kennedy can make issues and take stands without fear of harmful attack from Republicans as well as Democrats.

Kennedy's position will allow him to enter the Democratic convention as everybody's second choice. At a deadlocked convention it wouldn't be difficult to draft a man so admired.

The popular pastor of St. John's Church, Quincy, still prefers to be called "Father".

A man with real humility.

***

HE MAY not play a ukulele, sing, or appear on TV, but Rep. Thomas Brownell in one instance had a lot more influence than Arthur Godfrey.

Brownell was the man who forced the end of nighttime dredging in the Town River after Quincy residents complained of the noise.

In New York, the same company was dredging the Hudson River. Godfrey, living nearby in an apartment complained of the noise, too. But they kept on dredging.

THE LATE William C. Edwards, Quincy's long-time city historian, probably knew more about Quincy's history than any man-in-history. And he got to know more of the city's mayors than anyone else.

Did he have a favorite mayor? Yes—William T. Shea who served from 1908 to 1911.

Not that he thought Shea was a better mayor than the others. Actually, it was because of a boyhood impression.

Bill liked to tell the story about how he and some other little kids were playing ball behind Adams Academy one day and a crank shoed them away.

Bill and the other boys "marched" on City Hall and demanded to see Mayor Shea.

The mayor invited them into his office and listened patiently to their complaint.

"Go on back," smiled His Honor "and play all the ball you want."

"And, I've never forgotten that," Bill used to laugh.

***

WHO WILL BE the new historian—if the post is continued—remains to be seen. But Jack Hennessy, the Wollaston plumbing supply firm owner would like to see it go to Edward T. [Red] Lewis.

Lewis, grew up in Quincy, worked for the city for many years and served as city manager and executive secretary to Mayors Amelio Della Chiesa and James McIntyre.

"Who else but Red knows the city and its history," says Hennessy. "He would be a dynamic person for the job, and it would also bring him back to the city where he belongs."

TOOTING-OWN-HORN-DEPT: Item here Jan. 27: "City Hall insiders figure that Atty. Joseph McParland has the inside track on appointment as the city's new labor negotiator."

News item this week: Mayor Walter J. Hannan today [Monday] announced the appointment of Atty. Joseph P. McParland of Braintree to the new $14,000 position of labor negotiator for the city.

METER MAIDS chalking tires of cars parked in downtown Quincy may have to get a better brand. A chalk mark is place on one of the tires and later checked to ascertain whether the car has been parked there overtime.

Sighted this week: two motorists rubbing off the chalk marks.

Smyth Urges Addition To Atlantic Junior High

Creedon, Smyth said "a smaller expansion for North would considerably reduce the number of homes and land to be taken for this project."

He said the 497 ninth graders now attending North could be moved back to Atlantic if an addition to that school were built.

"I am fully cognizant of the fact that educators do not favor a ninth grade to be incorporated in a junior high school facility," he said.

"There are circumstances, however, that substantiate reconsideration of this modern thinking."

"The taking by eminent domain of 25 homes and relocation of many families warrants serious thinking of the proposal now before the City Council," he said.

Smyth said his proposal was submitted "in the interest of the residents of Hunt St., Oliver St. and Price St. The avoiding of relocating these families must be given priority and positive steps taken to find another solution."

Burke President State District Attorneys Assn.

Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George G. Burke of Quincy was elected president of the Massachusetts District Attorneys Association at the annual meeting at Pier 4.

Burke succeeds Dist. Atty. John Droney of Middlesex County.

Burke said one of his first projects as association president will be a comprehensive study of the Massachusetts superior and district court systems "to see what can be done to correct the tremendous backlog of felony cases."

"Some counties have thousands and thousands of backlogged felony cases," he declared.

He noted that Norfolk County is in the best condition in the state as far as the hearing of misdemeanor cases is concerned.

"But," he added, "we too have a serious felony backlog."

Burke, district attorney since 1967, is a former state representative and Quincy city councillor.

Meter Receipt Deficit $67,616.72 Last Year

Parking meter receipts for 1971 showed a net deficit of $67,916.72, according to Councillor-at-large Joseph J. LaRaia.

City Auditor Alexander Smith reported to LaRaia that debt and operating expenses on the city's meters last year totalled more than $115,000 while receipts were $47,000.

LaRaia said the plan to enforce parking meter violations will increase meter revenue but is "turning business activity away from the city."

He said he would confer with Mayor Walter J. Hannon to review the new program of enforcement before making further comment.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING — This sketch by architect B. A. Suk shows the proposed Quincy Youth Hockey Association Rink to be built off Sea St., behind the Naval Reserve Training Center. The association will ask the City Council Monday to grant them some four acres of land for construction of the 500-seat facility.

15 To Serve On Rink Committee

The City Council Land Conveyance Committee has asked 13 city officials to serve on a committee to investigate the proposed Youth Hockey Association skating rink.

The association has asked the Council to grant some four acres of land off Sea St. for a 500-seat facility to supplement the planned School Department Rink.

Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham, committee chairman, said he has asked 14 persons to serve, including Police Chief Francis X. Finn, Fire Chief Edward F. Barry and Forestry Department Chairman John F. Koegler.

Also Building Inspector Allan MacDonald, Highway Superintendent Alfred Raymondi, Planning Director Geoffrey Davidson, City Engineer Edward Leone, Water Superintendent Robert Barry.

And City Auditor Alexander

Smith, Schools Superintendent Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, Public Works Commissioner James J. Ricciuti, Sewer Superintendent Russell Erano and John M. Browne, director of plant facilities for the School Department.

Also appointed to the subcommittee were Larry Richardson and John Jolly of the Youth Hockey Association. A bank representative will be named later.

Brownell Calls Expressway Widening Plan 'Ludicrous'

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has labeled as "ludicrous" a proposal to build two reversible lanes down the middle of the Southeast Expressway to increase rush-hour capacity.

In a letter to Public Works Commissioner Bruce Campbell, Brownell said he was strongly opposed to "spending $20 million plus of the taxpayer's money on a questionable project such as this."

He said he favors "encouraging people to utilize public transportation rather than finding ways to pack more cars and commuter vehicles into an already overcrowded traffic situation in Boston."

More use of the MBTA would help to defray operating costs and assessments, he said.

Also, "if this project were undertaken it would take two years to complete."

Vacation Week Programs At Schools, Fore River

Poet's Corner

'Mothers Heart'

There hasn't been a Valentine written, that describes the greatest heart in all the World
My Mother's, Ann Doran Gillan

How do you describe this rare heart?

Compassionate, loving, strong, gentle, giving, good, patient, forgiving,

February 14, a day set aside to let dar ones know that they are loved,

How trivial in comparison to all the hours, days, weeks, months, years, My Mother constantly gave her heart to all within her reach,

Oh how sad that not all realize the priceless, irreplaceable true love that was theirs!

"I do", and I want the World to know that you "Ma" —

Are the most Beautiful Valentine, on this Earth.
Thank you My Mother, daughter, Mildred

Combine Golds In Powder Room

Gold is one of today's most popular colors and it can be most effective in a powder room.

Two embossed panels featuring gold tones—tapestry and linen stripe—can be coordinated in a powder room.

Both of these Marlite panels have a washable plastic finish. They are highly resistant to hard wear, heat, stains and moisture. Even lipstick can be wiped off without marring the finish.

Harmonizing moldings are available for use with all pre-finished Marlite paneling.

A damp wiping is the only maintenance required by plastic-finished Marlite paneling.

Marlite, a plastic-finished hard-board paneling, may be used in the tub-shower area.

Fresh Orange Jelly Parfait Cheers The Winter Table

Your market basket will look as if Midas touched it when you fill it with bright gold oranges in such good supply at your store now. Gladden your table with a dessert all a-sparkle with fresh orange flavor. Try Fresh Orange Jelly Parfait. The gelatine is made with orange juice you squeeze yourself, together with a zippy touch of fresh lemon juice and rind. Layer squares of the orange gelatine with whipped cream. Delectable and simple to do. The word "orange" goes back to the old Arabian word "naranj". Oranges are great to eat out of hand for juicy refreshment and for their rich supply of vitamin "C".

Fresh Orange Jelly Parfait

- |                                       |                                                |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine        | 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice                |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water          | $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon grated fresh lemon rind |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar               | 1 cup heavy cream, whipped                     |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt           | $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon vanilla                 |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ cups fresh orange juice |                                                |

Sprinkle gelatine over cold water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves. Remove from heat; stir in sugar and salt. Add orange juice, lemon juice and rind. Pour into a 9 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Fill parfait glasses with alternating layers of orange jelly and whipped cream mixed with vanilla. Makes: 6 servings.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of Feb. 17 - 24

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 20] - Your emotions are easily stirred and unexpected things happen. A change now is not to your advantage so sit tight.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Your thinking is brilliant and others can be persuaded to help bring about the fulfillment of your desires.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - After a brief respite your responsibilities have to be faced once again. Delays, disappointments or health worry you.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - There is a lot of activity around you that is mentally stimulating and someone will cause a sharp disagreement.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 21] - The publicity you receive will boomerang if you try to force the issues, relax and ride with fate for a change.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Money or help comes from an unexpected source - use it to make a long planned dream come true instead of wasting it.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - An unexpected separation upsets you and makes you realize you need to make a few long range plans for yourself.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Don't go overboard with your new acquaintance because indications are that it won't last. Be moderate.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Frustrations pile up as more people demand your time and services, accept unexpected invitation and have fun.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - You are plagued with petty annoyances you can't control, don't be pushed into an unwise change. Sit tight.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - This is a good time to expand your mind, a course in advanced thinking will enrich your life so go to it.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Travel is indicated - this could be many short trips or one long one. Financial gain is also coming your way.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Fat people love cold weather...

It's the only time of year they can swaddle their waddles in bulky coats. The temperature drops and their spirits rise. The more other people bundle up, the more normal the fatties look. Lovely, lovely cold. Every fat winter morning brings a prayer of thanks for below zero temperatures and a continuous cold front for the rest of the week.

After all, it's a lot easier to throw another sweater on the body than it is to face the fact that fat doesn't melt. There is only one way to trim fat from the human body. That is by proper eating and strict attention to nutrition.

Somewhere the happy fallacy that calories protect you from the cold and you need more of them during the winter has crept into FATuous reasoning. You don't need more calories now. You may find fragrantly steaming food more heartening during the winter, but heating it up does not mean adding calories.

Take this oyster stew for example:

OYSTER STEW

- 1 onion, chopped
- Bay leaf
- 1 quart Albi Skim Milk
- 1 vegetable bouillon cube
- stalk of celery with leaves
- salt and pepper
- 1 pint oysters
- 3 tablespoons water

Dissolve bouillon cube in water and gently saute onion and celery. Add bay leaf and milk. Bring to boiling point, but do not boil. Heat oysters slowly in separate pan. When they are, thoroughly heated, strain milk mixture onto them and serve at once.

If you eat hot and hearty this way, next year you might be wearing stretch ski pants instead of wallowing in woolens. The fattest of people must face the fact that winter leads inevitably to spring and spring to summer shorts and bikinis. Hiding behind your overcoat now is poking your head in the sand.

Use these remaining weeks of winter to begin your transition to your new life. If you started a diet last fall and slipped, begin once more. If you should have started a diet and didn't, begin now.

Remember, I am here at The Diet Workshop, 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566 to answer all your questions and to get you off on the right track. When the snow has melted, the leaves have sprung, and the flowers are blooming, I hope that you will have shed your winter wraps and emerged slim and cool.

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free brochure, "Sweet Rewards For Dieters", please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

Lions To Hold Roaring Twenties Dance Saturday

Curtain Call Theatre To Perform 'Play It Again, Sam' Feb. 18, 19, 21

Curtain Call Theatre of the South Shore will present Woody Allen's comedy "Play It Again, Sam" on Feb. 18, 19 and 21 at Weymouth North High School. Tickets for the 8:30 p.m. performances will be available at the door.

Proceeds will benefit a newly-formed scholarship fund to give $100 scholarships to one senior each from Braintree and Weymouth North High Schools. The leads are played by Jeff and Barry Kennedy of Weymouth and Louise Duart of Quincy with supporting roles by George and Tommie Stevens of Braintree, Barbara Cartmill of Hingham and Cathy Venti of Braintree.

Volunteer Dance Lauches 1972 Heart Fund Campaign

The 1972 Heart Fund campaign was launched recently with a dance at Lantana in Randolph for the 600 volunteers featuring the Jack D'John Trio.

Mrs. John A. Keach Jr. of South Easton, chairman of the Kick-off Committee, said "the evening's emphasis was on fun but the rest of the month will emphasize fund - Heart Fund." Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. George G. L. Wilson of Quincy.

Mr., Mrs. Brandt Show Slides At Elihu White

Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Brandt of Braintree showed slides Feb. 7 of their recent trip to Japan to residents of the Elihu White Nursing Home, Braintree.

The Brandts spent five months in Japan, during which time they stayed at many Japanese homes, attended a Japanese wedding and visited Shinto shrines.

Before You Shop

Before you shop for a mattress, there are a few things you must determine.

First, what size is best for you? Do you want a single, twin, double, king, queen or extra long? An important consideration about extra sized mattresses is whether or not your stairway and room can accommodate it.

Next, you must decide whether your mattress should be soft, medium or hard. If there is any physical problem involved, your physician should be consulted.

The materials making up the mattress are also important, especially if there is any allergic problem involved.

And your present box spring or foundation should be checked, too, to make sure it provides the proper support for a new mattress.

Finally, don't let price appeal deter you from buying lasting comfort and serviceability.

For the best in mattresses and box springs, shop Tags Sleep and Lounge Shop, 1568 Hancock St., Quincy, your South Shore BEDquarters, featuring Simmons, Slumberland, Serta and King Koil. Use major credit cards or long-term agreements, three-months to pay, no carrying charge. Call 471-6180.

Thomas S. Burgin, Amelio Della Chiesa and James R. McIntyre will be honored at the service which will be followed by a 9:30 a.m. breakfast.

Rabbi Jacob Mann will be toastmaster. Mayor Walter J. Hannon will be guest speaker. Greetings will be given by Brotherhood President Morton Arons and Synagogue President Jack M. Klaver.

Brotherhood President Arons said the observance is in honor of Presidents Day, which combines the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington.

"The Brotherhood will pay honor to our own City of Presidents and to its citizenry in the giving of citations and in paying tribute to our former three mayors."

The services and meal will take place at Beth Israel Synagogue, 33 Grafton St.

Bishop Lawrence Riley Memorial Mass Preacher

Bishop Lawrence J. Riley, pastor of Most Precious Blood Church in Hyde Park, will preach the sermon at the 43rd annual military Mass of Cyril P. Morrisette Legion Post Feb. 21.

The Mass, honoring Post members who died in the armed services, will be offered at 10 a.m. Feb. 21 at St. Mary's Church, West Quincy.

Bishop Riley, newly-appointed auxiliary bishop of Boston, is former president of the Catholic Theological Society of America and of the major seminaries department of the National Catholic Educational Association.

Preceding the Mass will be the placing of memorial wreaths at graves in St. Mary's Cemetery of Cyril Morrisette and John A. Boyd at 8 a.m.

Flag raising ceremonies will take place on the grounds of the Post Home, 54 Miller St., at 9 a.m.

A parade will form at the home to march to the Mass.

Parade roster includes Quincy police detail, American Legion state and county details, Chief Marshall Paul W. O'Neill, Chaplain James E. Mulligan and Bishop Riley.

Invited guests include

American Legion department officers, city officials headed by Mayor Walter J. Hannon, county and state officials.

At 9:30 a.m. memorial wreaths will be placed at the West Quincy War Veterans Memorial adjacent to the West Quincy Fire Station by Commander Loretto J. Bersani and Mayor Hannon.

After the ceremonies, the parade will reform and return to the Post for an open house the rest of the day.

Gold Star Mothers and families of the deceased will be honored guests.

ME You Young Ideas SHE

Unedited selections from the writings of Quincy's elementary school children.

Lost In The Woods

[in the style of Carl Sandburg]

Night so dark,
All is quiet when suddenly—
You are lost in the woods.
Night so dark
All is frightful
You are lost in the woods.

Owls hooting wolves howling.
All seems sinister.
You are lost.

You run and run seemingly in circles.
You are lost.
You lie down to sleep on the cold ground.

When you wake up it is daylight.
You are in your own back yard.

Jim Pranger
Furnace Brook School
Elementary Lab Center

The Winter Day

Ice is when I go out and skate nice.

I come in to get something to eat.

When I come out I have nice warm feet.

I come home from a long day,
I go to bed and sleep away.

Joseph Keith
Snug Harbor School
Grade 3

Wind

No one has been the wind at all.

It can blow or bounce a ball,
The wind itself is very scary,
As it blows across the prairie.

MaryAnn Pennellatore
Thomas B. Pollard School

In January

In January I always bake a blue berry cake, and snow flakes fall oh boy what a ball, and when you want the wind to blow all you do is yell hello.

Laurie Campbell
Snug Harbor School
Grade 3

Mr. Wallace

Mr. Wallace came into our room. And talked about what his work was. And how he did it.
And he talked about different countries. And what they had to pay for food for there families.

And in Russia they had to pay 53 cents out of each dollar they made. And when he came he brought 7 boxes. And they where full of supizes. Each box had 4 things there where three stockings and one candy cane.
And when he left Miss Hunter gave each one of us one of the supizes.

Amey Johnson
Wollaston School
Grade 2

Sunset

The day is over and it sings it's song,
Then you say good-by for the day is long.

And then you notice
That the sky is red,
Then you hear your mother saying
Tom, it's time for bed.

But as the sky turns red to black
The moon and stars come out.
You get your faithful teddy bear
And cuddle him about.

Donna Lewis
Myles Standish School
Grade 6

My Winter Day

In winter we make a snow ball.

Sometimes you fall.
We go outside.
And then hide.

We play hide in seek.
But some kids peek.

John Cascarano
Snug Harbor School
Grade 3

Mittens & Kittens

I have a pair of mittens,
And also some kitten's.
When I go skating
There always waiting.

Justine Notarangelo
Snug Harbor School
Grade 3

The Wind

When you want the wind to blow,

Then you just yell hello.

When you bend to tie your shoe

Then the wind comes back to you.

When the wind goes out to play

Then you say What a good day.

Lorraine Uhlar
Snug Harbor School
Grade 3

Snowflakes

Snowflakes falling here and there,

If you look and look again,
You'll never find a pair,

One day I awoke and saw through my eyes,

Millions of snowflakes in surprise.

MaryAnn Pennellatore
Thomas B. Pollard School

Rain

As the rain comes pouring down,
On the people in the town,
It looks like tears of little girls,

And it shines like little pearls.
MaryAnn Pennellatore

The Quincy Police Station

Our class went to the Police Station. We got finger printed.
And a coloring book. We saw were they got trained to be a police. It was lots of fun. We saw jails.

Maureen Monagle
Wollaston School

I Am A Worker

I wish I was a man because they do a lot of stuff and I wish
I worked at a store because after
I finish I get paid.

January Is Fun

January is fun when I shoot my toy gun. I broke my toy gun it was no more fun. But then I found something it was so funny, just like a toy bunny.
When snow falls we make snow ball. The next morning we went to school walking up it was very cool.

What Happens

Winter is cold.
Your clothes are old
When you skate
You have a belly ache.
When you ski
You go whee, whee, whee
Now its over
You will see a clover.

Gerard O'Rourke
Snug Harbor School

Snowflakes

In The Sky

Snowflakes falling from the sky,

Swiftly, gracefully, one in my eye,

Big ones, little ones, round ones too,

When they've fallen, it's fun for you.

Run outside, run and play,
Stay in the yard and play all
day,
Walk or run, just don't delay,
The snow won't last; it'll melt away.

Sharon Wahlberg

A Moment

Of Wonder

There was only one thing I wanted for Christmas. I had dreamed almost every night for it. When I went to bed Christmas night I could not get to sleep.
Finally, at one thirty, I got to sleep. When six o'clock came, the kids and I ran down our stairs. We started for the parlor, but my mother saw us, and we had to wait. After a while she said that we could go into the parlor. When I went in I saw two bikes. They were for my sister and I! And a bike is just what I had dreamed for!

Steven Decelle
Willard School
Level 6

Mr. Wallace

My father came into talk to us about food. He told us 16 cents of every dollar is spent on food in United States. The people in Russia have to spend 53 cents out of every dollar on food.
There are 8,000 items in a grocery store.

John Wallace
Wollaston School

White

White is bright,
White is nice,
White is a beautiful sight.
White is just like a kite.
It is up in the sky.
It is down on the ground
White is everywhere.

Dotty Caulfield
Myles Standish School

Peabody Museum

Monday, we went to the Peabody Museum at Harvard University. I saw some glass flowers. Also necklaces and how the indians made baskets. I saw all kinds of koke faces and jewels.

Living, Today

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

The waves were breaking over the rocks making white caps a short distance off shore. To get a closer look at the turbulent ocean I drove further into the beach area...and got stuck in the sand. Suddenly...I had a problem...how to get the Buick out of the soft sand before the tide came in.

As I sized up the situation I had three alternatives...sit there and do nothing...spin my wheels...or call for help. When the first two failed...I called for help. The TROUBLE TRUCK came...and after an hour of fancy maneuvering we were again on the street...ready to roll.

We handle our personal problems in one of these ways...sit there and do nothing...spin our wheels...or call for help.

The most serious "addiction" of our people is over-eating...because over-eating results in overweight...and overweight is a major factor in heart disease...and heart disease is responsible for more deaths than all other causes combined. Our fast pace...our rich foods...our buying power...makes personal discipline necessary in controlling our body weight. The "nibbler" truly is an addict. He has a problem. If he sits there and does nothing...but eat and talk about it...I've just got to go on a diet...I shouldn't eat this...but...he's just spinning his wheels. Better he call for help.

The same with cigarette smoking. I quit 14 months ago. The danger is printed on every pack..."WARNING: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous To Your Health." It's no secret now...the truth is out. What will you do? Sit there and do nothing...but smoke...and talk about quitting? Just spinning your wheels? Or call for help.

Our worst drug problem is alcohol. Some people can't drink without losing control of their faculties. Alcohol effects the disposition...judgement...mental powers...physical functions. The person with a drink problem creates misery for himself...and family. What will you do? Sit there and do nothing...but drink...and deny you have a problem? Just spinning your wheels? Or call for help?

Most marital conflict is unnecessary. The daily battles...verbal and physical violence...continue because people refuse to face up to the cause of the problem...therefore do nothing about resolving the conflict. One couple had been married 20 years...the last 10 had been miserable. When I asked..."Why?" she said..."Because he shows me no affection." When I asked him "Why not?" He said..."Because she belittles me...kills my spirit...I'm always wrong." They quit spinning their wheels...they called for help...and got it. What will you do with your marital conflict? Sit there and do nothing...but quarrel...and let your relationship be destroyed? Just keep spinning your wheels? Or call for help?

TROUBLE TRUCKS like ministers...priests...counselors...psychiatrists...therapy groups are ready to respond. It's really rather foolish to sit there and do nothing about a problem. Stop spinning your wheels. CALL FOR HELP.

Get the most from your hot water faucet install a flameless electric water heater

It takes a lot of hot water to fill the needs of today's modern family. Family baths and showers, dishes, laundry. It adds up fast. An electric water heater will keep you supplied with hot water 24 hours a day. Constant...never scalding hot then icy cold. Silent and so trouble-free you'll hardly know it's there. And best of all it's economical.

Presentations were made at Sherry's.

Smyth Asks Higher Fence On Overpass

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth has urged that the fencing on the pedestrian overpass on Walnut St., North Quincy, be raised to six or eight feet.

Smyth told H. W. Moore Associates he felt the four-foot fence on the nearly-completed bridge "does not seem adequate for the safety of both children and adults using this overpass."

"In the near future, Newport Avenue extension will be opened to vehicular traffic," he said.

"I strongly suggest and urge an additional two to four feet of fencing be erected on this overpass."

[Harry and I aren't exactly chickens, we're more like roosters, but who the hell would read an ad headed "COCK-A-DOODLE-DO" and besides, COCK-A-DOODLE-DO wouldn't get the point across that our prices are absolutely the lowest * in all New England.]

Our prices are really CHEAP! [I know 11,642 stores claim this, but we guarantee it. Read on and I'll tell you why and how]. We don't buy merchandise the way the other stores do. We buy railroad salvage, trucking company salvage, firestock, bankruptcies, close-outs, over-stocks, irregulars, rejects, etc. We check carefully to see that everything works properly. If it needs refurbishing, we do it. Most items are 100% perfect, some 95% perfect, some only 9% perfect, but we guarantee that you'll be pleased with the price and performance of every purchase or we'll give you a 100% refund-and no hard time! What could be fairer?

*PRICE GUARANTEE

We are a bargain store. We think it's the best bargain store in all New England. We check... recheck... and double check... to be sure that every item is a genuine, bona-fide "good-enough-to-brag-about" bargain. We're sure that every single price [we've got 14,931 different items-you're welcome to count them if you don't believe it] is the lowest price in all New England. If we goofed... if you find the same item for less money... we'll give you a free bottle of champagne... and we'll beat the other price!

Peacock of 109 Harvard St., Wollaston, has completed U.S.

Air Force Basic Training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

He has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colorado, for Training as a Defensive Fire Control System Mechanic. Airman Peacock is a 1969 graduate of North Quincy High School and attended East Coast Aero Technical School, Lexington, Mass.

Frederick Gilbert Enrolled At Bryant & Stratton

Frederick A. Gilbert of Wollaston has been accepted to the Hotel-Motel Management program at Bryant & Stratton, Boston.

Gilbert will graduate in June 1972 from Quincy Vocational Technical High School.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Gilbert of 19 Hillside Ave., Wollaston.

Television personality Dave Maynard said he is looking forward to being master of ceremonies for the Community Auditions Feb. 22 at Wollaston Theatre.

The 8 p.m. show will mark the second year in a row Maynard has been toastmaster for the United Commercial Travelers' benefit program.

Maynard's staff auditioned talent for the show Sunday at Quincy Masonic Temple.

Winners of the competition will appear on the televised "Community Auditions" program.

General chairman of the program is Herbert F. Cole, past senior councillor of Wollaston Council. His assistant is Paul Ricciardi, past president of the South Shore Retarded Childrens Association.

Committee members include Henry D'Amore, treasurer; John J. Lydon Jr., ticket chairman; Robert D. Keyes, publicity chairman; Joseph J. LaRaia, special promotions, and Arthur I. Senter, coordinator of program.

A 19-inch portable television and stand will be the door prize. Tickets may be purchased at the Hancock Bank Wollaston Branch, Wollaston Theatre or from John J. Lydon, 644 Hancock St., Wollaston, or Herbert F. Cole, 77 Main St., Hingham.

Delahunt Wants 100-Foot Fire Ladder At Wollaston

Ward 5 Councillor William D. Delahunt has urged Mayor Hannon to ask the City Council for funds for a 100-foot ladder truck to replace the 75-foot ladder at Wollaston Fire Station.

Delahunt said the high-rise construction in Wollaston on Grandview Ave., Hancock and Clay Sts. require a 100-foot ladder similar to the one at Central Fire Station.

He added that the 1950 model truck has been called on to respond to other high rise projects and is frequently out of service for repairs.

"It has been brought to my attention," he said, "that there is currently no reserve ladder truck available in the City in the event of a breakdown of any of the ladder companies.

"Replacement of the ladder truck in Wollaston would not only provide the residents of Wollaston with a first line piece of equipment but would benefit the entire City of Quincy by providing a back-up ladder truck in the event of the breakdown of any of the other ladder trucks in the city," he said.

Computeria, Inc., Associate Buy 53 Per Cent Of Interactive Stock

Computeria, Inc., 148 Old Colony Ave., Quincy, has purchased with an associate 53 percent of the outstanding common stock of Interactive Sciences Corporation, a computer time-sharing organization of Braintree.

Computeria is a pioneer in the marketing of special-purpose computer applications programs for accountants, planners, managers, analysts, civil and electrical engineers through retail outlets of independent time-sharing firms on behalf of the owners of the programs.

MONEY TALKS

What Are Your Children Learning About Money?

By Philip J. Lawrence
President
COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

Have we ever thought what we want our children to learn about money? They are learning about money from us and others, of course, whether we like it or not. What they learn may determine whether their later lives will be miserable or happy.

We consider ourselves quite enlightened these days in our frank approach to sex education. But money attitudes provoke as many marital problems as sex attitudes ever did.

It is ironic that we are being tagged as "economic illiterates" in an age when our economy is more challenging than ever before.

Children are not being adequately taught the economic facts of life. One critic of economic education, Martin Mayer, said a few years ago, "In four years of visiting schools I have seen nothing on the high school level which I would regard as worth the time that both students and teachers are compelled to give to it."

The affluent society in which we live poses problems of a nature that those who survived the depression years never suspected they would have to face.

Back in those days, the simple answer "we can't afford it" to childish requests for new possessions was final and incontestable.

Nowadays, some other answer must be found, or parents succumb to a whole host of appeals—"I want my own radio, if I have my own television set, there won't be any problem of what we're going to watch." "Why can't I have a tape recorder?" "When can I have a car?"

To find the logical answers, parents must be clear in their own minds and in their living habits about their own sense of values. If Mom and Pop are giving in to a frantic crusade to keep up with the Joneses, they can hardly deny their children's requests to have "what all the other kids have."

What do we want our youngster to learn about money? To give evidence of his superiority over other children? To establish their dependence on him? To buy friendships and loyalties?

Or do we want him to think of money as a medium of exchange that is useful in acquiring the immediate necessities and simple pleasures of life? As a means of satisfying larger needs by saving for them? As an opportunity to make others happy?

Educators emphasize the influence of such early-acquired concepts upon the entire lifetime of a person. The problem is accentuated, as we have said, by the fact that kids have never had it so good. The money spent by and on teenagers each year runs into the tens of billions of dollars.

We can well give thoughtful consideration to how and why we dispense dimes and quarters and dollars to our youngsters.

Wollaston Rainbow Raises $400 For Badger Family

Wollaston Rainbow Assembly raised more than $400 at their recent benefit coffee hour for the family of John Badger of East Brookfield at the Winfield House.

Mrs. Badger was killed and four of her five children injured in an auto accident Nov. 20 in Oxford.

The family was returning from a Worcester Hospital where Mr. Badger was recuperating from surgery at the time of the accident.

Rainbow chairmen Linda Bezanson and Donna Giudici expressed thanks to Mrs. Lena Strout, owner of the Winfield House, for her "hard work and the use of her restaurant."

"If not for Mrs. Strout's opening the Winfield House and donating two free steak dinners as door prizes, this amount would never have been reached."

Rainbow girls involved included Kathleen Hughes, refreshment chairman; Barbara Sang, ticket chairman; Donna and Debra Hardie, publicity chairmen; and Jean Morse, chairman of pennies.

Members of Old Colony Demolay under chairman Brian Carter volunteered to wash dishes and help pick up after the 200 persons who attended the benefit.

Brownell Wants MDC Police Station At Beach

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has urged construction of an MDC Police substation at Wollaston Beach to ensure 24-hour protection in the area.

He said the station could be opened just during the Summer months when most of the problems occur at the beach.

Brownell has asked the House Committee on Urban Affairs to approve legislation for the station.

Rotary Seeks Candidates For Education Awards

The Rotary Club of Quincy is seeking young men and women as candidates for Rotary Foundation educational awards for study abroad in 1973-74.

President James D. Asher said four types of award each cover round-trip transportation, educational and living expenses and, if necessary, funds for intensive language training.

Graduate fellowships are available for persons between 20 and 28 with a bachelor's degree or equivalent. Undergraduate scholarships are for persons from 18 to 24 with two years of college work.

Technical training awards go to persons 21 to 35 with a secondary education and at least two years' working experience and Awards to teachers of the handicapped are for those between 21 and 35 who have taught the handicapped for at least two years.

The Rotary Foundation is a non-profit organization supported by contributions from Rotarians in 149 countries.

Since 1947, the Foundation has awarded more than $12 million to send more than 4,700 young men and women to overseas study.

Further information may be obtained from Joseph H. Whiteman at Gordon & Whiteman, 1245 Hancock St., Quincy.

Robert Hanschiegl Cited At Massachusetts Maritime Academy

Robert E. Hanschiegl of Quincy, a cadet at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, Buzzards Bay, has been cited for academic achievement and authorized to wear a silver star on his dress uniform.

Academy President Lee F. Harrington, said Hanschiegl had attained the Dean's List for two successive quarters and had been named for honors by the special faculty board.

The Academy, now marking its 81st year, is the oldest continuously operating Maritime Academy in the U.S. and nearing completion of a $11 million expansion program.

New structures scheduled for dedication in the near future will be a gym and swimming pool building which includes rifle ranges and bowling alleys; modern laboratories and dining hall for 400 cadets overlooking Cape Cod Canal; a two-story library with capacity for 100,000 volumes; and science laboratories.

Council Draws Nine Names For Jury Duty In March

Buying A House?

By JOHN L. DAVIDSON

This column is directed to the young family interested in purchasing a home but knowing little of what is involved throughout the various stages of the transaction.

Dear Mr. D.

What are the qualifications one should look for when choosing a real estate broker to help him find a house?

Ans.

Since we are entering the "real estate season", which begins around early Spring, I would like to use the rest of the column to answer this question.

A majority of couples, whether they are looking for their first house or any one thereafter, will probably use a real estate broker at one time or another during their search for a home. A good broker can be a valuable asset in locating your new house. The favorable qualities of a broker you should watch for are:

a. There is no substitute for experience, background and training, make it a point to check these qualities.

b. Use the broker who is willing to help you personally, not the one who sends out a new salesman to learn on your time and at your expense.

c. Stay with the broker who gets most of his business by referral, rather than high powered promotion.

d. The broker should insist on your careful thorough inspection of the entire house inside and out plus a close examination of surrounding houses and the entire immediate neighborhood.

e. He should run a check on your credit rating.

f. A good broker will counsel you in all phases of home purchasing including picking the right neighborhood, style, size, construction, price range, etc.

g. He should keep in contact with you, advising you of the progress he is making.

h. Most important of all the paramount issue with him will be that you get the best house for your needs, rather than guaranteeing that he earn the biggest possible commission.

If you have a question please send it to John Davidson, c/o The Quincy Sun, 1601 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass. 02169. We will print the questions we feel will have the greatest common interest. The rest of the questions will be personally answered by Mr. D., if you supply us with your name and address.

John Champ Co-Chairman Of $25,000 CP Fund Campaign

John A. Champ, 20 Cobb Drive, Rockland has accepted the appointment of Co-Chairman of the Capital Funds Campaign to raise $25,000 for a building renovation drive for Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Area, Inc.

He will assist James F. McCormick, Sr. of 100 Reservoir Road, Wollaston, who is General Campaign Chairman.

Champ who is Postmaster in Rockland, has been active in a number of community endeavors.

He is a past president and a member of the Board of Directors of Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Area, Inc.

As president he was instrumental in establishing the C. P. Nursery School now located in Weymouth at the Trinity Episcopal Church.

In 1960 Mr. Champ received the Post Office Department's Superior Accomplishment

Award. He is a Past President of the National Association of Postmasters of Plymouth County and former member of the Town of Rockland's Industrial Development Commission. Mr. Champ has also been Chairman of many charitable fund drives, civic programs and activities in Rockland.

As Co-Chairman of the Capital Funds Campaign, Champ will assist McCormick in heading a group of volunteers composed of leading citizens in the South Shore Area who will solicit funds from foundations, trusts, corporations and individuals.

The goal of $25,000 is the balance of a cost of $100,000 required to renovate the building, a former garage, at 105 Adams Street into a Clinic for cerebral palsied children. The sum of $49,000 had been awarded under the Hill-Burton Act and $25,000 from The Committee of the Permanent Charity Fund Incorporated in Boston.

Upon completion, the Clinic will provide Speech, Occupational and Physical Therapies and medical overview for the victims of Cerebral Palsy and related brain damage.

The Headquarters Staff and Clinic Personnel will be under one roof for the first time since the health agency's inception in 1952. Sufficient space is also being reserved to provide a Developmental Day Car Center to furnish services to children of school age who are so involved and handicapped that they are unable to attend regular or special classes in public school.

Contributions and proffers of help may be made by contacting McCormick at 1245 Hancock St., Quincy, [471-5910], Arthur Ciampa, Executive Director, Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Area, Inc., 36 Miller Stile Road, Quincy, [479-7443].

Marshall Calls For Report On Artery 'Hump'

Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall has asked City Engineer Edward A. Leone to report on the feasibility of eliminating a rise at the intersection of Southern Artery and South St.

"In the past couple of years, engineering studies and surveys were conducted on Southern Artery near the intersection of South Street at my request," Marshall wrote.

"I earnestly ask you to submit surveys, studies and cost feasibility of cutting the hump out of the road, thereby increasing the safety factor of visibility at this intersection.

Gerry Kearney Shuts Out Keohane's In Youth Hockey

Gerry Kearney of Wollaston Theatre turned in a strong performance in the nets to hand Keohane's its first loss in Quincy Youth Hockey action with a 5-0 shut-out.

In other Pee Wee games, Davis downed Morrisette 5-2, United Commercial Travelers pounded Maguire's 8-2 and Crestview took over first place with a 7-4 win over Hannon.

Bob Dunn's hat trick and single goals by Mark Messina and Richard Boyle provided the Wollaston firepower with assists going to Paul McGrath, Bob Dunn, Ronan Storer, Mark Messina, Mike Pinza and Peter Nystrom.

Tom O'Regan [3], John Masters and Dave Peters were the goal scorers for Davis to give their club its first victory of the season.

Mark Kelly and Tom McNamara accounted for the Morrisette goals.

Rick Smith and John Norton picked up three goals and two assists each with single goals from Rick Carnali and Dick Reinhardt in UCT's convincing win.

Maguire's goals were by Dave Previte and Bob Nardone.

John Fair [2], Don Perdias [2], Jack Cronin, Jim Mossesso and Paul Hurley gave first-place Crestview the power they needed to overcome Hannon goals by Rick Ahola [2], Bill Allen and Paul Barry.

In Bantam action, Charlie Connelly scored twice and Steve Lee and Dave Hurley picked up a goal apiece to give Davis a 4-2 win over Sweeney.

Dave Perdias scored both Sweeney goals with assists going to Pat O'Regan and Dave Mitchell.

Youth Tourney At Shea Rink Friday

An all-star team from the Squirt division of the Quincy Youth Hockey League will compete against seven other teams this weekend in the Kiwanis Club of Weymouth International Youth Hockey Tournament.

Quincy Squirts will play all-stars from Kingston, Ontario, at 10 a.m. Feb. 18 at Shea Rink, West Quincy, in the first round of the play-offs.

Competition will continue on Saturday and Sunday as each team to lose two games is eliminated until the winner is decided.

Other teams involved are Weymouth, Winthrop, Scituate, Leaside, Ont.; Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, and Oromocto, New Brunswick.

The Kingston, Ontario, Squirts will receive certificates of appreciation tomorrow from Mayor Walter J. Hannon at ceremonies launching Youth Hockey Decal Day.

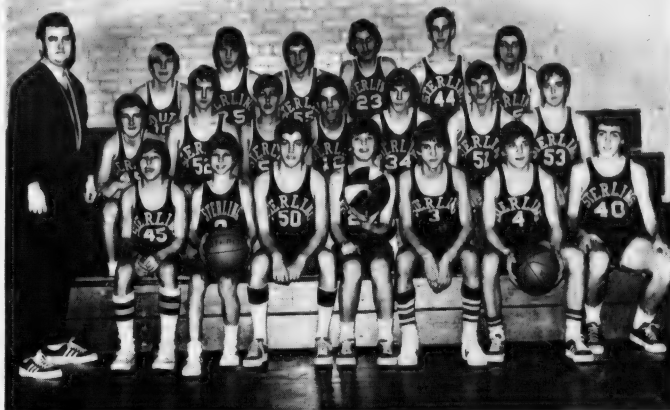

Members of the hockey league will be selling decals around the city Friday to raise funds for the association.

Mike Furey and Bobby Hayes are captain and co-captain of the 9 and 10-year old Squirts from Quincy.

Team members include John Furey, Leo Doyle, Paul McDermott, Sean Dennis, Mark Rooney, Danny Sullivan, Ed Kane, Brian Norton, John Kearney, Mark Erickson, Danny Cronin, Scott Richardson, Dean Prescott and Jim McHugh.

Coaches are Bob Hayes and Dick Strella. Larry Richardson is manager.

Sterling Ninth Graders Better Than Season Record Indicates

By TOM SULLIVAN

Sterling Junior High's basketball teams are having rough seasons but Coach Dave Meehan is pleased with the performance of his ninth graders in particular and feels some of the players will help the high school in the future.

"The ninth grade team is much better than its record [3-7] indicates," Meehan said. "This is a very hard working team and every game we have lost has been by less than 10 points. Like the seventh and eighth graders, the ninth graders lack size."

High scorers are Preston Carroll and Mario DiCenzo, the top rebounders Rich Spargo and Joe Tocchio and the outstanding defensive players John Kenny and Dom Venturelli.

Rounding out the ninth grade squad are Bob Souza, Bob Bennett, Phil Boive, Crawford Curran, Mike Starck, Alfredo Ranalli, Russ Fruzzetti, Charles Park, Bob Ponder, Ernie Arienti, Dave Hickey, George Vallatini, Dave Gosselin and Peter Theodore.

"The eighth grade team has only a 2-8 record but has improved in every game," the Sterling coach said. "They are pretty small but have some speed."

Paul Vespaziani is the team's best scorer and rebounder, Eric Carrera is the team's playmaker and the other starters, who have shown steady improvement, are John Riggs, Rich Salvucci and Glen Menchi.

The other eighth grade players are Anthony Cedrone, Mark Juitt, Frank Harding, Joe Gillis, Colin Gillis, Steve Hall, John D'Angelo, Scott Simpson, Peter Keenan, Andy Gore, Leo Bonome and Don Paluzzi.

Like the other teams, the seventh graders are small and have only a 1-9 record.

The top players are Peter Pagnano and Brian Scarini.

North In Windup

Quincy Frosh Icemen Face Medford Test On Saturday

The Quincy Junior High-Freshman hockey team last week won the Greater Boston Freshman League championship but faces its biggest test in its quest for an unbeaten season Saturday when it meets runner-up Medford in an 8 p.m. game at Boston Arena.

Quincy is 6-0 with this one game left after breezing past Revere, 8-0, last Saturday while Medford, following a 7-0 romp last week over North Quincy, is 4-1-1.

North Quincy, with a 2-4 mark, winds up against Revere Saturday at 9 p.m.

The playoffs get underway Feb. 24 at 12:15 p.m. with the top four teams, Quincy, Medford, Everett and Somerville, taking part. The finals will be played Feb. 26 at 12:30.

Ken Hayes' Quincy team had things its own way last week as Frank Guest had the hat trick [three goals] for the third time this year.

Ted Wiedemann, who had been ill all week, scored a goal and had three assists, Pete Raymer had his first goal of the season and the other goals were scored by Rick Avery, Bill Hamill and Brian Flemming.

"I was able to use everyone and 21 players saw action," said Hayes.

St. Joseph's Greens Notch First Victory

Al Lancione's two goals led the last-place Green team to its first victory of the season, 4-2, over the Blue team in St. Joseph's Hockey League action.

The cellar-dwelling Greens carried an 0-8-0 record into last Wednesday's match when Lancione got scoring help from John Burrows and Jerry McLarnon against Blue goals by Joe Mignosa and Bill Driscoll.

The Red team upped its league-leading record to 8-0-1 with a 4-1 victory over the Gold

Mike McNalley, Jim Crowley, Hal McLarnon and Rick Brunstrum tallied for the Reds with John Alfano picking up the lone Gold goal.

The league plays Wednesday nights at Shea Rink, West Quincy.

No Shame For Presidents

North Eyes Tourney, Undefeated Season

North Quincy's outstanding basketball team, without a starter over 6-3, has achieved three goals in a brilliant season but still has two objectives.

Bob Nolan's Raiders two weeks ago qualified for the state tournament. It marks the fifth time in Nolan's seven years as coach they have made the tourney.

Last week they clinched their third Greater Boston League championship under Nolan and also won the city title with their second win over Quincy.

The other two objectives are an undefeated season and a tourney win at Boston Garden. In four Tech Tourney appearances North failed to win a game.

"It is very rare for a team to go unbeaten in our league and Somerville, which has dominated the league through the years, has had only one unbeaten season in 15 years," Nolan said. "We have only one more league game [at Revere Friday] and two non-league games [at Weymouth South Tuesday and home to Brookline on Feb. 25] remaining and they all will be tough."

North is 13-0 in league play and 14-0 overall for one of the finest records in Raider history.

Last Friday's 60-50 win over Quincy at jam-packed North gym gave Nolan and his players a great deal of satisfaction. A year ago Quincy swept both games and knocked the Raiders out of the Tech Tourney.

North actually sewed up the win with five straight points early in the third period to hike its lead from 31-30 to 36-30, although Marty Finnegan's spirited Presidents kept battling their arch rivals all the way.

Jamie Doherty, who has been a shining light all season long for North, had another great game with 22 points and eight rebounds. He hit on three of four shots from the floor in the final period to keep the Raiders fairly comfortably ahead.

John Stevens, outstanding 5-11 pivot man, fouled out in the third period but 6-5 Jim Driscoll, the tallest player on the squad, came in and did a fine job. "He got his points [seven] and some key rebounds when we really needed them," Nolan stated.

Capt. Dave Nelson, a consistently fine performer all year, had his usual good game and scored 15 points.

Mike Marvelle had 17 points and Ken Furfari 14 to spark the Presidents. A key factor in North's win was holding the usually high scoring John Reggiannini to seven points, one of his low outputs of the season.

"The accolades belong to Nolan, they did a great job," Finnegan said. However, Marty and his players had nothing to be ashamed of. They still have an outside chance to qualify for the tourney but must win all their remaining games, a tough task.

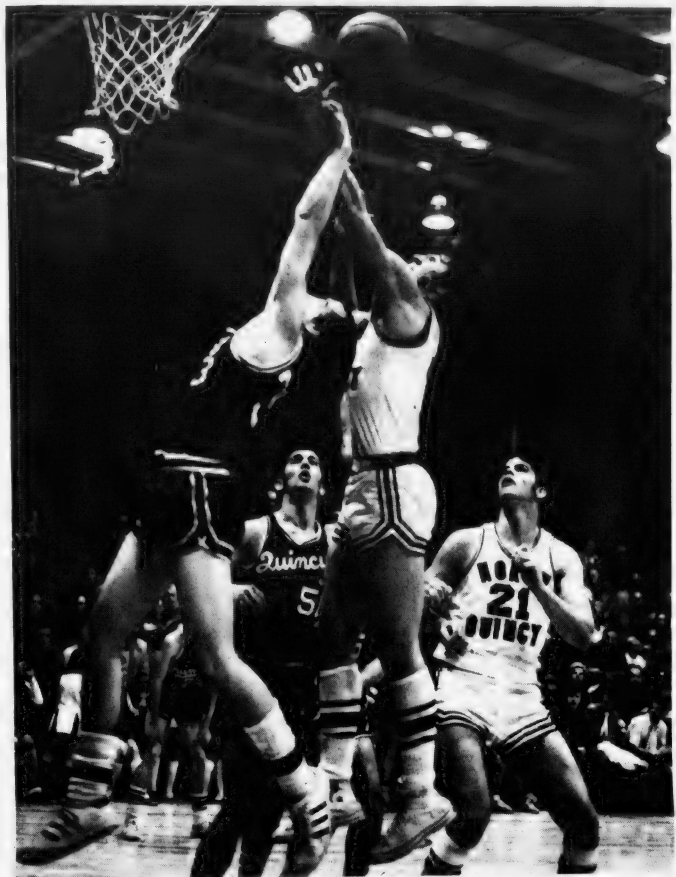

North's junior varsity walloped the Quincy jayvees, 53-36, for its sixth win as Bernie Halloran scored 16 points.

The capacity crowd included a group of youthful musicians who kept things lively throughout the varsity game. With 1:08 left and North leading by 10, the buglers sounded Taps for Quincy.

Earlier in the week North had clinched the league championship with a 60-50 win over Malden as Doherty, hero of many games this season, had 17 points.

Quincy breezed to a 96-69 win over Chelsea as Marvelle scored 21 points and played what Finnegan called "his best game of the year." Reggiannini had 16, Bobby McDermott 14 and Furfari 11. Furfari also grabbed 24 rebounds and Marvelle had 17. Finnegan lauded two reserves, Phil Iovanna, who had eight points in the fourth period, and John MacFarland, who played an excellent defensive game in his varsity debut.

Quincy played at Medford Tuesday, hosts Somerville in a key game Friday, hosts Weymouth North Tuesday and winds up at home against B.C. High on the 24th.

QJC In Regular Season Windup

The Quincy Junior College basketball team, with a Mass. Jr. College Conference playoff spot clinched, winds up its regular season schedule tonight [Thursday] when it meets Burdette College in a 7 p.m. conference game at Boston Latin.

Last night QJC hosted Rhode Island Jr. College in a non-league game.

Coach Earl Vermillion's Colonians have a 6-3 conference record but only an 8-12 overall mark following last week's games.

Mike Granahan sparked QJC to an 83-74 non-league win over Blue Hills Tech with 20 points, 16 of them in the first half when the Quincy club opened up a 48-29 bulge.

Steve Garr, playing in his first game, had seven points and took down 19 rebounds. Bob Uhlar scored 14 points, Jim Machado 14, Paul Hurley 12 and Rich Ross 10.

QJC dropped an 84-77 decision to strong Worcester Jr. College in another non-leaguer as turnovers proved costly.

Ross had his biggest night of the year with 32 points, 23 of them in the second half. Uhlar had 15, John Mullen and Granahan 11. Granahan also had 11 rebounds and Garr nine. Vermillion lauded Garr for holding Ron Lavine to 19 points after he had scored 32 against QJC the first time out.

Beau's Takes Title Undefeated

Beau's Place of Quincy is undefeated champion in its first year of Cranberry Basketball League competition and will be favored to add the playoff title when that series gets underway in about two weeks.

Beau's, with a dazzling exhibition of passing and shooting, finished up 16-0 in the league and 19-2 overall Sunday night with a surprisingly easy 106-82 win over second place Rockland Legion at Quincy Vo-Tech gym.

Saturday night the Quincy powerhouse had romped over fourth place Plymouth A.A., 119-90, at Vo-Tech.

Quincy, Rockland, Plymouth and Easton Huskies will compete in the playoffs.

Beau's faces a busy tournament schedule, playing Monday in the annual Plymouth Kiwanis tourney, in the Brockton Semi-Pro Tourney March 11 and 12 and the Rockland Legion Tourney March 18 and 19.

The Quincy club put on an amazing show in the first half Sunday as it rolled to a 65-33 lead. Rockland cut the gap to 15 points in the third period but Beau's, tiring a bit after the game the night before, began to hit again and pull away.

Player-coach Mike Greenlaw scored 33 points including 18 from the foul line, Rich Sprague had 21, Bob McNamara 16, Mike Dunn 12 and Paul Gulliksen 10. Eddie Miller's 23 points sparked Rockland.

In the romp over Plymouth Jim Hayes hit for 33 points, Greenlaw 32, Marty Shoofar 21 and McNamara 12. Jim Tavares topped Plymouth with 28.

EAR POPPING

Ear popping frequently occurs when you experience a sudden change of altitude, primarily in an airplane. But it can also occur in a car or even in a high-speed elevator. It's caused by a change in the balance between the outside air pressure on the ear drum and the pressure of air sealed inside the middle ear.

In most cases, ear-popping is a minor, temporary discomfort to which the ear naturally adjusts. However, a cold or sinus condition can throw this adjustment mechanism out of balance resulting in a painful ear ache.

If you experience ear-popping or clogging when flying, try chewing gum, swallowing or yawning. Give a small baby a teething ring to stimulate swallowing. This helps to let troublesome excess air escape through the ear's eustachian tube, thus relieving some of the pressure.

Season Disappointing

Quincy, North Hockey Teams 'Building'

The Quincy and North Quincy hockey teams will be building for next year as they come down the home stretch of disappointing seasons.

Ron Erikson's North team is one of the youngest in the Greater Boston League and he has been using all of the youngsters, anyway, while Quincy Coach Bob Sylvia promised to use his younger players in the remaining games after the Presidents were knocked out of tourney consideration last week.

Quincy will meet Somerville Friday night at Boston Arena and wind up against Malden there Monday.

North will take on league champion Revere Friday and finish up against Medford Monday.

North turned in its best effort of the season last Friday in topping Chelsea, 5-1, for only its second win of the year. The young Raiders, with only a few seniors, also have three ties to show in 17 games, despite several creditable performances, especially by their first line.

"Tonight is the first time we have really shown what we can do as a hockey team," Erikson said. "A win over Chelsea, in last place, isn't the greatest thing in the world but even when we beat them before, we didn't play a good game. This had to be our best, we did a lot more shooting and passing than in any previous game."

North's first line has developed into a fine scoring unit and against Chelsea Ken Graham had his second hat trick [three goals] in three games. That gave him eight goals in the last four games and 19 points for the season.

His wingmen are Steve MacKay and Robbie Henderson and each assisted on all three Graham goals. The other goals were scored by Joe Lannon and Henderson. Graham and MacKay assisted on Henderson's and Andy Collieran assisted on Lannon's goal. Young Dave Messina turned in a fine performance in the North goal. Quincy's last tourney chance went out the window when it was blanked by Everett, 2-0.

"The boys are just playing out the string and our younger players will see a lot of action the rest of the year," Sylvia said.

"We have to get a look at what we have coming back next year and they certainly can't get any worse than the boys were tonight with the regulars playing. Our goalie, Artie Boyle, is one of the best in the league and he has given me 100 percent all year but he understands we have to get a look at Glen Prescott. Players like Prescott, and defensemen like Mike Norton and Bobby Boyle are the future of this team."

Sylvia explained that before the game he showed the players a notice sent out by the tourney committee and he told them that "even those people still felt we could be in the tourney. I guess they didn't care much because they didn't show anything on the ice."

Earlier in the week Quincy had hit a new high of six goals in sweeping the three-game series with North Quincy, 6-2.

The game 'ended' on a bad note when a near brawl caused the officials to halt the game with 3:02 remaining. Both coaches said their players regretted the incident.

Steve Bergonzi scored twice for Quincy and the other goals were scored by Steve Cedrone, Paul Campbell, Rich Patten and Paul Venezio.

Scoring for North were Jim Mullaney and Graham. Messina, only a sophomore and making his varsity bow in goal, had a fine first period but his inexperience was noticeable when Quincy scored four times in the second period.

North 'Team Of Tomorrow'

Bobby Ciano Undefeated Again

Quincy's Bobby Ciano, who last fall finished unbeaten in three years of cross country, last week did the same in winter track as he won the two-mile to pace the Presidents to a 45-41 win over rival North Quincy as the Met League finished its season at the Fargo Building.

Gene Macomber's Quincy team finished 3-4 in the league while Bob Gentry's "team of tomorrow" wound up with a 1-6 record.

Gentry moved his ace miler, Bob McCormick, to the two-mile to battle Ciano, thus ending his winning streak. However, North's other standout, Steve Leet, finished a brilliant season by again winning the shot put.

Ciano in the spring will attempt to finish unbeaten in spring track, thus completing an undefeated sweep in all three sports.

The only double winner was Quincy's Bob McDermott, who won the hurdles and tied for first in the high jump with teammate John Johnson.

Quincy's other winners were Brian Feeney in the mile, Mark McLeod in the 1000 and Ray Lawyer in the dash.

North's Tom Burke won the 300 and the Raiders' relay team also won.

There is a chance this was the last season for the 24-year old Met League.

"Unless some positive plans are made for an indoor track facility, I'll recommend the elimination of the league," Director Mickey McGuire said. "We just can't continue as we are."

In recent years the league has found it increasingly difficult to find suitable sites for meets. If the Navy hadn't offered the use of the Fargo Building facilities, it is doubtful the league could have operated this winter.

The league ran five of its seven sets of meets at the Fargo with the other two at Northeastern, the only college site available this year.

St. John's Baseball League, CYO Registration Sunday

Registration for St. John's Boys Baseball League and CYO will be held Sunday Feb. 20 in St. John's Parish Hall from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Boys, ages eight through 12, may register for St. John's League. Boys registering for the first time must be accompanied by a parent. A $2 fee is required at the time of registering. All boys must register if they wish to play in the coming season.

St. John's Parish plans to enter CYO teams in the Cadet, Junior and Intermediate divisions this year. Boys registering for cadets must be under 14 years of age or born after Jan. 1, 1958.

Boys registering in the junior division must be under 16 years of age and boys in the intermediate division must be under 19 years of age.

Interested young and adult males who wish to assist as managers, coaches, and umpires are asked to contact Anthony Constantino Sunday during the registration hours.

Over 300 boys participated in the Parish League and CYO baseball program last season.

ENC At King's College Friday

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team, rolling merrily along toward a hoped-for NAIA Tourney berth, will play at King's College Friday, visit Barrington Tuesday and host U. of Maine [Portland-Gorham] next Thursday.

The Crusaders took a big step toward the cherished tourney bid which they felt they deserved a year ago but were by-passed, when they topped Roger Williams College Saturday night at Rhode Island, 103-85. Williams had been considered a top contender for an NAIA bid.

The win gave ENC a 16-4 record. Don Eads, sixth leading NAIA scorer in the nation with a 32.6 point game average, added 39 against Williams with another dazzling shooting exhibition.

In its previous game ENC had edged Curry College, 75-71, at Milton, as Don Eads' younger brother, Dave, paced the attack with 20 points, one more than

Don. Don Constantine and Rick Reyenger, both of Quincy, had 13 apiece.

Earlier in the week the Crusaders had paraded over Framingham State, 97-44, as Don Eads scored 31, hitting on 60 percent of his shots. Reyenger had 18, Constantine 15, Terry Briggs 11 and Dave Eads 10.

Reyenger, 6-7 pivot, had his best rebounding game of the season as he grabbed 25.

Bruins Old Timers To Face Hawks In Benefit Feb. 25

The Boston Bruins Old Timers will face off against the Braintree Hawks in Ridge Arena, Braintree at 8 p.m. Feb. 25 in an exhibition game for the benefit of the Braintree St. Coletta Day School's building fund.

Some of the Old Timers who will be playing are Cliff Thompson, Harvey Bennett, Pat

Egan, Johnny Pierson, Don McKenney, Woody Dumart, Johnny Crawford, Bucky Hollingsworth, Ferny Flamin and all-time Harvard great George Owen of Milton who is 70 years old.

World Olympic Champions Billy and Bob Cleary will be playing as will Terry Cain, son of former Bruin Herb Cain. Tom Moon, a member of the first Olympic hockey team will be goal-keeper and Coony Weiland will be coach.

Advance sale tickets are available at the school, Ridge Arena, Colman's in Quincy and the Elm Ski Shop in Braintree.

Patriots Fans Now Can Choose Season Ticket Combinations

New England Patriots football season ticket holders will have an option to choose among different combinations of season ticket packages in 1972 as a result of arrangements settled between the club and Attorney General Robert H. Quinn.

Several questions which the attorney general had raised about the 1971 season ticket program procedures were resolved by the new arrangements established for the forthcoming season.

TEN PACK

The plan which met with the approval of the attorney general's staff and the Patriots is as follows:

The Patriots will send out to renewing season ticket holders a letter accompanied by an invoice for a 10-game package and a form which will provide the purchaser with the opportunity to release the tickets for the three pre-season games if he does not wish to purchase them.

If the pre-season tickets are released, they will then be made available in a three-game package on a first-come, first-served basis. The original holder of the tickets will forfeit his right to them in future years, as the location for the three-game package will become the property of the new buyer.

GIANTS, LIONS, BEARS

New season ticket holders can buy either the 10-game or the seven-game or the three-game package. In the case of the ten-game package and the seven-game regular season package, tickets will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis with no preference being extended to those who buy ten as against those who purchase only seven.

The three-game pre-season package will feature long-standing National Football League teams — the Chicago Bears, the Detroit Lions, and the New York Giants.

Bill Sullivan, President of the Patriots, speaking on behalf of the club, expressed appreciation to the attorney general and the members of his staff.

Special Honor For John Walsh

North Quincy High School Principal John Walsh, one of the Raiders' most avid fans, found out last Friday just how much the Raider athletes think of him.

Capt. Dave Nelson of North's undefeated basketball team presented a plaque to Walsh between the halves of the Quincy-North game at the North gym on behalf of all members of the school's 1971-72 athletic teams.

Nelson told the capacity crowd that Principal Walsh was being honored "for being an excellent teacher, an excellent administrator and, foremost, a great man."

Colonial Merchants Roll Record 1,869 In Koch Club Tourney

Colonial Merchants rolled a tournament record 1,869 to eliminate Weymouth Landing Recreation in the quarter finals of the 19th annual Koch Club Quincy Men's Candlepin Bowling Tourney.

The 1,869-1,692 victory marked the first time in tournament history that one team registered two 400 bowlers on the same day as Dick Ewell rolled a 427 and Lou Pagnani hit for 424.

The other matches saw Whitman Merchants roll over Montclair Men's Club, 1,775-1,576 and Quincy Church League ousted the Koch Club 1,696-1,572.

Colonial boasted a 353 from Jim Powers, 350 from Ken Wagner and 315 from Leo Richard in their record performance.

Frank Farren led Weymouth Recreation with 363 with help from Joe Manning at 349, Bob D'Orval at 342, Bill Cross at 333 and Bill O'Malley at 305.

Jim Rigo of Whitman Merchants fired the high tourney single of 167 to join the 400 club at 421. Bob Crowley hit for 353, Dennis Chick 347, George Ewell 337 and Bill Glover 317.

Ed Adams was high for Montclair with 336 followed by Mark Smith's 334 and Don Noguiera's 320.

Quincy Church League treated their hosts rudely with a 124 pin victory over Koch Club paced by Dick Collins at 407 with help from Henry Johnson's 374, Dave Bates' 315.

Dave Eklund was high scorer for the Koch Club at 353, just one pin ahead of teammate Al Mancuso's 352.

The Quarter final round will continue at 1 p.m. Feb. 20 at Merrymount Daylight Alleys with participants including Colonial Merchants, Louie's, Whitman Merchants and Quincy Church League.

The winners will meet Feb. 27 in a head-on match for the tournament trophy and a $100 cash prize from the Koch Club.

Women's Bowling Tourney Opening Round Sunday

The 17th annual South Shore Women's Candlepin Bowling Tourney sponsored by the Koch Club of Quincy will open at 1 p.m. Feb. 20 at Merrymount Daylight Alleys.

Teams in the opening round include defending champion Queen Pins, Pin Ups, Alley Kats, Keglerettes, Rollerettes, South Shore Bowlerettes, Socialites, Coffee Royals, Bowling Bugs and Koch Club Women.

The remaining 10 teams entered will open on Feb. 27. All application forms must be returned to the Daylight Alleys, Broad St., by Feb. 17.

The top five bowlers of each league are entered with the sixth and seventh bowlers in the standings used as alternates.

The 100 women bowling in the tournament will represent the top bowlers of more than 800 women rolling in South Shore leagues.

The winning team will receive individual trophies and a $50 prize. Women rolling high tourney average, three string total, and high single will also receive trophies.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR is alive and well and still giving outstanding performances. Those who consider her washed up as a box office draw have only to catch her latest "X Y & ZEE"... Her best dramatic portrayal in five years... JACKIE STEWART, world champion auto-racing driver, is contemplating a fling as a film actor. And natch' he's a 110% gung-ho: "I don't want people to think this is just another sportsman simply trying to satisfy his ego. If I go into acting, it will be 100% serious"... DEAN MARTIN and ROCK HUDSON are teamed together in the western drama "SHOWDOWN"...

Those keeping tab on the "DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER" snowball-along, are advised that the picture did better than $8 million its first five weeks of continental showings. And world wide, the James Bond thriller has racked up close to $40 million in the same time period... As for SEAN CONNERY, he's doing well in other outlets as well. His "THE RED TENT" was nominated a Golden Globe as best English language Foreign Film... And what of India's Prime Minister MRS. INDIRA GANDHI you ask? Her highness is displaying her anti-Nixon sentiments by banning all Hollywood films in India...

While a shade northeast of her borders, the Calcutta film industry is gaining 50 million new viewers since the "creation" of Bangladesh... Prior to the independence of the People's Republic, all made-in-Calcutta motion pictures were banned in then East Pakistan... Just one mans opinion of course, but GEORGIE JESSEL gets this columns vote as America's number one toastmaster of ceremonies... So suddenly Archie Bunker is a respectable commodity. CARROLL O'CONNOR, star of "ALL IN THE FAMILY", was named the "Man of the Year" by the National Association of Television Program Executives...

"SUCH GOOD FRIENDS" producer OTTO PREMINGER and actress DYAN CANNON ain't. Any harmony which was had at the films beginning, was puff-smoked away when der PREMINGER pulled a sneaky with a nude Ad display of Miss CANNON's body... Her face alright, but no, not her figure. Such is show biz, eh wot?... No one asked me, but from where I sit BERT BACHRACH is the Mr. Nice Guy of your major columnists, and RONA BARRETT is the "dragon lady" of the gossip-for-pay set. She has such a bite with words... RAY MILLAND is only 170 motion pictures young...

You're in your late twenties if nostalgia reawakes memories of yesterday TV series "NAKED CITY", "77 SUNSET STRIP" and "ROUTE 66". Great shows. Wish we had more of their type... Since footballer DUANE THOMAS doesn't mince "words", can we assume he won't go Hollywood?... Keeping up to date with the headlines, CHARLTON HESTON's newest outing was title changed from "AIRBORNE" to "SKYJACKED"... GIG YOUNG is one of this country's 10 best actors. An Oscar and a brilliant performance in the made-for-TV "NEON CEILING" tell why...

Already critics are superlative praising VITTORIO DE SICA's "THE GARDEN OF THE FINZI-CONTINIS" as the masters most brilliant directing work. And with all due respect to DE SICA it was a long time coming... For the past 10 years DE SICA has been content making profitable, if not potboiler fare. "FINZI-CONTINIS" is in the DE SICA tradition of his earlier filmed slices of life, "THE BICYCLE THIEF" [1948], "UMBERTO D" [1951], and "TWO WOMEN" [1960]... May he continue with his Renaissance of artistic excellence...

Robert Boyden of Boston comments: "DELAING; OR THE BERKELEY-TO-BOSTON FORTY-BRICK LOST-BAG BLUES" is one of the worst movies I've seen in the past five years. And BARBARA HERSHEY. The way they made her up was awful. The clothes she had on showed all the wrong bumps"... Boyden finishes with "...so why the long title" afterthought... "SANFORD AND SON" looks to be the surprise entry of the TV second semester. Star REDD FOX is a "genuine" personality... The small tube needs more like him...

SOUND OFF: BOB HOPE, FRANK SINATRA, JOHN WAYNE, all three are Olympiad in American minds and hearts as "Institutions". How did these entertainers achieve such lofty status in the American melting pot?... Charisma? Luck? Talent? Hard work?... Lot of comedians around, so why is it BOB HOPES TV Specials invariably top the Nielsen's?... SINATRA had a good voice, but so don't others... WAYNE fits the cowboy mold, but he isn't the only actor who can. Yet, WAYNE is the only "guaranteed" box office draw in the country. Why?... Retired and all, SINATRA is still front page copy? How come?... Personality the above three have in abundance. Is this the "secret" ingredient in the finished work labeled "American Institution"?

Suggests Furnace Brook Golf Course As New North Quincy High School Site

Editor, Quincy Sun:

It is my understanding that the City of Quincy is planning to spend $10,000,000. for providing additional facilities at the high school level.

The spending of such a sum of money should be given most careful study and consideration. Should present facilities be enlarged or added to or should a new facility be built?

It is my personal opinion that it would be a great mistake to add to the present North High building.

To begin with this location is far from being an ideal location for practical reasons.

It is located near the perimeter of the area to be served.

It would mean that a large majority of the pupils using the same would have more miles to travel to and from school than would be necessary were the new building located in a more desirable place.

A location for a new facility that I suggest being carefully studied and considered is the site of the present Furnace Brook golf course.

This site is of adequate size and is in a much better location. In addition this location will not necessitate the taking of any homes.

During the past few years several hundred residents have lost their homes because of takings by the City.

First it was Upland Road [the whole easterly side from Adams Street to Saville Street].

Next was the Hancock School on Granite Street [now under construction].

Now it is the proposed taking of twenty-five more homes so as to add to the North High.

A further advantage of the Furnace Brook location is that the area is large enough to provide additional recreation facilities for the residents of Quincy.

It would provide a much better location for the planned new skating rink and swimming pool than the site proposed on Coddington Street adjacent to the Vocational High.

Quincy center needs to be relieved of its present traffic jam rather than have more added to it.

Let's avoid making any more unnecessary mistakes.

Plan to improve conditions instead.

A 'Thank You' From Fort Square Church

Editor, Quincy Sun:

On behalf of the congregation of the Fort Square United Presbyterian Church, we would like to express our gratitude for the fine pictures and article on our recent celebration of the 75th anniversary as a church in Quincy.

We also commend the photographer that was sent. He was a most polite and sincerely interested person.

A 'Thank You' From Team 789

Editor, Quincy Sun:

We should like to thank you very much for printing the team's plea for Smorgasbord Day participants in your publication last week. It came as a very pleasant surprise. The team hopes that the result will be many new Smorgs offered by community members.

Let us take this opportunity to invite the Quincy Sun to visit Team 789 at Central Junior High

Also for the fine articles on our congregational meeting and on the retirement of our church secretary after 25 years of service.

School. The team is always happy to welcome visitors. We think that you will find the team's student members very friendly and willing to listen to interesting people who can bring a piece of the outside world with them. Also, you might discover that you personally can benefit from the experience of giving or attending a Smorg.

Thank you again for your help and cooperation.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. I moved during 1971. My income tax forms were apparently sent to my old address and have not been forwarded to me. I want to file my return as soon as possible. Where can I obtain forms?

A. You may obtain forms at all Internal Revenue Offices, at most banks and some post offices.

Q. I filed my return last week and I just discovered that I did not attach all my W-2's. What should I do? Should I file another return?

A. You should wait until the Internal Revenue sends you a letter requesting the missing W-2's.

Q. While I was going over my records to prepare my 1971 return, I discovered that I had handled a few items incorrectly on my 1970 return. Can I take the deductions I did not previously claim on my 1971 return or is there some way to correct the errors?

A. In the case where you discover that you failed to report some income, erroneously claimed deductions or credits or are entitled to some deductions which you did not claim, you can correct the error by preparing a Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return," for the year in question [in your situation for 1970]. It is to your advantage to use Form 1040X instead of an amended Form 1040 or Form 843, since the 1040X was specifically designed to expedite processing. Your amended return, Form 1040X, or refund claim must be filed within three years from the date your original return was filed [a return filed early is considered to have been filed on the due date], or within two years from the date the tax was paid, whichever is later.

Q. How can I apply for an extension to file my return?

A. You may apply for an extension to file by submitting Form 2688, "Application for Extension of Time to File U. S. Individual Income Tax Return," with the Internal Revenue Service Center where your return will be filed, or you may send your application in a letter. Your application must include the following information:

1. Your reasons for requesting the extension;
2. Whether you filed timely income tax returns for the three preceding years; and

3. Whether you were required to file an estimated return for the year - and if so, whether you did file and have made the estimated tax payments on or before the due dates.

Any failure to file timely returns or make estimated tax payments must be fully explained.

Extensions of time to file returns are only granted under unusual circumstances. The reasons for your request must be substantial.

If you should make this request, make it early so that if it is refused, your return may still be filed on time.

Q. During 1971, we paid off the mortgage on our home and the bank charged us a prepayment penalty. Is this deductible?

A. Yes. It is deductible as interest if you itemize your deductions.

Q. Can I round off the figures on my return?

A. Yes. The items on your return may be shown in whole dollars. You may eliminate any amount less than 50 cents and increase any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next higher dollar.

Q. How can I get one of those books on income tax rules?

A. You may purchase the book entitled, "Your Federal Income Tax" from your local IRS office. The cost is 75 cents.

Q. I was divorced in 1971. I not only had to pay my attorney but I was also ordered by the court to pay my ex-wife's attorney. Can I deduct the expenses?

A. No, these are purely personal legal expenses and are non-deductible.

Q. Under what circumstances can I deduct amounts paid for safe deposit boxes?

A. Safe deposit box rental is deductible if the box is used for the storage of taxable income-producing stocks, bonds, etc. The rent is not deductible if the box is used for personal effects or tax-exempt securities.

'Pop' Papile And Friends Honored By Torre Dei Passeri Men's Club

Alphonso [Pop] Papile, president of Pagnano Towers Tenants Association, was guest of honor at a recent spaghetti supper for senior citizens at Fore River Clubhouse.

Torre Dei Passeri Men's Club sponsored, prepared and served the meal in honor of Mr. Papile's election as president of the senior citizen group.

"Pop", who has held several offices in Torre Dei Passeri, declined a planned club testimonial because "if you're going to honor me, you have to honor my friends."

So Torre Dei Passeri was host to some 150 senior citizens and guests, including Sen. Arthur H. Tobin and

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell.

Club members entertained with songs and jokes accompanied by a four-piece band of senior citizens.

Officers of the Pagnano Towers Tenants Association include Eleanor Marmock, vice president; Anne Jacobson, secretary and Mrs. Placido Drago, Treasurer.

Graham Asks Warning At Quincy Shore Drive Curve

Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham has asked that a "Dangerous Curve Ahead" sign be placed on Quincy Shore Drive southbound at Samoset Ave.

In a letter to MDC Commissioner John W. Sears, Graham said the curve presents a "very serious situation" for motorists unfamiliar with the roadway.

"Just recently, a serious accident occurred and a motorist hit a light pole" at 1381 Quincy Shore Drive, he said. "This same pole has been struck 20 times over the past 9 years."

Graham asked that the MDC consider relocating the pole to the opposite side of the street and installing a guard rail at the curve.

He said many "motorists avoid the pole by driving up and over the sidewalk, plowing up on residents' lawns."

Dates Set For Taxpayers Assistance

District Director William E. Williams announces a schedule of dates on which taxpayer assistance will be given during March in the Quincy office located at 1 Clevedon St.

The Wednesday and Friday dates are: March 1, 3, 8, 10, 15, 17, 22, 24, 29 and 31.

On these dates Internal Revenue Service personnel will be available from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. to assist taxpayers in the preparation of their Federal Income tax returns.

Williams urges all taxpayers in need of assistance to complete as much of their return as possible before calling at the office.

Taxpayers desiring telephone assistance may call 472-9032 or 479-5028 any time from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the dates indicated.

Opening dates for the month of April will be announced at a later date.

Hatch Bill Would Allow City MBTA Route Control

House Republican Leader Frank Hatch of Beverly has called for legislation to allow MBTA communities a voice in controlling their MBTA assessments.

Hatch's bill would give the community the power to decide which MBTA bus routes may run within its borders.

Quincy's MBTA assessment last year for surface transportation was $685,813.24 or more than 70 percent of the total assessment.

Poet's Corner

Tea Thoughts

Tea, an Asian evergreen shrub. A world-wide beverage is. Best appreciated by tea-lovers. Or when one is lured to Oriental moods and enchantments.

Leathery and lancet-shaped are its saw-toothed leaves. Blooming and splurging in a Scented abundance of pinkish and white blossoms.

Little wild roses are they like, With petals, thick and waxy. Girdling a yellow hair-like Cluster-stamens, laced in pollen.

In the light of reflection, The word "tea" blossoms Into a three-dimensional vision.

"Tables from T springs, Edibles from E springs again, and Acquaintances coils into A."

Dainty flord cups... steaming with steeped tea-leaves, Further enhances the picture-image, Gracing table rims like porcelain human symbols of hand-clasps.

Joy of tea-consumption Heightens when eyes rest on Scattered open rose-leaves, And mind conceives a rose, The love flower... Thus has Tea stimulated and Honored us with its own blend.

A touch of Romance and an Air for pleasurable animation, Anna T. Anderson, Quincy

"MOM, THE NEW BERRY COOL... I'VE DECIDED TO GO OVER YOUR HEAD."

Onion Salad Brightens Menus

Add a bright ray of summer to winter menus with an Onion and Orange Salad. Thin circles of Sweet Spanish onion and segments of orange are marinated in a tangy oil and vinegar dressing. Just before serving they are tossed with tender leaves of spinach and crisp iceberg lettuce. Crumbled bacon adds a flavorful garnish.

For a raw onion salad of this type it is important to select an onion with the delicate flavor and juiciness of the Sweet Spanish variety. Often called Gentle Giants for their mild flavor, these huge onions with delicate golden-bronze paper-like skins are grown in Eastern Oregon and Southwestern Idaho. You'll find them on the market from September through March.

Sunshine Onion Salad

- 2 Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onion
- 2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
- Tarragon French dressing
- 3 cups torn spinach
- 1 cup torn Western Iceberg lettuce
- 3 slices bacon, drained and crumbled

Peel and slice onion, separate into rings. Place onion rings and orange sections in bowl. Add tarragon dressing. Cover and refrigerate 2 hours. To serve, place spinach and lettuce in salad bowl. Add onions, oranges and dressing. Toss. Sprinkle with bacon. Serves 6.

Tarragon Dressing: Combine  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup oil,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon dry mustard,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon garlic salt, 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon pepper,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon tarragon. Shake well to blend.

Thoughts For Today

Maybe the war on poverty should be extended to the streets and highways. This country has more poor drivers than any other.

Have you ever seen a time in our modern history when so few confused so many?

Wisdom is knowing what to do next. Skill is knowing how to do it. Virtue is getting it done.

And the old-fashioned flapper who sat around in a short skirt and weird hairdo, holding an old-fashioned in one hand and her love beads in the other, is still with us. Now we call her grandma.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of Feb. 24 - March 2

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - You have been too careless with your money and now it's time to work out a good budget for the next two years.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Most of your troubles come from fatigue, slow down and use some of your time to promote romantic inclinations.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - For better or worse, the past is catching up with you and the responsibilities shrugged off in December are back.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Being rebellious is not like you, settle down and turn your thoughts to self improvement, arts, or new studies.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Your public image is improving, don't force issues or make demands, ride easy and let Lady Luck set her own pace.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - The results from past labor are in the foreseeable future, consolidate your gains and don't push your luck.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - The dream you are nourishing will come true this summer so start your advanced planning now and be ready.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Try to be more conservative because you are going through a difficult month, quarrels mar love life.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Use caution in dealing with others but don't be pessimistic. Undue worry clouds issue and causes mistakes.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - The opportunity you seek is within reach, it will involve more work but gives personal satisfaction.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Your domestic affairs will be most important during March and an important decision in this department will be made.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - You are going into a period of new starts, this will include obligations, business and home. Tensions rise.

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Dull days of winter got you down?

That's purely psychological, you know, so get ready to out-psyche the psyches. It's the winter landscape that does it. All Monochromes and slush. It really has very little to recommend it. That means you must add the color to your days. Sooo...

Why not treat yourself to a small bouquet of flowers? Don't put them in the living room - put them on your bureau and wake up to spring for a few mornings. Don your brightest clothes. If you've been a faithful dieter, buy a red dress for Valentine's Day and for morale purposes. Serve an eye-filling, tummy-filling breakfast that glows brightly on the plate. Here's how:

COMPLETE DIET BREAKFAST

- 1 medium tomato
- Salt and pepper
- 1 egg
- 2 slices Arnold Diet Melba thin bread [toasted]

Wash tomato and cut off tops; scoop out. Break egg into the hollow. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes or until egg is set. Place on toasted bread to serve. This is a complete diet breakfast.

Color is one of the secrets of successful dieting. The way your food appears on your plate has a lot to do with what you weigh. When you please your artistic sense by composing a platter of food that is attractive, you will please your hunger sense as well. Like the monochrome winter landscape, a monochrome plate is dull. There is only one thing to do with it - eat it, all of it quickly to be rid of it! Even a sprightly sprig of parsley will enliven the appearance of a simple menu. [It will enliven the vitamin content if you remember that it is good to eat as well as to garnish].

If you're sagging, bagging and dragging your weight through winter, STOP! START now to lose your blues-and your pounds.

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free brochure, "Sweet Rewards For Dieters", please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

*HAPPY EVER AFTER, BUT IF YOU USED TO BE A FUN PERSON!

Southshore B'nai Brith Lodge Being Formed

Atty. Elliott Fine of Quincy announces the formation of a new B'nai B'rith lodge, to be named "South Shore Lodge".

It is being established as an outgrowth of B'nai B'rith's current membership campaign. B'nai B'rith nationally had set a goal of over 100 new lodges - designed to stimulate greater service and new leadership.

The new South Shore B'nai B'rith lodge is expected to become a fully operating group within the next several months.

There will be an organizational meeting Feb. 28 at 8 p.m. at the Charter House-Tara Hotel in Braintree. Mr. Fine is inviting all those interested in affiliating with this new lodge, to attend the meeting.

Boston B'nai B'rith leaders will be present to outline plans for the future. Refreshments will be served, following the meeting.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mr. Fine at 843-5030 or 479-2341.

'Over Reacting People'

One of the biggest failures in life that I have known was a man who was district superintendent over fifty ministers of which my father was one. This super was a little fellow...with a sour disposition...never once encouraged a man under him...and always over reacted to a man's shortcomings. When one colleague had fallen short of his work requirements because of his wife's severe sickness for an extended period this superintendent humiliated and berated this man in the presence of others. He would listen to no explanation...would allow no deviation from the requirements...and was determined to have the man thrown out of the conference. My father...gifted with a great sense of fair play...went over the superintendent's head to the bishop to plead for fairness for his fellow minister...and he got it.

It requires good judgement to know when to react and when not to...seldom is there a justification for over reaction. When you see it usually it's pulled off by an immature person...often very insecure within himself...often small in stature as well as in spirit...like the superintendent.

There are too many Archie Bunker's around...people filled with inconsistencies...prejudices...ignorance. They over react to the most insignificant things...in the most horrendous ways.

Two couples were playing bridge. One of them failed to bid properly on one hand and his wife made a grand slam. You should have heard her. She belittled her husband...vice president of a big company...told him he was a nothing...had no business being in the same room with her...didn't have brains enough to play bridge...was no kind of man anyway. The others were utterly embarrassed. The man said not one word...which only intensified her angry tirade. After awhile she calmed down...walked into the kitchen...drank a glass of water...filled up the glass again...returned to the room and threw the water into her husband's face. Whereupon...the man arose from his chair...turned to his wife and said..."Jane...it's time for us to go home."

It's very difficult to know how to handle such a person. This man had learned the art of being an observer...even when he was being acted upon. He had learned to observe...to size up the person...to find the over reacting behavior interesting...even disgusting...but to avoid becoming a reactor to his wife's behavior.

True...this may make the other person more hostile...open you to the "holier than thou" accusation. But when a person is over reacting you don't help the situation by similar over reaction. You'll not be thought a coward to be an observer...you might even get to be a vice president.

FOR YOUR COMMENTS: For private counseling...For group Therapy...you may write Dr. Knox at 628 High Street, Dedham, Mass. or call 545-5947 or 326-5990.

North Seniors Draft Bill For School Vote Course

The American Political Institutions class at North Quincy High School takes its lessons seriously.

Twelve seniors took a field trip to the State House recently and wound up drafting a bill to establish voter registration courses at high schools.

The students, with political science teacher Michael Hurley, were attending a session of Sen. Arthur H. Tobin's Election Law Committee when the subject of registration arose.

Student Charlie Santoro said the group took exception to a suggestion the elections personnel conduct registration at the schools.

They drew up a rough draft defining a two to five-hour course dealing with how and where to register and means of obtaining absentee ballots.

The bill was left with Sen. Tobin for drafting into legal language.

Fund Established For Riley Children

A fund has been established at South Shore National Bank to aid the six orphaned children of Joseph Riley of Norwell.

Mr. Riley, 45, was killed Feb. 5 when his car slammed into a building at Weymouth Landing and burst into flames. Mrs. Pauline Riley died of pneumonia in January, 1971.

Friends and neighbors of the family headed by Richard Cronin of the Presidents Park Association set up the fund.

The children, aged 4 to 17, are being cared for by their uncle Robert Riley of Chicago.

Donations may be made by contacting Donald DiBona, assistant vice president of South Shore National Bank.

Box Springs

A good foundation is absolutely necessary for lasting comfort and service in a mattress.

Lack of foundation may ruin the quality of a good mattress.

For these reasons, it is to your best interest to check your box spring or other foundation before purchasing a mattress.

If your mattress is worn out, the chances are your box spring is also in disrepair and should be replaced.

Remember, good construction is essential. A wood slat should support each row of coils in the box or a metal framework should provide adequate and uniform support.

Also the box spring foundation should be such as to provide, with the mattress, the proper bed height.

Well known brands generally make box springs for combination which are, frequently, sold in sets advantageously.

Hughes Furc To Bring Back 'Carpetbaggers'

The combined television networks are feeling the after taste of the cigarette commercial ban. According to figures released by the Television Bureau of Advertising's Broadcast Advertisers, revenues for 1971 dropped 6.1% in the aftermath of the smokeout freeze... In 1970 the networks reported better than $1.7 billion in advertising income. Last year, revenues red inked to a low of $1.6 billion, a loss of $152 million... How television intends to make up the $55 loss is anyone's guess. However, with Madison Avenue at its beck and call, TV Ad executives will surely nurture a new brainstorm to increase ad sales...

Isn't that PAUL BURKE TV commercializing the praises of Buick?... And along the same wavelength, LEE MARVIN nixed a $50,000 offer to screen spray the merits of a deodorant. MARVIN was irked why they even asked. He doesn't offend... "BRIAN'S SONG" received special Congregational Record commendation via Rep. L. C. ARENDS [R-Ill.]... ROBERT MORSE of the Broadway bound "SUGAR" is getting Washington Post press raves as being "in a class of great comics." So that publications DICK COE insists... WILLIAM MARSHALL does an Othello about face to Draculism in AIP's "BLACULA". The famed Shakespearean actor inked on the dotted line for his first horror flick. Why of course, I'll never know...

Nostalgia-ing down memory lane, "OKLAHOMA" was Broadway born March 31, 1943... DISC magazines yearly international poll revealed these interesting figures. ELVIS PRESLEY, 38-years old and all... still the king of the Rock-Pop world. He was named number one in the international male singer category... DIANA ROSS walked off with the female singer honors, and LED ZEPPELIN topped the Rock world as its number one vocal group... BARBRA STREISAND, move over. There's a new superstar on the horizon and her name's LIZA MINNELLI... A bundle of talent and "CABARET" places her in the upper echelons of Tinseltown Olympus...

What they used to do dept: DEAN MARTIN boxed; SHIRLEY MACLAINE hat checked; CLINT EASTWOOD lumberjacked; PETER FALK shuffled papers; and JULIE PROWSE Can-Can'd to the boos of "capitalistic foul" from the late NIKITA KRUSCHEV... "THE FRENCH CONNECTION" is receiving more and more recognition every month. At the recent Golden Globe ceremonies in Hollywood, the film was honored as best of the year; its star GENE HACKMAN, best actor; and directing accolades went to the pictures director WILLIAM FRIEDKIN...

The Chicago Sun-Times and Chicago Daily News put an X clamp on all film ads with porno as the theme... And for those who came in late, "HOT ROCK" is not a "rock n' roll documentary", but a light hearted crime comedy... Not all actors are rich. Newcomer SCOTT BEACH recently completed a one day stint in "ONE IS A LONELY NUMBER". When he went to the payroll office he expected to pick up $200. But didn't... After taxes, both state, federal and FICA, and agents fees, his take home pay was $87.50... Hoping to cash in on the HOWARD HUGHES mystery alone, "THE CARPETBAGGERS" is being dusted off for re-release...

Whatever became of MICHAEL J. POLLARD? Only one flick in the past three years... Yes, animated features are big business, and not just for WALT DISNEY. Eric Porter Productions Pty Ltd. of Sydney, Australia is piecing together a $750,000 extravaganza titled "MARCO POLO RETURNS"... Thought you'd never ask, but yes, CLINT EASTWOOD did make his motion picture debut [as an Egyptian warrior] in "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"... And speaking of "COMMANDMENTS", this biblical classic will be released during the Easter season...

BUCK HENRY would like to direct a film on the life of Mozart, but woes that he is too old to play him. Tch, Tch, Tch... The recent Belgrade [Yugoslavia] Film Festival created quite a sensation with its exploitation of porno fare... Actor we would enjoy seeing again: DENNIS PATRICK of course. Those who saw "JOE" will remember him as the distraught business executive who kills his daughter the last 10 seconds of the reel... As an actor, PATRICK falls in the category of "those who get a break late in life". He's been on off-Broadway for years, but it took "JOE" to give him recognition...

JOAN CRAWFORD may be next to join the parade. She has been approached by two networks to star in her own series... GLENDA JACKSON has already notched her mark as one of the great actresses of this decade. And refreshingly so, Miss JACKSON has no political fuses to ignite... I find it hard to understand why nostalgia hasn't brought back a rush of HOPALONG CASSIDY revivals. Once upon a time his films were a fun way to escape the boredom of a Saturday afternoon...

SOUND OFF- Those Newscasters. Are they more concerned with projecting a public image of glamour than fulfilling the public service of good news coverage... The sharp dresser. Coiffured movie star types. Male mannequins, seems the trend in TV news reporting is towards this type than ordinary, but competent individuals... Image? Are the reporters of the WALTER CRONKITE-ARCH McDONALD school on the way out? What's caused this trend of glamour boy newscasters?... Are the networks to blame? Or has the public, in their yen for Hollywoodesque, been an influence to the Roman Circus of TV news reporting...

Volcane Magic Benefits Council On Alcoholism

Richard Volcane, "The International Master of Mystery", will bring his magic and illusion show to Weymouth North High School Feb. 26 for performances at 2:30 and 8 p.m.

The shows are sponsored by the South Shore Council on Alcoholism. Proceeds will be used to further the works of the council.

Richard Volcane and Company present a 90-minute magical revue built on the theme of mystery with sleight of hand, stage magic and illusions.

Volcane began studying magic at age 5 with magician Bill Neff and presented his first full evening show at age 14, some 25 years ago.

He has studied and worked with Blackstone and Willard the Wizard and has performed in more than 35 states.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, from any member of the Council on Alcoholism or at the Council office at the Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock St., Quincy.

Rev. William Leach, chaplain of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, will address the parishioners of Christ Church March 1.

St. Margaret's Guild members will serve a collation at the Friendship Hour which will follow the 7:45 p.m. service.

MONEY TALKS

A Safe Bet: You Have Not Written Your Will

By Philip J. Lawrence

Colonial Federal Savings And Loan Association of Quincy and Holbrook

8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursday

Have you written your will? If we were of a betting mind, a safe and profitable wager would be even money that your answer is no. An estimated two-thirds of American property owners die without making a will.

Yet making a will is as much a part of the thoughtful person's planning for the happiness and well-being of the family as is a sound savings and investment program for the children's education and old-age security.

A will is one of those things that we are absolutely going to get around to doing some time next week or month. No one of us believes there is any crashing hurry.

It is a tremendously important legal document. Essentially, it is an instrument that fixes the way you want your assets used after your death. It does three things: It directs who shall share in the estate, to what extent, and when. It makes provision for management until the time comes for distribution. And it designates who shall administer the estate.

Every time you and I hear the word estate we conjure up images of vast acreages with private driveways leading up to tree-hidden mansions. Or we think in terms of stocks and bonds and real estate so plentiful that the owner needs lawyers and accountants to keep in touch with his holdings.

Actually, $5,000 worth of assets is an estate. If you don't think so, glide around after you've sprouted wings and listen to the haggling that goes on about your estate among some of your dear cousins.

Right now, you would probably be surprised to know how much you are worth. This is something for you and your spouse to figure out some evening after the kids have been put to bed.

Even if the estate is modest, the will is still an important document. When funds are slim, it is vital to use them wisely. And don't think that joint ownership of all your assets is the complete answer to whether you as a couple should write your wills.

If your objection to drafting a will is a matter of cost, keep in mind that for most couples a pair of wills can be drawn by an attorney for a matter of $25 or $50. The more complicated they become, of course, the higher the cost—but, at the outside, we are talking of $200 to $350, with potential savings in such involved instances running into many thousands of dollars.

A will is a technical document that must be precisely drawn, executed, and witnessed. It requires the services of a competent lawyer.

Considering the red tape and costs that are involved in disposing of even the small estate of an individual who dies without one, a will is indispensable to thoughtful family planning and management.

Buying A House?

By JOHN L. DAVIDSON

This column is directed to the young family interested in purchasing a home but knowing little of what is involved throughout the various stages of the transaction.

Dear Mr. D. - How long should a good exterior paint job last and what is the best type of paint to use in this climate?

Ans. - I have consulted a professional painter to help me answer this question. He says that when you start on a fresh surface [never having been painted] a latex base paint should last about seven years and an oil base about five years. For those that are interested, a good stain on your home should last about two years before having to be done again.

Dear Mr. D. - I am seriously considering buying a home with aluminum siding. What is your opinion of this material?

Ans. - Aluminum siding when put on properly looks very good and wears very well, in fact it is almost an ideal house covering. There is however one major drawback. Statistics show that your chances of fatality in a house fire when the house is covered with aluminum siding is much greater than a house with ordinary paint. You are literally baked alive because your "aluminum shell" acts just like the walls in an oven, keeping in the heat, which is usually overpowering to the occupants. If you are considering aluminum siding also consider a good fire alarm system and do yourself a favor, don't smoke in bed.

Dear Mr. D. - We are thinking of moving to a new town. We want to move to a community that has a good school system for our children. What is the best way to judge the quality of a particular town's educational system?

Ans. - You will find it easy to determine which schools are rated best in the towns you are interested in, by inquiring at the college placement bureaus to see how that city rates when the graduates of the high school apply to the colleges in the area.

If you have a question please send it to John Davidson, c/o The Quincy Sun, 1601 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass. 02169. We will print the questions we feel will have the greatest common interest. The rest of the questions will be personally answered by Mr. D., if you supply us with your name and address.

'Skip' Law Appears On Serling's 'Night Gallery'

North Quincy residents may have spotted a familiar face on Rod Serling's "Night Gallery" television program Wednesday night.

The face was that of Arthur "Skip" Law, formerly of 52 Ardell St., North Quincy, who played the part of Mr. Foster on the program under his stage name of Christopher Law.

Law, a 1961 graduate of North Quincy High School, appeared last year on "The Bold Ones" and "The District Attorney".

He can also be seen on the cover of the March "Billboard" magazine and on the "Fall Love" poster of Universal Poster Co.

Law's parents live at 23 Christopher Dr., Milton.

His mailing address is 550 South Barrington, No. 4105, Los Angeles, California 90049.

Brownell Requests Pollution Study

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has urged passage of a bill co-sponsored by him to "put teeth into regulations" in the area of air, water and noise pollution.

Brownell told the House Committee on Natural Resources and Agriculture the legislation "would provide for both criminal and civil fines for the violation of state regulations."

He mentioned the recent 24-hour dredging off Germantown in violation of the Department of Public Health's regulations on noise.

Notice of the violation and an order to cease operations between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m. were sent to the company but overnight work continued "for two solid weeks."

"Only after the Attorney General obtained an injunction against the operation in Suffolk Superior Court did this company finally obey the order of the Department of Public Health," he said.

Brownell said his bill, which provides fines from $100 to $1,000 for each offense, could have provided the teeth to stop the dredging without court action.

"This legislation is needed to help our various environmental agencies do a more effective job in combating pollution of all kinds," he said.

Cassani Heads YMCA Sponsor Drive

The first progress report meeting on the Quincy YMCA 1972 Youth Sponsoring Enrollment Campaign will be held at 4:30 p.m. Feb. 28 at the YMCA.

Louis S. Cassani, vice president of President Chevrolet Inc., has been named chairman of the drive.

The campaign, which began Feb. 14, is designed to gain support of the YMCA program to provide memberships and camping experiences for disadvantaged youth.

Many area youths come to the Y seeking membership or an opportunity to go to summer camp but do not have the money for program fees, Cassani said.

"The Youth Sponsoring Campaign helps provide the funds for these children to participate in the YMCA," he said.

Cassani, a member of the Quincy YMCA Board of Directors, will be assisted in the campaign by five team captains and 20 workers.

Captains are Thomas S. Burgin, chairman of Burgin, Platner & Co., Inc.; A. Wendell Clark, chairman of Vulcan Tool Manufacturing Co.; Mrs. Henry B. Cutler, past president of Quincy Hadassah; Fred E. Bergfors Jr., president of Quincy Oil Co., and Bert Ekblom, president of President Press Inc.

Workers include Robert M. Faxon, Paul E. Hurley, Charles Pierce, Harold H. Slate, Alexander E. Warmington, Floyd J. Folmsbee, William J. Robertson.

Also W. Gordon Clark, Mrs. Paul C. Reardon, Nissie Grossman, Dr. Norman Wilson, Judge James A. Mulhall, William Duane, Curtis Woodbury, Joseph Godwin.

And Jack Bettes, Russell Scammell, Louis Marini, George Sabeau and Joseph Whiteman.

County Drug Unit Holds 70 Programs In January

The Norfolk County Drug Abuse Prevention and Education Division presented more than 70 educational programs to schools and civic and fraternal organizations during January.

District Atty. George G. Burke reported to County Commissioners that the five full-time educators at Dedham have developed a number of programs "tailored to meet the needs of the area."

Audiovisual material, Marshall Asks Report On Shea Rink Enclosure

Rep. Clifford H. Marshall has asked the MDC to report to him on the progress of the proposed closing-in of Shea Rink in West Quincy.

In a letter to Commissioner John W. Sears, Marshall said the 1971 supplementary budget provided funds for enclosure but "I am not aware of any action being taken toward the implementation of this authorization."

consisting of films, slides and pamphlets are available in addition to the regular lecture services of the staff, Burke said.

The Drug Education Division also provides consulting services to assist organizations in setting up drug abuse programs and serves as a referral agency to assist parents and teenagers in finding help for specific drug abuse problems on a confidential basis.

For further information, contact Program Director Thomas P. Hughes at the Drug Education Division, 650 High St., Dedham.

Health High-Lights

By Jack Silverstein

The accuracy of skin patch tests for allergies has been debated for as long as the tests have been around - about a half a century.

A recent study suggests that the technique is pretty good at proving someone does not have a certain allergy, but, evidently, not very good at sorting out true sensitivities from "false positives". The study showed a 90 percent accuracy in patches which showed inflammatory reaction. But in the cases where the skin did flare up, there was still only one chance in four that the substance causing the reaction was actually to blame for the allergic difficulty.

According to the doctors at the Montefiore Medical Center, New York, where the study was made, a diagnosis of allergy must be based on good medical histories and physical exams - not on skin patch tests alone.

Sumner E. Greenberg CJP Chairman

Sumner E. Greenberg has been appointed chairman of the Quincy community for the 1972 Appeal of Combined Jewish Philanthropies and the Israel Emergency Fund.

Leon B. Landa of Landa and Altsch accountants has been named co-chairman, it was announced by General Chairman George J. Katz and Metropolitan Chairman Stanley Miller.

Mr. Greenberg, president of Alsan Inc., has participated in UJA-CJP missions to Israel and has been Quincy co-chairman for the past two campaigns.

He is past president of Temple Beth El, vice president of Associated Synagogues of Massachusetts and a member of the board of Associated Jewish Community Centers.

Mr. Landa is former president of the Quincy Jewish Community Center and has served as a director of the Associated Jewish Community Centers for six years.

Funds raised by the Combined Jewish Philanthropies are allocated to some 75 local, national, cultural, recreational and social services.

The entire amount raised by the emergency fund is forwarded through the United Jewish Appeal to support humanitarian services in Israel

Quincy Families Sought To Host European Teachers

Quincy area families are sought to entertain English-speaking European teachers in their homes for one or for two weeks this summer, announces The American Host Program.

American Host is a non-governmental program designed to show the American way of life to foreign teachers by arranging hospitality with American families for them.

Now in its 10th year of operation, American Host has opened doors to understanding for more than 2,500 European teachers who have passed on their new view of America to their students.

Board Chairman Stuart Perkins said that being a "Host Family" is open to anyone who has the desire to increase understanding and friendship between Americans and Europeans. All American Host asks for is hospitality - a private room for a guest and free time for one or two weeks to introduce the guest to friends and neighbors and perhaps to fellow teachers.

American Host arranges all transportation. Host Families are asked to meet their guest upon arrival in their community. Teachers and Host Families have an opportunity to correspond for at least a month before meeting. Arrangements for participating as a Host Family can be made through:

Meadows Students Thank Benefactor

Shop students at Broad Meadows Junior High School recently presented a wheel barrow made from scrap metal to Leonard Harding, president of Harding Welding and Piping Corp. of West Quincy.

Harding's firm has supplied pipe at no cost to the school for construction of hockey nets, weight benches and many other projects.

Students working on the wheel barrow under direction of teacher George Ronan were Jeff Steenson, Joe Martell, Steve McConarty, Phil Anastasia, Russ Crombie, Richard Hebert, Ted Weidemann, Richard Tarr, Mike Golden and Dave Prescott.

Sheet metal used for the body was given by the New England Steel Tank Co. of West Quincy, another supplier of scrap metal to the school program.

No Assessment For Norfolk County Hospital

The Norfolk County Commissioners announce there will be no assessment on Norfolk County communities this year for the care and maintenance of the county hospital in Braintree.

Commissioner James J. Collins said, "This is the third time in four years that there has been no assessment for the hospital costs while still maintaining the same quality of service."

He credited this to the "very capable administration at the Hospital and the pride of its employees from the Nursing Staff, Dietary Staff and maintenance staff whose dedication to the facility has resulted in tremendous savings to the taxpayers of Norfolk County."

Lt. Thomas Grenham On Duty At Thailand Air Force Base

Air Force First Lt. Thomas J. Grenham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Grenham of 135 Edgewater Drive, Quincy, is on duty at Udon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Lieutenant Grenham, a navigator, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and Pacific area.

Before his arrival in Thailand, he was assigned at Forbes AFB, Kan.

He was commissioned in 1968 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

A 1963 graduate of Quincy High School, he earned his B.A. degree in history in 1968 at North Adams State College.

James Gillespie Resigns As MDC Employees Local President

James W. Gillespie of 11 Clive St., North Quincy has resigned as President of the Metropolitan District Commission Employees, Local 1242, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

Gillespie will retain the office of Vice President of State Council 41, AFSCME, AFL-CIO, an organization representing over 40,000 State, County and Municipal Employees in Massachusetts.

Gillespie served Local 1242 since 1956 and has held every major office in that local.

Local 1242 which had a membership of 200 when Gillespie took office now represents over 2,000 MDC employees under collective bargaining contracts.

Gillespie with the assistance of Council 41 organized the MDC Police Force into the union and established a separate local for them which now represents over 500 MDC Police Officers.

8,500 Students Receive Report Cards

Y MCA NOTES

The Quincy YMCA recently completed its Floor Hockey Leagues for grade school and junior high boys. The program began with try-outs last October. Two leagues were established. More than 150 boys were placed on 12 teams. Each team was coached by a volunteer junior high or senior high boy. The entire season was filled with action, excitement and competitive spirit.

The Flyers of the Grade School League finished with a 6-0-1 record to win the championship. Coach Karl Knudsen had a well-balanced team with plenty of spirit primarily built around Ken Ames and Bob Mattson. Others who contributed to the success of the Flyers were John Mullin, Keith Tripp, Mark O'Brien, Bob McDonough, Dave Connell, Arthur Keith, Billy Joyce and Dan MacDonald.

In the play-offs, the Flyers were matched with third place Canadians, and second place Red Wings. The Flyers and Black Hawks handed their opponents defeats by scores of 5-1 and 11-0. The championship game was played Jan. 29.

The Black Hawks coached by Dave Anastasi had been beaten by the Flyers once during the regular season. The game was never in doubt after the first period. The inspired Black Hawk team completely dominated the play. Jack Gauthier scored twice, Dave Burke and Rick McCarter scored once in the first period.

In the second period Rick McCarter added two more goals. Dave Burke and Bill Dobson finished the scoring for the Black Hawks. Keith Tripp scored twice and Ken Ames once for the Flyers. Final score: Black Hawks 8, Flyers 4. Mike Soldano of the Red Wings was voted the league's most valuable player. Bob Mattson of the Flyers was the league's high scorer with 13 goals.

In the Junior High League, the Braves, coached by Paul Conti finished first with a record of 6-2-1. In the final game of the season the Black Hawks tied the Braves to move into a tie for second place with the Bruins. Second place position was finally decided by a play-off game which was forfeited by the Black Hawks. The League championship game was played Feb. 12 between the Braves and Bruins. The game was filled with close checking and hard hitting action. The Bruins were up for the game and upset the Braves 3-2. Goals scored by John McDonough and two by Mike Smith led the way to victory, for the Bruins. Rich McCann scored twice for the only tallies for the Braves.

The league's Most Valuable Player was Frank Giglio and the High Scorer award went to Mike Smith of the Bruins with 10 season goals. Paul Conti of the Junior High League and Steve Matthes of the Grade School League were selected as the coaches of the year.

All-Star Teams were selected for each league. The following were chosen:

★★★

JUNIOR HIGH LEAGUE

Bruins: Mike Smith, Fred Kussman, John McDonough, Doug Haskins.

Black Hawks: Bob Gordon, Gerry Schultz, John DiTullio.

Braves: Mike Reilly, Steve Curran, Ed Curran.

Canadians: Frank Giglio, Dave Anastasi, Bob Carmody, Gerry Smith.

GRADE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Canadians: Tim McDonough, Mike Patrizi.

Red Wings: Mike Soldano, Carl Abbott, Kevin Powers.

Maple Leafs: Brian Pope, Dan O'Neill, Chris Duggan.

Black Hawks: Jack Gauthier, Dave Burke, Richard Murphy, Rick McCarter.

Bruins: Mike Monahan, Alan Whitman, Ray Coleman.

Rangers: Paul Breen, James Froio, Greg Chase.

North Stars: Dean Zoia, Jeff Higgins, Ross Bennett.

Flyers: Keith Tripp, Ken Ames, Bob Mattson.

All-Stars from our League in three age levels - 10 and under, 11-12 year olds and 13-14 year olds are representing the Quincy YMCA in the Mass. Bay Floor Hockey Leagues. Currently their record is as follows: 10 and under 3-0-0, 11-12 year olds 2-0-1, 13-14 year olds 2-1-0. In last years competition the 13-14 year olds won the Championships against a tough West Roxbury "Y" team.

The success of this years Leagues makes each one of us look forward to next season with anticipation.

North-Atlantic Teams Enjoy Highly Successful Seasons

By TOM SULLIVAN

The North-Atlantic Junior High basketball teams enjoyed a highly successful season this winter with two city championships.

Ron LaQuaglia's North ninth graders finished 9-3 and handed Central's perennial city champs their first loss, 44-22, last week. [Central, incidentally also lost its final game to Broad Meadows but won another title with a 10-2 mark.] North finished in second place two games ahead of Broad Meadows.

Bill Willoughby's Atlantic seventh and eighth graders were the city champions as the eighth graders swept everything with a 12-0 record and the seventh graders were 11-1.

"The highlight of our season, of course, was that win over Central," LaQuaglia said. "The kids were terrific and won it with ease after Central had won its first 10 games. We just missed the first time as we came within two points and two seconds of beating them."

The North coach, who is also an assistant to North Quincy High varsity coach Bob Nolan, lauded Jim Clifford for his 13 points and outstanding rebounding against Central.

He also praised John Powell for running the team on offense and Walter Milton for his play on the boards.

North finished its excellent season with a 39-22 win over Point.

"The boys really pulled together as a team, especially after the loss of Bill Cenga, who broke a bone in his leg in our seventh game of the season," LaQuaglia continued. "The work of Clifford and Milton on the boards was very good and Powell did a tremendous job picking up the void left by the loss of Cenga. Bill Driscoll and Joe Wilkinson also contributed a good deal to the team. The squad did themselves proud and it was a pleasure working with them all year."

The other members of the squad were Mike Bray, Paul Doherty, Paul Baker, Dave Cobban, Dan Cobban, Steve Martinelli, Tom Callahan, Al Kelleher, Frank Gravara and Kevin Cahill.

Atlantic's eighth grade team finished its undefeated campaign with a 44-23 win over Point.

Willoughby had words of praise for Warren Jordan, 6-2 Jay Nelson, Bob Coughlin and Rich Mahoney for their efforts.

"These four boys carried the eighth graders all year and I am looking forward to having them next year," said LaQuaglia.

Other eighth grade players were Mike Kelly, Danny Hill, Tom DeAngelo, Paul McGuigan, Kevin Worley, Kevin O'Sullivan, Tom Wilkinson, Rich Marre, Kevin McLaughlin, Kris Furtney, Bob Grazer, John Riley, Kevin Psaros and John Earle.

The seventh grade champions wound up their great season with a 10-5 decision over Point.

The seventh grade roster included Jim and Mac McKinley, Rick Robinson, Keith Lindberg, John White, Fran Donovan, Mike Gill, Brian Morrissey, Bob Blacker, Steve Bonoli, Joe Lentini and Dick Kennedy.

Brian Kennedy Outstanding On Bowdoin Wrestling Team

Brian Kennedy of Quincy, who wrestles in the 118-pound class, was an outstanding member this year of the Bowdoin College wrestling team, which was ranked number eight in New England.

The Quincy junior had a fine season and was one of the sparks in a triangular meet against Lowell Tech and Tufts which Coach Phil Soule called "the best Bowdoin performance ever." Bowdoin rolled over Lowell Tech, number 10 in N.E., 34-6, and Tufts, 45-6.

Raiders Hope To Celebrate Friday

North Quincy's basketball powerhouse is only the second team to go undefeated in the strong Greater Boston League but Coach Bob Nolan and his Raiders will wait until Friday night to do any celebrating.

North's 64-45 win at Revere last week finished its league schedule with a 14-0 record and a 15-0 overall mark. But Nolan and his players were hoping to knock off Weymouth South Tuesday and then wind up with a win over Brookline Friday at the North gym to become the first undefeated team in North history.

"It is great to win the league title [Bob's third] and become the second team to be unbeaten [Somerville did it three times]," Nolan said. "But the celebration will come next Friday if we win those last two non-league games and finish unbeaten overall."

Then North will be seeking its first tourney victory at Boston Garden when the state tourney opens Monday. Pairings won't be announced until Saturday as qualifying games include those of Friday.

North made four trips to the Tech Tourney in Nolan's six years as coach but never survived its first game.

North didn't have one of its better shooting nights with only 20 for 55 and 36 percent from the floor but was 77 percent [24 of 31] from the foul line. Revere was only 30 percent [16 for 54] from the floor and 54 percent [13 of 24] from the free throw line.

Capt. Dave Nelson and Jamie Doherty continued their brilliant performances and led the scorers with 19 and 14 points respectively along with Ken Marsters, also with 14.

The Revere players and fans displayed some fine sportsmanship during the game as the fans passed a handmade sign stretching several yards long to the North fans when the win was assured. It read "Good Luck North Quincy in the Tournament. Win It All. From the Revere Fans." When the game ended the Revere players were quick to congratulate the Raiders and the fans from both sides mingled congenially in the small gym.

The North and Revere players are friendly off the court and many played together last summer in a basketball camp directed by North's jayvee coach, Joe Amorosino.

Vic Dinarello, a senior forward for Revere, is Amorosino's cousin. He visited with Marsters and Doherty over the weekend.

Amorosino's junior varsity, one of the smallest teams in the league, finished at .500 in the league with an 7-7 record as it easily defeated Revere.

Although North will face much taller foes in the tourney, the Raiders are not worrying as they had several far taller league opponents and beat them all.

"Our tallest starter is Nelson at 6-3 but we have rebounded well," Nolan said. "You ought to see the way John Stevens, only 5-10, has blocked out kids as tall as 6-7. He has been amazing this year. Nelson has averaged 20 points and 13 rebounds a game and Jamie Doherty has been one of our brightest surprises, excelling under pressure and on two straight occasions scored our winning points in the waning seconds."

Marsters and Bob McKay, the other starters, have also been out-standing as has Jim Driscoll, the fine sixth man and tallest player at 6-5, Peter Quinn, Don Small, Pete Bellotti and Billy Shea.

Nolan hopes his pressing defense, which ruined the opposition this year, will continue to make up for the Raiders' lack of height in the state tournament.

Presidents Wind Up Season Tonight With B. C. High

Marty Finnegan's Quincy team ended its GBL season in disappointing fashion last week as it lost to Medford, 81-78, and Somerville, 63-50.

The Presidents were 7-7 in the league and are 8-8 overall and hosted Weymouth North Tuesday. They wind up at home against B.C. High tonight.

In the close loss to Medford, which knocked Quincy out of tourney contention, Mike Marvelle paced the scoring with 18 points in his finest performance and also had 10 rebounds. John Regiannini had 15 points, Ray Papile 14 and Bobby McDermott 11.

Against Somerville McDermott had 14 points, Ken Furfari 13 and Marvelle 12.

"Both teams just were much too tall for us but the kids never gave up and continued to give their all throughout both games," Finnegan said. "Somerville had 46 rebounds to our 23 and we must have given up three inches a man."

Ontario Hockey Squirts Faithful Bruins Rooters

Take a team of 10-year-old hockey players from Kingston, Ontario and ask them what their favorite NHL team is.

You might expect them to say the Maple Leafs because Toronto is in Ontario or maybe the Canadiens because they're playing well.

But the squirt all-stars from Kingston who visited Quincy last weekend were Boston Bruins devotees almost to a man.

The boys stayed the weekend at the homes of Quincy Youth Hockey Association players during the Weymouth Kiwanis Club International Youth Hockey tournament.

Canadian kids descended on Colmans Sporting Goods store Saturday to buy Bruins stocking caps, pins and other souvenirs for themselves and their friends.

Team captain Barry Shaw and Kevin Dickey of Kingston got their first glimpse of the Atlantic Ocean during Saturday's storm as guests of Association President, Robert P. Hayes.

"They couldn't see the size of the waves at, of all places, Wollaston Beach," he said.

The boys were allowed into Wollaston Bowladrome, which was closed during the storm, so they could watch the water from the safety of a second-floor window.

The Bowladrome also gave Barry and Kevin their first chance at candlepin bowling since the Kingston area offers only five-pin lanes.

Chaperones for the Canadian team said they were amazed at how well South Shore boys performed in the tournament with the limited ice time available.

Kingston, a community of 55,000 on Lake Ontario, has seven indoor skating rinks and several natural, outdoor rinks.

And teams in Canada rarely have to pay more than $10 per hour for use of a rink while the Quincy Association has been spending an average of $55 per hour.

Mayor Walter J. Hannon greeted the visitors at City Hall on Friday and presented each player and coach a citation naming him an honorary citizen of Quincy.

The Mayor received a hockey stick and puck from the players and the International Hockey Hall of Fame. The stick is a replica of one used in the first hockey game which was played in Kingston in 1886. Hannon proclaimed Feb. 27 Quincy Youth Hockey Day and purchased the first decal for the group's coming fund-raising drive.

Quincy Frosh In Tourney Action

Quincy's undefeated junior high-freshman hockey squad, the Greater Boston Freshman League champion, opens its quest for playoff honors today [Thursday] at 12:15 at Boston Arena.

The young Presidents will face Somerville while Medford will play Everett. The championship game will be played Saturday at 12:15 at the Arena.

Last week's final scheduled games were snowed out and will not be replayed. Thus, Quincy's final record was 6-0 while Medford was runnerup with a 4-1-1 mark. North Quincy finished 2-4.

Ted Wiedemann of Kén Hayes' Quincy champs was named the league's Most Valuable Player. Joining him on the all-star team were teammates Pete Raymer, Ed MacDonald, Rich Lucier, all ninth graders, and eighth grader Frank Guest, who twice this year had the three-goal hat trick.

All-Stars Bow To Weymouth, 4-1

The Quincy Youth Hockey Squirt All-Stars were ousted by the tournament champion Weymouth contingent 4-1 Saturday in the Weymouth Kiwanis International Youth Hockey Tournament.

Teams from Quincy, Milton, Weymouth, Scituate, Randolph, Hingham and Winthrop competed against squads from Kingston, Bradford, St. Therese and Oromocto, Ontario, and Lunenburg and Owen Sound, Nova Scotia in the weekend tourney.

The first game Friday morning saw Quincy play Kingston, Ont., even until the first five minutes of the game at Shea Rink when the visitors stamped in two goals for the victory.

John Keaney led Quincy right back that afternoon with three goals in the last seven minutes of regulation play to force Leaside, Ont., into overtime.

Eddie Kane won the game for Quincy in sudden death.

The game against Kingston saw visiting captain Barry Shaw score his 86th goal of the year and Kevin Dickey pick up the 100th score of his youth hockey career.

Weymouth beat Scituate 4-0 Sunday to take top honors in the competition.

The Quincy Junior College basketball team, which finished in second place in the Mass. Jr. College Conference with a 7-3 record, will play in the conference playoffs Saturday and Sunday at Wentworth Institute in Boston.

QJC, which clinched the runnerup spot last week with a 72-55 romp over Burdette, will meet third place Franklin in the opening round while league champ Graham will take on fourth place Burdette.

The Collejuans' record might even be better going into the playoffs as the league ruled that a QJC protest in a recent loss to Graham was correct but as of this writing no action had been taken regarding the 73-30 Graham victory. Quincy's overall record this year was 9-13.

QJC had first half troubles against Burdette with many turnovers hurting its efforts but it rolled in the second half after only a 30-27 lead at halftime. Quincy had 25 turnovers during the game.

"Many of our players never played high school ball and needed the experience," Coach Earl Vermillion said. "Several really came into their own in this game and I was very pleased with their work. We should be ready for the playoffs."

The second place finish and fine 7-3 conference record was all the more outstanding when it is considered QJC lost three regulars at mid-season.

Mike Granahan again led the scoring against Burdette with 23 points while Vermillion paid tribute to his floor general, Paul Hurley, who had 15 points and ran the tempo of the game. Rich Ross had 15 points and 21 rebounds and Bob Uhlar added 11 points.

'Wait' For Quincy, North Ice Teams

It's "wait until next year" for the Quincy and North Quincy hockey teams which finished disappointing Greater Boston League seasons Monday night.

Bob Sylvia's Presidents, who missed making the state tourney for only the second time in his six years as coach, were blanked by Malden, 5-0, and finished with a 9-9-2 record.

Ron Erikson's young North team, which had its troubles all season long, finished with a 2-15-3 record when it lost to Medford, 3-0.

Both coaches used their younger players to a good extent over the second half of the season. In North's case, the younger players carried the load throughout the year as Erikson had only two seniors.

Prospects are bright for both clubs next year, especially Quincy, which was heartened by the excellent showing of varsity subs and jayvee players late in the season.

"It was a frustrating season but it was the same old story, no scoring punch," Sylvia said. "We had one of the league's best goalies in Artie Boyle but we just couldn't score."

Boyle and Quincy forward Rich Patten made the league all-star team while Steve Cedrone of the Presidents and North's Steve MacKay made honorable mention.

Last week Quincy overcame a 2-0 deficit and tied Somerville, 3-3, while North dropped a 5-0 decision to league champion Revere, despite a fine performance in goal by sophomore Dave Messina.

"We played only one period of hockey and were fortunate to get a tie," Sylvia said. "We showed no teamwork in the first period and they were individuals out there."

Somerville scored in the first period and midway in the second period before Paul Campbell scored for the Presidents at 11:58 with assists for Cedrone and Jack Black.

Pete McNally tied it up at 1:31 of the final period with assists from Black and Russ Corner but Somerville regained the lead at 4:12. The tying goal was scored by Black at 7:14. He went in all alone on Goalie Joe Delisia.

Messina made many superb saves for North, preventing Revere from rolling up a much bigger score.

"We realized Messina had the potential but he's had a bad knee and has taken physiotherapy treatments," Erikson said. "Also, we were getting good jobs from our senior goalies, Bob Guerriero and Rich Masotta. But I felt it was time to start looking to the future and Dave has done well in the past few games."

Centralized Kitchen At City Hospital Dedicated

Mayor Hannon and Hospital Board Chairman John T. Williams dedicated the new centralized kitchen and food service at Quincy Hospital Wednesday.

The $140,000 facility on the main floor of the west wing is expected to save the hospital's dietary department some $50,000 per year, Williams said.

The centralized kitchen was proposed to the board of managers in September 1970 and subsequently approved by Mayor James R. McIntyre and the City Council.

Former board Chairman Edward V. Cronin appointed Williams chairman of the Centralized Service Committee to study the proposal.

Construction began on Oct. 5, 1971, the line was installed Feb. 10 and services were implemented Feb. 28.

The one-kitchen system affords dietitians better control of specified diets than the former set-up of 11 sub-stations and will greatly improve quality and service, Williams said.

Brownell Asks Survey Of Ward 1 Storm Damage

Rep. Thomas F. Brownell has asked the Division of Waterways to survey "as soon as possible" the damage caused by last week's storms to Houghs Neck, Germantown, Adams Shore and Merrymount.

In a letter to Associate Commissioner John King, Brownell pledged cooperation in facilitating the survey and supporting relief legislation.

Tobin Calls Allegations 'Unfortunate'

Committee Named To Probe Water Department Charges

Council President Arthur H. Tobin has appointed a six-man committee to investigate charges of drinking, absenteeism and theft in the Quincy Water Department and the need for new water meters.

Named to the committee are Councillors J. Vincent Smyth of Ward 6, Edward S. Graham of Ward 1, Clifford H. Marshall of Ward 2, Theophilus McLelland of Ward 3, Albert R. Barilaro of Ward 4 and Councillor-at-Large Joseph J. LaRaia.

The team was formed in response to Mayor Walter J. Hannon's statement early last week that the water department loses hundreds of thousands of dollars each year.

President Tobin said he waited until Mayor Hannon's return from a trip with his family Tuesday before appointing the study committee.

Barilaro will head a sub-committee probing the charges and Graham will lead the investigation into the need for the new meter appropriation.

Each will report to Smyth, who is chairman of the Public Works Committee, and he will present findings to the full council.

Tobin said he discussed the matter with the mayor before taking action because he "didn't want it to appear there was a feud going on between the councillors and the mayor."

He suggested that the allegations were "unfortunate" and that they "may not be read as they were intended."

"If there is any wrong doing at the water department or if there has been a history of wrong doing, I don't think it should be a general characterization against the whole department or against city employees," he said.

"As council president and as acting mayor during two administrations I know we have many dedicated city employees and I wouldn't want this to be a general indictment against them."

Councillors LaRaia and Marshall had expressed similar concern that the charges constituted a blanket indictment against the department.

LaRaia added that he did not like to see "our linen flashed out in public."

Marshall suggested that the mayor's hard line on drinking was off target because "alcoholism is a sickness and should be treated as such."

The mayor said drinking on the job by water department employees led him to issue a

Quinn Sees Possible Budget Cut Of $250,000 By Council

The Finance Committee hopes to trim some $250,000 of the record $52.6 million municipal budget before it goes for Council approval in early April.

Councillor-at-Large John J. Quinn, chairman of the committee, said $62,000 has been cut to date including a $15,000 slice from Veterans Services and $14,000 from the Recreation Department.

Removal of $250,000 would result in a reduction of slightly more than $1 on the 1972 tax rate which has been estimated as high as $164.20.

The estimate, which represents a $21.70 increase over the present rate of $142.50 is based on last year's standards.

Quincy's actual tax rate will not be known until publication of "cherry sheets".

Quinn's committee will hold open hearings at 10 a.m. March 4 with the Police, Animal Control, Harbor Master, General Services and Parking Areas and at noon with the Fire Department and Fire Alarm.

The Library, Cemetery and Hospital departments will go before the board March 11 for budget hearings.

Public Works, Sewer and Water Departments will present their cases March 18, and Historical Places, Conservation, Council on Aging, School, unclassified and debt and interest will be discussed March 25.

Quinn said the committee is conducting an in-depth study of Recreation Department needs as that body's budget request has increased from $170,000 in 1970 to $285,000 this year.

"We are making a complete review of all the positions in this department in order to determine if any cuts can be made," he said.

Quinn said "the future is bright" for lower tax increases because the $40 million State Street South project, $5 million Kemper project and several apartment houses are not included in the present $221 million assessable tax base in the city.

About Face On School 'Amazes' Brett

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has expressed "amazement" over the about-face by school committee members concerning the location of the North Quincy High School expansion.

Brett, whose suggested construction of a third school in the Southwest portion of the city was rejected by committee members, said he was surprised that Superintendent Lawrence Creedon and some committee members favor a new North high school.

The new site is a 17-acre section near the State Street South project proposed by Mayor Walter J. Hannon as location for a new school facility.

In a letter to Dr. Creedon, Brett said "it should be pointed out that the costs and problems involved in building a new school building on the West Squantum St. site will be tremendous.

He said construction there would take "some 17 acres of land designated by the city as valuable for future tax-producing purposes."

The legislator expressed the concern which he said is shared by "a number of educators" that it is "unwise to make schools too large as the personal contact between the student and teacher deteriorates."

He urged again a high school be built in the Southwest area to "shorten the distances that students from West and South Quincy and parts of Wollaston would have to travel to and from school.

"As for location, there are hundreds of acres of open land in the Quarry St. area, a part of which could very well be turned into a beautiful high school campus," he said.

Brett contends that "land costs should be much lower on Quarry St. than down by the State Street South project."

● An Editorial

A Full Investigation

Serious charges have been made in the past week concerning alleged drinking, absenteeism and theft in the Quincy Water Department.

Mayor Hannon issued a sweeping condemnation of the Department Feb. 22 which was promptly denied by retiring Superintendent Robert Barry and evoked concern among the City Council and the populace.

The Mayor said the department has been "a mess for years and it is time that it be cleaned up and operated properly."

At least three Councilors of long standing have said they had never heard a complaint about the water department until Mayor Hannon's statement.

Hannon charges that absenteeism is higher in the department by far than in any other public works department of similar size.

The water department lists 16 absences from work per week while, for example, the Cemetery Department records only two absences, he said.

Mr. Barry responds that "I don't know where he got his information on absenteeism, but we have had no more than any other department." Employees get "15 days a year, accumulative, and that's the rule," he said.

The Mayor charges that drunkenness on the department work force prompted a directive against the hiring of excessive drinkers in all departments.

Mr. Barry says his department has had its share of problem drinkers but "they were sent down here to work. I certainly didn't hire them."

Other charges from the Mayor's office include alleged theft of water meters and inaction in replacing missing meters while charging consumers a minimum fee.

The department, he says, is losing hundreds of thousands of dollars each year.

The charges have been made and refuted. What remains to be done is to conduct a complete investigation into the matter.

Ward 4 Councilor Albert

R. Barilaro has called for establishment of a City Council committee to conduct the investigation.

Council President Arthur H. Tobin said he intends to appoint the committee as soon as he can confer with Mayor Hannon and determine his source of information. He will appoint it today.

In fairness to all, we urge that the investigation be a complete and thorough one. We hope the Water Department will be "given its day in court" and that both sides of the issue be heard through.

And, we hope the taxpayers of Quincy will be given a complete report on the results of the investigation.

And, if wrongdoing is documented, that steps be taken to correct the situation immediately.

The cost of government is high enough as it is. We certainly don't need waste to send it higher.

But an entire department's reputation is at stake. Let's reserve final judgement until all the facts are in.

WE GET LETTERS

The 'Little People's Paper'

Editor, Quincy Sun:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the excellent coverage which you give to the boys of the Quincy Youth Hockey Association.

It is very rewarding to both the boys and their parents to know that someone cares enough to print their achievements in their newspaper. I think we should nick-name the Quincy Sun, the "Little People's Paper."

Your editorial of February 17th, concerning the proposed skating rink by our organization, was excellent!! You hit the nail right on the head when you said, "If these youngsters who would use the facility were problem children, there probably would be a great cry of, "Let's do something for them."

"They aren't problem children. They are quite normal. But why not do something for them. Something to help keep them normal." Lets hope that the powers-to-be read this.

Thanks again.

Opposes Bills Which Would Liberalize Birth Laws

Editor, Quincy Sun:

The Social Welfare Committee is presently considering many bills pertaining to Birth Control and abortion. Most of our laws have as their intent the preservation of ageless norms of morality. Much of our Constitution is dedicated to shoring up the Divine laws, exemplified in the Ten Commandments.

This is not legislating morality, or imposing any form of religion, but rather acknowledging a dependence upon time-tested norms of behavior. To remove the legal restraints which have forbidden the dissemination of birth control information and devices to the unwed, would make the government a partner in the trend to immorality.

Write therefore to your legislature, and oppose bills H1436, H651, H3250 and H3616, all of which would "liberalize" our present birth control laws.

The repeal of abortion laws in our State has become the target of much of Women's Lib. Tirelessly we hear that a woman should have the right to do what she wants with her body. Let's face it, pregnancy is pretty much the consequence of a woman's already having "done what she wanted." The right to HAVE A BODY, which she now seeks to deny to her unborn, has a far greater priority, in the courts of law.

Human life has begun in the same way for a long time. It seems strange that in this enlightened age, so many of our women are acting like dumb bunnies.

No doctor can deny that abortion is the violent termination of a human life. In the saline method of abortion, the fetus is recorded as putting up a vigorous, active resistance, as it struggles for life. Where is the American tradition of fair play? Our proud Bill of Rights is being sold down the river, where it floats along with the dismembered fetuses of our so-called "unwanted" children. Unwanted by whom?

Those of your readers who feel impelled to protest, are urged to write to the same Social Welfare Committee, Address, Chairman Backman and Flaherty, State House, Boston, 02133. Protest against bills 635, 3252 and 4182.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. My children live with my ex-wife. I pay $30 per week child support. Can I claim the children?

A. The parent not having custody [or having it for the lesser period] is entitled to the dependency exemption if:

1. He contributed at least $600 toward the child's support during the calendar year, and the decree of divorce or separation maintenance, or a written agreement between the parties, specifies that he is entitled to the exemption; or

2. He provided $1,200 or more of support for the child [or children] for the calendar year and the parent having custody does not show by a clear preponderance of the evidence established that he provided more for support.

Q. I am an intern at a local hospital. Some of the other interns have said that the money which we receive may be excluded from income as a fellowship since we are still in training. Is this correct?

A. No, the payments which you receive from the hospital are considered compensation for services rendered and are fully taxable.

Q. I am a commission salesman and frequently give presents to customers in order to increase business with them. Is there any limitation on the amount I can deduct for gifts?

A. The expenses for business gifts you make directly or indirectly to any individual may be allowed only to the extent that the total of business gifts during the tax year to that individual do not exceed $25.

A gift to the wife or child of an individual with whom you are doing business is considered a gift to the individual.

An item costing you $4 less, on which your name is clearly and permanently imprinted, and which is one of a number of identical items distributed generally by you is not subject to the $25 rule. This includes such items as pens and desk sets.

Q. What is the F. I. C. A. rate for 1971?

A. 5.2%. The wage limitation is $7,800.

Q. Who is subject to self-employment tax?

A. An individual who is in a trade or business for himself, or in a profession is subject to self-employment tax. The purpose of this tax is to provide social security benefits. The self-employment tax is imposed on net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more [up to $7,800]. The rate for 1971 is 7.5%. However, if the individual is also employed and received wages on which Social Security tax was withheld, the $7,800 limitation is reduced by the wages on which the Social Security tax was paid.

Q. My wife died during 1971. I want to file a joint return. Should I sign her name?

A. If an executor or administrator has been appointed, the return must be signed by him and the surviving spouse. If an executor or administrator has not been appointed, the surviving spouse may either: [1] sign his own name, and in the space provided for the wife's signature, sign his name again, followed by "Surviving Spouse", or [2] sign his name only once, followed by "Taxpayer and Surviving Spouse".

Q. What taxes are deductible?

A. Deductible taxes include real property taxes, state income taxes, personal property taxes, state and local sales taxes and state and local gasoline taxes. Non-deductible taxes include Federal income, social security and excise taxes, estate, gift, or inheritance taxes, cigarette and meals taxes, auto licenses and tags.

Q. This is the first year I have owned rental property. Where do I report the income and deduct the expenses on this property?

A. Amounts you receive as rent and royalty income are reported in Part II, Schedule E [Form 1040].

All expenses attributable to this type of income [including ordinary and necessary travel and transportation expense] are deducted on that schedule in determining Adjusted Gross Income, even if you use the Standard Deduction or Tax Table.

Cronin Re-Named

Gino Marini Appointed To Five-Year Hospital Board Of Managers Term

North Quincy businessman Gino Marini of 110 Hamilton Ave. has been appointed by Mayor Hannon to a five-year term on the Quincy City Hospital Board of Managers.

The mayor also reappointed Edward V. Cronin of 1025 Hancock St. to his second term on the board.

Mr. Marini was born in San Donato, Italy in 1922, came to the United States in 1930 and moved to Quincy in 1941.

He is a graduate of Pleasantville, N.Y., High School and Vesper George School of Art and served with the 1st Cavalry Division in the Pacific Theater during World War II.

He is the president of Fashion Quality Cleaners Inc. of North Quincy the North Quincy

GINO MARINI

Business and Professional Association and the John Quincy Adams Club.

Marini has served on the MBTA South Shore Coordinating Committee.

He and his wife, the former Marie DeNicola of Quincy, have two children, Roger, 22, attending Northeastern University, and Darlene, 14, attending Archbishop Williams High School.

He is a member of the National Institute of Drycleaning and Cleaning Plant Owners Association, Furnace Brook Golf Club, Knights of Columbus and Disabled American Veterans.

Mr. Cronin is senior municipal examiner in charge of field audit in the State Department of Corporations and Taxation and was first appointed to the board by Mayor James R. McIntyre in 1968.

Tobin Seeks Rebates For Phone Service Interruption

Sen. Arthur H. Tobin has filed a bill to provide rebates on telephone bills for customers whose phone service has been interrupted.

"Any person aggrieved with interrupted telephone service should be able to file for a rebate for the time they have been without use of a telephone," Tobin said.

He blamed "poor management at the top level" for "all the complaints heaped upon the phone company" while the brunt of complaining has been voiced to "the poor operators and repairmen."

Tobin said his office is also investigating the phone company's billing consumers for ecological projects.

"I don't think the little people or old people with fixed incomes are responsible for problems in ecology."

"It has been through management decisions that a lot of the problems of ecology have happened," he said.

directive against hiring excessive drinkers to all department heads. Drunkenness on the job will result in charges before the Civil Service commission, Hannon said.

The mayor said 46 percent of the meters in the city do not work, the department has an absentee rate considerably higher than boards of comparable size and some employees drink excessively on the job.

He also charged that weekend overtime work is assigned to "a select group of men" and alleged theft of meters stopped only after employees had been warned about the charges.

Such activities had been going on for years, according to Hannon, and a report initiated by the McIntyre administration showed that a remote reading system would help solve the problem.

Hannon said he will ask the council to approve a $300,000 bond issue for a new meter system and mentioned sewer foreman Owen Eaton as his choice to succeed retiring Superintendent Robert Barry.

Barry and several councillors expressed surprise over the mayor's announcement and indicated they did not know where he got his information.

Councillor Barilaro introduced a resolve calling for an investigation of some of the charges and Councillor Graham called for an investigation of the need for the new meters.

Senior Citizen Government Program Set For May 5

The names of senior citizens who will serve as City officials on Senior Citizens Government Day May 5 will be drawn May 1 in the City Council chamber.

The day, on which senior citizens will act as Mayor and department heads, has been arranged by Mayor Hannon and Mrs. Marion Andrews, Director of senior citizen activities.

Marshall Files Itemization Utilities Bill

Rep. Clifford H. Marshall has filed legislation to regulate the form and content of bills sent to consumers by gas and electric companies.

The legislation stipulates that an account of the amount of the bill spent for advertising and lobbying be itemized whenever a bill lists other items.

"If the utility companies wish their customers to know how much they are paying for 'clean air', I believe the consumer should be aware of these other costs," Marshall said.

Joining Marshall in filing the bill are Reps. Henry O'Donnell of Salem, John Buckley of Abington, Edward A. McColgan of Northampton, John Oliver of Amherst and William Reinstein of Revere.

Shea Rink Bids In April

The MDC is expected to advertise early in April for bids on the planned enclosure of Shea Rink, West Quincy.

In a letter to Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall, Commissioner John W. Sears said the facility should be totally enclosed in time for the 1972-73 skating season.

Rep. Marshall was instrumental in the $450,000 supplemental appropriation last fall for funds to close in the rink.

Senior Citizens To See

Flower Show On March 20

The Park-Recreation Board announces that Quincy, Senior Citizens, 60 and over are eligible to attend the Recreation Department's annual trip to the flower show at the Commonwealth Armory, March 20.

The reduced price will be $1 per person. Tickets will go on sale March 7, at 1 p.m. in the Recreation Office at the John F. Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock St., Quincy Center.

Charles L. Alongi, Assistant Director of Recreation will coordinate the ticket sales and transportation for the trip.

Free bus transportation will be provided from the nine regular locations. Telephone reservations cannot be accepted but one person may pick up tickets for other senior citizens, he said. There is no limit as to the number of tickets one person may purchase for this trip.

VFW Girls Attend State Conference In Fall River

All those attending had a tour of the ship at Fall River and lunch aboard her.

Girls Unit members attending were Debbie Farmer, Marianne DelGraco, Carol DelGraco, Nancy Allsopp, Susan Allsopp. Advisors were Betty Olsen, Florence Piscitello, Martha Bevis, Mary Farmer and Mary DelGraco.

Pilot Club To Hold Treasure Trove March 4

Miss Barbara DeWolfe of 22 Bellevue Rd., Squantum, president of the Pilot Club of Boston, a women's service club, announces that the club is planning its annual Treasure Trove and bake sale March 4, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., at the U.S. Naval Reserve Training Center, 85 Sea St., Quincy.

In case of snow the sale will be held March 11.

Pilot members have been busy collecting imported articles from their travels, hand made gifts, antiques, trays and baskets, kitchen utensils, china and glassware, electrical appliances and white elephants for the sale. There will be a snack bar as well as a table of home-baked goods.

Proceeds from the sale will go for the many club service projects, Marian Manor in South Boston, Donner House in Quincy, the Thompson Family Home in Ipswich, Meals for Millions, Project Hope. And also for the special Pilot International Care project for the year which is building new homes for families in the villages of Ollerros and Huapampa, in Peru, who were left homeless in an earthquake.

The basic principles of Pilot International, founded in 1921, are friendship and service. The members of the Pilot Club of Boston, one of more than 500 clubs in Canada, U.S., Bermuda, Japan, England and France, give many hours of service locally.

Some of the members assisting Miss DeWolfe at the sale, will be Mrs. Oscar Toye, Margaret Flynn, Mrs. Roger Whitcomb, and Ena Fredette of Quincy; Marjorie Holman of Cohasset, and Jean Williams of Milton. Tri-Hy-Y girls from Quincy High School and North Quincy High School, under the direction of Mrs. Whitcomb, will also assist at the Treasure Trove.

Multi-Media Drug Program At Rotary Club

"Of Lemmings and Kings", an audio-visual presentation dealing with the decision of whether to use drugs will be presented at the noon meeting of the Quincy Rotary Club March 7.

The program will be presented by Doug Fernald, Northeastern states representative for Don Kunz Associates of Churchville, Penn., manufacturers representatives for Spindler & Sautpe of Hollywood.

The three-screen, multi-media program was originally produced by Steelcase Inc. of Michigan to stimulate discussion among students and help them reach independent decisions about drug use.

A short business meeting and luncheon will precede the program.

Emmanuel, Regis Clubs Meet on March 9

A joint meeting of the Emmanuel and Regis South Shore Clubs will be held March 9.

Bruce Lund of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, will speak on "Population, Pollution and Politics". The meeting will be at First Parish

Special Features

NEWSY FABRIC — Cotton seersucker, the original no-iron fabric, plays a return engagement this spring. Carol Horn for Benson & Partners uses it in multi-colored plaid.

EASTERN MOTIF — Fall fabrics like this richly printed cotton draw their design inspiration from the classics. Danville shapes the Indian-inspired border print into a chic hostess dress that's perfect for winter parties.

LADYLIKE—Fashion in the classic manner is beautifully depicted in this double-breasted coat of jacquard-woven cotton. The sculptured fabric is styled in softened tones of turquoise and white. By Originals.

Poet's Corner

Let's Win The Fight

[The March of Dimes]

Our Father who art in Heaven,
Grant this for a child of seven.
That they may have the strength to walk,
Let them enjoy a little talk,
That they can play in their delight,
If we the people give a fight.
Give a share of your pay,
So these children can enjoy their play.
A magic dime from all they seek,
To see a rosy apple on their cheek.
Let's go over the goal and explore,
Like we never did before.
A twinkled dime and make a wish,
You could pass around a dish.
God these are wonders I know,
But we must let this disease flow.
Let's bring happiness, "to these lads",
A roll of dimes will make them glad.
Dollars yes they are best
Stored in some one's treasure chest
Have mercy God tonight
And grant we win this fight
With your love and wisdom guide their way
In every hour of their play
Let this prayer be felt by all
And Bless the one who made this call.

Lunch Time Favorites

When lunch time arrives at your home, and the hungry, home-from-school crowd gathers for lunch, serve a hearty sandwich and steaming soup to delight the appetites of young and old alike.

Convenient canned meat spreads make great sandwich fillings and score high with the home-for-lunch and the lunch box set as well. When packing your family's lunch boxes, just include their favorite canned meat spread sandwich and a thermos of hot soup for a nourishing lunch that will carry them through the afternoon school hours.

For a lunch time treat serve your family Twelve O'Clock Chicken Sandwiches and Deviled Ham Crunchers. Both will soon become family favorites.

Twelve O'Clock Chicken

- |                                |                                  |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 8 slices raisin or white bread | 2 tablespoons mayonnaise         |
| 1 4½ ounce can chicken spread  | 3 tablespoons diced celery       |
|                                | 4 slices jellied cranberry sauce |

Combine chicken spread, mayonnaise and celery and spread on four slices of bread. Place a slice of jellied cranberry sauce on each sandwich. Cover with remaining slices of bread. Makes four sandwiches.

Deviled Ham Crunchers

- |                            |                          |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 4½ ounce can deviled ham | 2 tablespoons mayonnaise |
| 1 large apple, chopped     | ¼ cup chopped celery     |
|                            | 10 slices bread          |

Combine deviled ham, apple, mayonnaise and celery. Spread on five slices of bread and top with remaining bread. Makes five sandwiches.

Week of March 2 - 9

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Concentrating on artistic or religious projects will take your mind off those petty irritations that are plaguing you.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Your aggressiveness could cause trouble, use your new found energy to start new projects or finish old ones.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Make long range plans now. If the past was unsatisfactory, change tactics and get set for long upward grind.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Your vitality can now produce wonders as you tackle new projects. Excitement and luck come through partner's efforts.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Feeling lucky may cause you to be aggressive and thus defeat your purpose. Get your way by coaxing, not demanding.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Contacts made this week and next stir up an inner excitement causing you to act in a bold and courageous manner.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - The congenial people you now come in contact with add to your self assurance and this gives inner satisfaction.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - If you insist on going to extremes you could be in trouble during the next two weeks. Don't fuss about duties.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - A nose-to-the-grindstone aspect is in effect for the next 2 years and misunderstandings become more numerous.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Watch what you put on paper, clouded thinking could cause mistakes which in turn would cause worrying conditions.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - There are events taking place within the family circle that upset you. Straighten things out with diplomacy.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Because of your attitude some of you will miss an excellent opportunity this week. You have will power, use it.

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Do you dare to be bare-foot that is? You'll have to be nearly so for spring and summer. Have you peeked at the new shoe styles? Will the fat hang out between the latching when you try on those charming, revealing, exposing strips that hold sole to sole in feminine footwear for spring? There is little femininity in a foot that oozes between the strips.

The only way for you to have a slim foot is to attach it to the bottom of a slim leg. Once you're slim in one place, you'll be slim in another. Start now to be slim all over for spring and summer.

How about some foot reducing exercises, then? You know that's a far-out dream. There is no sure way of spot-reducing any portion of the anatomy. Wiggle your toes and twist your ankles all you want. Your feet may ache but they won't shrink to a size smaller.

But remember, don't deny yourself the joy of something sweetly satisfying as part of your overall diet plan. Include these as one of your treats.

CRUNCH MERINGUES FROM ASTRID THOMAS

- 2 egg whites
- 1/3 cup Alba Skim Milk Powder
- 1 individual box Special K or Wheaties
- 4 packs Sweet 'N Low
- 1/2 teaspoon Maple or Rum extract

Beat egg whites until stiff. Add Alba skim milk powder, fold in. Add extracts and cereal. Drop by teaspoons onto teflon cookie sheet and bake at 300 degrees for about 30 minutes.

You must coddle your cravings for sweets as part of any intelligent diet. How many times have you been booby-trapped before on a diet that left untreated an aching sweet-tooth? What happened—did ravaging pangs send you scurrying to the candy bowl? Just one piece, right??? Wrong! One piece became two, then three, then what the heck, the diet was shot for the day so why not the entire bowl?

This time, be a good scout and be prepared. De-fuse your sweets by de-fattening them. Then you may enjoy them as part of a well-balanced diet and meal plan. The secret one again, is to think ahead. Realize you'll have to subdue the stealy sweet sneak. If you lay in a supply of ammunition so that you have a diet dessert available, you won't be Pearl Harbored before your diet has really begun and you'll have the slimmest sandaled feet in town come spring.

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free brochure "Sweet Rewards For Dieters", please write in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

"How come you didn't hear my siren?"

The orchestra has performed in Symphony Hall, Jordan Hall, Carnegie Hall, the White House, Switzerland and Israel.

They have been invited to appear at the Kennedy Center in Washington in May and at the 26th annual International Music Festival in Wales in July.

If you're toying with the idea of building a nest egg, Norfolk offers you 32 places to hatch it.

As a means of protecting your future there is no substitute for a systematic savings program and Norfolk has 32 neighborhood offices to make it convenient. And we never forget that you are an individual, and that you have your own special needs. So, we offer you six different ways to save!

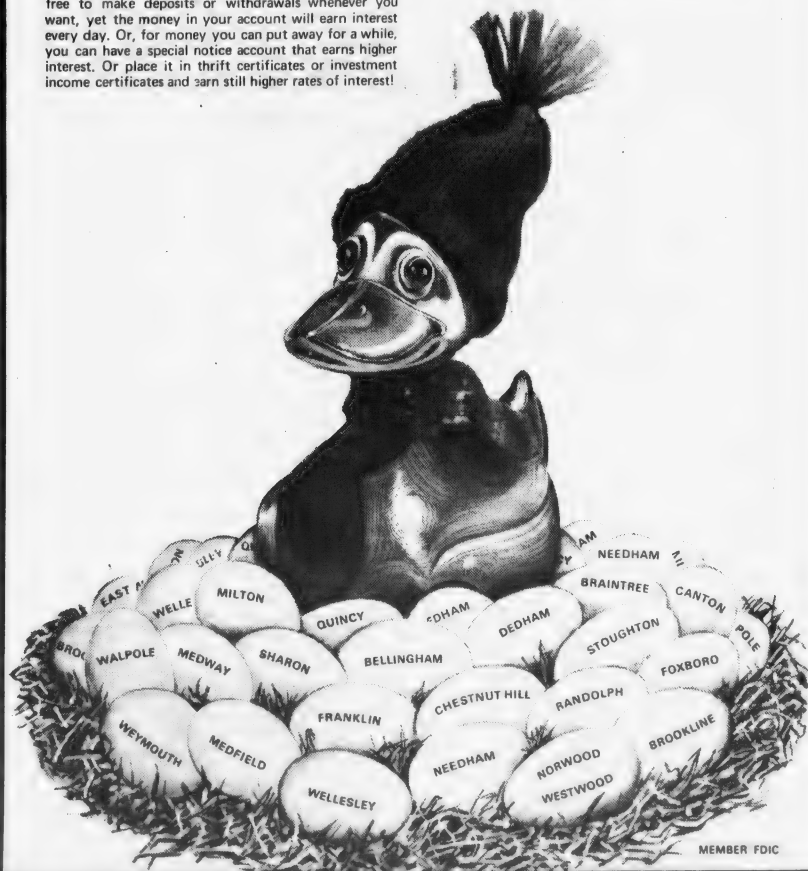

Trust Norfolk to help you choose a plan that will give you the most advantageous rate of return combined with the method of saving that best fits your situation. You can have a savings account which will leave you free to make deposits or withdrawals whenever you want, yet the money in your account will earn interest every day. Or, for money you can put away for a while, you can have a special notice account that earns higher interest. Or place it in thrift certificates or investment income certificates and earn still higher rates of interest!

And then there's the All Purpose Bank Plan which combines your checking, savings notice and reserve credit accounts and lets you transfer funds between accounts with a simple form.

How about your nest egg? Trust Norfolk to help you find the best way to build it.

'Emergent China' Topic For UN Council Meeting March 9

"Emergent China" is the topic Prof. Harry R. Rudin of Yale will discuss at the sixth meeting sponsored by the United Nations Council of the South Shore this season.

He will speak March 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the First Church, Quincy Square. A question period will follow. Admission is free to the public.

After he graduated from Yale in 1919, Prof. Rudin worked for two years at "Yale in China" in Changsha, Hunan Province. Ever since he has kept up his interest in China. Last September and October he spent in Hong Kong helping with "New Asia College" which was founded in 1949 by refugee professors from communist China. It is now one of the three colleges forming the Chinese University of Hong Kong, a university where Chinese in the British Colony can study in their own language.

Professor Rudin who is Colgate Professor Emeritus of History at Yale was for four years chairman of the History Department there. One course he taught was on "European Diplomacy and Imperialism." He is now writing a book on "Man's Quest for Security", concerned with questions of war and peace.

Before the meeting a supper will be served at 6:30 p.m., for which there is a charge. Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. Louise Meserve, 43 Park St., Wollaston, or Mrs. Viola Ellis, 18 Terne Rd, Quincy before March 6. A few places are reserved for students at a reduced rate.

NOTICE

To All Union Members:

Be advised the Charter House Motel in Braintree is being remodeled, renovated and an addition being built too by the T.J. Flatley Company of (Braintree?).

The Building and Construction Trades Unions listed below is requesting all union members regardless of union affiliation, their families and friends not to patronize the function rooms or over-night accommodations of the Charter House Motel in Braintree, Mass.

This action is being taken because of the T.J. Flatley's Company's constant disregard for community standards for wages, fringe benefits and working conditions. The company has repeatedly refused, with one exception, to meetings with union representatives to discuss problems of mutual concern.

For the sake of protecting conditions which have been a long time in attaining, under often difficult situations, the undersigned respectfully and fraternally request DO NOT PATRONIZE THE CHARTER HOUSE MOTEL in Braintree, Mass.

Meet Your Wollaston Businessman

"RED" GRIFFIN poses with the cartoon bear which has been the symbol of his Alignment Specialists shop at 121 Standish Ave., Wollaston, for 11 years.
(Photo by Gunter)

Richard Griffin Puts Accent On 'We' In Alignment Specialists

Richard W. [Red] Griffin, 45, of 93 Century Rd., South Weymouth, has been owner and operator of Alignment Specialists at 121 Standish Ave., Wollaston, for the past 11 years.

He and his brother Roy comprise the entire staff of the establishment, working exclusively on automobile front end and brake problems.

"Red" was born in Boston, graduated from the automotive course at Brighton High School and served two years as an aerial gunner with the Air Force during World War II.

"Actually it was the Army Air Corps when I went but it became the Air Force about halfway through without even changing uniforms," he said.

He served as a tail gunner aboard a B-52 bomber in the South Pacific with the 13th Air Force starting in 1944.

After his discharge, "Red" worked 18 years as a mechanic for Cambridge Brake Service in Cambridge before establishing his own business at Standish Ave. and Hancock St.

In 1951 he married the former Beverly Whiteley of Osterville and the couple have raised four sons, Richard, Brian, Scott and William, all of whom attend Weymouth schools.

The years and his wife's cooking have packed 205 pounds on his 5-foot, 9-inch frame "but I still have all my hair and I keep it cut," he said.

The Griffins are a close-knit family who like the outdoors.

Ask "Red" about his hobbies or activities away from the shop and you'll almost never hear him say "I".

It's "we ski, mostly" or "we like sports" or "we swim a lot."

The only time he uses the first person singular is in his dislike for golf.

"I don't have the time to play golf," he said. Yet he thinks nothing of packing his clan into the car and driving to New Hampshire for a weekend of skiing. "Red" Griffin is a family man.

And Alignment Specialists looks to be a family business for some time to come.

The oldest Griffin boy, Richard, is due to graduate this year from the automotive course at Weymouth

Vocational-Technical School and has shown great interest in joining his father and uncle.

Brett Asks Extension Of Beach Bus Route

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has asked that the Ashmont-Wollaston Beach MBTA bus line be extended to stops on Princess Eve Drive, Rice Rd and Franklin Ave.

In a letter to General Manager Joseph C. Kelly, Brett said added coverage "would accommodate a number of elderly patrons who now find it a hardship to walk to the present bus terminus."

The service now ends at the junction of Fenno St., Rice Rd and Haviland St. "where the driver usually has to spend several minutes before beginning his return trip to Ashmont."

"The suggestion is that the service continue down Fenno St. to Princess Eve Drive, proceeding through there to Rice Rd and thence back to Franklin Ave. for the return trip," Brett said.

He said buses leaving Ashmont could "either follow the reverse of the above route or continue the same as at present, depending on a review of the situation."

Brett told Kelly "consideration of this suggestion and, perhaps a trial period, will be greatly appreciated by a number of our fellow citizens."

Leslie Brierley Elected

Hancock Bank Vice-President

Leslie M. Brierley of 44 West Elm Ave., Wollaston, has been elected Vice President as well as Treasurer of Hancock Bank, announces William E. Kelley, President.

A graduate of Bentley College of Finance, Mr. Brierley became associated with the bank in 1951.

Active in Quincy Civic activities, he is a member of the Board of Managers of Quincy City Hospital and a member of Quincy Rotary Club where he serves on the scholarship committee.

He is well known as a racing enthusiast. He served as Commodore of the Wollaston Yacht Club and was a president of Quincy Bay Race Week.

His family comprises his wife Dorothy and two children.

Dennis McCarthy In Exercise

Navy Fireman Dennis H. McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. McCarthy of 38 Sachem St., Wollaston, aboard the destroyer USS Fiske fought the winter, the sea and the "enemy" in exercise "Snowy Beach" conducted off the Maine coast.

The operation, involved some 30 ships and 15,000 men. It included exercises in anti-submarine warfare, mine warfare and close air support as well as a moderate scale amphibious assault on Maine's Reid State Park.

"Snowy Beach" was the first Atlantic Fleet exercise held for several years to test the Fleet

Mrs. Frank Yeomans Conservation Secretary

Mrs. Frank Yeomans of 115 Winthrop Ave., Wollaston, has been appointed by Mayor Walter J. Hannon to serve as executive secretary of the Quincy Conservation Commission.

Mrs. Yeomans will be responsible for coordinating commission work to provide a readily available source of advice to the mayor and other administrative and legislative bodies.

She has been a member of the Conservation Commission since July 1965 and has served as its chairman for the past two years.

The Mayor has also reappointed Harold S. Crowley Jr. of 3 Flagg St. to a three-year term and named Leslie Molyneux of 42 Pilgrim Rd to replace Harold O. Buzzell of 144 Grandview Ave.

James F. Donahue of 25 River Bank Rd has been appointed an associate member who will attend meetings, participate in discussion but have no vote in commission action.

Molyneux, an earth science teacher at Hanover Junior High, is a graduate of Quincy High School and Eastern Nazarene and has studied at Bridgewater State College, University of Rhode Island and the University of Oklahoma.

He is also studying environmental earth science at Boston College under a National Science Foundation grant.

Donahue is a graduate of Northeastern University and is employed in the nuclear science laboratory of MIT. He is chairman of the Germantown Committee on Pollution.

What Is Most Important to Savers?

By Philip J. Lawrence
President

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

What investment values are considered most important by people who save?

This is a matter of great interest to those of us in the thrift business. Our curiosity was satisfied by several questions in a national survey to acquire information as to what investment characteristics savers considered most important.

This is how one of the questions was phrased:

"Which of these is very important to you and which is not too important? How about high rate of return (interest, dividends, profit)? How about safety, absence of risk? How about capital gains, an increase in market value over time?"

Safety was the only investment value that the majority of families agreed upon as "very important." Sixty per cent of all families thought that safety of their investments was very important. But the other mentioned characteristics—rate of return, liquidity, or capital gains—each found support as "very important" among only one-fourth of all families.

Only half of all income families were willing to class these last three as "very important" or even "somewhat important," whereas 83 per cent or better than four of every five families considered safety as being either very important or somewhat important.

Attitudes toward interest rates are further reflected in the response to the question,

"Do you happen to know what happened to interest rates paid on savings accounts during the past year or two?"

One of every five families didn't know what happened to interest rates. Three of every five said they went up. One of every five said either they stayed the same or went down.

Another question that intrigues financial executives is what makes people save. Insights into this aspect of human motivation came in reply to the interviewer's approach.

"Now I have some questions about saving. Different people have different reasons for saving. In your case, what are the main purposes of saving?"

Leading all other reasons by a significant margin was the provision for uncertainties of the future—emergencies, illness, unemployment. Almost half of all families listed this as a main purpose of saving. The next reason, longer-range in purpose, claimed almost one-third of all families—provision for retirement, old age, burial. One of every five families gave children's education as a main purpose of saving.

The only other motivations for saving that claimed any significant minority of families were buying a house (8 per cent) and buying durables (6 per cent).

Lincoln

[1809-1865] The 16th President of the United States. Do you know civil rights are so important to us today, that people do not realize that Lincoln was the first one to raise the issue. And that he freed us from slavery. And ahead of his time as he was he used the same methods that are being used today. So Lincoln was really an important man in our lives.

Mount Vesuvius

Mount Vesuvius one time covered a city with ashes and lava. The city was Pompeii. Many people were killed. One day people walked by Pompeii and saw a roof still standing. They dug it up. They found a temple with rats all over it and they new Mount Vesuvius must of done it. But all they see is smoke and steam coming out of it. And if you go to see Italy see Greece too.

Lincoln

Lincoln was born on February 12, 1809 on a farm in the backwoods of Kentucky, in what is now Larue County, in a log cabin. He was entered to the White House after attending school less than a year. He became a great orator and writer and was the best president.

Snowflakes

Once upon a time a big wind lifted me off of the cloud. I landed in someones back yard. One day a boy came out and made a snowman. I was part of his head. A big wind blew the snowman down and I was used in a snowball fight. I went back and forth. I got thrown and hit someone. Then a couple of days later I was used in a snow fort. I heard secret things and I got blown into someone else back yard while they were having a snowball fight. I was thrown around a lot what a fight! Someone got pushed into me! I got scratches. Then they took turns to see who could make the best snowman. I was in one. I began to melt after my journey to the winter wonderland.

My Field Trip

On January 27 two fifth grade classes went to the First Parish Church in Quincy. We went by train. When we got there, a man was waiting at the door to show us in. We sat down in the pews and he told us that the people who went to that church could rent a pew for their family. He also said that the Adamases rented a pew and if they came in late nobody would be sitting there.

Then, after a while, we went to see the tombs. On the two presidents' tombs, John Adams and John Quincy Adams, there were wreaths probably to show they were presidents.

After that we went back and we took the train again. It was very interesting.

Soft Or Firm?
There is no way to measure exactly how soft or firm a mattress is. Softness or firmness depends on how well the manufacturer makes it, what he puts into it and the weight of the user. So the best test for you is to throw away your inhibitions, kick off your shoes and lie down on it. One try may not be conclusive but it will give you a good indication of what the mattress is like. Mattresses come in soft, medium, firm or extra firm, but the most important point is whether it provides adequate and proper support for the body. To be sure of proper support, depend on good manufacture and the reputation and reliability of the manufacturer. Finally, if you have been sleeping on an unsuitable mattress, don't worry if a good, new one is not comfortable immediately. A period of adjustment may be expected. ## Quincy Junior Icemen Bow To Medford, 6-2

Quincy's junior high-freshman hockey team, which won the Greater Boston Freshman League title, failed to add the playoff crown as it dropped a 6-2 decision to Medford in the finals at Boston Arena.

Ken Hayes' young Presidents, who finished 6-0 in the league, had romped to a 6-1 win over Somerville in the playoff semifinals as Ted Wiedemann, the league's Most Valuable Player, scored three goals and eighth grader Frank Guest had four assists.

Pete Raymer added two goals and Bill Hammil had the other. Wiedemann also had two assists.

Wiedemann and Mike Wysocki had the Quincy goals in the loss to Medford. The Quincy club was forced to play without the high scoring Guest and goalie Rich Lucier had to leave the game with a badly twisted knee.

Point Junior Team Winless But Tops In Determination

By TOM SULLIVAN

Point Junior High's ninth grade basketball team failed to win a game this season but the fact that every boy who started the season stayed with the squad pleased Coach Fran Conroy.

"This showed a lot of determination on the part of the boys and helped ease the sting of an 0-12 record, Conroy said. "Point is the smallest school in the league and I had only nine players on the ninth grade team."

The starters were Doug King, a fine rebounder and team player, and Bill Breen, the best scorer and rebounder, at forward; Mike Cirillo, another good rebounder, at center; Jim German, number two scorer who brought the ball up on offense, and Steve Papile, an excellent playmaker playing his first year of basketball, at guard.

"These boys will help the high school teams during the next few years," Conroy said. "They had a lot going against them with our small enrollment, but they never gave up and always gave me 100 percent."

Rounding out the squad were Mike Tropea, Mike Salvario, Ray Morreale and Matt Higgins.

"Breen was one of the best rebounders in the league and German and King always covered the top scorers and did a fine job," the Point coach lauded.

The only winning Point team this year was the eighth grade squad with a 7-5 record.

The starters were Forwards Steve Infacelli, a fine rebounder, and top scorer Dwight Anderson; Center Mike Carloni, a good rebounder and scorer, and Guards Dave Perdios and Shaun Dwyer, both fine defensive players with good ball control.

Rounding out the squad were Rob Silva, Dave Barrett, Brian Critcher, Perry Paolucci and Mike Dunlea.

The seventh graders finished their season with a 4-8 mark.

McIntyre Club Builds Lead

McIntyre Club has compiled a 42-22 record to give itself a three-game cushion over the four teams tied for second place in Quincy Little Loop Bowling.

Runners up tied at 39-25 are Atlantic Fuel Oil, Hutchinson Oil, Montclair Men's Club and Hal Davis, which bowled the high team three for the week at 1,337.

Rounding out the league are Bryan Post at 32-32, Elks at 34-30, Hennessey Plumbing at 31-33, Local 513, Brett and Burke tied at 29-36, Local 1451 at 27-35, Morrissey at 24-40 and Bowladrome at 19-45.

Dick Magnarelli's 96.2 average places him well in the lead for individual scorers, followed in the top ten by Bruce Perry, 93.1; Pat Connolly, 92.4 and Steve Martinelli, 92.0.

Also Frank Granara, 92.0; Mike McBride, 91.9; Mike Martinelli, 91.8; Nick Anastas, 91.4; Frank Micelli, 91.3 and Brian Connolly, 91.2.

Elks rolled the high team single for the week at 467, Bob Kelly's 309 was the high individual three and Paul McGuigan's 117 was the high individual single.

Roll To First Tourney Win

Raiders End Four-Year Garden Jinx

By TOM SULLIVAN

Regardless of how the North Quincy basketball team fares in future state tournament play, the Raiders and their faithful fans can look back on a tremendous season which saw them achieve many goals.

The latest and one of the most cherished occurred Monday when they finally won a tournament game at Boston Garden.

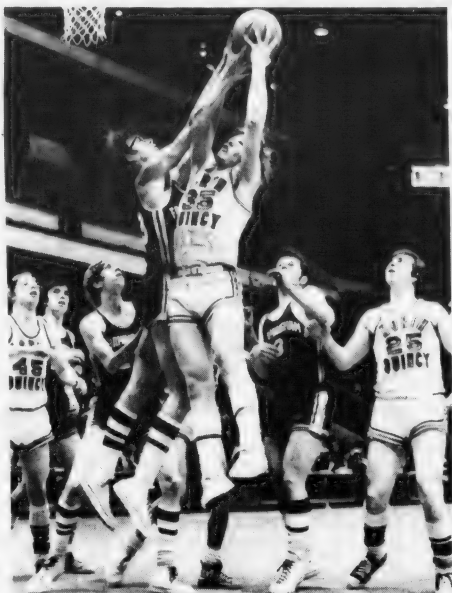

Following four trips to the Tech Tourney under Coach Bob Nolan which saw them ousted each time in the opening round, the Raiders outclassed Framingham South, 79-45, Monday to end the Garden jinx in no uncertain terms.

Last night Nolan and his players expected a great deal more competition when they faced New Bedford, a 60-43 winner over Weymouth North, at Brockton High's Staff Memorial gym. If North survived that stern test, it will return to the Garden Saturday night for the Division I South semifinals. The finals will be played next Tuesday at 7:30 at the Garden.

North's other goals reached during this spectacular season included its third Greater Boston League championship under Nolan, becoming only the second team to go unbeaten in GBL play [Somerville is the only other team to do it], and becoming the first team in Quincy or North Quincy history to go through an entire season undefeated. A thrilling overtime win over Brookline gave the Raiders a 17-0 season record.

"Well, this certainly is better than the locker room scenes after our other four tourney appearances," said a pleased Nolan, who was congratulated by Headmaster John Walsh, Ed King of the faculty, a former North star himself; former players and several coaches. "I felt this was our year to snap that Garden jinx and I only hope we can keep winning and come back for the semifinals and finals."

Nolan felt his pressing defense, which carried the Raiders through their never-to-be-forgotten season, upset Framingham North, which was unable to set up its offense and the Raiders continually blocked shots, stole the ball and made good use of 20 Framingham turnovers.

IN MID-AIR struggle for ball are North's Bill Shea and Steve Rodgers of Framingham South. Lending support are Raiders John Flynn [45] and Burt Bray [25].

Actually, it was not one of North's better shooting days as it hit on only 30 of 90 shots from the floor but it shot much better in the second half and also took down 32 rebounds as it usually held South to one shot at a time and forced them into taking poor shots.

"Our captain, Dave Nelson, did another magnificent job both on offense and defense," Nolan continued. "The others all did their part with Bobby McKay making several steals, Jamie Doherty playing another aggressive game, Ken Marsters hitting from the outside and John Stevens hustling as he always does and doing a great job on much bigger opponents. And Jim Driscoll, our fine sixth man, did a beautiful job when in there. All the boys just put their game together today."

Nolan used all 15 of his players and for the last few minutes of the contest five of Joe Amoroso's junior varsity players were on the court. Eleven players joined in the scoring.

Nelson had 20 points, Marsters 17 and Doherty 15 to lead the attack. Also scoring were Stevens, McKay, Driscoll, Pete Quinn, Don Small, Bernie Holleran, John Flynn and Pete Bellotti.

"Boy, these kids really won it the hard way and we certainly paid our dues," Nolan quipped after Capt. Dave Nelson's jumper with four seconds left in the overtime period gave the Raiders a 49-48 win over Brookline last Friday to mop up the cherished undefeated season.

Nelson was the hero of the night and team manager Rich Kelleher cut down the net into which Dave's game-winner had gone in and Nelson wore the strings around his neck like a Hawaiian lei.

North was nine points [23-14] down at the half but, realizing what the game meant, the Raiders, as they had done all year long, came back strong, cut the gap to 34-32 after three periods and finally took the lead on Jamie Doherty's layup with 5:33 left in regulation time.

North led by six but Brookline roared back and tied it at 44-all with 1:35 left. North tried for one shot but was called for traveling and the game moved into overtime. North hit on a hot 61 percent [14 for 23] from the floor in the second half.

John Stevens, 5-10 pivotman whose outstanding efforts helped turn the game around, topped the scorers with 15 points, followed by Nelson's 14 and Doherty's 11.

Not only was it the end of a fantastic season for the North varsity, but it marked a milestone for junior varsity coach Joe Amoroso, who gained his 50th win in four years with a 42-37 win over Brookline's jayvees. Joe's four-year mark at North is 50-17.

With one of the smallest teams in the GBL, North's jayvee squad had rough sailing over the first half of the year but won its last five and eight of its last 10 to wind up 9-8.

Earlier in the week, after clinching its unbeaten league season, North had romped over Weymouth South, 70-52, as Nelson paced the attack with 17 points despite sitting out most of the third period with foul trouble, Doherty had 15, Ken Marsters 12 and Jim Driscoll, the Raiders' super sixth man, 10.

Quincy, North In Winter Track Championships

The Quincy and North Quincy winter track teams will compete in the state indoor championships which begin with trials this week and the finals at Northeastern University's Cabot Cage on March 11.

Quincy, 3-4 this year in the Met League, is entered in Class A and the Presidents will be seeking qualifying berths when the trials are held Friday night at Lexington High.

North, 1-6 in the league, is in Class B and the Raiders will be seeking berths in the finals when the trials are held tonight at Lynn Vocational High.

Although neither Quincy nor North will be favored for team titles, each has several individual standouts who will be among favorites to win medals. The local teams are led by Quincy's brilliant Bobby Ciano, unbeaten through three years of winter and spring track and cross country.

Quincy Winds Up Frustrating Season, On Right Foot

Quincy's small but spirited basketball team, facing much taller teams throughout the year, finished a frustrating season on the right foot last week with a 71-64 decision over B.C. High at the Quincy gym.

Despite having been knocked from state tourney consideration much earlier, a capacity crowd was on hand to cheer the Presidents on.

The Presidents, finishing with a 9-9 overall record and a 7-7 Greater Boston League mark, thus avenged an earlier 72-64 non-league loss at the hands of B.C.

The Presidents overcame an 11-point deficit with Bobby McDermott, in his final game, proving the spark as he scored six straight points, four from the foul line, to pull his team from behind and give it a 64-60 lead.

"As always, these kids just never quit," Coach Marty Finnegan said. "No matter how far down they've been, they have fought back and if we just had some size, things might have been different. Tonight was their reward for their perseverance. They came back against much bigger teams only to lose. A good example was coming from far behind to tie Malden, then losing in overtime."

McDermott and John Reggiannini had 21 points apiece and Mike Marvelle 13 for Quincy.

Earlier Quincy and Weymouth North, a tournament qualifier, met in a thriller at Quincy which developed into one of the better games of the season. Weymouth pulled out a 76-72 decision.

Despite another huge height disadvantage the Presidents led throughout most of the first three periods but the lack of size plus the strong rebounding of Weymouth's Dave Totman turned the tide in the last quarter.

For Quincy Reggiannini had another big night with 25 points, Marvelle had 14, Ken Furlan 13 and McDermott 10.

No Favors For Crusaders From NAIA Tourney

The NAIA Tournament selection committee, which by-passed the Eastern Nazarene College basketball team a year ago despite its outstanding record, continues to do the Crusaders no favors.

Despite the Crusaders' 84-79 win over Gordon last Saturday to give them their second successive Seaboard Conference championship and hike their season's record to 19-5 [16-2 against New England opponents], their hopes of making the NAIA District 1 tourney depended upon last Tuesday's game against Husson, ENC's final regular season game.

For some reason one conference is represented by four teams, leaving only two at-large berths. The ENC-Husson winner will fill one of these spots.

If the Wollaston club defeated Husson on Tuesday, it plays Bryant, the Naismith Conference champ, tonight [Thursday] at the Bryant gym in Providence. In the other NAIA quarterfinals tonight [Thursday] Boston State faces Eastern Connecticut, Rhode Island College faces Quinnipiac and Keene, N.H., State, takes on St. Francis.

The winners clash Friday night [ENC, if it survives, against the Boston State-E. Connecticut winner at Bryant] and the area district championships will be played next Tuesday.

The Crusaders' Don Eads, the number four NAIA scorer in the nation with an average of 33.5 points a game, paced the win over Gordon with 31 points after having gone over 40 points in three straight games.

"This had to be one of our best team efforts as four players hit double figures," Coach Jim Smith said. Following the sensational Eads were his brother Dave with 19, Rick Reyenger of Quincy with 13, Terry Briggs and Howie Briggs with 11 each.

ENC rolled to a 53-37 halftime lead as Reyenger grabbed 20 rebounds and North Quincy's Steve Shoff took down 15.

"We have our hearts set on making the tourney," Smith said, visibly disappointed that it all depended on Tuesday's Husson game. "These boys certainly deserve it after being snubbed last year. We all still feel we deserved a bid then."

In the previous game Eads, who had just missed setting a new school scoring mark earlier, broke the record against U. of Maine [Portland-Gorham] with 49 points to spark a 104-90 FNC win. It was his third straight game in which he scored more than 40 points.

The old mark of 47 was set by Ron Bradley, sitting out this year with a knee injury. Against King's Eads had 46 and just missed what would have been the winning basket in the final seconds.

Eads, connecting from everywhere with uncanny accuracy, hit on 20 of 28 attempts from the floor and was nine for nine from the foul line.

"When he knows he's on and he has the confidence that the ball is going in, he can just throw it up there and the ball will go in," Smith said. "That's just what he was like against Maine, hitting on 25-footers and the shot which gave him the record came from 35 feet out."

Don's brother, Dave, had 19 points, the only other Crusader to hit double figures.

Earlier ENC had nipped Barrington, 105-100, in overtime to put it in line for another conference championship.

Eads had 42 in that one, Rick Reyenger had 17, Terry Briggs 16 and Dave Eads 12. Briggs sank a foul shot with ENC trailing, 94-91, and time running out and a few seconds later grabbed an offensive rebound and sank the tying basket as the buzzer sounded. Barrington argued that time had run out but the official ruled differently, sending the game into overtime.

ENC had dropped an 85-84 squeaker to King's, its first conference loss, the game in which Eads just missed a 30-footer with five seconds to play and missing the school mark by a point.

QJC Stopped By Graham Champs

The Quincy Junior College basketball team, which finished second in the Mass. Jr. College Conference with a 7-3 record, wound up its season last Sunday when it bowed to conference champion Graham, 82-71, in the playoff finals at Wentworth Institute.

QJC had defeated Franklin, 82-69, the previous night in the playoff semifinals as Rich Ross scored 29 points, John Mullen 22 and Mike Granahan 20. Graham topped Burdett, 105-89, in the other semifinal.

Against Graham the Quincy club started fast and led by eight points midway in the first half but several turnovers hurt and Graham moved into a 38-33 halftime lead.

The Boston team never trailed after that, although QJC continued to give it all.

Ross added 18 points in the finale, Granahan had 15 and Bob Uhlar 17.

"These boys did a good job all year long," Coach Earl Vermillion said. "Several of our players never played in high school and were gaining experience as the season progressed. Also, we lost three of our top players at mid-season."

MEASLES IN COMEBACK

Not too long ago it had been hoped that measles was on the way out completely in the U.S. thanks to the existence of effective vaccines and a 7-year Federal program to eradicate the disease. But, according to the U.S. Center for Disease Control, measles is back on the increase and getting out of control.

After vaccines became available in 1963, incidence of old-fashioned measles plummeted to a low of 7,500 reported cases in 1967 raising hopes that it could be eliminated in this country.

Instead, the rates turned up again and about 70,000 cases are being reported this year. According to the doctor at the Disease Center, primary blame for this increase is the failure to get mass vaccination programs to the poor since most of the increase has been traced to the poverty pockets of this country.

North Girls Take Second Place, Quincy In Fourth Spot

The Quincy and North Quincy girls' basketball teams finished their first season in the Greater Boston League last week with the North lasses, under new coach Barbara Webster, coming back from a winless 1970-71 season to finish in a second place tie with a 6-4 record.

It was the first winning season in North's three years of girls' basketball. They were 7-5 overall, splitting two games with Thayer Academy.

Quincy, in its fourth year of the sport, ended up in fourth place with a 5-5 record under third year coach Gale Palmer.

Highlight of the North season was its first win ever over rival Quincy. Although Quincy won the second meeting of the teams, the Raiderettes made it a 6-4 league season with a 35-24 win over Revere in their league finale. They dropped a 29-27 squeaker to Thayer in the last game of the year.

"These girls did a tremendous job after not winning a high school game last year [they did defeat a Church League team]," Miss Webster said. "Of course, the win over Quincy was the big thing this year but they did a good job in every game."

The only game the North girls were actually out of was against Malden, which was undefeated and won the title with a 10-0 record.

Lisa Kowlick, one of only two seniors on the varsity squad, was high scorer while Denise Beresznewicz averaged eight points a game.

"Special mention should go to Dianne Smith, who played regularly and excelled on defense but committed just three fouls all year long," the North coach pointed out.

The only other varsity senior was Karen Bray, while the junior varsity, which had a poor year, had only one senior.

"Things look bright for next year but Quincy has almost everyone back, too, and they will be very strong again," Barbara concluded.

Quincy, trailing most of the way, came back to nip North, 37-34, in its final game of the year and avenge the earlier North victory. Quincy's jayvees also won, 22-15. Quincy has a 5-1 record against North while its jayvees are 6-0 in the cross-town rivalry.

"North stayed in the game thanks to their foul shooting," Miss Palmer said. "We just couldn't hit from the foul line while North was hitting on theirs but they couldn't score much from the floor in the second half."

In that last game Debbie Spillane had 11 points and Jean Macchi nine for Quincy, while Miss Beresznewicz had 14 and Leslie Runge 10 for North.

Debbie Congdon was the First Ladies' top scorer this year with Kathy Ilacqua and Miss Spillane right behind.

"Kathy Ilacqua won the coach's trophy for being the best foul shooter on the team," Miss Palmer said. "She hit on 64.1 percent of her free throws.

"At the end of the year I didn't have a single senior on the squad and everyone on both the varsity and junior varsity squads will be coming back. But I just wish some would grow about four inches. We have no height at all and a couple of tall girls would certainly help us."

Erickson Leads Crestview

Chris Erickson slapped in two goals to lead Crestview to a 5-0 win over Keohane's in Quincy Youth Hockey Pee Wee action and keep his team one point ahead of United Commercial Travelers.

Mark Rooney and Brian Norton combined for seven points as UCT downed Morrisette 5-1. Other Pee Wee games saw Hannon edge Wollaston 2-1 and Maguire's outshoot Davis 4-1.

Paul Hurley scored a goal and two assists and Don Perdias picked up a goal and one assist for Crestview with the insurance goal going to John Andrews.

Tim Ricciardi and brothers John and Mike Feury provided the power for Keohane's.

UCT goals by Mark Rooney [2], Brian Norton, Bruce Brennan and Rick Carnali offset the Morrisette score by John Yaxter.

The victories gave Crestview a 5-0-2 record and UCT 5-1-1 to place them first and second respectively. Keohane's loss dropped them into third place with nine points.

Outstanding goal-tending by Hannon's Jimmy Scanlon and Wollaston's Gary Kearney highlighted their game which saw goals by Dave McLaughlin and Paul Barry of Hannon and Richard Boyle of Wollaston.

Ed Kane poked home two goals for Keohane's with scoring help from Dave McHugh and Bob Nardone against Dave Peters' lone goal for Davis.

In Bantam action, Mark Fanning of Sweeney shut out Cox as Joe McConville picked up two goals and Mike Faherty and Joe Kane added to the scoring.

Pat McAuliffe, Joe Rice and Charlie Connelly scored for Davis against a Farina goal by Rick Dorney.

Bruins Eliminate Beau's Place

The Haynes-Crump Bruins of Boston proved to be a nemesis for Beau's Place of Quincy this year.

They handed the Quincy powerhouse, Cranberry League champion with a 16-0 record, the first of its two non-league defeats and then eliminated Beau's from the annual Plymouth state semi-pro tourney in the quarterfinals.

The all-colored team, with some of the top players in New England, topped Beau's, 75-60, after the Quincy club had defeated the Roxbury Rams, 66-61, in the opening round.

Against the Rams Jim Hayes scored 20 points, Mike Greenlaw 18 and Bob McNamara 15. In the Bruins game Hayes had 14, McNamara and Greenlaw 11 each.

At this writing no decision had been made regarding the Cranberry League playoffs. Beau's will play in the Brockton semi-pro tourney March 11 and 12 and in the Rockland tournament March 18 and 19.

Army Engineers To Make Flood Control Study

Congressman James A. Burke [D-Milton] announces the Corps of Engineers will undertake a study in Quincy to determine the advisability of improvements on Furnace Brook, Hayward Creek and Town Brook for flood control and allied purposes.

Announcement came as a result of the Department of the Army's recommendation to the House Public Works Committee that legislative action on the Burke bill, H.R. 1234, "to investigate, study, and construct a project for flood protection at Quincy, Massachusetts", be deferred pending submission of a completed survey report.

The Office of Management and Budget has advised the Committee that, from the standpoint of the Administration's program, there is no objection to the presentation on this report for the consideration of the Committee.

Burke indicated his pleasure on learning this news, as it indicates that the Executive Office has no objection to the Corps of Engineers undertaking the necessary survey. He hopes it will be the first step in implementing a full-scale flood control project in Quincy.

QTA Opposes 'Unthoughtful' Decisions On School Sites

Dr. Philip L. McCarthy, President of the Quincy Taxpayers Association announces he and the QTA are definitely opposed to "fast unthoughtful decisions on proposed sites for school building projects, especially when prime commercial land is being considered".

In a statement, Dr. McCarthy said.

"This land properly utilized will benefit every property taxpayer.

"We also are not advocating the land taking of home owners and displacing them. We are aware of the needs at North Quincy High and we are in sympathy with them. However, it is our belief that we should not steam roll any proposed site.

"We believe that careful and thoughtful planning should be given and a projected study to the future needs of the school enrollment.

"The nation's birthrate has dropped 35 per cent in the past 11 years.

"The State Department of Education forecasts a state wide drop of 29,285 students in all grades in 1972.

"Let us not act in haste and completely destroy the confidence of the already over-burdened property taxpayer."

Ward 3 Civic Organizational Meeting

The newly reactivated Ward 3 Civic Association held its third organizational meeting at 5 p.m. March 1 at Walter Scott Hall, 30 Franklin St.

All Ward 3 residents 16 years of age or over are invited to attend the meeting and help formulate the rules and goals of the group.

Pasquale DiStefano and Ernest Aristide have been acting as president and moderator at meetings which have been held at Aristide's home and at the Southwest Community Center, Brewers Corner.

The group is non-political, non-religious and open to everyone in South Quincy, Aristide said.

Future meetings will formalize by-laws and allow for election of officers, he said.

City officials who have attended meetings and expressed support or encouragement include Mayor Hannon, Councillors McLelland, LaRaia, Barilaro and Marshall and School Committeeman Harold R. Davis.

'Red Raider Day' To Honor North

Sunday has been proclaimed "Red Raider Day" in Quincy in honor of the North Quincy High School varsity basketball team which won the Greater Boston League championship with a 20-0 record.

Team members, cheerleaders and the "gallery gods" composed of members of the North football team will canvass North Quincy Sunday to raise funds for a team trip.

Coaches and parents of team players are sponsoring a raffle to send the team on a trip.

Mayor Walter J. Hannon cited in his proclamation the fact that the team is the first in the city's history to go undefeated.

"Although lacking in stature to many of their adversaries," the proclamation reads, the team "has overcome this handicap and has obtained a position in the finals for the South Division I State Tournament."

"We've been supporting the kids that cause us trouble all the time, it's about time we supported the kids who do something decent and act like gentlemen," he said.

Heading the fund-raising committee are coaches Bob Nolan and Arthur Morrissey.

Three tickets will be drawn on April 1 to determine winners of sets of tickets to the Aug. 27 exhibition game between the New England Patriots and the New York Giants.

First prize winner will receive three tickets to the contest. Second and third prizes will be two tickets each, all of which are between the 40 and 45 yard lines at Schaeffer Stadium, Foxboro.

The basketball team won the Greater Boston League title for 1971-72 by compiling an unprecedented 17-0 record.

And they are the first team in the school's history to win their first two games in the

City Workers Seek Return On Insurance Premiums

Councillor-at-large Joseph J. LaRaia has introduced to the Council a petition of some 200 city employees who are seeking a return of dividends from their health insurance premiums.

LaRaia said he was informed by the city auditor that dividends were used this year to help pay the city's share of health insurance premiums and could not be returned to the employees.

He said he will introduce an order to earmark such funds for reduction of future premiums for city employees.

Concerned Over 'Stampede'

Davis Urges Study Of All New North High School Plans

School Committeeman Harold R. Davis urged Wednesday night that the School Committee take time to give careful consideration to all proposed sites for the North Quincy High School addition.

Davis recommended that the committee study and submit to the City Council several alternative locations, listing advantages and disadvantages of each, and allow the Council the final choice.

He said he was concerned over the school board's "stampeding" toward a choice of one site without giving full consideration to all proposals.

"It troubles me that we had approved the addition to the school itself and now it seems as if that proposal is being passed up for a new school in the State Street South area, he said.

"The State Street South site has only been discussed . . . for two or three hours" at committee meetings, he said.

"I'm convinced on the need for a new building or addition, but I'm not going to be convinced on a location after two or three hours of discussion," he said.

Proposals include:

- A direct addition to the present building.
- An addition to Atlantic Junior High School.
- A new school at State Street South, North Quincy.
- A new school on Quarry St., West Quincy.
- A new school at Wollaston Golf Course.
- A new school at Furnace Brook Golf Course.

Officials, Volunteers Cited For Snow Removal

President John R. Bita "defied the dictates of his membership," according to McParland, by choosing to work on Saturday.

The union "expected us to push the panic button" by serving last minute notice that they would refuse overtime, Hannon said, but the volunteers showed great "cooperation and teamwork and we got a great job out of it."

The department heads and Civil Defense were notified at about 7:15 a.m. Sunday and equipment was out on the streets within an hour, Hannon said.

"We were fortunate that the snow fell on a Sunday when people do not have to get out," he said.

Hannon praised Public Works Commissioner James J. Ricciuti for the performance "particularly under the conditions he had to work with."

He said he had never seen "Hancock St. look so clean" after a storm.

A number of downtown merchants share Hannon's view on the condition of Hancock St.

Snow removal became a white-collar job in Quincy Sunday as the city's treasurer, purchasing agent, labor negotiator and the Mayor's executive secretary manned plows.

City officials joined Civil Defense workers, firefighters and other volunteers to clean the streets as public works employees had voted to refuse overtime work in a labor dispute.

Mayor Hannon said the volunteers did "a tremendous job" in opening every street in the city by 2 p.m. Sunday.

Flowers included Treasurer Robert Foy, Purchasing Agent Richard Newcomb, Executive Secretary Joseph Shea, Labor Negotiator Joseph McParland and Civil Defense workers under Director Edward Roberts.

McParland has met three times in the past month with the bargaining committee representing the 50 DFW workers who voted last week to refuse overtime.

Hannon said "many city workers came down [Sunday] because their president took overtime on Saturday."

Mason Ward 2 Speaker

David Mason of Whitman, head of the newly-formed Telephone Action Group, will be guest speaker at the Ward 2 Civic Association at 8 p.m. March 14 at Fore River Clubhouse.

TAG is attempting to prevent the New England Telephone Company from further raising phone rates without improvements in service and equipment.

Mrs. Phyllis Bagen will preside. Refreshments will be served.

Editorials

Don't Rush New High School

The Quincy School Committee now has before it at least eight proposals or suggestions for sites of an addition to overcrowded North Quincy High School.

Proposals range in scope from a direct addition to the present building to construction of a completely new plant.

Each has merit. Each carries drawbacks.

The present building at Hancock and East Squantum Sts. houses at present 500 more students than it was intended to accommodate. And enrollment is expected to exceed capacity by more than 900 by 1975.

So, we feel, the need to alleviate the overcrowded conditions is glaringly apparent and urgent.

We urge, however, as does Committeeman Harold R. Davis, that the school board and City Council give full consideration to the advantages and disadvantages of each suggestion.

Would a direct addition to North or Atlantic Junior High be worth forcing homeowners to relocate with alternative sites available?

Would construction of a new school at the Montclair Marshes prove a wise venture in view of anticipated tax potential of the area near State Street South?

Would construction of a new school near Hobart St. or at Merrymount Park, Wollaston Golf Course or Furnace Brook Golf Course be worth taking the much-needed open land?

Would a new school built on Quarry St. serve better to curb overcrowding at both North Quincy and Quincy High Schools?

If a complete investigation shows any of these or any future proposal to be the best answer from all points, then city officials should follow that course.

A solution to the problem must be found soon. But the decision must be a sound one, based on thorough deliberation if the needs of all concerned are to be met.

A Tip Of Our Hat

A tip of the hat is in order to Mayor Walter J. Hannon, his department heads, the Civil Defense and other volunteers who manned snow removal equipment during Sunday's storm.

The city passed through a minor crisis without mishap Sunday as volunteers moved swiftly and efficiently to clear eight inches of snow from the city's streets.

The year's heaviest snows coupled with freezing night temperatures could have left a great portion of the city snowbound in the refusal of DPW workers to accept overtime duty.

But the white collar workers and the men in the street pitched in with teamwork and cooperation to open every Quincy street by 2 p.m.

Councillor Barilaro Not Supporting Ward 3 Civic Association

Editor, Quincy Sun:

I am writing in regard to an article published in the March 2nd edition of your paper concerning the newly formed Ward 3 Civic Association. The article implies that [1] I am a supporter of this group, and [2] that the Association held a meeting at the South-West Community Center. Neither of these statements is true.

The meeting held at the South-West Community Center was not a meeting to the Ward 3 Civic Association, but the regularly scheduled meeting of the Southwest Community Council. The new civic group had been included in the meeting as an agenda item.

I can only assume that my presence at the meeting of the Southwest Community Council [of which I am a member] was taken as a show of support for the newly formed Association. This was not the case, and I would like to make it clear that I have in no way offered my support of this group.

The reason I attended the Southwest Community Council Meeting was to show my support for House Bill 12350 in support of extending the appropriation of money for EOA programs.

City Hall insiders report that John [Butch] Mahoney, former Quincy coordinator, has the inside track for appointment to the new post of Grid Star of Drug Programs.

This is one of the important new posts Mayor Walter Hannon singled out in his inaugural address as a "must".

"I believe this is the only way we can develop a strong and unified attack on the cancer of drug abuse," he declared.

FOR THREE WEEKS in Suffolk Superior Court, Quincy Atty. Richard W. Barry looked something like Perry Mason and Ironsides rolled into one.

The former Norfolk County assistant district attorney represented a Brookline man, one of three defendants on trial charged with conspiracy to steal over $500,000 in negotiable bonds. [Four others pleaded guilty].

The day before the trial started, Barry fractured his right leg while skiing in Vermont. But with leg in cast, and him in a wheelchair, Barry proceeded undaunted with the trial. And, for three weeks conducted the defense from that chair.

And, despite the fact that FBI informant Vincent Teresa turned state's evidence, Barry won his case. [The other two defendants were also found innocent.]

Barry, however, has decided that he just can't win at skiing.

His leg is still in a cast and he'll be on crutches for another five weeks. Last year he suffered a concussion in a fall while skiing. "That's it," he says. "No more for me. I'll never ski again."

FIRE CHIEF Edward Barry's son, Ed, Jr., has been elected captain of next year's Xavierian Brothers High School hockey team. He's a star left wing. And is also an outstanding baseball player.

WEDDING bells will ring soon for School Committeeman Harold Davis and his pretty campaign manager, Kathleen [Bobby Kay] Smith of Hobomock Rd, Merrymount. She's a teacher at Sacred Heart Church, North Quincy. They've filed marriage intentions at City Hall.

SO FAR, Leap Year has been pretty much of a dud in the romance department according to figures in City Clerk John Gillis' office.

The whole month of February produced only 53 marriage intentions—6 more than last year. And nobody even bothered on Feb. 29.

HERE'S ONE: George Reardon, owner of President Chevrolet, tells of the customer who beefed there was something wrong with the steering on his car. He just couldn't control the car.

Servicemen road tested the car and found nothing wrong with it. The man insisted the steering was faulty.

It wasn't until he buckled his seat belt that the real trouble was discovered. Seemed he was looping the straps of the seat belt through the steering wheel. Honest!

Davis Wants Consideration Of All Proposals

[Cont'd from Page 1]

Davis also mentioned as a possibility 15 acres of open space near Belmont and Hobart Sts. in Montclair, which is city-owned land and would not take any homes.

Mayor Hannon's proposal for the Montclair Marshes near State Street South has drawn mixed reaction.

The section is estimated to be worth $50 to $100 million within the next 15 years, according to Davis. Rep. Joseph E. Brett has been the most vocal opponent to using the valuable land.

Brett has proposed as an alternative construction of a Southwest area high school off

Quarry St., but the Mayor questions whether a school can be built "around quarry holes."

Davis cautions that once city officials "have decided on the particular site, we have to face the immediate problem at North Quincy High School."

"Obviously, we can't be satisfied that the problem will be solved in two or three years," he said.

North Quincy High School is built for a capacity of 1,600 students. There are 2,100 enrolled there now with projections for 1975 reaching 2,500.

North Quincy door-to-door selling chances beginning Marsh 12.

Sponsor William Shea said the destination of the team trip will "depend on how well the community receives the team and how hard the members work."

Construction To Start On Ross Area Garage

Gil-Bern Construction Corp. of 80 Brook St., Plympton, has been awarded a $1,919,000 contract for construction of the Ross Parking Garage.

Public Works Commissioner James J. Ricciuti said Gil-Bern entered the lowest of 13 bids which ranged as high as $2,390,000.

All bids were below the expected $2.5-$3 million construction cost because the economic conditions have created a "buyers' market", according to Ricciuti.

"We have a buyers' market in that contractors need work and hence prices result in savings to the city when such projects are bid on," he said.

Construction of the garage is expected to begin "as soon as the weather clears" with Oct. 1 as the target date for completion.

The three-story, 800-car garage will be built in a section of the Charles A. Ross Parking Area towards Granite St.

Ricciuti said the delay in starting from the originally scheduled March 1 groundbreaking should have no effect on completion of the facility by the first week in October.

"We still hope to conform to the established target date," he said.

Smyth Wants Review Of Open Space Rule

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth has called for a review of what he terms the "senseless formula of excessive open space requirements" of the School Building Assistance Bureau.

Smyth said the city cannot "afford the luxury of taking personal property and relocating families for the sake of excessive open space for school purpose."

In a letter to School Superintendent Lawrence P. Creedon, he said "we must honestly ask ourselves which is more important, quality education or an abundance of open space to achieve it."

Smyth said he has taken the stand because "objections against my proposal for an addition to the Atlantic Junior High to accommodate ninth graders has convinced me that a serious and immediate review must be initiated."

"The homeowner who pays City taxes also contributes to the School Building Assistance Bureau by payment of state income taxes," he said.

"The present law must be changed to protect him against this senseless formula of open space requirements to qualify for financial aid," he said.

Marshall Thanks DPW For Guardrail

Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall has commended the Department of Public Works for its action in installing a guard rail at Fore River Circle.

In a letter to DPW Chife

Engineer Daniel S. Horgan, Marshall said the action demonstrates "the concern the Public Works Department shows for public safety."

Travel To Opera On 'Champagne Bus'

A group of Quincy residents traveled by "Champagne Bus" to New England Life Hall, Boston, Saturday, to attend Opera A La Carte, a benefit performance held by the Milton Women's Club, Evening Division, for several South Shore charities including Survival, Inc.

The group was hosted by Atty. and Mrs. Martin S. Cosgrove of 150 Samoset Ave., Merrymount, who supplied a champagne and sweets party aboard a chartered bus to the opera.

Mrs. Cosgrove said that the idea of a Pre-Opera Bus Party instead of a house party appealed to the group as it assured everyone of arriving at the hall together in time for the curtain.

Among Quincy residents joining the Cosgroves for the gala affair were: Rep. and Mrs. Thomas Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Mulcahy, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rochelle Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David B. Coletti, Mr. and Mrs. John Keeney, Atty. and

Mothers Of Twins To Hold Grandmothers Night March 13

The South Shore Mothers of Twins Club will hold a Grandmothers' night March 13 at the George Bean Legion Post in South Weymouth.

A catered roast beef dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. A social half-hour will precede the dinner.

A decorated birthday cake to mark the 15th anniversary of the chapter has been made by Mrs. Joseph Keenan of Weymouth.

Chairman for the evening is Mrs. Robert Koffink of Braintree. Mrs. Joseph Keenan of Weymouth is co-chairman.

Following the dinner 15 members from the South Shore Chapter of the Mothers of Twins will model "Styles Unlimited" fashions. The grandmothers will be both amused and shocked at the "far-out ideas" and styles of the mothers of this modern 20th century generation, Mrs. Koffink said.

The grandmothers who have served as excellent babysitters for their grandchildren will be treated to a display of unique fashions. Although some outfits might seem rather "mod" they will in some way show what a mother-of-twins life is all about. Some of the evening's fashions will also give a glimpse into what will be worn at the National Organization Convention to be held in Boston in July of '72.

The South Shore Mothers of Twins Club is host for this National Convention.

FASHION HERALDS . . .

The Return of the Dress

FALL DRESS-UP—Free and easy is the style of fashion's new shirt dress. Anne Fogarty interprets the look in paisley-printed cotton knit with long fitted sleeves, high waist, and ruffled flounce.

ON THE TOWN—Printed cotton velveteen inspires a classic cocktail dress for all-season wear. Inverted front pleats give mobility to the skirt below a fitted bodice. It's by Suzy Perette.

ROARING '70s—The dress is back, and Designer Anne Fogarty does it in wrinkle-free cotton knit. The sweetheart neckline is softly shirred above a high waist and a ruffled flounce adds hemline flare.

Poet's Corner

What A Party Means

Party giving is loving
Its giving, it is sharing
It is everybody's chance
To light a little candle
In the sometimes gloomy world.

Someone has said that Life itself is a party;
You join after its started
And leave before its finished
Keep the doors open to a party
Letting happiness enter the hearts

Of the old-young-timid and strong.

Pear-Mincemeat Tarts Have Old-Fashioned Appeal

With their rich fruity flavor Pear-Mincemeat Tarts are sure to win the fancy of every dessert lover. Serve them warm and fragrant from the oven with a sprinkling of powdered sugar or a fluffy topping of whipped cream.

The filling is easily made by combining juicy canned Bartlett pears and prepared mincemeat with brown sugar, crunchy nuts, and a dash of brandy or rum. Pear cut-outs fashioned from the dough decorate each tart before baking.

The tarts will stay fresh several days if stored in an air-tight container. Reheat in a hot oven as needed.

Pear-Mincemeat Tarts

- |                               |                        |
|-------------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 (16 oz.) can Bartlett pears | 1 tablespoon brandy or |
| 1 cup mincemeat               | rum (optional)         |
| 1/2 cup chopped walnuts       | Pastry for 2-crust pie |
| 1 tablespoon brown sugar      |                        |

Drain pears and finely dice. Combine pears, mincemeat, walnuts, brown sugar and brandy or rum. Roll pastry 1/8-inch thick. Cut into 12 (4-inch) circles. Line 12 (2 1/2 inch) muffin pans with pastry. Fill with pear-mincemeat mixture. Make pear cut-outs with remaining pastry. Place over filling. Bake at 450 degrees 10 to 12 minutes or until golden. Serve warm or cold. Makes 12 tarts.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of March 9 - 16

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - The publicity and/or favors you are receiving could turn your head. Going overboard will only defeat your purpose.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Fatigue is most likely at the root of your current troubles. You are over-doing in some area. Slow down.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - If you want your ideas acted upon in the near future, present them now. Others need time to evaluate their worth.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Excess energy and big ambitions could tax your vitality. With a sensible schedule, you can cover all bases.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - If you have been handling your affairs sensibly, you have reached a peak in career matters and should be congratulated.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - It is time to face realities, if your hopes and desires are too far out better lower your sights now, and save time.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - If you are planning something new you can get started by using your home as your base of operations.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - The contacts you are making are exciting and if you use caution a lasting attachment could be formed.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - You are making your own life difficult by being temperamental. There are some you just can't control.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Your restlessness is caused by unsettled mind activity. Taking up new study helps concentrative powers.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - It's time to look to your own future. The obligations you accept should enhance your reputation and solidify future.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Domestic troubles make it difficult for you to concentrate on outside interests. Getting new start isn't easy.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Are you ready out there... Have you seen what's happening to this generation of young women?

Liberated or not, they're different from the mothers and wives I remember from my growing up days.

There isn't a single case of housedress syndrome at any PTA meeting. There may be minis and midis, pants suits and dresses, but no frumpy around. And what a difference in the approach to life! Everyone's busy...bowling, riding, skiing, working...no one's allowed to stick in the mud.

Think about your friends' mothers when you were a child. Most of the ones I recall were rather comfortable and soft—a little like a well-worn sofa, if you want the truth. So what are you doing about joining this change? I hope you have not settled for slip-covering that well-worn sofa when it is so much more rewarding to reupholster yourself in today's lighter weight, longer-lasting materials!

Foods have changed too. Transportation brings new varieties closer and 'fresher. It's fun to experiment with them while you experiment with changing you. Twenty-five years ago, a Northerner never heard of Red Snapper. Today I can give you this recipe, knowing that it is available in nearly every market.

RED SNAPPER FLORIDA STYLE

- 1 1/2 pounds Red Snapper fillets
- 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- Sprinkle of Nutmeg
- Salt and Pepper
- 3/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Arrange fillets in teflon baking pan. Sprinkle with other ingredients. Cover with aluminum foil and bake for 15 minutes in 400 degree oven. Garnish with parsley and lemon.

Are you ready to plunge into this new mainstream of femininity? If you are, and you would like some sound diet advice, contact me at The Quincy Sun or at The Diet Workshop, 28 Merrick Ave., Merrick, New York 11566.

Thoughts For Today

Wedding rings are placed on the third finger of the left hand because of an old Egyptian belief that a nerve ran from that finger to the heart.

Thirteen pieces in a "baker's dozen" originated when King Louis of France warned all bakers who gave under measure that they would be beheaded.

Curry College Marathon Dance Friday To Aid Muscular Dystrophy

Students at Curry College in Milton will hold their second annual dance marathon to aid the fight against Muscular Dystrophy, starting Friday evening at 9 p.m.

The marathon, styled after the dancing events of the 1930's, will run through Sunday evening, midnight. The three days of dancing competition is open to area college students.

Entrants may register in advance, or at the door Friday evening. Prizes are to be awarded to the winning couple.

Sam Gelb, a student spokesman, said, "The idea to hold the annual marathon came from an increasing awareness on the part of today's students for the need for more and better health care and specifically, for a cure to Dystrophy and related crippling neuromuscular disease."

The non-stop live entertainment will feature area

Rock Bands. The group is hoping to be able to top the $2,000 they raised last year. Students have been working in advance on preparations which included contacting other schools in Greater Boston and seeking local merchants participation.

The event will take place at the school's south academic center, 1071 Blue Hill Ave. and is open to the general public.

Watercolor Display At North Quincy Library

Watercolors by Miss Rosalie Murphy of West Roxbury will be on display at the North Quincy Branch of the Thomas Crane Public Library through March 31.

Miss Murphy is supervisor of fine arts for Boston Public Schools. She is a graduate of Massachusetts College of Art and Boston State Teachers College.

She is a member of the Copley Society of Boston, Milton Art Association, Newton

Art Association and Massachusetts Art Teachers Association.

Among her awards are first prize in the Milton Hometown Show, South Shore Plaza Art Festival and Newton Art Exhibit.

Evening Guild Holds Covered Dish Supper

The Evening Guild of Union Congregational Church held its annual covered dish supper Monday night at the home of Mrs. Harold Chapman, 21

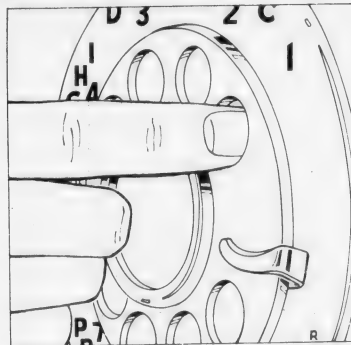

Willow St., Wollaston.

Eighteen members were present and discussed plans for the annual birthday party April 3 and "Go To Church Sunday"

April 30.

Mrs. John Hale was chairman and Mrs. Chapman was co-chairman of the event.

Mattress Covering

A familiar adage tells you you can't judge a book by its cover. The same holds true with a mattress.

While covering is important, a pretty cover, or "ticking", does not assure inner quality or comfort.

In buying a mattress, be sure to examine weight, strength and type of the covering. Determine what fiber it is made of and check whether that pretty design is printed or woven.

It is also to your advantage to see if the covering is specially treated in any way and examine the type, quality and strength of the cording or stitching.

The cover should be strong and serviceable. It may be treated to be flame resistant or resistant to odors, mildew or stains.

But remember, do not choose a mattress solely because of its cover. All factors must be considered.

For the best in mattresses and box springs, shop Tags Sleep and Lounge Shop, 1568 Hancock St., Quincy, your South Shore BEDquarters, featuring Simmons, Slumberland, Serta and King Koil. Use major credit cards or long-term agreements, three-months to pay, no carrying charge. Call 471-6180.

Rev. Joseph Manton To Offer Triduum At St. Joseph's Church

Rev. Joseph E. Manton, C.S.S.R., of Mission Church, Roxbury, will preach a Triduum in honor of St. Joseph at St. Joseph's Church, Quincy Point, beginning March 19.

Fr. Manton will open the Triduum by preaching at all the Masses on Sunday and will continue by conducting services on Monday and Tuesday at 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Father Manton is a Redemptorist priest who was ordained in 1929, and has spent most of his priestly life at the Basilica of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Boston.

During these years, conducting the Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help at the famous Roxbury shrine, he has preached in its pulpit on Wednesdays more than 8,000 times.

For twenty-five years he has spoken over WHDH each Wednesday evening at seven on the Radio Novena which is especially popular with shut-ins.

For 19 years Fr. Manton was the featured speaker in an annual national radio series on the Catholic Hour and has also appeared on national and local television.

He is the author of "Pennies From a Poor Box", "Straws From the Crib", "Sanctity on the Sidewalk", and "Happiness Over The Hill".

Recently Pope Paul VI awarded him the pontifical gold medal "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice" for his labors for the church.

Knights of Columbus Offer New Educational Benefits

Special educational benefits are available to children of servicemen, law enforcement officers and firemen through membership in the Knights of Columbus, Philip A. LaBrecque, Grand Knight of Quincy Council, announces.

In explaining these benefits, Grand Knight LaBrecque said, "The Supreme Council office of the Knights of Columbus in New Haven, Conn., does maintain a million-dollar Educational Trust Fund which provides a four-year college education for children of members who are slain or permanently and totally disabled as a result of military service or by criminal violence encountered in work as a full-time law enforcement officer or fireman."

LaBrecque outlined establishment of the fund:

"Servicemen, law enforcement officers and firemen live from one danger to the next and deserve our praise and our support. Through the establishment of the Educational Trust Fund, the Knights of Columbus formally recognize the heroic role played by these servants to community and country."

Delegates to the 62nd annual Supreme Council Meeting of the Knights of Columbus held in August 1944 voted to establish the Fund through a special per-capita tax on members of the Order.

"Scholarships provided from the income of this fund would become a living memorial to Knights who gave their lives for their country during World War II," LaBrecque said, "or who became totally and permanently disabled through service incurred injuries. These scholarships include tuition, fees, room and board, and books. Later benefits were extended to include the children of veterans of the Korean War and Vietnam."

Paul Piraino Co-Chairman CP $25,000 Fund Campaign

Paul J. Piraino, 65 Earle St., Norwood has accepted appointment as Co-Chairman of the Capital Funds Campaign to raise $25,000 for a building renovation drive for Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Area, Inc.

He will assist James F. McCormick Sr., 100 Reservoir Rd, Wollaston, who is General Campaign Chairman.

Mr. Piraino is employed as Senior Engineer at Jackson & Moreland Division of United Engineers and Constructors, 600 Park Square, Boston. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, New England Society of Professional Engineers, and is a Registered Professional Engineer.

As Co-Chairman of the Capital Funds Campaign, he will assist Mr. McCormick in soliciting funds in the Canton, Norwood and Walpole communities.

The goal of $25,000 is the balance of a cost of $100,000 which is required to renovate the building, a former garage, at 105 Adams St., Quincy, into a Clinic for cerebral palsied children. The sum of $49,000 has been awarded under the Hill-Burton Act and $25,000 from The Committee of the Permanent Charity Fund Incorporated in Boston.

Upon completion, the Clinic will provide Speech, Occupational and Physical Therapies and medical overview for the victims of Cerebral Palsy and related brain damage.

The Headquarters Staff and Clinic Personnel will be under one roof for the first time since the health agency's inception in 1952. Sufficient space is also being reserved to provide a Developmental Day Care Center to furnish services to children of school age who are so involved and handicapped that they are unable to attend regular or special classes in public school.

Contributions and proffers of help may be made by contacting Mr. McCormick at 1245 Hancock St., Quincy, [471-5910], Arthur Ciamps Executive Director Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Area, Inc., 36 Miller Stile Road, Quincy, [479-7443].

Don't Flub A Crisis

Charles and Jane were riding high...married 12 years...three children...$24,000 job...new home...boat...parties...trips. They lived well...but superficially. Their conversations lacked depth...their feelings were practically unknown to each other. Charles was drinking much to much. Jane was neglecting the home while she busied herself with plays...art shows...and coffee klatches.

Then one day Charles' firm was sold...a new organization took over...and he was out. Mortgaged to the hilt...they were thrown into panic. Jane blamed Charles. Charles blamed Jane. It was clear that so long as they were running to parties...buying clothes and taking trips that they could gloss over shallow lives...and their shaky relationship. But now...there was no money for such activities...not even enough money to meet obligations. A crisis had hit...and hit hard.

This is not an unusual story in our times. The test is How do we handle such crises? Is the crisis a time of deepening our relationships...or is it a time of panic and destruction.

Blame is a typical reaction of the immature. We can always find someone to blame...the boss...the union leader...a wife...a husband...if no one else you can always blame the President of the United States. But the blaming doesn't pay the mortgage...nor restore a healthy financial picture to a family. Blaming is flubbing a crisis.

A more healthy reaction to crisis is to take stock of our relationships...and how we can better manage our material resources. Some people with crisis...financial or otherwise...seize upon the opportunity for a change that they have long wanted...go back to school...move to another city...change their business or profession. Such moves should be carefully weighed...the benefits and liabilities clearly seen...so that a wise decision may be made. Turn your crisis into an asset.

Perhaps the greatest benefit from the crisis can be the opportunity to restore...improve...deepen the relationship between members of a family. In the case of Charles and Jane...they found that their lives were shallow and meaningless...that they were going through motions of living...spending money...a sort of glossing over real life...but lacking real companionship. After their initial stage of blaming each other...their "crisis counselor" helped them to learn to talk together...how to resolve the daily problems as they arose...how to forgive each other for offences and sleights...and how to turn their relationship from a mere legal thing into a beautiful companionship. If a marriage isn't a companionship...what good is it? Charles and Jane turned their crisis into an asset.

There are many kinds of crises...financial...job...health...daughter pregnant...son caught in a drug raid...accident...death. These are times for a person to seek out the counsel of the wise and seasoned friend...or counselor. Bargain basement professionals can be harmful. This is your life...your family that is at stake...your most cherished possessions. So study your crises carefully. Be as sure as you can that your decisions in time of crisis are sound...will lead you to the goals you have set for yourself and your family. You might not have a second chance. Don't flub a crisis. Turn it to your advantage.

Salt Is No Solution

While many home first-aid manuals recommend salt water as a way to induce vomiting when a child has swallowed a potential poison, today's pediatric specialists warn that the cure may be tragically worse than the disease.

Saturated salt solutions have been used for centuries in China to commit suicide. So it is not surprising that salt solutions can kill a small child if given in too big a dose.

Perhaps one of the most widely known salt-poisoning tragedies occurred in Binghamton, N.Y. A number of deaths resulted when salt was inadvertently substituted for sugar in the formulas used for infants in the hospital nursery.

Salt is perfectly safe when used in the normal manner at the dining table. But to bring on vomiting, syrup of ipecac works better and is much safer.

Wollaston Credit Union A Family Affair For The Milton Billers

Milton and Florence Biller believe in togetherness—100 percent.

Mr. and Mrs. Biller of 63 Joan Dr., Quincy, are former teachers at Central Junior High School and ranking officers of the Wollaston Credit Union, 651 Hancock St.

They met and married while he was teaching general science and she was a physical education teacher at Central and both became charter members of the Wollaston Credit Union in 1948.

The union was founded that year by Mrs. Biller's father, the late Louis Cashman, who operated the New Haven Railroad Credit Union for 30 years.

The organization now includes more than 6,000 members, is affiliated with 40 companies for payroll deductions and lists assets of some $4 million.

The Billers are two of three surviving charter members of the Credit Union and speak with pride of the success of their venture.

"We started teaching in Quincy in 1941 for about $1,100 a year," said Mr. Biller, who is treasurer, clerk and manager of the union.

He had been a pianist with various bands while attending college and gave private piano lessons to supplement what he terms their "rather modest" teaching income.

Then the Credit Union was established and he found himself with a third job and Mrs. Biller was working two positions. "I don't know how we did it," he said.

"For the first five years, everyone involved in the Credit Union worked for nothing," according to Mr. Biller. "It was a labor of love."

By 1961, the organization was running smoothly enough for Biller to retire from teaching and concentrate his efforts on the Credit Union.

"I do miss teaching," he said. "I enjoyed it very much, but unfortunately it was a case where I couldn't make a living out of it."

The Wollaston Credit Union is an affiliate of the Massachusetts Credit Union League and the Massachusetts Share Insurance Corp. which insures savings in full.

Mr. Biller was born in Quincy, graduated from Quincy Schools and Bridgewater Teachers College and received a master's degree in education from Boston University.

Mrs. Biller, also a native of Quincy, is a graduate of Sargent College and holds the elected office of assistant treasurer of the organization.

The couple have three children, Paul, who is attending Manter Hall in Cambridge, and Lois and Andrea who are students at Quincy High School.

Clay St. Housing Seen As 'Shot In Arm' For Wollaston

The planned $4-million Clay St. elderly housing project will be a "great shot in the arm" for the Wollaston business district, according to Mayor Walter J. Hannon.

The Mayor and other City officials will sign a contract at the State House Monday with Gov. Francis W. Sargent for the $4 million subsidy.

The 200-unit complex, the first to be built in the city outside of Quincy Point and Germantown, should "spur on private enterprise" to invest in the area, the Mayor said.

"I'm very happy about it, to say the least," Hannon said. "The Wollaston area has been neglected long enough."

Clay St. is an ideal site for such a facility, he said, because of its proximity to churches and the shopping district.

Increased business in the area brought about by residents of the 200 units should make Wollaston a more appealing prospect for investors, he said.

The Clay St. project won final state approval last week from the state Department of Community Affairs.

Quincy Housing Authority members have begun formal procedures to get the project underway to speed reduction of the long waiting list for senior citizen housing.

Authority Chairman Peter V. Correa said some 6,000 of the 17,000 senior citizens in Quincy are eligible for low-income housing. The authority has a waiting list of 2,000, he said.

Mayor Hannon said the project is a "top priority" of his administration because public housing in Quincy has been too centralized.

Clay St., the fourth state-funded project in the city, will bring to 2,000 the number of housing units under Housing Authority control.

Dr. Correa said he expects unanimous approval of the project at a special board meeting to be held March 8.

He said he hopes to discuss establishment of permanent offices for the housing authority at the Clay St. complex, to relieve crowded conditions at the Martensen St. office.

Clement A. O'Brien, executive director of the housing authority, said the board intends to seek approval of additional units for other areas of the city.

He said he is "most pleased that the Department of Community Affairs designated Quincy to be the recipient" of the funds.

Dr. Correa cited O'Brien and superintendent of maintenance Frank Terranova for actions leading to the favorable verdict of the state department.

$8,000 In Grants To ENC, Curry

Congressman James A. Burke, [D-Milton], announces today that supplemental grants to Curry College in Milton and Eastern Nazarene College in Quincy, have been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for the operation of the College Work-Study Program.

These funds, $4,000 to Curry College and $4,000 to Eastern Nazarene College will provide 80 percent of student payrolls, and a college or off-campus agency contribution will provide the remaining 20 percent.

Brett Asks City Support For Golf Course Bill

Rep. Joseph E. Brett has asked Mayor Hannon and the City Council to approve a bill to establish joint ownership of the Wollaston Golf Course by Quincy and Milton.

The bill, which would establish a Quincy-Milton Golf and Winter Sports Authority, must receive approval from Quincy and Milton governing bodies before it can be submitted to the House.

The legislation calls for a 10-man Authority composed of five residents of each community appointed by the Mayor of Quincy and Milton Selectmen.

Board members will serve five-year terms and elect from their membership a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary-treasurer for one-year terms.

It would be empowered to purchase the 90 acres of land off Granite Ave. and West Squantum St. and operate it as a golf course in warm weather and a winter sports facility.

If the bill is approved by city and town fathers and the Legislature, it would appear as a referendum at the following municipal or state election.

Approval by voters of the two communities would establish the Authority.

MONEY TALKS

Here's a Myth that Baffles Thrift

By Philip J. Lawrence
President

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook

8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

A syndicated news release began with these familiar lines from the McGuffey Readers:

Ob, the debtor is but a shamefaced dog / With his creditor's name on his collar,

While I am king and you are queen / For we owe no man a dollar.

"This old copybook maxim," the news story continued, "so dear to the hearts of McGuffey's pay-now readers, seems strangely out of date in the modern painless world of credit-card entrepreneurs of on-the-cuff living.

These are days when people like to kid themselves about their inability to save money—no matter how much of it passes through their hands. They satisfy their lack of thrift with explanations that have no basis in fact, even in a credit-card world.

We have gathered a number of Thrift Myths that we shall discuss from time to time in these columns. Perhaps this one is familiar:

"We can't save anything; we don't make enough money."

What makes this one ridiculous is that you hear it on all economic levels. It brings to mind the story of the prosperous-looking fellow who drove his long, sleek new car into a filling station and said, "Fill 'er up." After a while the attendant suggested: "Better shut off your engine. You're gaining on me."

If it were true that you don't make enough money to put some aside, then anyone making less than you do obviously is incapable of saving a dime. It doesn't take much looking and listening to realize that some of your friends and associates are saving considerable money—even though you know they make less than you do.

We think of the "average American" as having an "average income" of only a few thousand dollars a year. But take a look at these statistics reported by a national magazine:

During a lifetime, the average American family has an income of $250,000. Estimated spending: housing—$58,000; food and drink—$18,000; taxes—$36,000; church, clubs, education—$26,000; family car—$24,000; insurance—$16,000; clothing—$12,000; recreation—$12,000; medical bills—$6,000; miscellaneous—$12,000.

Surely, you will say, the average American should be able to find room somewhere in this quarter-million-dollar picture for a sensible savings program! It is silly for him to maintain that it is impossible to put away, say, at least 1%. And a 10% allocation to savings would mean $25,000 for the needs of later years.

A young woman commented spiritedly to us recently that her husband with his pay check was like a 6-year-old with his allowance. Unless she got her hands on it, she was likely to find every bit of the money committed to things he thought important.

"He has no self-discipline," she complained. "He has the 'gimmies'—just like a kid in a candy store."

Intelligence and maturity suggest that there are legitimate needs in every household and that there must also be provision for the future for peace of mind as well as security. Both can be accomplished if a sensible view is taken concerning needs and a decision firmly adhered to that a specific amount must be reserved for savings.

'Pocket Money' Short Change At Box Office

Clunkers of the New Year Dept.: If at all possible, avoid seeing what will invariably be rated two of the most inept features of 1972: "POCKET MONEY" and "MINNIE AND MOSKOWITZ"... In the first flit, we have stars LEE MARVIN and PAUL NEWMAN playing patsy to an implausible script, listless direction, and their own ridiculous, over indulgence in ego-tripping. They weren't portraying characters, losers at that, but camping their own images. Camping is for drag queens, not screen heroes, but MARVIN and NEWMAN forgot this... "POCKET MONEY" is lucky if it makes just that at the box office. A loser all the way...

On the other side of absurdity, is the "MINNIE AND MOSKOWITZ" bomb which asks the question, "did director JOHN CASSAVETTES have all his marbles when he pieced together this, what can only be labeled, a Polaroid home movie." A rank amateur could have done better. Been more coherent. Fluid... The flit-trip, and it can only be termed that, takes off in too many directions at once to arrest the viewers attention. CASSAVETTES skimmed over the highpoints of drama, comedy, satire, and served us with a soap opera in masochistic intellectualism... The next time he decides on filming a production, may he have the good sense to screen it to family and close intimates only. The public can do without CASSAVETTES reckless abandon...

And yup. GEORGE RAFT is up and about after a long uphill fight with emphysema. The still very active RAFT is mulling over several film properties as a way to celebrate his good fortune... Looking ahead, "THE DELPHI BUREAU" figures to be a solid made-for-TV entry come Monday, March 6, 9-11 p.m. The ABC prime timer has enough action, suspense, and adventure to satisfy the most robust of viewers... Singer ISAAC HAYES did one better than ELVIS PRESLEY by throwing away $26,000 on a custom built Cadillac. And HAYES can afford the luxury. He's been nominated for eight Grammy Awards...

Not to berate the awe and splendor of "CABARET", for it is a magnificent musical, but let us not forget that the environment of the 30's is the pictures' real star. In its own way, the decadence of that era made possible the "CABARET" story... And while on the same topic, Don Slopier of Norwood comments: "Wasn't it facetious having LIZA MINNELLI play the role of a third rate nite club singer. If the character she played was so good [as a singer], she would have been a star"... Never looked at it that way...

Female Impressionist JIM BAILEY is Copacabana bound March 23rd. The versatilely popular BAILEY is best known to viewers of the Variety Hour circuit for his truer to life interpretations of JUDY GARLAND... And yes, motion pictures are in his immediate plans... When DAVID FROST diversifies he doesn't spare any $$$ effort. Recently spent $450,000 for the chairmanship of the London based investment firm, Equity Enterprises... More on the Golden Globe Awards. ANN-MARGRET won Best Supporting Actress raves, and BEN JOHNSON ran away with the Best Supporting Actor accolades...

Gossip snorter PAMELA MASON promises to tell all after she's completed her role in WOODY ALLEN's lightly provocative "EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT SEX". Should be fun reading between the lines...

"DOUBLE INDEMNITY", "SORRY, WRONG NUMBER", and "STELLA DALLAS" are three good reasons why BARBARA STANWYCK gets this column nod as one of the 10 best actresses of the 1930-55 era. And three times in this period she was Oscar nominated... "HOLLYWOOD SQUARES" is running atop the daytime Nielsen scorecharts. A big winner with the morning set...

What of DEAN MARTIN you ask? The Man has been green lit for an eighth TV semester. He may be losing his punch at the box office, but he's still socko with the small tube chair watchers... About this time MARLON BRANDO has to be getting a case of pre-"THE GODFATHER" jitters... Baseball great ROCKY COLAVITO joins the sportscast staff of WJW-TV, Cleveland this spring... JOSEPH E. LEVINE greened MIKE NICHOLS palm with a surplus $5 million for the latters next directing stint. NICHOLS has complete charge of the production, and is to spend the money "how and where he sees fit"...

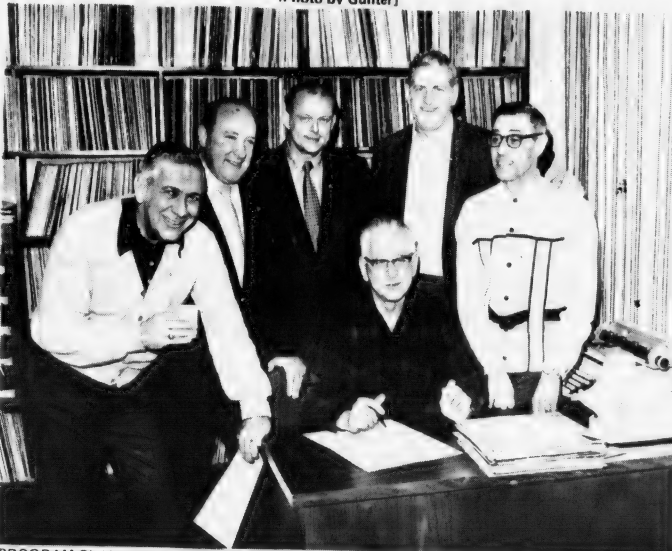

Newcomer DONAL O'BRIEN breaks loose in three pictures at once: "INFERNAL NOOSE" [a whodunit chiller], "PAID IN BLOOD" and "THE LAST TRAITOR" [the last two being gore westerns]... And the unlikely coupling of ROSSANO BRAZZI and TY HARDIN spill the crimson in the spaghetti oucher "DOOMSDAY"... So suddenly taking filmed pot shot at athletes is the rage. English TV personality MICHAEL PARKINSON is lampooning a script which he describes as "a black comedy about soccer [players] and sex"... HELMUT BERGER inked for a part in LUSCHINO VISCONTI's big budgeted "LUDWIG"...

History Updated Dept: When JOAN CRAWFORD made her motion picture debut in the 1926 silent, "PRETTY LADIES", she did so under the tag LUCILLE LeSFUR. Her "real" name... It was later in the year, in "SALLY, IRENE AND MARY", that she emerged as JOAN CRAWFORD. And the rest is history... And of JEAN SIMMONS you ask. She became a star at the tender age of 18, with her breathtaking Ophelia in the award winning hit of 1948 "HAMLET"...

Bow To Boston State

Crusaders Lose Final, But Gain Pinnacle

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team at last has earned a spot with the elite of New England small college teams.

Jim Smith's Crusaders gained this pinnacle last week when it went to the finals of the Southern Division District 32 [New England] NAIA Tournament before bowing to powerful Boston State, 90-84, at Bryant College's new gym in Smithfield, R.I.

ENC, overlooked for a NAIA berth a year ago despite a 26-5 record, was forced to defeat Husson in a playoff game this year to make the Crusaders impressed in their tourney showings.

In the semifinals they overcame a 14-point deficit in the last five minutes with a fantastic comeback to upset Bryant, 87-86.

This game took a lot out of the Wollaston club and several were tired in the Saturday finale, in which ENC held a 46-44 half-time lead against Boston State, which Smith believes was one of the strongest clubs on the ENC schedule.

"We finally got our foot in the door and now on, the NAIA has to believe we are a legitimate basketball team," Smith said.

Smith is trying to strengthen the Crusaders' schedule in hopes of gaining the team the recognition afforded many other N.E. small college teams.

"We play some real good teams now but we need more games with better known clubs to get the recognition we deserve," he said. "There is no doubt that we're competitive with these teams now and our main problem was a lack of depth and I think that was what beat us in the final game."

In the final game Don Eads had another great shooting night with 34 points and Quincy's Rick Reyenger, 6-7 pivotman, had a good game with 13 points and 21 rebounds. Dave Eads scored 15 points.

In the opener ENC trailed Bryant, 48-32, at half-time and no one gave it a chance to come back, especially when it was still 14 points down with five minutes to play.

Eads won it with two foul shots with 26 seconds to go, capping a 33-point night. Bryant still had time to set up for a winning shot but missed twice and Steve Shoff, the smallest man on the court at 5-7, grabbed the rebound to wrap it up for ENC.

"I wish I knew," Smith said when asked how come his team had staged such a great comeback. "It was some comeback. We pressed them the entire second half and gradually got closer. Don Eads really got hot as he scored 26 of his 33 points in the second half."

ENC had great crowd support as Smith estimated that at least half of the estimated 1,200 fans were for the Crusaders'.

Dave Eads again was number two scorer with 17 points and Howie Briggs had 16.

ENC, with a 21-6 record, will play in two more tournaments. Tonight, Friday and Saturday it plays in the King's College Tourney, which it won last year, and then will fly to Chattanooga, Tenn., for the National Christian College A.A. Tourney on March 16, 17 and 18. ENC was runner-up in this event a year ago.

Allen's Four Pace St. Joseph's Reds

Lloyd Allen ran rough-shod over the Blue team last week to lead the first-place Reds to an 8-5 victory in St. Joseph's Hockey League action.

The Blues' loss coupled with a 5-2 victory for the Gold over the hapless Greens placed the Gold team in second place by one point with one game left in regulation play.

Mike McNalley, Hal McLarnon, James Crowley and Tony Trubiano padded the Red scoring as Rick Brunstrum picked up three assists to maintain his comfortable lead in the individual scoring race.

Smith's Two Goals Lead UCT To 4-1 Win

United Commercial Travelers moved into first place in the Quincy Youth Hockey League last week by handing Crestview its first loss 4-1.

Rick Smith [2], David Abbott and Dick Reinhardt accounted for the UCT scoring as Crestview managed a lone goal by Jack Cronin to drop into second place by one point.

In other Pee Wee action, Keohane's edged Morrisette 4-3; Maguire's downed Hannon 5-2 and Davis moved out of the cellar with a 2-2 tie against Wollaston.

The Blues posted tallies by Jim McNalley, Dave Erichello, Mark Walker, Bill Driscoll and Dennis Larkins.

John Alfano [2], Butch Franchesini, Pete McLarnon and Ron Butts provided the Gold firepower to nullify scores by John Burrows and Jay Pasioneck for the Green.

The league will wrap up its season March 9 at Shea Rink, West Quincy, with the Blue meeting the Green and the Red playing the Gold.

The Red team carries an 11-point lead into the final game at 11-0-1, followed by the Gold at 5-5-2, Blue at 4-5-3 and Green at 1-11-0.

Sweeney Bantams downed Davis 4-2 and Cox shut-out Farina 1-0.

Tom McNamara, Mark Assard and Dan Higgins lit the light for Morrisette but were outnumbered by Keohane's goals from Tim MacLean [2], John Furey and Mike Furey.

Ed Kane's hat trick was the big punch for Maguire with single goals by Dave McHugh and Bob Nardone to offset Paul Barry's pair for Hannon.

Davis' Frank LaPierre and Dave Peters matched goal-for-goal with Kevin McGrath and Richie Boyle of Wollaston.

John Chiavoroli, Paul Lynch, Rick O'Connell and Gerry Smith accounted for the Sweeney tallies and Paul Oxner and Joe Kelley scored for Davis.

Joe Carly poked home the only goal in the Cox-Farina contest with assists going to Jackie Powers and Ron Butt.

Nolan: 'These Kids Are Amazing'

Small Raiders A Profile In Courage

By TOM SULLIVAN

North Quincy Basketball Coach Bob Nolan had planned on building his team this year around a 6-8 center who had developed into an outstanding scorer and rebounder a year ago.

When the Raider coach found at the start of practice that he had lost this standout, he remained optimistic but concerned about his team's lack of height.

"We'll have a good shooting club and another outstanding defensive team, but we will be small," Nolan admitted. "We'll face a decided height handicap in most of our games but I hope our defensive and shooting will make up for it."

As it developed, the height disadvantage didn't hurt the Raiders except to make them come from behind several times and pull out wins in the final seconds.

North finished the regular season 17-0, the first North or Quincy team ever to go through an entire season unbeaten.

North had never won a tournament game at Boston Garden in four visits under Nolan but it has more than made up for it this season.

The Raiders faced Framingham South in their first state tourney game and, despite a 6-6 center for South and several other six-footers, North ended the Garden jinx with a 79-45 romp.

Next came a strong New Bedford team which was favored to oust the Raiders. Again, despite a 6-5 standout scorer and other boys well over six feet, New Bedford was ruined by North's devastating press and the final score was North Quincy 72, New Bedford 64.

Last Saturday North faced an equally undefeated Dedham squad, Bay State League champion, at the Garden. Dedham had 6-7 Bill Littleton and 6-5 Jeff Dillon among others. It was expected to be a nip and tuck game but North had little trouble rolling to a 76-58 win.

That put the Raiders [20-0] against perennial tourney power Catholic Memorial Tuesday night in the Division One South championship game. Most experts were favoring the Catholic Conference powerhouse which earlier had won another N.E. Catholic Tourney Class A title.

If Nolan's Raiders survived that test, they will play the Division One West champion on March 15 at Worcester Poly while the North champion meets the Central titlist at Boston College. The survivors will clash for the state championship on March 18 at a still-to-be determined site.

"These kids are amazing and the better the competition is the better they are," Nolan enthused following the great win over Dedham. "I think the fierce competition we faced in our league [Greater Boston] has paid off in the tourney. I feel our league is stronger than the Bay State League and the fact we had to pull out a lot of late wins has helped us immeasurably."

"Our tallest starter is only 6-3 and the tallest man on the squad is Jim Driscoll, our excellent sixth man. I have John Stevens, who is only 5-10, playing boys as tall as 6-7 and he is doing a remarkable job. Our pressing defense has worked in every game and was outstanding again against the tall Dedham team."

We forced them into 21 turnovers and scored in several of them."

North's shooting was another key to the win. The Raiders were more than 50 percent, 26 for 51, from the floor and 24 for 35 from the foul line. The Raiders were especially hot in the second and fourth periods, hitting 10 for 10 in the second and seven for 10 in the finale. They were only five for 18 in the opener and four for 13 in the third. Dedham also had a good shooting night with 21 for 44 from the floor.

"Everyone chipped in again when needed and Capt. Dave Nelson had another great game," Nolan lauded. "Jamie Doherty and Ken Masters shot very well and Bobby McKay was outstanding as usual on defense. Although Stevens and Driscoll didn't score much, they again were terrific. Driscoll seems to pick up the squad when he goes in there."

After one period it was North 14-12 and it widened the margin to 37-28 at half-time. Going into the final quarter the Raiders held a 48-37 bulge and exploded for 28 points in the finale, including 14 for 16 from the foul line.

Doherty scored 24 points, Masters 22, Nelson 16 and McKay 10.

The Raiders' thrilling 72-64 quarterfinal win over favored New Bedford at Brockton High's beautiful new gym was one of the great wins in North history.

It added another first to the many the Raiders had come up with this season — it marked the first time a North team had ever won two games in the tournament.

When the game was over the huge North crowd stormed on to the floor and members of the football squad, who had cheered their lungs off for the Raiders, carried the brilliant Nelson off the court on their shoulders.

"Did you see those fans?" said the excited and happy Nolan. "That's the way they have been all year long. This was our 19th straight win this year and the fans carried us through a number of the close ones."

Ed King, a North teacher who played on the Raiders' first team to make the Tech Tourney back in 1939, called the team "the best basketball team North Quincy ever sent to the tourney — and I've seen them all."

North has probably had better individuals through the years but it is doubtful if it ever had better team personnel and a greater group of hustlers.

Nelson, continually driving in for layups and drawing fouls, hit his career scoring peak with 30 points, 16 of them coming from the foul line.

"Dave is the most underrated player in the state and is the key to our team," Nolan enthused. "We build our offense around him. He has been our most consistent scorer and he is the hub of our defense as well. On our press Dave's job is to cover the middle from baseline to baseline so he is always on the go."

John Stevens, rugged 5-10 pivotman and one of the greatest hustlers on the squad, was superb and his 10 points in the final period helped North pull safely away. He finished up with 15 points.

And all the others. Bob McKay, Jamie Doherty, Ken Masters, Jim Driscoll and Pete Bellotti, did their part in writing another cherished win into the record book.

Varney Homer Beats Yankees

North Quincy's Pete Varney, former North Quincy High and Harvard standout, is not on the Chicago White Sox roster but bowed into the lineup with a bang Sunday.

Varney, big catcher who had been drafted five times while in college but refused to sign until he completed his college education, hit a home run in the sixth inning to give the Chisox a 1-0 win over the Yankees in a spring training game at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Many feel Varney will make the grade with the White Sox before very long.

North Gymnasts 9-2-1; Quincy Ends With Win

George Golding's North Quincy gymnastics team completed one of its finest seasons in history last week when it finished third in the Suburban League meet at Weymouth.

The Raiders, who had finished their season with a 9-2-1 overall record and 5-1 league mark [they placed second to league champion Brookline], scored 82 points in the all-league meet, only two behind second place Arlington. Brookline won the meet.

Gary Veronneau, Dave Merrill and Kent LeFleur qualified for the state individual championships at Boston State but Veronneau was the only one to survive the preliminaries and advance to the final round. He placed ninth in parallel bars.

Merrill qualified in the side horse, parallel bars and floor-x; LaFleur in the high bar and parallel bars, and Veronneau in vaulting, rings and parallel bars.

Following its ninth win and fifth in the league, over Weymouth North, North was bombed by undefeated Braintree, 104.3-77.4, in a non-league windup.

"I knew we wouldn't do well against them, I think they are probably the best in the state," Golding said. Braintree swept to the Bay State League title.

Meanwhile, Quincy's first year team finished its season with its second win, a 60.6-57.3 decision over Brockton.

Quincy scored only 23.4 points in the all-league meet and failed to qualify anyone for the state individual meet.

"I was very upset by the fact that several of my boys failed to show up for the all-league meet," Coach Pete Gallagher said. "We had improved tremendously as the season progressed and I feel we could have scored at least 60 points in the league meet."

Tom Campbell, who scored 17.8 points in the league meet, finished up as the Presidents' top scorer for the year with 155.6 points and will receive a trophy. Also receiving a trophy will be Larry Carvello, an eighth grader as the most improved junior high gymnast.

Quincy trailed Brockton by 2.3 points with only the vaults and rings left. Campbell and Mike Priscella won the meet with their vaulting as they placed 1-2. Then Quincy swept five of the six top places in the rings.

In their previous meet the young Presidents, without a senior on the team, had lost to Newton, 65.40-53.60.

The bright spot for Quincy in that meet was the performance of Randy Califano, who was in his first meet and turned in outstanding scores in vaulting and on the high bar.

Following Campbell in scoring for the season were Dave Moran, 136.5; Asst. Capt. Priscella, 68.9; Capt. Chris Toy, 38.05; Paul Hajjar, 37.15; Bob Gordon, 33.85; Carvello, 31; Tom McMahon, 21.05; John Chludzinski, 8.35 and Mike Florida, 8.10.

Frank Catarius and Steve LaBreck of Hull, who competed for Quincy but whose scores did not count in any meet results, scored 105.35 and 80.3 points respectively.

"These boys are outstanding and I only wish they went to Quincy High," Gallagher said. "They compete with the Quincy YMCA team and both do a tremendous job."

boys travelled with the team, both to Connecticut and New Hampshire, to lend their moral support.

Union's record is 22 wins and against only four losses overall. The team had played home- and home games with boys' clubs of comparable age [13 and 14 years old] in Newton, Arlington, Charlestown and in several other communities in the Boston area. Included in its record are several wins against teams with boys in their lineup older than Union's. Good rebounding, thus enabling the team to control the boards, and use of the fast break are two of the factors that Coach Jordan feels have led to the team's success.

Members of the Union Boys' Basketball Club are: Warren Jordan, Scott Roberts, Jackie

Browne, Jackie Rabel, Bob MacIntosh, Glen Ball, Paul Kelleher, Mike Leith and John Riley.

Bill Roberts is assistant coach and arrangements manager and Mark Roberts is the team mascot.

Quincy Chamber Favors Half Holidays For Columbus, Veterans Day

The Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors supports legislation which would make Columbus Day and Veterans Day half holidays.

A resolution passed by the board favors the legislation to exempt Columbus Day and Veterans Day from the "Common Day of Rest" restrictions.

Frederick J. Landenberger, Armstrong Cork Co., and Marvin E. Watts, Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., co-chairmen of the chamber's Legislative Committee, said the board of directors took this position for the following reasons:

- The spirit and reverence of both Columbus and Veterans Day would be maintained by having stores remain closed until noon.

- Afternoon opening of retail stores and specialty stores will give a significant boost to the state's sagging economy—estimated as high as $60 million in added sales.

- This level of business activity would benefit employers and employees alike with higher sales volume and increased wages and salaries.

- The state would receive a substantial amount of much needed tax revenue.

- Massachusetts retailers would, at last, be able to compete with out of state enterprises on an equal footing.

- Based upon available projections of total annual retail trade across the Commonwealth, the total additional sales which would be realized with the enactment of these half-holiday law changes would range from a $56,475,000 minimum to a $61,722,000 maximum. These additional sales could result in increased tax dollars ranging from $1,016,500 to $1,111,000.

Chamber retail members have been asked to contact their legislators and urge support of this legislation.

Permits For $598,995 Wiring In February

City Wire Inspector William H. Pitts reports 100 permits for wiring estimated at $598,995 were issued during the month of February by his office.

Fees for the permits amounted to $1,232, he said.

During the month, 198 inspections were made and 16 defects noted.

Major wiring projects:

- A new building for Kemper

Insurance Co. at 160 Newport Ave. North Quincy.

- An 18-unit apartment building at 60-60B President Gardens Drive.

- A new building for Adams Shore Market, 494 Sea St.

- A new professional building at 191 Independence Ave.

- A six-unit apartment building at 55 Centre St.

- A four-unit apartment building at 2 Filbert St.

Sneak Thieves Steal MD Donation From Sun Office

The costly battle against Muscular Dystrophy will be several dollars short this year because of two young "sneak thieves".

Two boys — about 10 and 11 — came into the Quincy Sun office, 1601 Hancock St., Monday and stole from a desk: a coin donation card for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The card, contained quarters and dimes placed in the card by Sun employees and visitors to the office.

The two boys—one wearing a green jacket and the other a blue jacket—fled emptying the card on their way. They were last seen running toward School St.

The money was to have been turned over to the Muscular Dystrophy Association this week.

Finance Committee Trims $146,565 From Budget

Councillor-at-large John J. Quinn's finance committee has cut a total of $146,565 from the 1972 municipal budget in weekend sessions to date.

The committee met Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and sliced $5,000 from the cemetery budget, $32,987 from library funds and $38,000 so far from hospital requests.

The committee, which is more than half way to its goal of $250,000 in cuts, will meet March 18 with the DPW water and sewer divisions.

DPW To Seek Bids On Light At Hancock & Hunt

The State Department of Public Works will advertise for bids in early April for a pedestrian traffic light at the intersection of Hancock and Hunt Sts. in North Quincy.

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth said the DPW has apparently approved a City Council request for lights near the entrance to the North Quincy MBTA station.

Smyth introduced a resolution to the council in January recommending signals at the crossing, which is heavily traveled by commuting pedestrians.

North High School Proposal Before City Council Monday

The City Council will receive Monday night a unanimous recommendation of the School Committee that WMEX property in the Montclair Marshes be considered as a site for the new North High School.

The council will be asked to accept or reject the plan as a result of School Committee sessions this week which featured the following developments:

- Suggestion by Committeemen Harold Davis and Francis X. McCauley that the board continue to consider alternatives to the "State Street South" site.

- Davis' suggestion that part of 450 acres in Squantum owned by Boston Edison be considered.

- A proposal by School Supt. Lawrence P. Creedon that the industrial arts classes at North be moved to Atlantic Junior as an immediate relief to overcrowding.

- Discussion of double sessions, six-day school week and extending the school year.

School Committee Vice-Chairman Paul C. Kelly believes that a change in sites now would be detrimental and perhaps set back indefinitely a long-term solution to the educational problems in the north end of the city.

Kelly told the Quincy Sun: "The deadline for 65 per cent reimbursement from the state is this fall and time is a critical factor now. The architect needs four to five months to draw up the final plans and specifications and they have to be approved by the School Committee and the City Council a second time in order to get the state money.

"The Squantum site suggested by Mr. Davis would cost in excess of $2.5 million for acquisition utilities and road construction.

"Therefore, I wish Mr. Davis would join with the rest of the School Committee in trying to set a firm course in North Quincy instead of heading off into every different direction and acting like a one-man school committee.

A little cooperation would be appreciated."

Dr. Creedon's proposal was presented Tuesday night at a special meeting of the School

Clear Sailing Seen For Youth Rink

The Quincy Youth Hockey Association should have no difficulty in obtaining city-owned land off Sea Street for its proposed skating rink, according to Mayor Walter J. Hannon.

Mayor Hannon said the city is submitting a formal proposal to the Navy this week for an easement through the Naval Reserve Training Center to allow access for rink construction.

The association is requesting that the City Council sell or lease some 3.7 acres of land behind the training center and China Star Restaurant for a 500-seat facility.

A similar request submitted last month met with cool response from the council, but Hannon said he expects approval with the change in location.

The new proposal relocates the rink in an unused section of city-owned land further east along Sea St. than the February plan. A permanent access road would connect to Sea St. near Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

Association President Robert P. Hayes said the 500-seat rink could be opened by Oct. 16 at a cost of $600,000 and used as a supplement to the proposed municipal rink at Quincy High School.

The facility is to be financed, owned, operated and maintained by the association "for the benefit of the residents and children of the City of Quincy," he said.

A proposal drawn up by association member Larry Richardson of West Quincy shows an 85 by 200-foot ice surface, four team rooms, first aid center, pro shop, snack bar, offices and conference room.

Hayes said the seating capacity was kept low because his organization "does not want people to think it is in conflict with a city-owned rink."

"We are trying to satisfy a great demand for ice skating facilities in the City of Quincy," he said. "Possibly there won't be enough with two."

Out-of-town organizations would be allowed access to the facility if the demand from all Quincy groups has been satisfied, he said.

The Youth Hockey Association is a registered, non-profit corporation which would rent rink time for fees.

Delinquent Tax Due By March 17

City Treasurer-Tax Collector Robert E. Foy III urges homeowners to save themselves money, embarrassment and the risk of losing their property by paying their 1971 real estate taxes by March 17.

An eight per cent interest charge has been levied on more than $1 million in taxes which were unpaid as of Jan. 1, 1972.

Property on which taxes have not been paid by March 17 will be advertised in the March 23 issue of the Quincy Sun and will be placed into "tax title" on April 6 with a 10 per cent interest rate.

State law allows the city to foreclose on property within six months of its being placed in "tax title" and put the land up for auction.

Foy said all taxes received before March 17 will be used to lower the 1972 real estate tax rate.

"This is the last opportunity to help lower this year's tax rate and save a higher interest rate on your property," he said.

If foreclosure is initiated, property valued at less than $2,500 may be auctioned with permission of the Department of Corporations and Taxations.

Property assessed at more than $2,500 may be foreclosed through land court proceedings and sold by the City Council.

Property owners have until the time of auction to redeem their property by meeting all demands, including retroactive interest and other charges.

March 25 Deadline For Registration

March 25 is the deadline for voter registration in the April 25 Massachusetts Presidential primary, City Clerk John M. Gillis announced.

Quincy residents may register at the City Hall Election Department Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or on March 25 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

In addition, registration will be held for Ward 2 residents at Fore River Club House, for Ward 3 residents at St. John's School and for Ward 4 residents at Gridley Bryant School, all on March 21.

On March 22, residents of Ward 5 may register at Wollaston School auditorium and Ward 6 voters may register at the Quincy School.

Citizens voting in the April 25 election will help nominate their party's Presidential contender and elect its ward committee and convention delegates.

The Heat Of The Moment

The need to relieve overcrowding at North Quincy High School has been evident now for almost 10 years.

Past Quincy School Committees have been aware of the problem since the mid 1960's but overcrowding has been allowed to continue and grow to its present crisis proportions.

The cry from parents and other concerned citizens for immediate action is far from unreasonable. Action is mandatory if this and future generations of students are to receive the high quality of education to which they are entitled.

And the need becomes more pressing in view of the state revaluation of Quincy's economic condition scheduled for November which could reduce school building aid from 65 to 50 percent.

The citizens have expressed their desire for an immediate solution. The school committee has exhibited its willingness to comply with this mandate by submitting a proposal to the city council.

We hope only that the final decision is not too hasty.

A proposal for construction of a $15 million high school on 18 acres near the State Street South complex will be submitted Monday to the City Council for approval.

If this approval is granted, wheels will be set in motion immediately to bring about construction of the school.

It is now up to the council to weigh the proposal carefully and consider all present and future implications of construction on that site.

At least two members of the school committee have expressed concern that their board may have moved too quickly in jumping at the State Street South location without due deliberation.

We ask that the City Council bear in mind that an addition to the present building which would have taken 25 homes along Hunt St., was the only proposal before the school committee until recently.

The present committee and its predecessors were virtually agreed that the addition was the answer until the State Street South proposal was presented.

Now there are at least eight alternative plans before the school board today which may or may not have been given proper consideration.

Our hope is that the school committee and council take a close look at every suggestion and make sure that the final decision is based on sound reasoning rather than one made in the heat of the moment.

● Youth Speaks Out

● Lester Maddox has changed his looks with a toupee. Unfortunately, it's not Mr. Maddox's looks that need changing, but rather his ideas.

● The Academy Award nominations were announced, and strangely, not one politician was nominated.

● This I.T.T. case gets even stranger. Why did lobbyist Dita Beard go to Denver to have her heart condition worsen; also, it must have come as quite a shock to I.T.T., who has employed Mrs. Beard at a large salary, that she is at times an irrational alcoholic, as her doctor testified.

● A committee of Massachusetts state representatives is observing primary election practices. Needless to say, they didn't go to Manchester, N.H., but rather to Miami, Florida - and all at the taxpayers' expense.

● If ever there is another revolution in this country, I really think it may start by burning down all the Telephone Company buildings in frustration over the awful service.

● You used to be able to tell the change in seasons by the change in sports activity, but no more. Hockey, for instance, now has a street variety, and undoubtedly someone will come up with beach, surfing, or water hockey.

Reader Has Questions About North High Plans

Editor, Quincy Sun:

At a packed meeting at Atlantic Junior High on 3-8-72 the Quincy School Committee voted to build a new $15 million North Quincy High School on the Montclair Marshes.

Before I can be satisfied with this expensive solution to the overcrowding at North Quincy High, I want to know what the long term plans are for the existing North Quincy High School structure.

Is it going to be a junior high school? Will we convert the Atlantic Junior High School into a grammar school and close down some of our older grammar schools like the Mass. Fields School? What is the estimated cost involved in updating and modernizing the existing North Quincy High School building into an acceptable junior high school? Is a 1,500 pupil junior high school desirable?

I believe that all of these questions must be considered before we build a new $15 million school.

While I can appreciate the frustration of North Quincy parents and the desire of the Quincy School Committee to act, undue haste will not solve the immediate overcrowding problem. Historically, it has taken 6 years to get a new school opened in Quincy. If everyone agrees that interim solutions must be found in any event, we do have the time to review the decision.

Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. My wife and I were married in 1971. I received forms in the mail that were imprinted with my name only. Can I still use them?

A. Yes, you may use the forms you received in the mail. Add your wife's first name and Social Security number to the label.

Q. I was injured in an automobile accident. I sued the other party and was awarded $5,000 as compensation for the damage. Is this taxable?

A. No, damages received for personal injuries in an accident are not taxable income.

Q. My brother came to this country from France on a student visa. He lived with us for 9 months and we supported him. Can we claim an exemption for him?

A. No. A dependent must be a U.S. citizen or resident, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Panama Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama. A student's visa does not allow a person to qualify as a resident.

Q. I play bingo every Thursday night. All of the proceeds go to my church. Can I deduct the money I spend as a contribution?

A. No, amounts paid for bingo games or any similar activity are not deductible contributions.

Q. I own a small apartment building. During 1971, one of my tenants broke his lease and had to pay me a couple of hundred dollars to do this, according to his lease. Is this reportable as income?

A. Yes. If your tenant pays you for allowing him to cancel his lease, the amount received is rent and must be reported in the year you receive it whether you use the cash or accrual method.

Q. Our daughter is a student nurse. She received a full scholarship from the nursing school which includes her tuition, books and room and board. She has no income of her own and we provide all her clothing, recreation money and funds for miscellaneous expenses. Can we claim her?

A. Yes, you may claim your daughter. Room and board furnished by an accredited school of nursing and amounts received as a scholarship are not considered in determining total support.

Q. In 1971, I retired and began receiving a pension which is fully taxable since I did not contribute to the plan. There was no withholding tax taken from the pension in 1971 and I would like to correct this in 1972. What should I do?

A. If you receive a pension or annuity, you may request the payer to withhold income tax from the payments made to you. The amount to be withheld must be at least $5 per month and the net annuity payment received may not be less than $10. Withholding is requested by filling out, Form W-4P and submitting it to the payer of the annuity.

Q. A cousin of mine had several loans but he was having financial difficulties and was unable to make the payments. In order to help him out, I paid his loan notes for a couple of months. Can I deduct the interest on the notes for those months?

A. No, you may not deduct the interest on another person's loan notes even if you make the payments. To be deductible, interest must be on a debt for which you personally are legally liable.

Q. We bought a new home in 1971. Can we take a deduction for the cost of the stamps, recording fees and broker's commission?

A. No, these expenses are added to the total cost of the house. In the event that you sell the home in the future, these expenses will help reduce any profit on the sale.

Q. In 1971, I terminated employment with a company for which I had worked for 20 years. The company had a non-contributory pension plan and the employer distributed my total share in the plan to me when I left. Do I have to report this as income?

A. A lump sum distribution of your employer's contribution to the pension plan, upon termination of employment, is considered a long-term capital gain, with the limitation that any benefits accrued under the plan in a year beginning after 1969 are treated as ordinary income. If this had been a plan to which you also contributed, your contribution would be recovered tax-free.

City Council Gets School Plan Monday

[Cont'd from Page 1]

Committee and the Committee of Concerned Parents at Atlantic Junior High School.

Under his plan, shop classes for North students would be held at the Atlantic shops, opening 6 classrooms for immediate use.

Moving social studies and English offices to rented space in the Otis Building or Atlantic Methodist Church would free two more classrooms, to accommodate an estimated 200 students all together.

This added room, with space for 150 students in a small building behind the school, could eliminate any need for double session or schedule juggling, Dr. Crendon said.

In suggesting the Squantum construction site, Davis said the area would allow more space for future addition than other proposals and would make possible courses such as ecology and oceanography through its proximity to the water.

Davis also mentioned the possibility of community recreational facilities around a Squantum school, including construction of an ice skating facility for North Quincy.

"If the birth rate rises again in the next 10 or 15 years, you won't readily be able to put an addition on to the [18-acre] State Street South site," he said.

He said a 50-acre section of the Squantum area would provide more of a "campus-type atmosphere" and expressed doubts about using the valuable property in the Montclair Marshes.

Mayor Hannon has questioned the value of the marsh property "as long as WMEX stands there."

The station did not intend to move from the area but has been "very co-operative" with the city, Hannon said.

Davis and McCauley said they voted to send the State Street

South plan to the council because they felt it should be considered.

Each added, however, that his vote did not indicate preference of the site and that the committee should continue to review all proposals before it.

Council acceptance of the plan would allow Mayor Hannon to set architects to work immediately on the new building.

Dr. Crendon said construction of a new school at any of the proposed sites would allow at least three possibilities for future utilization of the present structure.

They are:

- * A new home for Quincy Junior College.

- * Converting the building back to a junior high school, the purpose for which it was originally intended.

- * Returning the property to the tax rolls.

The State Department of Education has been reluctant to acquire the present junior college on Coddington St. as a Community College because of limitations in enrollment and curriculum, he said.

Moving the school into the North building would allow an increase in full-time enrollment from the present 900 to 2,000 and provide more varied class space than the old Coddington School.

The superintendent said use of the building as a junior high school could facilitate phasing out of Central Junior High School and one of the older elementary schools.

Atlantic Junior could become a "middle school" for grades 6, 7, and 8 and boundaries could be changed to channel students towards a North Junior High.

Through such a plan, the city could sell the present Central Junior High and make it a revenue-producing property, Dr. Crendon said.

'Who Wears A Hat?' At Parker School

"Who Wears A Hat on the Job?" is the question being posed for a career awareness exhibit for pupils at the Francis W. Parker Elementary School.

The exhibit, developed by Marvin Gough and Miss Louise B. Forsyth of the school guidance department, utilizes printed materials, audio-visual aids and actual work hats.

It is planned to help develop an awareness of the world of work in school children and to arouse curiosity about careers.

It will be featured at the career fair to be held at Atlantic Junior High School.

People in the community who have donated hats include Fire Chief Edward Barry, Police Sgt. Daniel Lyons, Mrs. Catherine Ward of Quincy City Hospital.

Also Thomas O'Neill and Norman Goyette of the Quincy Post Office, B. Skoler Co. Richard Haines and the food service department at Quincy Vocational Technical School.

And Harold Donovan and Mrs. Charlotte Fleming of New England Telephone Co., SSgt. Charles Given, Quincy Army recruiter, and Navy Cmdr Donald D. Forsyth.

Davis, McCauley, Raymondi Houghs Neck Council Panel

New School Committeemen Harold Davis, Francis X. McCauley and Daniel G. Raymondi will be guests March 21 at an open meeting of the Houghs Neck Community Council.

All residents are invited to attend the forum at 8 p.m. at the Houghs Neck Legion Post Home.

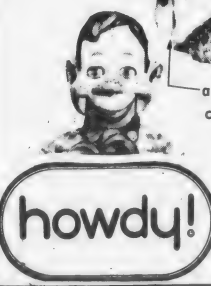

Topics for discussion will include the school lunch program, the $15.2 million proposed new high school and 1972 budgetary problems.

Robert F. Denvir will preside at the meeting.

Poet's Corner

Human Rights Day

Let us pay homage,
As from the past they rise:
They who did not flinch to speak
Proclamations of human rights.

Still their words ring,
Re-sounding for our time,
The proud ideals they held so dear,
The golden dreams they sought to climb.

Yet each right gleams
Only as bright as we Stand staunchly by each precious one
To guard its timeless guarantee.

From unborn life,
To youthful innocence,
Humanity in all its stages
Holds rights in co-inheritance.

AMERICA!
Toil on to make it clear:
The martyrs of "Human Rights Day"
March on, with us, all through the year.

What's A Fondue?

Fondue, the national dish of Switzerland, has become a favorite American snack. It's a hot saucy dish into which pieces of bread are dipped.

The word FONDUE is French, derived from the word "fondre" which means "to melt." Often thought of as a cheese dish, fondue can be comprised of many different ingredients.

The idea is to keep fondue as simple to make as it is to serve. That makes convenient canned meat spreads perfect fondue ingredients.

Deviled Ham Fondue and Chicken Spread Fondue are deliciously different, easy for the hostess and a delight for her guests. Serve them as snacks or as a main dish, for parties or a family supper. Everybody will love a meat spread fondue.

Fondue Au Diable

2 cups grated Gruyere cheese 1 1/2 ounce can deviled ham
2 teaspoons flour 1" French bread cubes
6 tablespoons dry Vermouth

Mix grated cheese with flour. Heat vermouth just until it begins to bubble. Add cheese gradually to vermouth to melt. When all the cheese has been melted, stir in the deviled ham and heat. Place bread cubes on fondue forks and dip into fondue.

Chicken Spread Fondue

1 10 3/4 ounce can condensed cheddar cheese soup 1/2 cup milk
2 4 3/4 ounce cans chicken spread 1 tablespoon sherry
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1" French bread cubes

Place soup, chicken spread, milk, sherry, and lemon juice in a blender. Blend until all ingredients are thoroughly mixed. Heat until mixture is hot. Place bread cubes on fondue forks and dip into chicken spread fondue.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of March 16 - 23

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - All activities including the written word should be given careful thought this week to avoid accidental errors.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - The acquisition of money and the seeking of pleasure may be important to you - but so is your health, slow down.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Those born near the 5th of the month should be getting finances in order now for long term investments next summer.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - An error in judgement could cause an accident or an emotional upset. Think things out and don't be hasty.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - News from a distance upsets you and could cause hasty action on your part. Think it out in a sensible fashion.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Someone you meet will set your mind whirling. Don't be pushed into action until you look over the facts.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Watch where you place your trust, some one could try to damage your reputation. Keep thoughts and actions under control.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Investigating advanced thinking brings you into contact with many interesting people and paves the way for expansion.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Join your friends in their unusual hobby - it may open a whole new field of thought and activities for you.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Trying to juggle your career and home affairs are not made easier by the careless action of someone close.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Relatives living at a distance send distressing news. Their accusations are unjust and hard to take. Separations inevitable.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - You have everything going for you this week so get as much done as possible - friends will grant favors now.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

There's no such thing... As a little bit pregnant. There is no such thing as a little bit fat. If you are now five pounds away from goal, you are not nearly thin; you are five pounds FAT. Isn't that the way your overweight began-with just five extra pounds? Well, you still have them. Before you are thin, they must come off. As the ad says, "Take it off, take it off, take it ALL off."

Don't run out of steam at this late date. Now is the time to redouble your effort, not your weight. So check to see that a few little extras have not crept into your diet thinking. The luxury of a maintenance diet is not for you-not yet. In a month or so, maybe. Today, keep a careful record of everything you eat. Did you succumb to "just a taste" of a calorie-laden temptress? Did you allow yourself a "little bit more" of your meat or limited vegetable? Did you sneak a slightly generous helping past your mouth when no one, not even you, was looking?

I've been thinking about you and how close you are. To keep you striving, here is a recipe to lift your spirits, delight your palate, and prod you on:

SHRIMP SOUP

1 cup tomato juice
1 beef or onion bouillon cube
1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes
Dash pepper
3 ounces Icy Point or Pillar Rock shrimp
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon onion flakes
Small bay leaf
1 cup diced celery

Cook celery and other ingredients until celery is tender, in liquid. Add shrimp and heat for five minutes. [Do not boil].

Now, with food like that on a diet there is simply no excuse for slipping off. Go back, relieve the excitement that you had those first diet weeks. Re-discover the tang of your favorite diet recipes. Review your menus. Don't slide into monotony. Vary your spice and vary your life. Approach those last five pounds with a challenge. They'll be gone before you know it. I'll be happy to help speed them on the way if you will write to me in care of The Quincy Sun or The Diet Workshop, 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

Thoughts For Today

When we have nothing to say it's best to say nothing, but few of us can do it.

A U.S. census has been taken every ten years since 1790.

New York state was the first to organize a state education system.

Nothing cures insomnia like the realization it's time to get up.

Half of the U.S. population over the age of six wears glasses.

Kansas is first in wheat production and flour milling.

A Tribute

Carl M. Oberg, 72, Quiet Benefactor

If General Dynamics shipyard receives contracts for the experimental "supertankers", they may be indebted to the late Carl M. Oberg of 46 Presidents Lane.

Mr. Oberg, 72, who died Feb. 18 at University Hospital, Boston, was a retired mechanical engineer at Fore River who took it upon himself to travel to Washington to lobby for widening of Fore River Bridge.

"Armed with briefs and the best wishes of Mayor McIntyre and William O'Connell of the Chamber of Commerce," his widow said, Mr. Oberg "went to Washington and informed many of the Senators and Representatives of the importance of widening the bridge."

Mrs. Grace T. Oberg said the Massachusetts Congressional delegation "all pledged their support" to her husband and "he was most happy to learn on Jan. 13, 1972, that the widening is a possibility."

CARL M. OBERG

Widening the bridge is essential to allow passage of the gigantic ships which would have to pass under it for sea trials after construction at the shipyard.

Mrs. Oberg said her husband moved to Quincy from Dorchester in 1949, "enjoyed living here, became involved in working in Quincy, saw things that needed improvement and went after the situation."

Among his behind-the-scenes work was effort to bring about the traffic signals which have been installed at the intersection of Furnace Brook Parkway and Adams St.

"His abilities lay in the engineering field, procurement, expediting, construction, design and the art of detecting potential problems," she said.

"Younger men anxious to learn and understand their jobs came to him with their problems and appreciated his help. There are many men younger than he who owe their success to his aid and encouragement," she said.

The Oberg's celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in October 1971 with a surprise buffet dinner at George R. Bean Post in South Weymouth. Mr. Oberg was born in Lowell and was a member of Lafayette Lodge of Masons and Taleb Grotto.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Carl Thor Oberg of Pittsburgh; a brother, Henry Oberg of Quincy, and three grandchildren.

Aspirin Mystery Solved
Aspirin, the commonest of all drugs, has for 50 years been one of the most mysterious. Everybody knows it works, but nobody knew how. Now, at last, science may have found the answer.
The discovery came out of research on compounds called Prostaglandins, which are found in almost every tissue of the body. They cause fever, pain, and swelling - symptoms which may be annoying, but which help the body fight infection. British researchers have now found that aspirin reduces these bothersome symptoms by blocking the body's production of prostaglandins.
The solution to the aspirin puzzle is more than just a new piece of information - it's a chance to produce a whole variety of new drugs for all sorts of conditions including arthritis.

Living, Today

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

'Love And Hate'

A letter from a resentful husband reads, "My wife has one very bad habit...she nags me by digging up anything from the past which I've done which she didn't like...she's forever putting me in a position where I'm wrong no matter what I do or how I answer her stupid accusations. While she's as independent as a hog on ice she accuses me of being inconsiderate of her...of being unfair to the children...of disapproving something long since forgotten. I've been hurt so many times by her ugly insinuations...suspicious charges...negative comments...verbal hostilities...that I just can't take any more. We've been separated two years. I still see her...but she still does the same thing. Do you think she'll ever get over this bad habit? I still love her...but I resent her."

This wife is afflicted with something much deeper than a "bad habit". She is filled with hate...and her hostility is focused upon her husband in the form of verbal abuse. She lives by negative substitutes...not positive realities. It is likely that she'll need professional help to overcome this behavior pattern. She'll need to delve deeply into her earlier life to learn the cause...the man says she's been "doing it all their 28 years of married life." The cause may be found in a negative home life in which she grew up...rejection...over punitiveness...over-indulgence or...it can be physical illness...or alcohol...or chemical disturbance; whatever the cause...it makes people who are her victims very resentful.

The husband can't change her...nor can anyone else...until she becomes so uncomfortable with herself that she wants to change...she'll probably continue to harrange her husband.

But...what's with this man? Why would he take this abuse for 28 years? During this time there's been a piling up of resentment...layer upon layer. Yet...in spite of the hurt...the separation...the continuing emasculation, the man says he still loves her. So he hangs on.

Perhaps you are saying...what courage...what noble character...what love! But is it? Maybe instead of courage...nobility...love, it's weakness...cowardice...fear on the man's part. Patience and forbearance can cease to be virtues...and become vices...holding them both in the grip of a very bad way of life. I may add...whenever a wife is treating her husband in such belittling ways...not only is the husband unhappy...the wife is unhappy herself...and their children are very likely to be adversely effected. They too feel the negative effects of their mother's negative behavior.

A wife's first responsibility...in my opinion...is to be a fulfilled woman herself...finding positive expressions of her life that bring reward to her personality. If she isn't right for herself...she can't be much good for anyone else. Her personal development and happiness must take precedence. Then...she's able to establish a close...happy relationship with her man...and her children...and with other people. She's phony with others until she's become emotionally healthy. When she learns to love herself...respect her own personality...only then will she be able to love and respect the personality of other persons.

The problem of negativism...blaming...abuse...scapegoating...is often found in husbands who were indulged little boys who still haven't matured. Any woman who becomes victim of such a man by loving him...is going to get hurt. Continued hurt will turn to resentment. You'll know what it is to love deeply...and to hate bitterly.

Dr. Brown...my Abnormal Psychology professor frequently said in lectures..."hate and love run through the same channel." I've found through the years that he's right. Do you become resentful over someone who means nothing to you? Not often. It's the person you love who makes you resentful...like our friend in the letter...love binds you to this one who hurts you. There are enough human frailties in every man and in every woman to trigger verbal vilification if one is harboring hate in the heart. If love reigns in a human heart then you seek to be helpful to the partner who has stubbed his/her toe...not vilify him/her.

So...what do you do with your resentment which has built up because of continued battering of your ego? First...try to understand that the person is temporarily emotionally ill...that such conduct is not normal...it is abnormal behavior. It won't work in a marriage. Treat it...if you can...as an illness...and do not let it make you sick...and one is sick who is filled with resentment.

Secondly...by your own method...try to get the person who is hurting you to get professional help. Reject the behavior but continue to accept the person. You almost have to be a saint to pull it off...but you can try. Be forgiving of the person...as you reject the aggressive behavior.

Thirdly...if you can't handle it...if you can't get him/her to a competent "doctor of human behavior"...then walk away whatever the cost...temporarily at first...permanently if you have to. If you don't you'll be trying to justify and explain yourself...you'll lose faith in yourself...you may become depressed...temporarily sexually impotent...or frigid. You...yourself will need professional help if the destruction continues.

There's much more use of negative substitutes and abuse of others than we want to think. If you're resentful...that may be the cause. It's no feather in your cap that you were "able to take it" for 28 years...or for 28 days for that matter.

Peace Corps-Vista Seeking Skilled Tradesmen Here

The Peace Corps and Vista will conduct a special recruiting drive for skilled tradesmen in the Quincy area March 13-17.

Charles W. Murray, a native of Quincy and head of the Skilled Trades Desk for the Peace Corps and Vista in New England, is setting up special headquarters at the Carlton House Motor Inn, 29 Hancock St., North Quincy to find skilled trades people for positions in programs that will begin this summer.

Murray and his team of recruiters will be available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, beginning March 13. Persons interested in information about the Peace Corps or Vista may drop by the motel during those days or call 479-3650 or 479-3830.

"We have openings for all kinds of skills," Murray said, "such as diesel and auto mechanics, industrial arts teachers, electricians, construction skills, and draftsman.

"My problem is that most people don't even think of skilled workers as part of Peace Corps or Vista," said Murray, who put his training as an electrician to work in setting up an electrical shop in Temuco, Chile. The fact is that people with skilled trades backgrounds now make up more than 10 per cent of the total volunteers in service.

S.S. Realtors Annual Seminar

Peter S. Meltzer, past vice president of the Greater Springfield Board of Realtors, will be guest speaker at the annual educational seminar of the Quincy and South Shore Board of Realtors Inc.

The program, which will include panel discussions and a steak luncheon, will be held March 16 at Valle's in Braintree.

Meltzer, a broker since 1948, is a member of the Massachusetts and National Association of Real Estate Boards, National Institute of Real Estate Brokers and Certified Builders Organization.

He describes himself as an average, overfed American who does not drink, smoke, keep late hours or work and is waiting for the Social Security age to be reduced.

Frank R. Damigella will moderate a panel discussion on up-coming changes in multiple listing service with a projection for 1972.

Panelists will include Howard F. Back, Bernard Ciampi, Gerald C. Melanson and Samuel M. Tuttle.

Stedman Beckwith will be moderator of a panel including Charles Spencer of the Boston Globe, Paul Lannon of the Herald-Traveler, Dolores O'Meara of the Patriot Ledger and Eleanor Silveira of the Braintree Observer.

David Califano Enroute To South America

Seaman Apprentice David E. Califano, son of Mrs. Arlene M. Califano of 101 Taffrail Rd., Germantown, has sailed for South America aboard the destroyer USS Mullinex.

The Norfolk, Va., based vessel is flagship for Destroyer Squadron 36.

He and his shipmates will visit several Latin American ports, including Mexico, Costa Rica and the Island of Curacao in the Netherlands Antilles off the coast of Venezuela. They will then depart for Puerto Rican waters to participate in "Springboard 72", a special training exercise for students of the Naval Destroyer School at Newport, R.I.

Major Richard Krasnigor Cited At Texas

U.S. Air Force Major Richard A. Krasnigor, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Krasnigor, 31 Lowe St., Quincy Point, is chief of the Bergstrom AFB, Tex., procurement office that has been named best in the Tactical Air Command for 1971.

Major Krasnigor and his staff were cited for their outstanding management and procurement procedures.

A 1952 graduate of Quincy High School, Major Krasnigor received a B.A. degree in history at Colby College, where he was commissioned in 1967 upon completion of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Prior to his assignment at Bergstrom, he was a navigator with the 553rd Reconnaissance Wing at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

His wife, Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Breen, 310 Copeland St., Brockton.

Major and Mrs. Krasnigor have four children: Keith, Scott, Brian and Tanya.

FRESH FROM THE OVEN -- Peter Dacko and friends show off some of the confections which have made Arlene's Pastry Shop, 9 Beale St., a popular Wollaston stopping place for 25 years. Frances Cahalan, left, holds a custard pie and Mr. and Mrs. Dacko and Mrs. Orlanda Pollara, right, display three of Peter's Boston cream pies still warm from the oven.

Peter Dacko's Personal Touch Arlene's Pastry Shop Trademark

If you've walked along Beale St. on a Saturday afternoon, you don't have to be told about that delicious odor of baking bread coming from Arlene's Pastry Shop.

Or you may be intrigued by the display of shamrock cookies and Irish bread in the shop window this week for St. Patrick's Day.

The man behind these and all the cakes, pies and other delicacies at Arlene's is Peter Dacko, 52, of 141 Alvin Ave., Milton, who founded the bakery 25 years ago.

And the woman behind the window decorations is Selma "Sally" Dacko, Peter's wife and right-hand girl.

The Dackos came to Quincy from Boston in 1947 to convert an empty store at 9 Beale St. into the bright, pleasant shop it is today.

Pete brought several years of experience with him from work at Albani's Restaurant in Boston and bakeries in Arlington.

"They even had me baking desserts in the Army," while stationed with the 181st Infantry at Camp Edwards in 1941, he said.

All the pastry and breads for sale at Arlene's are made fresh and hand decorated by Pete and his helpers and specialty items are made to order for customers.

Pete prides himself on not having missed a day's work at the bakery since it opened. And that's a great record considering Arlene's is open from 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. six days a week.

He is a member and past president of the Master Bakers Organization of Boston, a member of the Boston Bakers Organization and a director and former vice president of the Wollaston Business and Professional Association.

Pete Dacko married the former Selma Tammoosh of Boston in 1940 and named his shop after the couple's four-year-old daughter Arlene when the bakery opened in 1947.

Arlene is now Mrs. Allan

Cormier of Beverly, a graduate of Boston College and former French teacher in Scituate and Westwood Schools. The Cormiers have two sons, Dennis and Brian.

The younger Dacko daughter, Mrs. Neal [Marianne] Zapponi of Weymouth, is also a Boston College graduate and taught French at Hingham South Junior High School. The Zapponis have a daughter, Michelle.

Goodwill Executive To Address Wollaston Golden Fellowship

A Goodwill executive will be featured at the meeting of the Wollaston Golden Fellowship March 21, at 2 p.m. in Wollaston Methodist Church, Beale St.

Stuart D. Chase, Director of Public Relations for Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries, will speak on "It's In The Bag."

President of the Fellowship is Mrs. Percy McClain, of 31 Putnam St., Quincy. Other officers include Mrs. Fred Smullen, 10 Newport Terrace, Wollaston, secretary; and Mrs. Helen Story, 160 Vassall St., Wollaston, treasurer.

Chase will reveal some of the behind-the-scenes activities of Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries in Boston, Lynn and Worcester, in the job training and rehabilitation program for 600 handicapped and disadvantaged people. He will also tell about the Goodwill Camps and Goodwill Inn School. The Morgan Memorial Goodwill Centers began their 76th year in 1971.

Goodwill Industries, beginning in Boston has now spread across the world where there are 145 non-profit Goodwills in the U.S. and 25 overseas.

At Goodwill, handicapped workers clean and refurbish clothing, furniture and other materials which are then sold in Goodwill Thrift Stores at economy prices. The entire proceeds from the stores help pay the wages of the handicapped workers. Throughout the workers vocational program is interwoven personal rehabilitation programs.

Quincy Women Lose Ton Through TOPS Program

By DICK MATTULINA

So you've just seen another one of those "before and after" diet adds and you're convinced that the photos have been doctored.

After all, you've been on plenty of diets and you know no one loses that much weight. Right?

Wrong.

People who know Laurie Mulloy of Wollaston probably remember her 123 pounds ago when she filled a size 52 dress.

Now Laurie is slimmed to a svelt size 14 and she and Elsie Prizio of Wollaston can fit in one of Laurie's old dresses with room to spare.

Elsie, by the way, has trimmed off 113 pounds.

Both women have lost weight through the diet group known as TOPS [Take Off Pounds Sensibly], an international non-profit volunteer organization founded in 1948 by Esther S. Manz.

The five TOPS chapters in Quincy boast that their membership has doffed a combined total of 2,000 pounds in 1971.

Miss Prizio is the area captain and supervisor for Norfolk and Suffolk County and leader of the "TOPS Crusaders" group which meets at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays at Wollaston Baptist Church, Prospect Ave.

Mrs. Mulloy is leader of the "President City TOPS" who meet each Thursday at 7 p.m. at St. Chrysostom's Church, Hancock St.

TOPS is built on the premise that "doctor knows best". Members are urged to consult their physician for dieting advice and a weight goal.

They then attend meetings where they receive encouragement and incentive from officers and other members and, in turn, help their fellow members stay on their diets.

Once they reach their goal, they are eligible for the KOPS [Keep Off Pounds Sensibly] program of which both Mrs. Mulloy and Miss Prizio are members.

In order to be a member of KOPS, a person must reach and maintain her weight goal.

Mrs. Mulloy says she "could not have succeeded in losing this much weight if I hadn't belonged to TOPS and hadn't received the understanding and encouragement of Miss Prizio, members and officers."

"I never once looked at the overall picture of losing 125 pounds, but rather I would just take each 10 pound category as it came along," she said.

"When all these were behind me, I emerged a new person - facing life with a new perspective - going from a size 52 dress to my present size 14."

Other TOPS programs are held at Wonderbowl, Southern Artery at 1 p.m.

[Photo by Gunter]

Fridays, St. Chrysostom's Church at 7:30 p.m.
Thursdays and at the Germantown Multi-Service Center, Bicknell St., at 7 p.m.

Tuesdays.

TOPS membership is open to any man, woman, teen or child.

DeMolay To Run City Today

If the mayor and department heads at City Hall look different to you on March 16, don't worry. It's not your glasses.

They will be different because some 23 members of Old Colony Chapter of DeMolay will be holding the reins of the city for DeMolay Government Day.

The younger generation will "take over" under guidance of the office holders in a program marking the 53rd anniversary of the Order of DeMolay.

Officials-for-the-day will include Mayor David A. Carter, Executive Secretary Alex A. Bezanson, Police Chief Daniel D. Lindberg, Fire Chief Gary L. Snell and School Superintendent Wayne F. Gallagher.

Also Gary E. Barton, Public Works commissioner; Earl G. Morse, city clerk; Robert B. Hoxie, city auditor; George H. Morse, city solicitor; George H. Bezanson II, city treasurer.

And David W. Hemingway III, health commissioner; Paul F. Ricciardi, park and recreation secretary; Richard L. Baker, veterans affairs director; Carl K. Tutunjan, recreation director. And Peter C. Harrington, purchasing agent; James E. Purpura, building inspector; John P. Purpura, plumbing inspector; Scott W. Mansen, hospital director.

And Richard Tobin, city librarian; Kurt Bergstrom, scaler of weights and measures; Robert Whitman, planning director; John G. Peterson, electrical inspector and Douglas Brown, city engineer.

MONEY TALKS

How You Influence the Nation's Economy

By Philip J. Lawrence
President

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook

8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

Do you realize, Mr. and Mrs. Average American, how your spending and saving habits affect the nation's economy?

You can begin to appreciate your impact when you digest these facts:

— The average person in this country spends between 94 and 95 per cent of his disposable after-tax income for various goods and services.

— This consumer spending accounts for two-thirds of the nation's total outlay for goods and services. The other third is expended by business and government.

— A small change (such as from the average 5.5 per cent savings rate to 7 or more per cent) can mean $9 billion not spent in the nation's market for goods and services.

This can be good or bad, depending on whether you are a businessman with an inventory of unsold goods, a family head with increased financial reserves, or a government economist studying means of braking inflation.

You can understand, therefore, why businessmen and brokers, politicians and promoters lie awake nights asking themselves, "What mood will you be in tomorrow?"

Most businesses depend for their very existence on consumer needs and desires. This dependence makes consumer attitudes and inclinations tremendously important.

Will wives and daughters respond to new dress and skirt styles? Will the yen for a new car be strong enough to produce a bumper car year? A giant industry's profits will hinge on predictions that the American consumer will buy and that, when he does, he will go first class.

Other industries are equally influenced by whether Americans will save enough to help finance the purchase of their goods. The home construction industry, for example, is heavily dependent upon savings that are available for home mortgages.

What causes this ebb and flow in the spending and saving patterns of the average American? Whether he thinks deeply about it or not, he is strongly influenced by the economic and political conditions existing at the time he considers what to do with his money.

If he is uncertain, he is likely to save. If he is confident, he is willing to spend. If inflationary forces are at work, putting heavy demands on goods and raising prices, he will resist spending. In so doing, he helps to ease the demand for goods and increases the supply of money, both of which are deflationary factors.

Thus, the more intelligent the average American becomes in his spending and saving habits, the more he helps to stabilize the American economic system.

Finn To Address Young Dem Club

The Young Democratic Club of Quincy will hold its regular monthly meeting March 22 at 8 p.m. at The Hollow, Adams St. Guest speaker will be Police Chief Francis X. Finn who will discuss the drug problem in Quincy.

The Young Democrats are sponsoring a Charity Ball April 28 at 8 p.m. at the Quincy Armory. All proceeds will be donated to the Massachusetts Hospital School for Crippled Children, Canton, for the purchase of motorized wheelchairs for pre-school and grammar school children.

The officers and executive board members invite all young voters between the ages of 18 and 35 to attend the meeting and join the club and assist in its projects.

"There's plenty of work to be done for the Charity Ball," said Club President Frank P. J. DiCesare. "The young children at the hospital need motorized wheelchairs."

Other officers are:

Alfred Cappola, Jr., first vice-president; Paul Erickson, second vice-president; Barry Paige, secretary; Jack Lydon, treasurer; Brian Williams, financial secretary.

Executive board members, two from each ward in the city are:

Ward 1, Rep. Thomas F. Brownell and Richard Ward; Ward 2, Nancy Martens and Robert Cerasoli; Ward 3, Councilor Theophilus McLelland and Michele Dracchio; Ward 4, Frank Glynn and Joseph Ciralo; Ward 5, William Grindlay and Kenneth Runge; Ward 6, George Roche and Cynthia Gaynor.

Quincy Scouts Write: 'What Girl Scouting Means To Me'

Mayor Hannon has proclaimed March 12-18 Girl Scout Week in Quincy as some 1,500 girls in 56 troops in the city celebrate the 60th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

In his proclamation, the Mayor cited the scouts for their efforts to build "better relationships among persons of all ages, religions, races and nationalities."

"We in Quincy continually benefit by their efforts on behalf of this community," he said.

In conjunction with Girl

Scout Week, members of three Quincy troops composed letters to their leaders on "What Girl Scouting Means To Me."

The girls, whose work appears below, are members of Brownie Troop 149 for girls 7-9 and Junior Troop 173 for girls 9-11 at Quincy Point Congregational Church, and Junior Troop 141 from Gridley Bryant School.

Troop leaders are Mrs. Roberta Ferguson, Troop 149; Mrs. Claire Kaczka, Troop 173, and Mrs. Louise Gardiner, Troop 141.

"Keep Us In Mind - We're Easy To Find"

On The Screen

By
Vincent Puleo

Hats off to WHDH-TV's popular DON GILLIS, recently honored as the "Massachusetts Sportscaster of the Year"... The ever articulate GILLIS must be doing something right, for this is the eighth consecutive year he's been so awarded by the National Sportscasters and Sportscasters Assn.... Truly one of the more gifted and sincere sportscasters in the field today, GILLIS would have to rate with the best in the country. A more earnest, opinionated and knowledgeable sports buff than say the mouthy HOWARD COSSELL.... Maybe one of these days GILLIS will receive the national television exposure his talents merit....

And what's in a name you quiz? Must be more than meets the eye, for STEPHEN BOYD just switched his professional signature to STEVE BOYD. And no, I don't care for the shortened tag.... Try as he did, JAMES STEWART couldn't cut it with the home viewer, and was given his walking papers by NBC... Hollywoodites HOWARD DUFF and IDA LUPINO think marriage is here to stay. They just celebrated their 21st year in business together.... Former Paramount movie czar ADOLPH ZUKOR is one year shy of the century mark. At 99 ZUKOR nostalgias, "Moviegoers are more selective today. Not like the old days when people went to the theater as a habit"....

"THE GANG THAT COULDN'T SHOOT STRAIGHT" is right on target in the entertainment department. One of the funniest films in years, and the best bellyacher of '72. A GP feature one can truly enjoy without inhibition.... FRANK SINATRA is a contract away from ending his "retirement". ALAN JAY LERNER and FREDERICK LOEWE are enticing him with "LITTLE PRINCE", a film musical lyriced to his taste with "middle road songs"... ROBERT CARRADINE ["THE COWBOYS"] keeps pace with the CARRADINE tradition started by father JOHN and emulated by big brother DAVID....

A tip of the ole' beret to RUBY KEELER named this years Woman of the Year by a group which should know, Harvard's Hasty Pudding Club.... And wot, ANDY WARHOHL a judge at the upcoming Miss Universe contest? So says the press release.... So suddenly they're not writing about man-prodigy ELLIOTT GOULD. Tch, Tch, Tch. Too bad.... Serves the conceited Mr. GOULD right for coming across like the genius he never was. And so you wonder how GOULD'S anti-establishment sentiments are washing out, now that he isn't on first call for all those scripts he once downgraded as inferior?... If GOULD had stuck to the acting, rather than the freak scene, he would have been a still-in-demand attraction....

And how about JAMES COBURN and ANN-MARGRET being named the male and female stars of the year by the United Motion Picture Assn? Just doesn't add up.... In the past two years COBURN has appeared in one dud, financial and artistic, after another. And for ANN-MARGRET?... One big hit ["CARNAL KNOWLEDGE"] doesn't constitute being honored such.... How the 2,000 theater owners and managers polled could have arrived at such a vote is beyond me.... Though she has little to do, JILL ST. JOHN does it glamorously in "SITTING TARGET". Not that her acting is at fault. It isn't.... More the fault of director DOUGLAS HICKOX who watered down Miss ST. JOHN'S part that it lacked substance.

Transvestite superstar HOLLY WOODLAWN flakes it again in the social commentary spoof, "SCARECROW IN A GARDEN OF CUCUMBERS"... DAVID WOLPER was the lone American to score at the recent British Society of Film and Television Arts Awards bash. His "THE HELLSTROM CHRONICLE" was given the Robert Flaherty Award as the years best documentary.... And WOLPER should repeat next month with an Oscar.... Yes and ROBERT FORSTER is still making pictures. The ruggedly charismatic's next one is "JOURNEY THROUGH ROSEBUD"... And on the banks of the Tiber, the big rage in Rome is "THE ETRUSCAN KILLS AGAIN". Due for American release shortly.

Know Your Salesman

There is no way to get more comfort and serviceability from a mattress than has been put into it in the form of design, construction, workmanship and materials.

Low quality in any one of these factors affects the quality of the mattress and should have an effect on the price.

For example, a low-grade mattress may have a flimsy cover or an attractive cover with poor or good stitching, but the inner construction may be weak.

An attractive cover may hide a low number of flimsy coils weakly tied or supported with inadequate insulating pad, thin filling or weak sides. Manufacturer or dealer advertising and knowledgeable salesman may provide helpful information to assure you of getting your money's worth.

And that's why it is important to deal with salesmen you can trust.

For the best in mattresses and box springs, shop Tags Sleep and Lounge Shop, 1568 Hancock St., Quincy, your South Shore BEDquarters, featuring Simmons, Slumberland, Serta and King Koil. Use major credit cards or long-term agreements, three-months to pay, no carrying charge. Call 471-6180.

Varney Strong Chisox Prospect

Don't bet that North Quincy's Pete Varney won't be battling for the Chicago White Sox catching job in another year.

The former North Quincy High and Harvard standout is not on the White Sox roster this year but is in spring training with them and making a great impression.

Pete, who was drafted five times while at Harvard but refused to sign until he graduates, went to the White Sox for a sizeable bonus and last summer played with their Gulf Coast Rookie League Sarasota team.

His weight [230] hurt him and he batted only 187 with three home runs and 15 runs batted in. He played in 37 games.

This year Varney reported at 210, which tickled White Sox Manager Chuck Tanner.

One of his biggest boosters is Chisox Coach Joe Lonnett, who is working hard with his catching. "It is amazing, at least to me, that he knew nothing at all about catching when he got here," Lonnett said. "I guess he just didn't have a coach in college who knew anything about catching."

Pete played first base and the outfield as well as catching for Harvard but Chisox wants him solely as a catcher.

"He's very intelligent and is learning quickly," Lonnett continued. "I think he can play Double A Ball this year for us. He hit a tremendous homer last week to beat the Yankees, 1-0, for us. The ball must have traveled well over 400 feet and was the hardest ball I've seen hit at Fort Lauderdale."

Chicago's Double A team is Knoxville in the Southern League. If he hits as expected and keeps improving as a catcher, he could even move up to Triple A before the season ends.

Most observers feel the North Quincy product will definitely be in the battle to make the parent club next season.

A Season To Remember

Success And That Old North Spirit

By TOM SULLIVAN

The North Quincy basketball season is one which won't be forgotten for some time but Coach Bob Nolan will remember a lot more than the outstanding record, 17-0 regular season and 20-1 overall including three wins in the state tourney.

"I will never forget the wonderful support our fans gave us," the Raider coach said. "The number of adults which accompanied us away from home did much for our morale and we had outstanding crowds at all road games. This couldn't help but give the players a boost."

"Many of those attending the games never had anyone playing on the North teams and others hadn't had anyone playing for a number of years. A couple of girl graduates even drove out to Medford a week before our game there to find the best way to the school. They didn't want to have any trouble finding it and missing any of the game. That is just another example of the great spirit here."

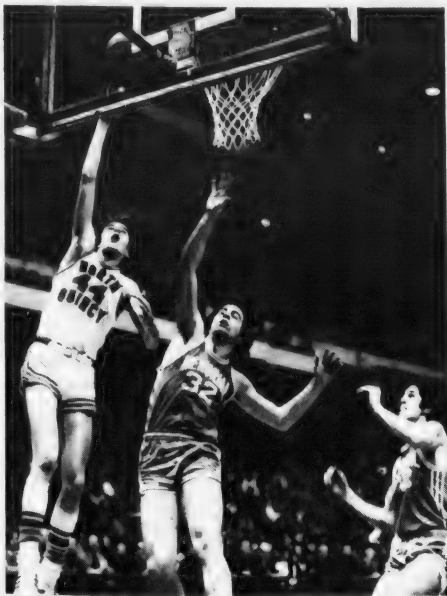

"Our headmaster, Mr. Walsh [John], never missed a game and many of the faculty and administrators were also there, which gives the kids a big lift. Mr. Walsh and Ed King, who played on North's first Tech team, gave the boys words of encouragement in the locker room."

Bob had high praise for two fans, both of whom are 74 years of age.

"Marion Meyer, who is Mike Morrissey's [North's manager] grandmother, cuts up the oranges that are given to the players during each game," Bob pointed out. "She has been doing this at home for at least the past four years and when we lost our tourney game to Catholic Memorial, she said 'Well, I'm out of a job until next year.'"

"And Pat Morrissey, who is also 74 and the father of Art, a teacher in the school system [coordinator of junior high sports], hasn't missed a North Quincy game since the school was built back in 1933. It just wouldn't be a North Quincy game without him in the stands."

Also lauded by Nolan for their great support were the NORTH QUINCY'S Jamie Doherty drives past Catholic Memorial's Burt Bornstein in South Division 1 tourney action.

(Photo by Lee Wardle)

"Gallery Gods", members of the Raider football team who led the various chants during the games, carried the players off the court on their shoulders and were prominent in other ways.

"They joined us last Sunday in canvassing the homes of the city to start our drive for funds to send the team on a trip," Nolan said. "We had 80 people going house to house Sunday and we will continue the drive until enough money is raised for a trip. These kids certainly deserve a trip and I know they will get it."

The varsity was scheduled to face the faculty in a basketball game today [Thursday] at 1:30 p.m. with the students contributing to the fund with the price of admission.

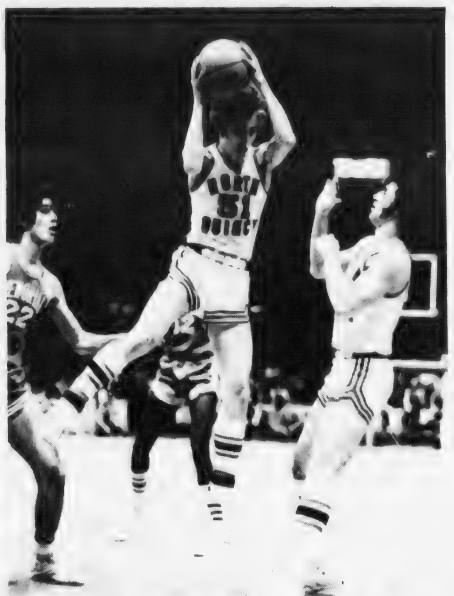

The players and others are selling chances. Three tickets will be drawn on April 1 to determine winners of sets of tickets to the Aug. 27 exhibition football game between the Patriots and New York Giants. First prize winner will get three tickets to the game at Shaeffer Stadium, second and third prizes will be two tickets. All seats are between the 40 and 45-yard lines.

The Raiders, following impressive state tourney wins over Framingham South, New Bedford and Dedham, finally lost in the South Division 1 finals to Catholic Memorial, 73-62, ending the greatest season in the school's history.

The difference in the game was Memorial's sensational King Gaskins, the state's highest scorer, who had 31 points and had no trouble adjusting to his new forward position, where he was shifted for that game by Coach Ronnie Perry because of North's devastating press.

"We had only three seniors, Capt. Dave Nelson, Bobby McKay and Jim Driscoll and they bowed out in a blaze of glory," Nolan said. "They added so much to our team. They are going to be sorely missed but we have some great players coming back and hopefully some will grow a bit. Driscoll at 6-5 was our only big man and next year we will have a great height handicap again. These kids did a marvelous job against far bigger opponents this year and displayed great courage.

"All our players are a credit to their families, school and city and are just as outstanding off the court as on. It was a great experience working with them and I'm looking forward to having most back next year."

Varsity players coming back will be Doherty, John Stevens, Ken Marsters, Pete Quinn, Pete Bellotti, Dave Bray, Don Small and Billy Shea.

Also coming up will be the entire junior varsity team of Joe Amoroso. This group is very small but played some great basketball and won its last five games and nine of the last 10.

This group includes Frank Schuler, Rich Coughlin, Carl Leone, Bill Berberan, Dan Minton, Phil Robinson, John Orlando, Jed Phelan, Steve Miller, John Flynn, Steve Maloney, Steve McLaughlin, Bernie Halloran, Steve Orlando and Brian Cox.

Nelson, along with his coach, felt that the pressure games North encountered during the season paid dividends in the tournament.

"One of the things I'll salvage is that we beat Somerville twice and Quincy twice," Nelson said. "Playing in Boston Garden is a childhood dream. It is something you can take with you. I was a sophomore two years ago on the North team which was eliminated in the opening round of the Tech Tourney by Duffree and winning twice there this year was a great thrill."

In the finale against Memorial Doherty scored 19 points, Marsters 13 and Stevens 10.

Nolan GBL 'Coach Of Year'

North Quincy's Bob Nolan was named the Greater Boston League's Coach of the Year and the Raiders' captain, Dave Nelson, received the Munroe MacLean Memorial Trophy for Outstanding Sportsmanship.

The MacLean award, named for the late Quincy High coach and director of athletics, goes annually to the league player displaying the finest sportsmanship.

Nelson and teammate Jamie Doherty were named to the GBL all-star team as was Quincy's Bobby McDermott.

North's Big Season Also 'A Family Affair'

Not only did the North Quincy basketball team enjoy outstanding support from the administration, parents and others, but Coach Bob Nolan didn't lack support from his family.

Bob's wife, Rosemary, never missed a game and was always accompanied by daughters Siobhan, 14 and Rory, 12. Sheila, 15, is a Raider cheerleader and Erin, 8 is the cheerleaders' mascot. Son Robbie, 10, is in charge of towels and assists the managers with other chores.

"We are certainly well-represented, that's for sure," Nolan said. "And the kids take friends of theirs with them to the game so the support is terrific."

Siobhan and Rory are probable future cheerleaders. They know all the cheers and, as Bob says, "You always hear the North cheers around our house."

Win King's Invitational

Crusaders In NCC Tourney

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team, with its second straight King's Invitational Christian College Tournament championship under its belt, is in Chattanooga, Tenn., this weekend for the National Christian College A.A. Tournament.

The tournament which runs tonight, Friday and Saturday will end the Crusaders' outstanding season.

A year ago ENC made its first appearance in the NCCAA Tourney and was given little or no chance to even win a game.

However, the Wollaston club not only became the first team from the Northeast ever to win a game in the event, but went to the finals before bowing to the top seeded team, Azusa Pacific College, which won its third successive tourney crown.

On the way to the finals ENC impressed and surprised everyone by topping Grace College of Winona Lake, Ind., 68-65, and the host club, Tennessee Temple, 97-68. It bowed to Azusa, 98-86, in the title game.

"We struck a blow for New England basketball last year and hope to do as well this year," Coach Jim Smith said. "We are aiming for the title this year and the boys are confident."

The Crusaders had their hands full in winning another King's Tourney crown last weekend and overcame a 14-point deficit to nip the host team, 68-65, for the title.

With ENC playing man-to-man, King's Ed Jacobsen hit on nine of 11 shots from the floor but the Crusaders scrambled to cut the gap to five points, 40-35, at halftime.

Changing to a zone defense in the second half, ENC cut off Jacobsen's scoring as he added only five points and the locals soon took the lead. Don Eads, who scored 30 points to retain his spot as fourth leading NAIA scorer in the country, hit on three foul shots and a field goal to put his team ahead, 60-59, and Steve Shoff hit on three more free throws to ice it.

Eads again was named to the all-tournament team and brother Dave scored 15 points. Rick Reyenger, 6-7 pivot from Quincy, took down 16 rebounds, and North Quincy's Dave Constantine held Chris Collision to six points, 19 below his season's average.

ENC also had trouble in the semifinal and it took a basket by Reyenger at the buzzer to pull out a 64-63 win over Gordon, ENC's eighth win in a row over its old rival.

The Crusaders had a big 42-30 halftime lead but went ice cold in the second half and hit on only eight of 30 floor shots and six of 13 from the foul line.

With seven seconds left the teams traded steals with Gordon taking a 63-62 lead on Dan Keegan's basket. Dave Eads passed the length of the court to Howie Briggs, whose shot hit the rim but was grabbed by Reyenger, who sank it for the win.

Eads had 29 points and brother Dave 10.

ENC had mauled Philadelphia College of Bible, 107-63, in the first round as five players hit for double figures.

USS Orr (Bobby) To Be Launched Sunday

The LeClair Model Shipbuilding Company, 264 Newbury Ave., North Quincy, will launch and christen its newest model, the destroyer USS Orr [DD-681], Saturday at 11 a.m.

She is being named after the Bruins hockey star Bobby Orr. Sponsor for the new model will be Mrs. James R. McIntyre, wife of the former mayor of Quincy, and Under-Secretary of the U.S. Model Navy. Invocation will be delivered by Rev. Jerome W. Doyle, curate at the Sacred Heart Church in North Quincy.

Her keel was laid on July 11, 1971, and initiated by School Committeeman Francis F. Anselmo.

Prescott Shuts Out Hannon 6-0 For UCT

Dean Prescott held Hannon Tire scoreless and Bruce Brennan picked up two goals and an assist to lead United Commercial Travelers to a 6-0 win in Quincy Youth Hockey League action.

In other action, second place Crestview dropped a point with a 2-2 tie with Maguire's, Wollaston downed Morrisette 6-2 and Keohane defeated Davis 6-3.

Davis bantams downed Farina 6-4 and Cox outlasted Sweeney bantams 5-4.

John Norton added two goals, Mark Rooney a goal and two assists and Rick Carnali a goal to round out the UCT scoring.

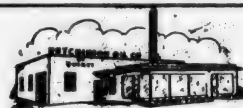

Bill Doherty of Wollaston had a hay day against Morrisette, picking up four goals and an assist as Mike Storer and Bob Dunn poked home single goals to offset Morrisette scores by Paul Higgins and Mark Assard.

Mike Pitts and Ed Kane of Maguire's matched goal-for-goal with Dan Cronin and John Fair of Crestview.

Mark Ricciardi [2] and Steve Glennon [2] were the big guns for Keohane, which also managed single goals by John and Mike Furey. Tom O'Reagan [2] and Paul Linderfetz were the Davis scorers.

Mark Frazier's hat trick and a goal by Mike Doherty were not enough for Farina to overcome Davis goals by Jack McHugh [2], Bob Carmody, Joe Rice, Bill Connelly and Charlie Connelly.

The other bantam game saw single goals by Ron Butt, Bob Page, Frank Penzo, Paul Connelly and Ed Santry of Cox and by Kevin Murphy, Dan Barry, Paul Lynch and Joe McConville of Sweeney.

Sean Polley's Hat Trick Leads St. Joseph Greens

Sean Polley's hat trick led the Green team to its second victory of the season and knocked the Blues out of second place in the final round of St. Joseph's Hockey League action.

The Greens got scoring help from Jay Pasonek [2] Dave Labadie and Mike Dwyer to post a 7-4 win despite Dennis Larkins hat trick and a goal by Mark Walker for the Blues.

The Gold team edged into second place at the last minute by gaining a hard-fought tie against the undefeated Red team 3-3.

Chuck Crews picked up two goals for the Gold and John Alfano scored one to match efforts by Lloyd Allen, Hal McLarnon and Rick Brunstrum of the Reds.

Brunstrum captured the league scoring title with 33 points, followed closely by teammate Lloyd Allen. Mike Hanratty of the Reds posted the best goals-against average at 2.69.

The Red team will play the Blue next week and the Gold meets the Green in the first round of play-offs. The winners will meet the following week to decide the championship.

Recreational Facilities South-West Council Topic

The monthly meeting of the Southwest Community Council will be held March 21, at the South-West Community Center, 372 Granite St., at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Donald Robinson presiding.

All concerned residents of Wards 3 and 4 are urged to be present.

Feature of the evening will be a study of the present recreational activities and facilities in the south-west area of Quincy, as well as a survey of the future plans of the Park-Recreation Department for this area.

Other business will be the election of a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for the annual meeting of the Southwest Community Council.

There will also be a discussion of the election procedures for neighborhood representatives to the Quincy Community Action Organization's Board of Directors.

Anyone living in the Southwest Quincy area is eligible to seek election to the CAO Board. Any area resident wishing to run for this post, may have his name put on the ballot by obtaining the signatures of five neighborhood residents. The signature papers are available at the South West Community Center.

Northeastern Faculty Studies Houghs Neck

Northeastern University has opened an office at 1259 Sea St., Houghs Neck, as headquarters of a community study funded by the National Science Foundation.

The foundation awarded a research grant to Northeastern for development of a planning technique for use by small communities throughout the country.

Houghs Neck was chosen as the site because of its community compactness, size and geographical boundaries.

The study team will conduct a resident survey and gather data on community businesses and services.

Statistics gathered will help determine community needs and goals and help develop a plan for community improvement.

Residents who wish to help with the survey are invited to drop in at the office.

The present staff includes Dr. Elliott Krause, Dr. Bellenden Hutchensen and Margaret Oppenheimer of the Northeastern faculty and four Houghs Neck residents.

Mayor Names 26 To Downtown Committee

Mayor Walter J. Hannon has appointed 14 new members and reappointed 12 others to Quincy's Downtown Steering Committee.

The 26-man board is designed to coordinate revitalization of the Quincy center district and serve in an advisory capacity to municipal and business members.

The committee, which Mayor Hannon said he hopes to place under the proposed Department of Community Development, is instrumental in obtaining funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

New appointees include Joseph A. Cashman, 20 Morley Rd.; Ernest Montilio, 148 Monroe Rd.; Edward M. Joyce, 1372 Hancock St.; Robert Blair, 1400 Hancock St.; James A. Drain, 94 Cedar St.

Also Eric M. Swider, 36 Miller Stile Rd.; Daniel J. Barry, 21 Beale St.; Andrew T. Walsh, 36

Stoney Brae Rd.; Fred Prezioso, 34 Roberts St.; Louis A. Arienti, 22 Barry St.

And Richard L. Darr, 85 Quincy Ave.; Joseph Doran, 19 Billings Rd.; George F. White, 525 Newport Ave., and James V. Princiotta, 12 Farnum St.

Members reappointed include Chairman John W. Blake, 480 Centre St.; Vice Chairman Joseph A. Donahue, 1354 Hancock St.; Carmen G. D'Olimpio, 4 Maple St.; Harold H. Slate, 1359 Hancock St.; Robert Faxon, 1245 Hancock St.; William E. Kelley, 1486 Hancock St.

And Scott Low, 13 Temple St.; Frank E. Remick, 1517 Hancock St.; Geoffrey Davidson, 12 Endicott St.; Mrs. Alfred J. Grazioso, 140 Warren Ave.; Harold W. Coose Jr., 453 Willard St., and James A. Sheets, 936 Furnace Brook Parkway.

The committee will meet within the next two weeks to choose new officers.

Chamber Legislative Workshop March 24

The Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual South Shore Legislative Workshop March 24, at 7:44 a.m. at Valle's Steak House, Braintree.

Area State senators and representatives have been invited to take part in the question and answer session.

Co-chairmen of the Chamber's Legislative Committee, Frederick J. Landenberger, Plant Manager of Armstrong Cork Company and Marvin E. Watts of Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Company will moderate the Workshop Breakfast Meeting.

Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber, 479-1111. Senators and representatives invited to participate are:

Jobs Available For Seniors

Edmund F. Ferry, senior job recruiter at the Employment Security Office on Hancock St., is looking for senior citizens to fill job positions.

Ferry, who has placed 42 seniors in jobs since Dec. 1, said he is having difficulty "finding people for the jobs available."

Interested persons may contact him at the division of Employment Security, 1433 Hancock St., weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

LaRaia Wants Schedule Of Recreation Programs

Councillor-at-large Joseph J. LaRaia has asked that the Recreation Department publish a complete schedule of all recreational activities available to Quincy residents.

In a letter to Mayor Hannon,

LaRaia said "many Quincy residents are unaware of the many activities offered by this department during the year."

"I was surprised to find that, except for notices appearing in the local newspapers regarding various programs by the recreation department, this is the only information available."

LaRaia asked the mayor's support in securing funds needed for the publication.

We Surrender, Kids

We surrender.

Willard School youngsters have bombarded us with letters [See Page 12] this week criticizing the Quincy Sun for not running the "Young Ideas" page every week.

We know the page has become one of the most popular features in the Sun. And we shouldn't even try to alibi for not running it religiously. But we must.

Our problem, like most newspapers, is lack of space. The page appears as often as possible because, quite frankly, we enjoy it as much as our readers do.

But there is so much news streaming into the Sun office that in fairness to all we sometimes have to "borrow" the Young Ideas Page space for other news items and features.

Last week, for example, the space was given to Quincy Girl Scouts who wrote items about what scouting means to them.

We enjoy receiving items from Quincy's elementary school youngsters. Many of them are excellent comments on such serious matters as pollution, world peace, drugs, smoking and brotherhood.

If we had more pages in The Sun each week, there would be no problem. And as our circulation and advertising continues to grow, we will have that extra room.

Maybe the Willard School youngsters and others whose articles appear in The Sun - and maybe their parents and grandparents too - could help by becoming regular subscribers to The Sun.

This is Quincy's own newspaper. It is all about Quincy residents, young and old.

There are many things we would like to do to improve our newspaper by giving more coverage to Quincy and its people of all ages. But we need your help to do them.

By HENRY BOSWORTH

Local political observers are turning their attention to this fall's state and county elections.

So are prospective candidates. And - maybe non-candidates.

City Councillor Joseph LaRaia and former School Committee Vice-Chairman James McCormick are eyeing the Norfolk County treasurer's seat to be vacated this year by Quincy Republican Raymond Warmington.

Both LaRaia and McCormick are Democrats and feel the treasurer's post-so far always held by a Republican-will be captured by Democrats this year.

As have the district attorney's office, county commissioner's, register of probate, clerk of court, etc., the past few years.

Neither McCormick nor LaRaia are strangers to finances. LaRaia is deputy administrator of finance for the state department of public welfare in the Quincy-South Shore office which includes in addition to Quincy, Braintree, Milton and Randolph. McCormick is a stockbroker.

***

MEANWHILE, Asst. Dist. Atty. James Collins, who has already announced for the treasurer's job, is off and campaigning. Has been making a number of local speaking appearances.

***

INCIDENTALLY, some people are confused over Collins' candidacy. They are mixing him up with Norfolk County Commission Chairman James Collins of Milton. Collins isn't running for treasurer but for commission.

***

TURNING TO the state elections, the Speculation Corps is wondering if Mayor Walter Hannon will vacate his state representative seat and become a full-time mayor. Some think he's leaning toward it.

During last fall's mayoralty campaign Hannon indicated he would vacate the seat when he told a Quincy Sun interviewer: "I don't believe I would seek re-election when my term [state representative] runs out."

***

POTENTIAL candidates for state representative in Hannon's district [Wards 4, 5, 6] are Councillors William Delahunt and Vincent Smyth. They are considered natural contenders.

***

BUT don't be surprised to see a fresh young face in that race. Being mentioned as a candidate is Gregory Fallon, son of WJDA's Ken Fallon. Young Fallon who will be 22 in August is a Democrat and will seek support from that fast growing number of young voters. He's majoring in political science at Curry College and is a part-time engineer at WJDA.

***

THE RENOVATED office suite of Mayor Walter Hannon now has an artistic touch. Members of the Quincy Art Association are exhibiting paintings hung on the walls. Very nice, too. The paintings, incidentally, can be purchased.

***

WOODY DUMART, one of the Bruins' all-time greats, popped in to see Bob Colman, Quincy sporting goods store owner the other day. Chatting about the current Bruins, he said he thought they should take the Stanley Cup this year. And he thought that Carol Vadnais will be a big help. Dumart, incidentally looks trim enough to still take a turn on the Boston Garden ice.

***

GUESS who owns Bromo's Appl. Co. on Beach St., Wollaston? Harold Seltzer.

***

SMILE DEPT: Bobby B., age 7, wonders if you know what is black and white and red all over? A baby skunk with a diaper rash.

● Youth Speaks Out

● It's interesting and quite sad that the United States entered, fought, and ended World War II in a shorter time than it's taken us just to withdraw from Vietnam.

● If President Nixon keeps globe-hopping, he'll have to cast an absentee ballot for himself.

● The State Lottery opened, and there are tens of thousands who already have figured out how to spend their winnings.

● How fitting for the Celtics to clinch first place on St. Patrick's Day.

● WHDH became WCVB; Harold Stassen isn't running for President; and the St. Patrick's Day parade was held on March 19th - you can't count on anything anymore.

● [Sung to the tune of "Old MacDonald"]:

Dear old Quincy had some land - E-I-E-I-O;
And on this land they'll put a rink - E-I-E-I-O;
With a rink rink here, and a rink rink there,
Here a rink, there a rink, everywhere a rink rink.

WE GET LETTERS

A 'Thank You' From Weymouth Lions Club

Editor, Quincy Sun:

On behalf of the officers and members of the Weymouth Lions Club and as Chairman of the "New Eyes for the Needy" program, I wish to thank the many people who responded to our appeal for old and used eyeglasses, frames and old costume jewelry, in particular, the students at the McCulloch

School in North Weymouth and Arthur Gillis, 71 Jaffrey Street and his fellow members in the Quincy Lions.

While I have not as yet had an opportunity to count and pack the whole collection for shipment, I expect that the total will exceed 500 eyeglasses and/or frames.

The glasses will be sent to "New Eyes for the Needy", Short Hills, New Jersey to be processed. The lenses will be read and either stored for future use or reground to a needed prescription and frames will be rebuilt or repaired. The reconditioned glasses are then provided to needy persons unable to afford eyeglasses.

Sulo A. Soini, Secretary
Weymouth Lions Club

114 Owe $170,942 In Delinquent Taxes

Some 114 Quincy landowners risk foreclosure proceedings on their property for non-payment of a total of $170,942.19 in 1971 real estate taxes.

City Treasurer-Tax Collector Robert E. Foy said property on which taxes have not been paid will be placed in "tax title" on April 6 with a 10 percent interest rate.

State law allows the city to foreclose on property within six months of its being placed in tax title and put the land up for auction, Foy said.

Non-paying property owners represent less than one percent of Quincy taxpayers but unpaid fees effect the entire city because that revenue is not included in the tax base.

If the tax bill, eight percent interest since October and the new 10 percent interest are not paid by the April 6 deadline, a lien may be placed on the property at the Registry of Deeds in Dedham.

Advertising of the unpaid balances in this issue of The Quincy Sun sets in motion the legal machinery which can lead to the loss of property within six months.

If foreclosure is initiated, property valued at less than $2,500 may be auctioned in six months with permission of the Department of Corporation and Taxation.

Property assessed at more than $2,500 may be foreclosed through land court proceedings and sold by the City Council.

Property owners have until the time of the auction to redeem their land by meeting all the demands, including retroactive interest and other charges.

QCA Against Lowering Drinking Age To 18

The Quincy Citizens Association "unequivocally opposes any movement to lower the alcoholic drinking age to 18 years," according to a letter to Senate President Kevin B. Harrington.

The letter, signed by Association President Joseph A. Slattery and Secretary Dorothy C. Kelly, contends that "to lower the drinking age can do absolutely no good -- only harm to all concerned."

It quoted Public Safety Secretary Richard E. McLaughlin's statement that a lower drinking age is "nothing less than a Magna Carta for murder on the highways of Massachusetts."

"When you facilitate the combination of youth and liquor and 2-ton high-powered vehicles on our highways, you are automatically signing the death warrant for hundreds of men, women and children," the former Registrar of Motor Vehicles said.

Slattery and Miss Kelly said their organization "believes it is time to stop being soft and permissive in Massachusetts. We need tough enforcement of the Age 21 drinking law in the best interests of health and safety on our highways."

Storm Damage Loans At Shore Library Saturday

The Small Business Administration will hold office hours at the Adams Shore Library from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 25 to process applications for storm damage loans.

Civil Defense Director Edward H. Roberts said low-interest loans will be available to repair damage done during the northeast storm Feb. 19-20.

Roberts reminds residents that they should apply if they have any reason to believe they might be eligible for loans or grants.

Funds are available for repair of wind or water damage or machinery burn-out caused by the storm.

April 3 Summer Jobs Deadline

April 3 is the deadline for applications to be filed for summer positions with the Quincy Recreation Department, Mayor Hannon announced.

Applications are available at the Recreation Office in the John F. Kennedy Health Center at 1120 Hancock St. until 4:30 p.m. March 31.

Those who have worked for the department previously may reactivate their applications by writing a note to Recreation Director William F. Ryan.

Lincoln-Hancock School Groundbreaking April 3

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held at 3 p.m. April 3 for the new $3.8 million Lincoln-Hancock elementary school between Granite and Water Sts.

On hand for the ceremony will be Mayor Walter J. Hannon, School Superintendent Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, city councilors and Morrie Hibbard, principal of the present Lincoln and Hancock schools.

The way was cleared for groundbreaking this week when city officials found a new home for Mrs. Maureen Daniels at 276 Water St.

Mrs. Daniels was the last of 17 homeowners to be relocated from the 7-acre school site.

The three-story structure will cover about 104,000 square feet of land and is designed to accommodate 650 students with room for expansion to handle an additional 100 pupils.

Two main entrances to the school will be on split levels, one facing Granite St. and the other facing Water St.

Barry Coletti of Coletti Brothers Architects of Hingham designers of the school, said the Granite St. entrance leads directly to the second floor which will house kindergarten through grade 3.

Lower elevation

St. side will provide entrance to the ground floor which will function as a community center evenings and weekends.

Grades 4 through 6 will be taught on the third floor of the building.

Coletti said the 30 classrooms in the structure are set up under the "open-plan" concept with direct access to Instructional Materials Centers.

Plans for the school include a swimming pool, community size gymnasium, auditorium, art and music rooms, all of which are to be available for community use.

Space For Rent In MBTA Quincy Center Station

The MBTA will shortly be advertising space for rent in its new Quincy Center rapid transit station in Quincy Square.

There are two locations in the station to be rented. One on the southwesterly or Upland Rd side of the station comprising 2,700 square feet which may be sub-divided into two 1,350 square foot areas.

The second is on the northeasterly or Hancock St. side of the station and contains an area measuring approximately 1,800 square feet.

Further information about the terms of the leases will be contained in the actual offer to lease.

The Quincy Center Station already has in it a McGilvary's drug store with a light food counter which opened last December.

Before We Speak

In speaking of persons' faults,
Pray don't forget your own.
Remember: those in homes of glass

Should never throw a stone.
If we have nothing else to do,
But talk of those that sin,
'Tis better we commence at home,
And from that point begin.

We have no right to judge a man
Until he's fairly tried,
Should we not like his company.
We know this world is wide.
Some may have faults—and who has not?
The old as well as young—Perhaps we may, for aught we know,
Have fifty to their one.

I'll tell you of a better plan,
And find it works full well:
To try my own defects to cure,
Before of others' tell:
And though I sometimes hope to be
No more than some I know.
My own shortcomings bid me let
The faults of others go.

Then let us all when we commence
To slander friends or foe,
Think of the harm one word would do
To those we little know.
Remember curses sometimes like Our chickens "roost at home."
Don't speak of others' faults until We have none of our own!

It's our 25th year in American households... a quarter century of collecting and sharing bright, new ideas with aluminum foil. Customers tell us that aluminum foil is great for keeping silver tarnish-free, ice cold longer, making table decorations and keeping the oven clean. But...

- a small piece of foil placed over the end of a curtain rod enables the curtain to slide onto the rod easily.
- a lining of foil in waste or garbage cans helps prevent rust.
- no greasing is necessary if you bake cookies on foil-lined sheets.
- brown sugar will stay soft and moist if wrapped in foil.
- crumpled aluminum foil serves as a scourer for pots and pans.
- fireplaces lined with foil will reflect more heat, use less fuel.
- tools which are greased and wrapped in aluminum foil don't rust or dry out.

Sun Signs

By Regina Russell

Week of March 23 - 30

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Being forced to curb your desire for action has its compensations - you have time to look over plans more carefully.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Social activities aren't running as smoothly as you thought, take the cancellations in your stride and plan anew.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - It's very difficult to hold your temper when frustration is building up - but there are regrets later if you don't.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - A delay in plans gives you extra time to look for and correct any mistakes you might have made along the way.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Before you make your move, give careful thought to the end result because a rash act could topple your plans.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Domestic trouble takes delicate handling, especially if older people are involved. Be careful of giving or taking wrong advice.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Taking on new responsibilities helps to put your future on a firmer base. Your reputation gains in stature.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - The other party may still be procrastinating but you can see the opposition dissolving so make plans accordingly.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Don't give way to despondency over events beyond your control. Try a "What will be, will be" attitude and keep calm.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Some of your services are no longer needed, instead of getting up tight, use the extra time for self improvement.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - You are about to meet an important person so add something glamorous to your wardrobe and have fun for a change.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - A separation from family or home causes disappointment and sorrow. Your mental attitude and a show of courage will help.

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

If he's not the man you married...

Who's to blame? You? Are you such a good cook that you turn him into a walking advertisement of your skills? Have you more husband than you bargained for—like about 50 pounds more? There he is beside you in your wedding picture—taut and trim. There he is, beside you today, slumpy and slouchy. You might prefer to think of him as well-fed, but is he really?

When you sauté his macaroni with a thick cream and cheese mixture are you feeding him well? Not by a long shot! You're overfeeding him, and you're clogging his arteries in the bargain. Add calories to the diet, and you subtract years from the life. Not a pleasant thought, I grant you. When you control the kitchen, you control the health of your husband as well.

Don't deprive him of all his childhood favorites. Learn to cook "like mother did" but with a difference. That difference is casting out fats, adding high protein and useable nutrition. If your husband is one of the growing number who must pass a yearly physical for his job, he'll thank you at weigh-in time.

Now about starting him off with this unflat version of an old lunch-box favorite.

EGG SALAD SPREAD

- 1 hard-boiled egg
- 2 ounces cottage cheese
- Salt to taste
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- Dash Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon Hidden Valley dressing

In small bowl combine eggs, cottage cheese, mustard, chives, salt and Worcestershire sauce. Cover and chill to blend flavors. Spread between two slices of Arnold Dietslice Melba Thin Bread.

When a husband diets, a wife is sometimes overwhelmed. It means change, complete change in habits. You'll have to learn to buy, to cook and to serve all over again. Don't pander to his desires—for fattening nibbles, that is. Keep the refrigerator full of crispy celery, snappy radishes, carrot curls—all ready for a prowling husband to snatch during commercial TV breaks. Use the diet foods shelves to advantage—if he needs a late night snack of something sweet, why not low calorie gelatin all ready and waiting for him?

I'll bet that when he's less of an old, married man and more the man you married, you'll benefit. After all, when he's nice and thin, newly attired, the gal he takes out on the town will be you!

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free brochure, "Sweet Rewards For Dieters", please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

Living, Today

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

'Come Out Of Your Hiding'

Charlie was 38...in business for himself...three children...a pretty wife...but an unhappy marriage. "My father always told me to play my cards close to my chest"...he said..."to keep them guessing...to never give myself away...to keep things to myself. I remember when he pounded the table and said..."don't trust anybody...not even your own father." Little wonder he had an unhappy marriage. That father gave his boy a very poor steer...Wouldn't you say?

If you want to be loved you must open yourself to what you really are...come out of your hiding. In order to love someone you must know that person. Many husbands and wives do not know each other...each other's thinking...each other's feelings...about such important matters as money...children...sex...people of other colors...other races...religion. Do you know what your husband/wife believes about death?...About open caskets?...Cremation?...Abortion?...Vasectomy?...Bombing?...Archie Bunker? How will your partner rearrange his/her living circumstances when you're gone? Do you know each other's real feelings? Come out of your hiding.

How do people hide from each other? One way is to remain silent...just not reveal your true feelings...not talk...not communicate. "What's your communication level"...I frequently ask couples, who come to me trying to find out why they have an unhappy marriage. I get answers like..."Very low"... "not good at all"... "I can't stand small talk"...He never talks about his business." One of the biggest joys in a marital companionship is talking with each other...pillow talk at night...before arising in the mornings...at breakfast...a telephone call during a coffee break...while riding in the car...or airplane. I never like to sit too closely to the rock band in a night spot because we can't hear each other talk. But you miss the "communication fun" unless you come out of your hiding.

Of course...many people hide by deception...not reveal what they really believe...and feel...too many say what the other person wants to hear...not the truth. One of the things that happens in Group therapy...we say what we feel...the truth...people learn to be honest with their own feelings...and with each other. Stop deceiving. Say what you really feel...say it as it is...don't be a clam...join the rest of us human beings...you're no better and no worse...so come out of your hiding.

It's difficult if you've been hurt...if someone has broken trust with you...if you're carrying resentments. But whatever the cost...stop hiding. It may take a traumatic event...a failure...an accident...daughter's abortion...son on drugs. I know that it takes courage to start letting people know what you truly feel. But once you're life becomes an open book...you'll know new freedom to be the real man...real woman which you were made. Come out of your hiding.

FOR YOUR COMMENTS: or group therapy registration: Call Dr. Knox at 326-5990 or 545-5947 or write him at 628 High St., Dedham, Mass. 02026

Tobin Bill Would Limit State Campaign Expenditures

A bill to limit campaign expenditures by candidates for state office and to require campaign contributors to identify themselves has been filed by Sen. Arthur Tobin.

The bill, sponsored by Tobin, Rep. Thomas F. Brownell, Clifford H. Marshall and Peter C. McCarthy, would limit spending to 25 cents per resident by candidates for governor, lieutenant governor or U.S. Senate.

Candidates for any other office at a state election would be limited to 15 cents for each qualified voter in the district's preceding state election.

It also provides that any person making a campaign contribution in excess of $100 must identify himself on a signed affidavit under penalty of perjury.

Candidates must file all such statements following the election.

Brownell said "it is my judgement that elections will be made more democratic if this

With passage of the bill "candidates will be able to compete on an equal basis without having to worry about being overspent by wealthy candidates," he said.

"This legislation will put everyone on an equal basis insofar as how much he can spend and will further cut down the possibility of a candidate buying an election."

Brownell's statements were made before the Committee on Election Laws.

Meet Your Wollaston Businessman

WELCOME BACK -- Harvey Kurr, president of World Wide Travel Agency in Wollaston, chats with employee Josephine Vieira about his recent trip to Spain. Cardboard or not, the ladies behind Kurr provide an appealing backdrop.

Business, Pleasure For World Wide Travel Agency

Harvey Kurr arrived at his office Monday morning to find a week's worth of paper work waiting on his desk.

His chores had understandably piled up because Kurr had just returned from a week's tour of the Sun Coast of Spain and Morocco.

But the trip was as much a "busman's holiday" as a vacation for Kurr, 31, of Weymouth, who is president of World Wide Travel Agency, 664 Hancock St.

At least once a month, one member of the five-man staff at World Wide will accompany a group of South Shore residents on a trip.

Such trips help "familiarize us with the areas for our clients," Kurr said, and enables employees to act as tour leader to handle any problems that may arise in travel.

World Wide employees have traveled extensively in Portugal, Spain, England, France, Italy, the Caribbean and the West Coast.

Kurr was born in Chelsea, graduated from Winthrop High School and Bentley College and served in the Coast Guard Reserve before becoming involved in the travel agency.

Four years ago, he said "I felt the future of the travel business was unlimited so I took a gamble" and succeeded the late Paul Corkery as president of the newly established agency.

He and his staff have taken several travel courses offered by various airlines to improve service.

Office manager at World Wide is Mrs. Ardis Peterson of Quincy, a former tour guide who has worked for the company for five years.

Kurr is married to the former Arlene Kaplan of Brookline and the father of two children, Gregory, age 2, and Julie, 9 months. His hobbies include skiing and water sports.

He is incoming chancellor-commander of Quincy Knights of Pythias, chairman of the Quincy Kiddie Camp Drive, and a member of the United Commercial Travelers, Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce and Wollaston Business and Professional Association.

Lydon, Mercier Directors Of Wollaston Assn.

John J. Lydon Jr. and David Mercier have been appointed to the board of directors of the Wollaston Business and Professional Association.

Lydon, of 419 Beale St., Wollaston, is president and owner of the Russell Funeral Home, 644 Hancock St.

He was born in Boston, graduated from Gate of Heaven High School, majored in accounting at Northeastern University and graduated from the New England Institute.

He is married to the former Diane Hall and the father of four children, David, Janet, Carol and Michelle.

He is a member of the North

Quincy Knights of Columbus, page of Wollaston United Commercial Travelers, treasurer of the Young Democrats of Quincy and a member of St. Ann's Holy Name Society.

Mercier, of 78 Park Ave., Squantum, is administrative assistant of Colonial Federal Savings and Loan Association and treasurer of the Quincy Jaycees.

He is a graduate of Natick schools, Burdette Junior College, Bentley School of Accounting and the American Savings and Loan Institute.

He and his wife, the former GERALYN Connor, have two daughters, Carolyn and April.

McGovern For President Office On Hancock Street

McGovern for President Headquarters have been opened at 665 Hancock St., Wollaston Center.

Volunteers are needed to help distribute flyers throughout the city on March 25 and 26 starting at 10 a.m.

Quincy Co-ordinator Rose Devore reminds residents that there is still time before March 25 to register to vote in the primary election.

MONEY TALKS

Five Facts about Money and Saving

By Philip J. Lawrence
President
COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS
And Loan Association
of Quincy and Holbrook
8-6 Weekdays 8-7:30 Thursdays

"This is a crazy depression," the gag goes. "Everybody's working but everybody's broke. At least in the last one we didn't have to work."

There are a couple of grains of truth in this wry joke. One has to do with excessive spending. The other relates to money's shortcomings.

They prompt five basic observations about money:

1. If a country is to progress economically, some of its money must be saved and invested.

The plight of underdeveloped countries is that they operate on a mere subsistence level. Their people have barely enough to live on, let alone to put away for the future. Thus, they lack the wherewithal to invest in their country's future development that would mean more jobs, bigger pay, additional savings, and further investment.

One of America's strengths has been its capacity and inclination to save. Another has been an enterprising spirit that invests in new and better ways to do things, whether picking cotton or making automobiles.

The instinct for thrift is ingrained in the American character from colonial days.

2. Saving is responsible behavior that must be encouraged at all times.

There are those who clamor that spending helps the economic wheels to turn and that saving slows them down. Some would suggest that you push for savings at certain times and discourage them at others.

"It would seem a little absurd to tell people that saving is antisocial one year but a virtue the next," observes DePaul University economist and finance professor, Dr. Frederick W. Mueller.

3. There must be a balance between the ability to save and the inclination to invest.

Imbalances are possible between savings and investments and they produce two types of extremes which endanger the economy in opposing ways.

When a country saves more than it can invest, business sales are reduced because investors are not spending. Eventually, production declines and so does employment.

When the desire to invest outstrips the inclination or capacity to save, the opposite result, inflation rather than depression, is noted.

4. Inflation is, in simple terms, a state of continually rising prices caused by excessive monetary demand.

A number of causes have contributed to the current inflationary situation. One is the sizeable growth in population, with a heavy proportion in the lower age levels, which are non-producing and therefore non-saving. Another is the surge in technological advancement, offering new consumer products that tempt the average person to spend rather than save.

Other causes are rising wages and salaries that get passed along to the price of goods, the increasing popularity of instalment buying, and the nation's expenditures for military needs.

5. The best curb on inflation is saving.

The alternatives to voluntary saving for the control of inflation are unpalatable to most Americans. They have such unpopular labels as increased taxation, compulsory saving, rationing, and price fixing.

The trouble is that no one can be sure that such restraints would work or that they won't produce a totalitarian society that Americans traditionally haven't relished.

'Emphasis Weekend' At First United Presbyterian

First United Presbyterian Church, 270 Franklin St., will observe "Emphasis Weekend" March 24-26 with music and conference programs at the church.

Sacred recording artist Ed Lyman and the Rev. John Debrine will open the weekend at 7:30 p.m. Friday with a youth and family conference.

Mini-mission conferences will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and the Saturday service will feature a conversation with Dr. Sam Moffett, direct from South Korea.

Speakers will include Frank Jean, a missionary to America from China and Alan Travers, northeast representative of Trans World Radio, the world's largest religious broadcasting company.

The church will continue the youth and family conference at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday with John Debrine and Ed Lyman who will also lead a "Singspiration" at 8:15 p.m.

Willard School Youngsters Write

Dear Editor,

I think the Quincy Sun is a very good paper. You put in a lot of good articles but what happened to the children's page. The Willard School students in the seventh grade have sent in a lot of stories, but only a few of them had been printed the next Quincy Sun I would like to see some more stories on the children's page.

Very truly yours,
Steven Recelle
Willard School

Dear Editor,

Every time I write something in school and my teacher sends it, I have to wait and wait for it to be printed on the Children's Page. I tell my grandparents to look for my poems or stories and they say, "When is it going to be printed?" I often wonder myself. So please don't forget to print my friend's and my stories.

Thank You,
Vivian Tuori
Willard School

Dear Editor,

I have been hearing a lot of complaints, and I, myself, am complaining because you do not print the Children's page very often. It certainly cannot be you haven't got enough to print, because I know many teachers who have sent in a lot of material and have found it's not even in there, because there is not any children's page! Each time I look, there is no children's page! Everyone is very disappointed. Once someone sent in something for Christmas and came out 2 months later! So I just hope you print it [children's page] more often.

Yours Truly,
Rita Makkki
Willard School

Dear Quincy Sun,

I am writing to you because you have not been putting children's page in the paper. My parents and me are getting upset. Even my friends and neighbors like to see the children's page because it is fun to see what children have learned or have thought up. I am giving you my return address. Please write back and tell me why.

Patricia Preston
Willard School

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter in concern about your, "Children's Page". It has not appeared in your paper often enough. Many good things have been sent in and the children and their parents are waiting for them to appear. But week after week their stories don't appear, and that's very disappointing. Your, "Children's Page", has very good stories and you should keep printing more. Many children and adults look forward to seeing their children's work in print.

Sincerely,
Linda Van Bibber
Willard School

Dear Sir,

I am writing in on a complaint about the children's page.

I enjoy reading it and so do my friends and parents.

So I wish that you would write it more often.

Thank you,
Judy Costello
Willard School

Dear Editor,

I don't think you're being fair to the people who write poems, stories, and crossword puzzles. They send them in and every week they look to see if it's in the Children's Page, and you don't even have one. And when you do have one the one you sent in isn't in it that week or maybe the next.

Yours Truly
Paula Conostas
Willard School

Dear Editor,

I just wanted to say that I think you should put the children's page in the paper. This is because I know a lot of people that look for the children's page. It is very exciting for children to see their own stories and poems in the paper. They like to show it off to their parents and friends. I think that you should put the children's page in the paper. I am quite angry because I can not see any reason for you not putting the children's page in the paper. Unless you are terribly lazy. Well I think that you should try to get the children's page in the paper more often.

Sincerely yours,
Joyce McMullen

AN AFFAIR AT THE PALACE

Last night at the palace a gala ball took place.

All the notables from other countries were there.

The gowns and the jewels were a splendid sight to see.

Colorfully dressed guards were placed at every door at the palace, adding to the magnificent color and beauty.

Everything went smoothly and all the guests seemed to be having a good time. The King and Queen greeted their guests personally to add to the warmth of the evening. The music was beautiful and was enjoyed by all. I am sure that attending this ball was a dream come true for all.

ICELAND

In the Iceland valleys there are many things
Flowers, grass and berries.
Oh, so many things.

It's air and it's oceans abound with life,

The Cod, the Whale and the Bird in flight.

The World should copy this land and it's ways,
Then perhaps all wars would end some day.

If we could but visit this White Domain,
I am sure we would all remain.

The Midnight Sun shall never cease,
On this land of Joy and Peace.

SNOW FLAKE

I'm a snow flake just two years old. I was with my ma-ma and a big wind came and I swiftly flew off the North Pole. I yelled help! help! but I was too late because I was almost at the planet earth. When I got there I landed in a yard at Copeland Street with a big house. I saw a car come out of the house. Her name was Lisa because her friend called her that. I heard a voice say wake up! wake up! and I said I'm home. Ma-ma said I had a dream.

EDITORIALS

Dear Editor:

I am very glad you wrote about Kriesian the King, because, I have seen that the kingdom has been getting weaker all along and I was wondering when someone would do something about it. No one else dared to start protesting and I was not about to be the first. Your story showed what he was really like.

I am glad that you brought to the attention of the people that he was mainly interested in money for himself. Maybe this will help to make people start doing something about it also. A king should be interested in the welfare of his people and his kingdom not mainly himself. I am sure that your article has done much to awaken the interest of the people.

THE NEW FLAT ME

Hi I'm king of the snowflakes because I was born as big as a snowball. I'm on the moon. Rather I'm going on the moon because I'm going to earth and it is a big drop. Every year I go to earth because I evaporate. Oh I'm landing on a boy's head. This boy has dandruff and I have to swim through it. I hate it on this head. I wish this boy would brush his head off. He's doing just what I wished! Now I'm on the ground and someone just stepped on me and that's why I call the title The New Flat Me. This has been the worst year in my life. Good-bye till next year.

GOING TO MARS

Did I tell you about the time I went to Mars? If I did, do not mine I want to said it again. So one day a flying saucer fell to earth and I went in it. Then suddenly it began to shake and I was nervous. I looked out the window I saw a weird looking man, I asked what he was and I did not understand him because all he said was "me" "me" "bep". Then he said what he was a "Mars" "man". I ran to the door but it was too late I was on Mars. I sat down on one of the buttons by mistake I fell back to earth. The End.

LOCAL NEWS STORY

We must do something about the poor housing in this town. The homes are made of mudbricks, so, therefore, when it rains too hard, or the sun is too hot the buildings eventually fall. It is useless to keep rebuilding them. It is time we start finding a harder substance to build our homes with, or, we could start trading with the Egyptians for their stone. Regardless of how we get the stone, we must get it so we can improve the structure of our home.

Paul DeGrassie

EDITORIAL - POVERTY

I think Poverty is a very sad thing and we are struck with the most of it. People living in homes that are barely furnished. Some homes only have one room and they have to sleep on a rug on the floor. But some people live in Apartment houses and have beds and furniture. Some people even have televisions and radios. I think that we would improve the poverty crisis by making a fund that gives poor people money to get them food, furniture, and better homes.

THE MAGIC CARPET

I wish I had a magic carpet so I can take my Brother and go across the ocean and see the boats and visit the people. We can visit the countries like Africa and Italy. Then we will fly home on the magic carpet and visit all the States in America.

Lisa Glynn
Willard School

I WISHED FOR A MAGIC CARPET

If I had a magic carpet I would travel all over the world and I would command it to go to different lands. I would like to land in Iceland. I would meet all kinds of people and if it landed in Africa I would like to pat all the different kinds of animals. If it landed on the moon, and a flying saucer started to chase me I would say to my flying carpet, "Fly down to earth and I would be safe at home."

David Orlando
Willard School

THE STORY

Now the story starts like this. One day I was walking down the street. Suddenly before my eyes I saw a magic carpet. I stepped right on it but then it took off. I was scared at first, but then I knew where I was going. I was flying over the Prudential building. Then my magic carpet took me to the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. Then my magic carpet said, "That was a enough exploring for today!" So we went home.

SELJUP TURKS TRY TO GET POWER BACK BUT NEVER WILL.

Today at a fort in the desert the Seljup Turks tried to get their power back by defeating the Mongol Tribesman. Mongols are tribesman who just come out of hills to loot, and rob all houses, and kill anyone who gets in their way. But today at that fort the Seljup Turks, and the Mongol Tribesman battled fiercely for a very long time. The Mongols won. This is not the only time the Mongols have defeated the Turks. The Turks tried to get their power back but never did.

THE MAGIC CARPET

Sometimes I wish I can have a magic carpet. Like when your mother says will you go to the store? Sometimes I wish I could. Sometimes I wish I could runaway on a magic carpet. Just think I'm flying in the air going to mars. I could see Stars and moonmen but just when I'm having fun I't time to go home.

MY TRIP TO THE PLANTARIUM

The Planetarium was sort of scary. They showed stars, planets and figures. The figures of people didn't look like them at all. For the stars they showed were the big dipper and other famous star figures. The planets they showed were Mars, Jupiter, Pluto and other different planets.

Atlantic Junior High Plans Career Fair March 29

Students at Atlantic Junior High School will have the opportunity to learn about many careers during the Career Fair to be held at the school, March 29 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Atlantic boys and girls will be scheduled to visit the fair during the day to talk with representatives of business, industry, the professions, and schools and to view the 35 exhibits.

Also invited will be pupils from the Squantum, Myles Standish, Quincy, Montclair, Francis W. Parker, and Massachusetts Fields Schools. Parents and other interested members of the community are especially invited to attend so that they can learn more about opportunities open to Quincy students.

Exhibits will be set up in the gymnasium and will be staffed during the day by representatives from the careers and schools represented. Participating groups include:

Aquinas Junior College, Boston Edison Company, Boston Gas Company, Carol Nashe School, S. H. Couch Company, East Coast Aero-Technical School, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Fisher Junior College, Franklin Institute, Garland Junior College, General Dynamics, L. Grossman Company, Howard Johnson Company, Katherine Gibbs School.

Juliet Gibson School, John Hancock Insurance Company, Kemper Insurance Company, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Massachusetts Division of Employment Security, Mathewson Corporation, New England Deaconess Hospital, New England Fuel Institute, Quincy Civil Service.

Quincy Fire Department, Quincy Junior College, Quincy Kiwanis Club, Quincy Police Department, Quincy Public Schools Guidance Department, Quincy Vocational Technical School, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, State Street Bank, Veterans' Administration, Wentworth Institute.

Atlantic's Career Fair is another of the activities planned by the guidance staff of the Quincy schools to help boys and girls expand their knowledge about the world of work and to develop awareness of careers about which they might not have known. The Fair will also relate the child's present school activity to the demands of employment.

Exhibitors and invited guests will be served a buffet luncheon by the home economics department of Atlantic Junior High School. Mrs. Rebecca Goshe and Miss Jeanne Noonan will be in charge.

Chairman of the Career Fair is Stephen J. DelRosso, head counselor. Working with him on the planning committee are Richard K. Chrystal, principal; Louis R. DiMartino, assistant principal; and Miss Louise B. Forsyth, coordinator of guidance services, Quincy Public Schools.

Quincy High Band Takes Top Honors In Lawrence

The Quincy High School Presidents Marching Band walked away with top honors in the Class A division of the Lawrence St. Patrick's Day Competition Parade March 1.

The Presidents, led by senior drum major Gary McLaughlin, outshone 22 other Class A bands to become the first Quincy school unit to win a parade competition outside the city.

Director of the band is Anthony C. Ferrante.

Oscaritis Bug Season

The Oscaritis bug had polynated into full bloom. With the recent announcing of nominations for the Best of '71, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has set into motion the spark which will ignite all the drama, suspense and tension as the days edge closer to Oscar night, April 10... As for the participants, the approaching hour will tick slowly as if time were caught on a treadmill...

Following are the nominations in the categories of Best Film, Director, Actor, Actress, Supporting Actor and Supporting Actress.
BEST FILM: "A CLOCKWORK ORANGE", "FIDDLER ON THE ROOF", "THE FRENCH CONNECTION", "THE LAST PICTURE SHOW" and "NICHOLAS AND ALEXANDRA"... From where I sit, this shapes up as a two-way contest between "A CLOCKWORK ORANGE" and "THE FRENCH CONNECTION", with the former walking off with top honors. "CONNECTION" is my sentimental choice, found it more entertaining, however, being realistic, "ORANGE" was a more finished product in the mold of what perfect filmmaking is all about... As for the other three pictures, they don't stand a chance. They were only listed because every category has to have five nominations...

BEST DIRECTOR: STANLEY KUBRICK ["A CLOCKWORK ORANGE"], NORMAN JEWISON ["FIDDLER ON THE ROOF"], WILLIAM FRIEDKIN ["THE FRENCH CONNECTION"], PETER BOGDANOVICH ["THE LAST PICTURE SHOW"], and JOHN SCHLESINGER ["SUNDAY, BLOODY SUNDAY"]... This category is going to be a toughie. KUBRICK and FRIEDKIN have already won honors for their productions in earlier Film Critic polls. BOGDANOVICH has been hailed as the best new director since ORSON WELLES. The remaining two, JEWISON and SCHLESINGER, have received nary a drop of ink in publicity... So how do you pick 'em? KUBRICK and FRIEDKIN are the favorites, but I'm playing a hunch and saying NORMAN JEWISON will top the list. The reason? He mastered the difficult task of capturing, on the screen, the stage excellence of the play. Sheer perfection...

BEST ACTOR: PETER FINCH, GENE HACKMAN, WALTER MATTHAU, GEORGE C. SCOTT, and CHAIM TOPOL... No contest here. GENE HACKMAN ["THE FRENCH CONNECTION"] in a runaway. FINCH ["SUNDAY, BLOODY SUNDAY"] and MATTHAU ["KOTCH"] each handed in splendid performances, but neither captured the screen presence of HACKMAN. He simply overwhelmed the viewer with his humane, tough cop characterization... As for GEORGE C. SCOTT? I'm still trying to figure out how he got nominated in the first place. His "HOSPITAL" shenanigans were not worthy of consideration, let alone a film review...

BEST ACTRESS: JANE FONDA, JULIE CHRISTIE, GLENDA JACKSON, VANESSA REDGRAVE and JANET SUZMAN... Even with two British, Academy Award winners in contention [CHRISTIE and JACKSON], this is the year of JANE FONDA ["KLUTE"] as Tinseltown's female best... REDGRAVE ["MARY QUEEN OF SCOTS"] would have ranked serious consideration if her portrayal had been more even. Miss JACKSON ["SUNDAY, BLOODY SUNDAY"] will be getting an avalanche of publicity support having been named best of the year by the British Society. However, she will fall short of winning her second consecutive Oscar because of Miss FONDA'S more finely honed performance. There is no substitute for perfection, and FONDA in "KLUTE" was just that-perfect...

BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR: JEFF BRIDGES, LEONARD FREY, RICHARD JAECKEL, BEN JOHNSON and ROY SCHEIDER... Working backwards JAECKEL doesn't stand a chance and the film "SOMETIMES A GREAT NOTION" is why. If it had been a better production, he would have rated serious thought. The flit was a fluke. And JAECKEL goes home without Oscar... FREY ["FIDDLER"], SCHEIDER ["CONNECTION"] and BRIDGES ["LAST PICTURE SHOW"] were satisfactory in their roles, but not outstanding... BEN JOHNSON ["THE LAST PICTURE SHOW"] is an up and coming super star, and a Best Supportin' win will give him the producer recognition he has deserved for some years now...

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS: ELLEN BURSTYN, BARBARA HARRIS, CLORIS LEACHMAN, MARGARET LEIGHTON and ANN-MARGRET... It's a choice of sticking with the much ballyhooed ANN-MARGRET ["CARNAL KNOWLEDGE"], the established, and British Society Award winner MARGARET LEIGHTON ["THE GO-BETWEEN"], or limbing out on newcomer ELLEN BURSTYN ["LAST PICTURE SHOW"]... Since I'm in a daring mood, and playing an educated hunch, Miss BURSTYN gets the nod. She is a fine actress, with the potential to develop into one of the more engaging of the 70's... In "THE LAST PICTURE SHOW", she not only showed instincts of future greatness, but clearly demonstrated her present capabilities as well...

It will be interesting to see how members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences vote. Of special interest, will be how in tune to the public's viewpoint, the members vote... In an unprecedented move, National General Theatres in conjunction with the Movieland Wax Museum, are letting the public "in on" the voting... On Feb. 22 The National General Theatre [NGT] home office in Hollywood dispatched 2 million ballots to 270 NGT theatres in 26 states... The ballots, limited to the best in film and acting, will gauge the public's opinion as to what they consider the Best of '71 in the Best Film, Actor and Actress Category...

The poll will be conducted nationwide in NGT theatre lobbies. Results of this unusual public poll will be made known the weekend of April 8-9, in advance of the Oscar Monday night telecast.

Sea Explorers Plan Spaghetti Supper

Sea Explorer Ship 382 of Quantum will host a spaghetti supper from 5 to 8 p.m. March 25 to raise funds to support their 22-foot sloop "Geronimo".

Members of the organization will prepare and serve the food at Nickerson American Legion Post in Squantum.

Senior Advisor Arthur Erickson of 41 Ocean St. said, the 14 active members are also planning to participate in the North Bay Council.

Activities planned in conjunction with Boston Council, Boy Scouts of America, include olympics, a road rally and a Camporee at Otis Air Force Base.

The ship is a co-educational arm of the Explorer Scout movement which concentrates on maritime training and social activities.

Programs during the past year included a drug abuse discussion with Quincy Police Patrolman Ralph Ames and sessions on scuba diving and marlinspike seamanship.

Advisors include Mrs. Sally Erickson, Tom Williamson, Richard Hendry, Norman Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark and Harold Hutchins, commander of the ship's sponsor Nickerson Post.

Tom Mackiewicz is boatswain, John Clark boatswain's mate and John Mackiewicz is yeoman. Members include David Bevans, Sheila Clark, Barbara Shalit, Susan O'Neil, Paul O'Neil, John Larsen, Scott Williamson, Mark Mulvaney, Frank Hendry, Paul Frost and Denise Lyons.

The post meets weekly at the Erickson home, 41 Ocean St., Squantum, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays. Any boy or girl 14 years of age or over and in the ninth grade or above may contact Mr. Erickson for information.

A Tribute To George N. Leonard

George N. Leonard was "very dedicated to his work and to the city. He was always there when you needed him."

"He served almost 41 years in the fire alarm division and very rarely missed a day's work," said acting Fire Chief Thomas F. Maguire.

Deputy Maguire was speaking in the absence of Chief Edward F. Barry in tribute to Mr. Leonard, a retired Fire Department signal maintainer, who died March 12 at Quincy Hospital.

Mr. Leonard 74, of 12 Stevens St., Quincy, was born in Brockton and lived 45 years in Quincy, serving 41 of those years on the signal division.

He was a member of the Amateur Radio Operators and former member of the National Guard.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Matilda [Rudolph] Leonard; five daughters, Mrs. Margaret Rosetti and Mrs. Beatrice Harries of Quincy, Mrs. Julia Walorz of Braintree, Mrs. Ruth Williamson of Orlando, Fla., and Mrs. Virginia Taylor of Mesa, Ariz.; 10 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Services were held at Wickens and Troupe Funeral Home. Burial was in Plymouth.

Want to Live Longer?

Want to live longer? Get married! Statistics show that married individuals stand a much better chance of staying alive at various ages than singles. In fact, in the 25 to 34 age group, the death rate for married men is 1.5 per thousand, while those not married die at a double - 3.5 rate per thousand.

The difference is even greater as the men become older. In the 35-44 age group, the death rate for married men is 3.1 per thousand; for unmarrieds, it is 8.3.

For married women in the 35-44 group, it's 4.1. Among women in general, the mortality rate for single females is almost twice that of the wives.

While these figures apply to large groups, you can hardly ignore them. So, if you are a happy bachelor, take note and weigh the odds.

Smith's Record Now 51-13

For ENC It Was 'A Season To Remember'

The Eastern Nazarene College basketball team has risen to the top of the small college ranks in New England and things appear to be getting better all the time.

This year Jim Smith's team had its second straight outstanding season, broke two school records, received its first invitation to the NAIA tourney and, all in all, gave the ENC fans another season to remember for a long time.

Last year Smith bowed in as Crusader coach and led them to their finest year ever, a 26-5 record. This year they finished with a 25-7 mark to give Smith a brilliant two-year mark of 51-13.

This season ENC played in five tournaments. They made fine showings early in the year in the Trevecca Invitational in Nashville, Tenn., and the Mt. Vernon Invitational in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, made an impressive showing in its first NAIA tourney, won its second straight King's Tourney title and was eliminated last week in the semifinals of the National Christian College Tourney in Chattanooga, Tenn.

"We got our foot in the door this year, playing in the NAIA tourney for the first time and now they know we are for real."

Smith said.

A year ago ENC went to the finals of the NCCAA tourney in Chattanooga before bowing to top-seeded Azusa Pacific. The Crusaders became the first team from the Northeast to win a game there and upset Grace and Tennessee Temple to make the finals.

Last week ENC walloped Bethel, 104-80, in the opening round but suffered a cold shooting first half and was upset by Tennessee Temple in the semifinals, 71-65, despite a fine second half comeback.

In the win over Bethel Don Eads, who finished as the number four NAIA scorer in the country with a 34-point game average, hit for 42 points. Brother Dave had 17, Steve Shoff 13 and Rick Reyenger 10.

Against Tennessee Temple ENC hit on only eight of 35 floor shots in the first half and fell far behind, 40-23. The Crusaders out-scored the host team, 42-31, in the second half but it was too little and too late.

Eads had only 21 points, low for him, Dave had 16 and Don Constantine 10.

Eads was named to both the UPI and NAIA Small College all-star teams.

Don broke the school record for scoring in a single game with 49 points, shattering the old mark of 46 held by Ron Bradley, and the school hit a new team high with 129 points, bettering the mark of 126 set last year.

Although Eads graduates, only one of two seniors on the squad, Crusader fans can take heart.

The great Ron Bradley, last year's high scorer who gained numerous honors and who held the school's single game record until Eads broke it this year, will be back after sitting this year out.

Ron underwent a knee operation and it was deemed advisable to keep him out of action this year. He kept in shape by playing some games in the Quincy Church League and should be ready for an outstanding final year next season.

The only other senior is Steve Shoff, a standout playmaker and defensive player who now lives in Quincy, coming here from Manchester, Ct.

Smith faces a bright future with Bradley returning, joining Reyenger, a sophomore from Quincy, who averaged 10 points and 15 rebounds a game; Constantine of North Quincy, who averaged eight points a game; Dave Eads, Don's younger brother, who averaged 15 points and nine rebounds a game; Terry Briggs, averaging nine points a game; Howie Briggs, Mike Cox, Mark Sanford, Tom Gunsalus and Gerry Whetstone.

ENC also had another strong junior varsity team this year and several of these players are expected to help the varsity in another year.

"We achieved one of our most sought-after goals this year by making the NAIA tourney and our fine comeback to upset Bentley and our fine showing in the finals against a really strong Boston State team showed that we belonged in the tourney and the NAIA will have trouble passing us by in the future," Smith said.

Smith is trying to strengthen the ENC schedule so that the team will get the recognition he feels it deserves. This year the Crusaders played some of the best small N.E. schools including Suffolk, Babson, Curry, Roger Williams, Gordon, Western New England and Framingham State and the coach-athletic director would like to add some more top N.E. entries to the schedule.

ENC is currently in the process of raising funds for a beautiful new gym on campus and Smith feels this will be an added incentive for other schools to play the Crusaders. The team this year usually filled the Quincy and North Quincy High gyms.

Smith also hopes that more local players will decide to enter ENC. Bradley and Constantine are former North captains and Reyenger starred at Quincy.

Bob Kelty Rolls Record 164 String

Bob Kelty set two Quincy Little Loop Bowling records last week by rolling a high single of 164 and three-string total of 359 to lead the Elks team.

Bob, 13, of 58 North Bayfield St., shattered the old league mark of 151 held jointly by Fred Ricciardello and Ken Johnson during the 1964-65 and 1965-66 seasons.

The Elks moved into a four-way tie for second place as Bob's rolling paced the club to a team high single of 502 and high three of 1,364.

Boasting identical 44-32 records in the battle for runner-up to McIntyre club at 54-22 are the Elks, Atlantic Fuel, Hutchinson Oil and Montclair Men's Club.

Close behind are Hennessey Club and Hal Davis Club at 42-34 followed by Local 513 at 37-40, Brett and Bryan Post at 35-41, IAM 1451 at 34-40, Burke at 31-45, Morrissey at 26-50 and Bowladrome at 20-56.

Dick Magnarelli leads the league in individual average with 95.13 followed by Bruce Perry's 93.6, Frank Granara's 92.8, Mike Martinelli's 92.3, Pat Connolly and Frank Miceli at 92.2, Steve Martinelli's 91.7, Bob Kelty at 91.4, Nick Anastas at 91.4 and Dick Voelkel at 90.9.

UCT Youth Hockey Lead One Point

United Commercial Traveler's lead in the Quincy Youth Hockey League was trimmed to one point last week as UCT tied Keohane's 2-2 and Crestview squeezed out a 3-2 win over Morrisette.

Around the league, Wollaston downed Maguire's 5-2 and Davis handed Hannon a 3-1 loss as Cox Bantams downed Davis Bantams 3-1 and Farina outlasted Sweeney 4-3.

Brothers John and Brian Norton accounted for the UCT scoring as Mark Ricciardi and John Furey matched them point-for-point for Keohane's.

Two goals by John Fair and one by Jim Mossesso gave Crestview the win and gained them a point in their run at first place as Morrisette posted scores by John Yaxter and Paul Higgins.

A penalty shot by Kevin McGrath capped Wollaston's 5-goal attack with Mike Storer, Mark Messina [2] and Ronan Storer outnumbering Maguire's goals by Brian McAuliffe and Ed Kane.

Rick Ahola picked up the lone Hannon score as Paul Linderfetz, John Masters and Dave Peters lit the light for Davis Pee Wees.

The win for Cox Bantams coupled with Sweeney's loss increased Cox' lead to seven points in the Bantam Division.

Joe Carty, Ed Santry and John Ridge provided the scoring punch for Cox as Bob Carmody put Davis on the scoreboard.

Farina edged its way out of the cellar as Jeff Murphy and Mark Frazier tallied two goals apiece to offset Sweeney scoring by Paul Lynch, Dave Perdios and Joe McConville.

Youth Hockey Feature In Next Week's Sun

An in-depth special feature on the Quincy Youth Hockey Association League will start in the March 30 issue of the Quincy Sun.

Sun writer Tom Sullivan and photographer Lee Wardle team to present the story of this unusual league in words and team and action photos. Some 500 Quincy youngsters between 7 and 21 are playing hockey in the league which may well produce a few stars of tomorrow.

Disputed Goal Gives Reds St. Joseph's Play-Off Win

Hal McLarnon's disputed goal in sudden death overtime gave the Red Team a 3-2 win and a berth in the play-off finals of St. Joseph's Hockey League action.

The Reds will meet the second-place Gold Team for the league championship as the Gold squeezed out a 3-2 win over the cellar-dweller Greens.

Mike McAlley picked up two goals to round out the Red scoring as Paul Erickson and Ed DeGizzi tallied for the Blues to send the game into overtime.

McLarnon's clincher came as someone in the stands blew a whistle which Blue players thought came from the referee.

Jay Pasioneck scored both goals for the Green team in a losing cause as John Alfano, Butch Franchesini and Chuck Crews sent the Golds to the finals.

Alfano and Franchesini each picked up a goal and two assists and Crews tallied a goal and one assist for the Gold.

Ken Coleman Still TV Voice Of Red Sox

Although the television-radio announcing alignment for Red Sox games is not certain, it has been announced that Ken Coleman, formerly of North Quincy, will remain as the Voice of the Red Sox on WBZ-TV.

The latter station has signed a three-year contract to take over the games from the now defunct WHDH-TV.

The fate of Ned Martin and Johnny Pesky had not been decided at this writing. Coleman's status on WHDH radio also was up in the air.

Beau's Wins Invitational Title

Beau's Place of Quincy, unbeaten champion of the Cranberry Basketball League, capped an outstanding season Sunday when it won its fourth game in the Rockland Legion Invitational Tourney to win the tourney championship.

Beau's received a cash prize and a huge trophy.

The tourney title gave Beau's a 26-4 season's record after it breezed to the league crown with a 16-0 mark.

The Quincy powerhouse walloped the host team, Rockland Legion, 48-68, in the championship game as Jimmy Hayes scored 21 points, Marty Schofer 16 and Carl Chandler 14.

In the semifinals Beau's topped Haverhill A. A., 82-69, with Mike Greenlaw and Jocko Javares having 14 points apiece.

In the second round Beau's gained revenge on the Boston Bruins with a 98-93 win as Hayes, giving an incredible performance, scored 27 points including six three-point plays, and Bob McNamara scored 20.

The Bruins had handed Beau's the first of two regular season defeats and had eliminated them in the Plymouth Kiwanis Tournament.

Beau's had started the Rockland tourney with a 113-68 breeze over the Boston Counts. Tavares had 33 points and Alan Dalton 22 for Quincy.

The previous weekend Beau's had competed in the second annual semi-pro tourney at Brockton and, following two wins, lost to the Brockton YMCA in the semifinals. The Bruins topped Brockton for that tourney crown.

Junior Baseball Registration

Regarding Health

A mattress is not a health device unless a specific type is prescribed by your physician for your specific case.

An unsuitable mattress, however, will fail to provide proper relaxation and sleep which may affect health and may not give proper posture support, especially for children.

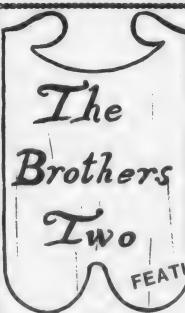

Some mattresses are designed and constructed according to specifications of responsible authorities, but it cannot be assumed that these are "prescriptions" for all persons.

Terms such as "posture" or "posturized" should mean the bedding has been specially designed for correct sleeping posture. An "orthopedic" mattress should be one designed to accommodate a specific body deformity.

If you have aches and pains which you feel might be relieved by a mattress, consult your doctor for advice on whether a special type would help you.

Red Sox A Team Of Many Question Marks

By TOM SULLIVAN

Quincy Sun Staff Writer

The Red Sox are coming down the home stretch of another spring training season and will soon start the trip north, opening the season April 6 at Fenway Park against the Detroit Tigers.

And, as the Sox prepare for another season, hopefully over-taking the Orioles and winning the American League's Eastern Division title, there are as many if not more question marks than ever before.

It appears they may have given up too much in the big trade with the Brewers as it seems to have left them without a right handed power hitter, a requisite for Fenway Park. Right now, unless a trade is made soon, the Sox look like a good road club but may have troubles in their home park.

General Manager and Executive Vice President Dick O'Connell said if a trade is made it probably will be by this weekend. Let's hope they can trade for a good right-handed power hitter.

Whereas in past years the big question marks involved the pitching and catching, the biggest this spring is first base.

Until he was traded Monday to the St. Louis Cardinals for veteran first baseman-outfielder Bob Burda, Mike Fiore had been battling rookie Cecil Cooper as top contenders for George Scott's job. However, Burda, like Fiore and Cooper, is a left-handed batter and in an effort to find a right-handed hitting first baseman, Manager Eddie Kasko has been using catcher Duane Josephson and handyman Phil Gagliano.

I personally would like to see Cooper make the grade because I think he would be one of the most colorful players the Sox have had in some time.

The fastest man on the squad, he would win plenty of games with his speed. However, it looks as though the big jump from Pawtucket might be too much for him this year and he probably will be sent to the minors for another year. Quincy's Sam Mele, special assignment scout for the Sox, thinks Cooper is almost ready to make the jump but he still has a few flaws.

Although using Josephson at first, Kasko still rates him his best catcher. The Sox still do not have a real major league catcher and if he can improve his batting, rookie Carlton Fisk of Keene, N.H., would definitely be the number one receiver. He has a terrific arm and is a fine handler of pitchers. Josephson, Fisk and Bob Montgomery can at best be called adequate but make up what is far from a standout catching corps.

There are many more question marks this year.

Will the pitchers pitch as well as they hit? Most of them are good hitters but their pitching is still far from earth shattering.

Sonny Siebert, Ray Culp, newcomer Marty Pattin and maybe Gary Peters will be starters, although Kasko has said he probably will use Peters mainly as a reliever this year. Other possible starters are Bill Lee, Mike Nagy, Jack Curtis and hopefully Roger Moret, although the latter has been unimpressive in spring training.

Veteran Luis Tiant can be depended upon only as a short reliever, while Bob Bolin, newcomer Lew Krause, Sparky Lyle and Ken Tatum are the other relievers. Krause could be a spot starter, however.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY

Proposal to Lease a Vacant Area on the Northeasterly Side of the Authority's Quincy Center Station

[Hancock Street] - Area No. 1

Pursuant to the provisions of General Laws, Chapter 161A, Section 5 [c], the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority invites proposals to lease a vacant area in the Authority's Quincy Center Station [Northeasterly Side - Hancock Street] in the City of Quincy, Massachusetts. The area available for use measures approximately 1,800 square feet.

The lease agreement shall be for a period of three [3] years with an option to extend for an additional three [3] years at which time the rental obligations will be subject to negotiation, and will contain such other terms and conditions usual in Authority agreements.

The Authority will not accept any bid proposal for less than $9,000.00 per year.

The 1,800 square feet of available area shall be leased in its present condition, with the preparation of the area, building of the concession facility and utilities paid by the lessee, and all work performed shall be to the satisfaction of the Authority. The lessee is to assume all liability in connection with the installation and operation of the lessee's facility and use of the leased area.

Proposals in sealed envelopes marked "PROPOSAL FOR CONCESSION AREA NO. 1 - QUINCY CENTER" will be received at the office of Mr. John R. Launie, Treasurer-Controller, Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, 500 Arborway, Boston [Jamaica Plain], Mass., 02130, until 11:00 A.M., Eastern Standard Time, April 7, 1972, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud. Bids shall contain the details of the proposal. The successful bidder shall be required to submit a detailed plan of the facilities to be constructed which will be subject to approval by the Authority.

Specifications and information on this bid proposal may be obtained from Mr. Gerald A. Kennedy, Supervisor of Concessions, at 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, Mass., or by calling 722-6327.

The Authority reserves the right to refuse to accept any and all proposals and to take such other action if it finds that sound reasons in the public interest so requires.

John R. Launie
Treasurer-Controller

[Upland Road] Area No. 3

Pursuant to the provisions of General Laws, Chapter 161A, Section 5 [c], the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority invites proposals to lease vacant area and/or areas in the Authority's Quincy Center Station [Southwesterly Side - Upland Road].

The lease agreement shall be for a period of three [3] years with an option to extend for an additional three [3] years at which time the rental obligations will be subject to negotiation, and will contain such other terms and conditions usual in Authority agreements.

The entire area contains approximately 2,700 square feet, and is further subdivided into two [2] areas, each containing approximately 1,350 square feet. The authority will accept separate bid proposals on each subdivided area and/or the entire area. The Authority will not accept any bid for less than $6,000.00 per year for one of the two subdivided areas and/or $12,000.00 per year for the entire area.

The available areas shall be leased in their present condition with the preparation of the area, building of the concession facility and utilities paid by the lessee, and all work performed shall be to the satisfaction of the Authority. The lessee is to assume all liability in connection with the installation and operation of the lessee's facility and use of the leased area.

Proposals in sealed envelopes marked "PROPOSAL FOR CONCESSION AREA NO. 3 - UPLAND ROAD, QUINCY CENTER" will be received at the office of Mr. John R. Launie, Treasurer-Controller, Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, 500 Arborway, Boston [Jamaica Plain], Mass., 02130, until 11:00 A.M., Eastern Standard Time, April 7, 1972, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud. Bids shall contain the details of the proposal. The successful bidder shall be required to submit a detailed plan of the facilities to be constructed which will be subject to approval by the Authority.

Specifications and information on this bid proposal may be obtained from Mr. Gerald A. Kennedy, Supervisor of Concessions, at 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, Mass., or by calling 722-6327.

The Authority reserves the right to refuse to accept any and all proposals and to take such other action if it finds that sound reasons in the public interest so requires.

John R. Launie
Treasurer-Controller

Sen. Tobin 'Thrilled' With Response To Questionnaire

Sen. Arthur H. Tobin is "thrilled" with early voter response to the public opinion questionnaire he is sending to constituents.

Tobin said he has received 426 replies in two days to his four-page questionnaire which asks the voters' feelings on subjects ranging from the MBTA to abortion.

"The mailman told my staff we have been getting the heaviest mail in the State House this week," he said.

The senator's staff has been sending forms to residents chosen at random from voter registration lists in Holbrook and Braintree and started this week in Quincy.

"I wish we could afford to send them to everyone in the district," he said, "but the cost is prohibitive."

Tobin said the overwhelming response "gives me a clear idea of what the people in my area are thinking and it will guide me in my actions both as a senator and city councillor.

"The thing we feel really great about is that the greatest majority have taken the time to write comments as well as checking yes or no.

"They also commented on other issues and add personal comments thanking my office. Many said they never thought their senator would take the time to ask their opinions," he said.

The questionnaire asks voters' feelings on the MBTA, highway construction, veterans bonuses, abortion, education, utility rates, outdoor burning, rubbish disposal, drug programs, campaign funds, prison terms and crime.

It also asks the voter to list his order of priority on issues facing the legislature.

Student Government Day Delegates

Rep. Joseph E. Brett, announces delegates have been chosen to represent Quincy and North Quincy High Schools and Woodward School for Girls in the annual Student Government Day ceremonies at the State House, April 7.

They are:

Donald W. Sweeny of 49

Ames St., West Quincy, Quincy High School.

Michael Cody of 18 Herbert Rd., North Quincy, North Quincy High School.

Victoria Kingsley of 97 Willow Ave., Wollaston, Woodward School.

In accordance with his custom for the past 14 years, Rep. Brett has congratulated each of the student delegates and invited them to be his guests on Student Government Day.

He will provide them with transportation to and from the State House, be of assistance to them during the day, and have them as his guests for lunch.

LaRaia Resolve Earmarks Dividends For Employees

Councillor-at-large Joseph J. LaRaia has introduced a resolve to earmark health insurance dividends for the benefit of city employees under the insurance plan.

LaRaia's request that the council adopt state law on the matter will be used to reduce all future premiums under the insurance program.

"Just this year the City of Quincy used approximately $110,000 to reduce the city's share of health insurance premiums," he said.

"If the employees were direct beneficiaries of these dividends their premiums would have been reduced accordingly," he said.

More Support For Rink

Things are starting to look very bright for the Quincy Youth Hockey Association.

The City Council appears, although there has been no vote, to favor leasing the association the four acres of land it needs to build its 500-seat hockey rink.

Mayor Hannon has filed a request with the U. S. Navy for an easement through the Naval Reserve Training Center to allow access for construction vehicles.

And this week the directors of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce took a stand in favor of the association's proposal, joining forces with the Quincy Sun and others.

As we have stated before, we are very much in favor of allowing the association to build its Sea St. arena.

The entire community stands to benefit from construction of the rink which would serve as a supplement to the proposed school department facility at Quincy High School.

With the Bruins in danger of winning another Stanley Cup this year, there is little question that hockey interest will continue to grow in this area.

Right now, there are 700 Quincy boys and girls on a waiting list for the Youth Hockey Association which is unable to provide enough ice time.

Two rinks would provide year-round skating opportunities for school teams, association teams and the dozens of smaller leagues which have sprung up in recent years.

The youth lament that there is "nothing to do" would probably be heard less often with skating facilities available as the rinks will provide a constructive outlet for their energy.

A Youth Hockey Association Rink would cost the city of Quincy nothing.

The association would be responsible for construction, operation and maintenance of the facility. And the land is not being used for anything.

If skating with youth hockey teams keeps just one youngster away from the dangers of drugs or vandalism, then it will have repaid its investment 10 times over.

Nominees Sought For Jaycee Award

Mayor Walter J. Hannon will be guest speaker at the seventh annual distinguished service award banquet of Quincy Jaycees April 10 at Morrisette Post.

The award is presented annually to an outstanding citizen of Quincy who has donated time and effort in order to make the city a better place to live, according to Jaycee President Donald J. Hughes.

Nomination forms are available at Colonial Federal Savings Bank, Beach St., Wollaston, and must be returned by April 10.

Final selection of the recipient will be determined by a panel including Police Chief Francis X. Finn; Charles Peterson, president of the Quincy Co-operative Bank; Daniel Barry, president of the Wollaston Business and Professional Association and Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, superintendent of schools.

Previous winners include Dr. Charles Djerf, Rev. Bedros Baharian, Dr. Edward Mann, A. Wendell Clark, Frank Remick and John W. Blake.

Burke's Drug Unit Receives $2,200 Grant

Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George G. Burke, announces his Drug Abuse Prevention and Education Unit has received from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a $2,200 federal grant for which he had applied in December of last year.

"The terms of the grant", Burke said, "specify that it is exclusively for training of drug education teams at training centers at various universities."

In announcing the grant, the District Attorney noted that Senator Edward M. Kennedy had wired a congratulatory message earlier in the week after the "Mini-Grant" awards had been made in Washington.

The team training will focus on improving Burke's drug unit's effectiveness by providing it with the latest information from the current drug scene, enhancing their communications skills and enabling them to better serve as catalysts within the communities in which they now work, as they help plan, direct and implement community-based prevention programs.

"The drug problem is really everybody's problem," Burke said, "and there can be no solution unless the whole community becomes involved. 'Mini-Grants' with their emphasis on training teams to help communities help themselves are a long step in the right direction."

'Ways Of Copping Out'

"I didn't intend to interrupt you"...the wife was saying..."but it takes you so long to say what you're saying." I didn't intend to. I remember hearing my father say...both in sermons and in "real life"... "the road to hell is paved with good intentions." We don't just keep on and on doing something we don't intend to do. If you don't want to interrupt...quit it. If you don't want to belittle...quit it. If you don't want to spend money you don't have...quit it. If you don't want to be a tyrant...or a shrew...quit it. But don't keep on and on doing a thing and then cop out with..."I didn't intend to."

A second cop out...acting like a child. "I was sick...I was tired...I was so cold...I was so upset...I'm all confused...it was raining...I try so hard to please her...look at my sore finger...I had such a poor background." All excuses for evasion of responsibility...make an adult relationship impossible. You can't act like a child and make the marriage work...because marriage only works with people who treat each other as adults...and act adult themselves. Bidding for sympathy...pleading to be excused on childish grounds evokes only disgust from the adult partner. Don't use the child-act cop out. A knowing husband won't let it work. Neither will a smart wife.

A third cop out is tears. The only reason why women use the tear cop out more than men is that our society frowns upon men crying...has given tacit approval of a woman's tears. So tears often work when women use them against husbands because society has inculcated into men the idea that a woman's tears are to be respected. Tenderness...warm feelings expressed...being touched by grief or sadness is one thing. When a woman uses tears to get what she wants...to bring a man to his knees...evading the real issue...she's copping out. Men use the "whipped dog" look for their cop out instead of tears.

The cop out commonly used by husbands is blame. This cop out started in the Garden of Eden...when Adam blamed Eve..."the woman gave me the fruit and I did eat." Ever since the first people men have been blaming women...and women blaming men...Republicans blame Democrats and Democrats blame Republicans...and who does this the most? Children. Children quickly learn to blame each other...evading personal responsibility...defending themselves. "John did it...I saw him with the crayon in his hand after he marked the wall." Poor Johnny hasn't a chance to explain that he picked up the crayon from the floor where Gregory had left it after he had marked the wall. Blaming is a cop out.

Would you like to quit copping out? I'll tell you how...First...Agree with each other in advance that in any conflict you will each continue in dialogue until you reach a satisfactory solution. That's an advance commitment. Honor it at all costs...even when your angry. That way you get things resolved and don't fight the same old battles over and over. Stop copping out.

Secondly...recognize how you've copped out..."I didn't intend to"...childish excuses...tears...blaming...silent treatment. Admit it. Agree to quit. Get your partner to agree not to respond to you're cop outs.

So...agree in advance to continue in dialogue...recognize how you've copped out...agree not to...nor your partner to honor a cop out trick. Your marriage will be a lot more fun.

FOR YOUR COMMENTS: For private counseling...For group Therapy...you may write Dr. Knox in care of the Quincy Sun or call 545-5947 or 326-5990.

Finn Commends 25 Officers

Police Chief Francis X. Finn today announced official commendations to the following 25 members of the Quincy Police Department.

OFFICERS JAY BALANO and JOSEPH GILLAN for perseverance and intelligent utilization of the habits of known criminals in pursuing a housebreak investigation which resulted in the clearing of this and sixteen other breaks.

OFFICER JOSEPH VALLIER for prompt, intelligent action in utilizing information in a manner which resulted in his arrest of three housebreakers and the recovery of the goods stolen.

OFFICER WILLIAM O'DONNELL for his dedication to duty and prompt, courageous action, when, off duty, at 12:45, noticing suspicious actions of three men in a car, he kept them under observation; saw them leave the car and approach the rear of a store.

He followed, detained and searched these men, finding burglarious tools on their persons and in the car. Also, in the car was a large supply of marijuana.

SGT. ROBERT QUINTILIANI for dedication to duty. In the above case, also off duty, he saw Officer O'Donnell with the three men being held at gunpoint and went to the assistance of Officer O'Donnell, cooperating in the search and discovery of the tools and marijuana.

PATROLMAN ROBERT CUGINI who by the prompt, efficient application of first-aid procedures twice restored breathing to a five weeks old child. This occurred on the way to the hospital and resulted in the saving of the child's life.

SGT. RICHARD LARACY who received sparse information and a nickname of a person who was driving an escapee from jail and a meagre description of the car, utilized his knowledge of the criminal and supplied the officer on duty with the name and full description of the person he felt was the most likely suspect, without the use of radio.

As a result two hours later

OFFICER ROBERT PERCHARD and THOMAS HEALEY located the vehicle and effected the arrest of the escapee who had been at large for two weeks. The two officers are also commended for efficient and co-operative police work.

SGT. RICHARD LARACY for prompt, courageous action in the arrest, while alone, of three housebreakers and the recovery of several thousands of dollars worth of stolen property.

PATROLMEN LAWRENCE KELLY and WILLIAM LANERGAN for their prompt, intelligent action which resulted in the apprehension of an armed robber and recovery of the stolen money a short while after the holdup.

PATROLMEN THOMAS CASEY, ROBERT CUGINI and JOHN FOSTER who, on subsequent evenings, and as a result of keen observation and investigation of suspicious actions, effected the arrest of six persons, the clearing of two out-of-town house breaks, the recovery of stolen goods and the seizure of narcotic drugs and implements for their use.

PATROLMAN WILLIAM DOHERTY for his perseverance to duty and his dedication in continuing to search for a man who had perpetrated a store break and escaped while his two companions were being apprehended. Officer Doherty persisted after it seemed the culprit had made good his escape and finally located and arrested him some distance from the original scene.

PATROLMAN ANTHONY POLLARA for efficient, ingenious actions in restoring breathing to a heart attack victim which resulted in saving the man's life.

OFFICER DONALD MORFORD for the prompt and efficient application of first-aid procedures in which he twice restored breathing to an eighteen months old child which resulted in the ultimate saving of the child's life.

OFFICERS DONALD BURKE and FRANCIS GRONDIN for the exercise of good judgement and proper police procedures in effecting the arrest of two people who had broken into Broadmeadow's Jr. High School.

OFFICER ANGUS McEACHERN JR., for perseverance and devotion to duty in continuing a search of a building after it appeared the culprit had made good his escape and effecting his arrest.

PATROLMAN MATTHEW PINO for courage, observation and quick action in apprehending an armed robber and in the recovery of the stolen money shortly after a holdup.

PATROLMEN CARMINE D'RAMIO and RALPH BERGONZI for their attention to detail, the utilization of their knowledge of other police areas and the efficient use of available facilities, when, during a routine investigation of an auto accident, they recovered a stolen car, arrested the culprit and returned a fifteen year old runaway girl to her parents.

PATROLMEN EDWARD BLINN and PHILIP CHEVERIE for alertness and prompt action which resulted in the arrest of two men in the act of committing a larceny and the recovery of the stolen goods.

PATROLMAN FRANK CALABRO for his alertness and keen observation which resulted in his apprehending two men in the act of breaking into a store; the clearing of several other breaks and attempted breaks by the same two ex-convicts and the recovery of several hundred dollars worth of stolen property.

Do you want a nice warm handshake?
Or some cold hard cash?

There's nothing like a nice friendly bank to make you feel right at home. But if all those gestures of friendliness aren't accompanied by gestures of lending you money, you might begin to ask yourself, "Is that all there is?"

So if it's a loan you need, for a new car, for home improvements, for paying off a lot of bills, or for just about anything, and you want it at low bank rates, we suggest you visit the nearest office of South Shore National Bank. We're the place to bank when you need the money more than you need a friend.

Easter Season

April showers, Spring brings. A seasonal time for all New life.

And for Mother-nature to Give birth anew to her Beloved and revolving earth: Garbing Her with fertile Plants, leaves, and open buds. With eyes aglaze, gazers Rejoice and drink to their Heart's content, of Her Bounteous and gorgeous beauty.

Easter Sunday is the Day of Jesus Christ's Resurrection. Free-willing, He chose the Agonizing Journey to Calvary, Embracing death through surrender...

Revealing His Faith prophecy And "salvation of mankind."

Evident is another demonstration:

Aware of their Life's mistakes,

Through sickness, accidents, and daily complexities.

A miraculous rebirth takes Place, and Life gives them "... A Second Chance ..."

Here have we ... Distinctive, Three wonder-signs of Revival. Surely, Our Lord, couldn't Have been more "explicit", In His Holy Revelations.

Food Economizing A Bore? Try This And Bore No More

Everybody's trying to save on food these days. It's one of the few areas of the budget where you can cut corners by smart shopping and clever cooking. Economy dishes need not be boring. Witness this delectable, fancy Elegant Gelled Egg Loaf made with hard-cooked eggs in a lemon and mayonnaise gelatin base with crisp trimmings. Unflavored gelatin is an artful way to economize for it turns leftovers or economy foods into appetizing and interesting dishes. They're so good-looking, too! This delicious loaf calls for practically no cooking—just enough to dissolve the gelatin thoroughly. When economy is the end in view, unflavored gelatin is the friend for you.

Elegant Gelled Egg Loaf

- |                               |                                      |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatin | 1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing |
| 1/2 cup cold water            | 1 1/2 teaspoons grated onion         |
| 1 teaspoon salt               | 1/2 cup finely diced celery          |
| 2 tablespoons lemon juice     | 1/4 cup finely diced green pepper    |
| 1/8 teaspoon pepper           | 1/4 cup chopped pimiento             |
|                               | 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped          |

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water in saucepan to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat; add salt, lemon juice and pepper. Cool. Add mayonnaise: mix in remaining ingredients. Turn into a 3-cup loaf pan or mold; chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens.

YIELD: 4-6 servings.

NOTE: If desired, recipe may be doubled.

Sun Signs

By Regina Russell

Week of March 30 - April 6

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - You are making mistakes; most of them small, but annoying. Go over paper work carefully and be careful when driving.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Arguing over debts gets you nowhere - sit down and work out a long term budget and be sure you include all items.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Look to your honor and don't get mixed up in any shady deals - it could cause you the loss of a friend later.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - The decisions you are making now are faulty, a wait and see attitude is your best bet for the time being.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - The scheme you have is brilliant but several things need watching - travel, signing contracts and relationship with older people.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - You are swimming against a sea of trouble, have faith in yourself and don't let others take advantage of you.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - New responsibilities will enhance your position and provide security for your future, so don't listen to opposition.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Many "fated" things seem to be happening to you lately and since there's nothing you can do about them, just relax.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Guard your reputation as best you can and don't let spiteful remarks get you down. Seek spiritual help if necessary.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - This is a "do-it-yourself" week if you want things done right - even then you'll find plenty to criticize.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Allow your instincts and intuition to take over now and make full use of your creative abilities this week.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Older people or those at home are giving you a hard time. Use persuasion to get them on your side.

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Color is green...

Your food plate that is.

This is the month for it with St. Pat's close at hand. But if you color it green all year long, you'll be coloring it with nutrition as well.

The greener the vegetables, the better for you. Pop-eye was right—spinach explodes with grow-power like vitamins A and C. Then, of course, broccoli and green pepper, deeply green and deeply vitaminated as well, pack the same power punch.

Green can mean exotic. Wonderful word—Does it conjure up visions of a sinuous, slim Samoan complete with sarong? Some of the deepest green vegetables are exotic—you'll find them hidden away at the end of the produce counter. People don't know what they are, how to use them, or even if they should gamble buying them. They appear foreign and strange, and they taste delicious and different. Take an exotic adventure with mustard greens, and watercress as a starter. Your adventuring will return a bounteous cargo of vitamins A and C. Drag out those cookbooks and research!

Here's a starter on the greening of your kitchen with an old favorite, broccoli.

BAKED BROCCOLI

- 1 Pkge frozen, chopped Broccoli
- 1 small onion, thinly sliced
- 1 vegetable Bouillon Cube
- 1/4 cup diced celery
- 1/2 cup water

Dissolve bouillon cube in water. Arrange vegetables in oven dish. Pour bouillon over them and bake in oven for 30 minutes at 350. [This can be prepared ahead and popped into the oven the last 30 minutes that a roast is cooking so that it comes out on time. Serve it in the same dish for convenience and ease at meal time.]

Begin now to think green for your diet. You're safe in assuming you'll gain in nutrition and eye-appeal with a green on your menu. You're equally safe in assuming that you won't gain in weight. Take time to correlate—you'll see that the greenest are the most nutritious and the least caloric. How can you gain? How can you lose!

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free brochure, "Sweet Rewards For Dieters" please write me in care of The Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York 11566.

"That makes 10 girls for our party. Now let's start a list of 20 boys to invite."

La Leche League To Meet April 4

La Leche League of Quincy will hold its third meeting of the winter-spring series at 8 p.m. April 4, at the home of Mrs. Eugene Steeves of 91 Farrington St., Wollaston.

Discussion for the evening will be focused on childbirth and the arrival of a new baby into a household.

On May 5, the league will sponsor a film program which will be open to the public. Films to be shown are "Birthright", and "Talking about Breastfeeding". A discussion period and refreshments will follow.

The league is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization of women which gives advice and encouragement to women who wish to breastfeed their babies.

Further information may be obtained from the moderator, Mrs. Donald A. Wilkinson, 17 Dale Ave., South Quincy or from Mrs. Steeves.

Exchange Students To Speak At Rotary Club Tuesday

Two exchange students and Miss Isabel Howe of the American Field Service Program will address the luncheon meeting of the Quincy Rotary Club April 4.

Betty Haralampidis of Campo Grande, Brazil, who is spending her senior year at Quincy High School, and Cheryl Newman of West Quincy, who spent last summer in Quito, Ecuador, will give their impressions as exchange students.

The American Field Service program is designed to promote international understanding and good will. George Bennet is program chairman.
